PITTSBURG DISPATCH, SUNDAY, JUNE 21, 1891. THE

tal principles,

A Guide to Musical Form.

THE

Evening Post :

There are many good folks at important concerts who keep their eyes glued on the descriptive programme book, whenever such is provided, as though unable to glean any-

"If you know at once what it is all about, if it seems to be saying one, two, three, hop, hop, hop, or one, two, three, hang, bang, bang, you may conclude at once that you are listening to something of a very low order, which it is your duty to despise. When you hear something that sounds as if an assorted lot of notes had been put into a bairrel and were being persistently stirred up, like a kind of harmonious gruel, you may know it is a fugue, and safely assume an expression of profound interest. If the notes appear to have been dropped by accident and are being fished up at irregular intervals, in a sort of placid or drowned condition, it is likely to be a nocturne, and nocturnes, you know, are

W. G. Hay, of Uniontown, and H. A. King, of Meadville, are stopping at the Seventh Avenue Hotel. Congressman Yoder, of Ohio, was in the city for a short time yesterday going East. James Tuxon, a Dubuque coal operator, is among the guests at the Anderson. J. J. Hablitzell, of Meyersdale, is stop-ping at the Monongahela House. George Westinghouse went to New York last night on the limited.

2409 Beulah street, Twanty-Seventh ward. Friends of the family are respectfully in vited to attend. GLARNER-At the family residence, Frankstown avenue, Twenty-third ward, ou Saturday, June 20, 1891, at 10:40 r. M. Jun Axx ElaADENTH, eldest daughter of James E. and Elizabeth Glarner, nee Neadhaner, aged 18 years 4 months and 15 days.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

There up at three an intervention, it is likely to be a nocturne, and nocturnes, you know, are quite too lovely for anything. If the notes seem to come in carloads, each load of a dif-ferent kind from the last and if the train seems to be an unusually long time in pass-ing any given point, it will turn out most likely to be a symphony; and symphonies are just the grandest things that ever were. If the notes seem to be dumped out in masses, and shoveled vigoronsity into heaps, and then blown widely into the air by ex-plosions of dynamite, that is rhapsody; and rhapsodies are among the latest things in hapsodies are among the latest things in Baseball to Cover a Deficit.

The committee of May Festival patronesses and business men in charge of the esses and business men in charge of the effort to mise the lamented deficit met yesterday noon in the Pittsburg Library parlors. While the returns from the supple-mentary concert are not yet complete, it seems quite sure that over $500 were realized, as against $42.50 of expense. In ad-dition several private subscriptions were placed in the hands of some mem-bers of the committee, in readiness to pay at once some lew of the smaller and more pressing debts. The general proceeds of this concert and of any further entertain-ment the committee has properly decided should be distributed pro rata among all just debts of the festival, in case the hope of raising enough to pay all in full should not be realized.

not be realized. A special committee, including Measrs. W. B. Thompson (Chairman), Charles H. Read, O. D. Thompson, John Moorhead, R. D. Tot-ten, H. L. Goehring and Charles W. Scovel, were appointed to arrange, if possible, for a Yale-Princeton ball game, to be given July 1 or 2 at Exposition Park for the May Festival cause. It is expected to have Stagg the famous Yale pitcher, and Young, of Louisville, Princeton's crack twirler, besides the best players of the respective colleges the best players of the respective colleges who can be had in this vicinity. Already much social interest has been awakened, and the college spirit seems likely to run high over the contest if the contemplated ar-rangements for it can be made.

Crochets and Quavers.

SIGNOR VERDI has bought a plot of land outside the Porta Magenta, Milan, and pro-poses to build there, at his own expense, a retreat for aged musicians.

MASSENET is said to have agreed to write au opera for the next season at Covent Garden, London, based upon Sir Walter Scott's "Kenilworth."

THERE is a possibility that Manager Abbey may add the brilliant Max Alvary to his list of artists for the coming season at the New York Metropolitan Opera House.

MR. SAPPERSTEIN, the Russian bass, who has resided in Pittsburg for some months, is about to locate in Philadelphia, where Mr. A. L. Guille, the tenor, has procured him one engagements.

ANTONIN DVORAK is getting quite English, you know. He was at Cambridge last week to receive the Mus. Doc. degree and he has also composed a new Requiem Mass for the Birmingham Festival next October.

THE Boston Symphony Orchestra, under Mr. Ellis' management, and with Messrs. Adamowski and Greenberg alternating as conductors, is giving promenade concerts in Music Hall each evening with extraordinary

Ast Society, having had its charter granted by the court, will hold a business meeting in its rooms, next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of formal cor-portate organization, adopting complete by-haws, etc. laws, etc

MINNIE HAUE is to head an English opera company in this country next season, under the management of the veteran C. D. Hess, who hopes to include Emma Nevada in his list, as well as Mertens and Del Paente, bari-tones; Runcio and Henri Bovet, tenors, and many other good singers. Young Kaiser William proves his enthusi astic admiration for Richard Wagner (or is it for the intensely national Teutonic spirit of his works?) by proposing to assume the expense of a statue to be crected to the great composer-duamatist in front of the Imperial Opera Honse, Berlin.

MISS LUCLIA ASHE, Miss Annie Davies, Mr. W. W. Ramsey and Mr. D. M. Bullock will form the special quartet for the services at Bellefield Presbyterian Church this morning, when Chancellor Holland will deliver the Baccalaurente Sermon to this year's gradu-ates of the Western University of Pennsyl-vania. Dr. W. T. English will also be pres-ent to sing the offeriory solo.
