On the Treasury Is What Causes the. Apparent Deficit There.

GRAVE ABUSES OF THE BUSINESS.

Influence and Tall Swearing Are the Most Petent Factors

IN SECURING ONE-HALF THE PENSIONS

PEROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, 1 WASHINGTON, June 21 .- The "opposi--tion" are making a lot of capital out of the United States, which on the face of it shows about as narrow an escape from bankruptcy vidual and corporative coffers of the nation that a deficit could hardly exist for more that a deficit could hardly exist for more than a day, even if the miscalculation of financial resources in making appropriations should create one.

Treasury all the time, and it is richer by millions than appears by the statement of the Treasurer. At the very time the report of the Treasurer was sent out with the alarming statement that the available surplus was only a little over a million dollars, the books of the Secretary showed that the available balance in the Treasury was very close to $1,000,000, exclusive of the de-posits in banks of $23,000,000 or more, which is within reach just as easily as though it were in the vaults of the Treasury. Tremendous Drain of Pensions.

While there is no danger of bankruptcy, it may as well be understood that it is the tremendous drain imposed by pensions that every month for some time to come will reduce the Government to the verge of a Treasury deficit. Since the 1st of June, nearly $18,000,000 have been paid out in pensions, and the amount necessary is grow-ing all the time. Had the receipts from import duties fallen off, as was predicted by the opponents of the McKinley bill, the vacuum in the Treasury would have been so large as to excite alarm, and a new Governnt loan would have been one of the probabilities. The millions lopped off by the abolition of the duties on sugar and tax on obaccos, and the refund of millions to tobacco dealers for stock imported or pur-chased previous to the operation of the new law, help materially rowards the deficit which may come before Congress meets

Pensions, however, furnish the gravest question with which the Treasury has to outend, and where they are going to stop s one of the things no fellow can find out. But the most startling feature of the whole pension at all. I have talked much of late

A little stiff swearing on the part of the applicant and an affidavit or two from assotes in the army, are all that is necessary, and if the case, no matter how doubtful. be in the hands of a favored claims attorney, or is pushed by an influential member of or is pushed by an influential member of Congress, it can be "advanced" and the pensioner can get his money in surprisingly short time. A service pension bill would be a good thing from a moral point of view, if not from a financial one, as it would render unnecessary a vast deal of hard swearing.

There a bet recently an old soldier one.

Upon a bet, recently, an old soldier, one of the most robust men one would see in a summer's day, wrote to his captain and one or two other members of his company, stating that he was an applicant for a pension on account of a chronic disease contracted during service, and asking his old comrades to make the proper affidavits. The testi-mony came, and that of the strongest kind, captain swearing that of his personal knowledge the veteran had contracted his personally of a man who never saw a day of rvice in the field, and who has been all his life able for arduous toil, a man who is now wealthy, who has been drawing a pension ever since the passage of the first pension law, and has regularly had the amount in-creased, until he is drawing a pension for almost complete disability. These are instances of thousands of cases.

The Most Glaring Abuse.

Of course, with such as these, the Pension Office cannot go back of the returns, but within that office there is an abuse than any of those which have been for a time making scandal after scandal of a petty nature, and that is political influence that secures pensions upon insufficient or man-ufactured evidence. Members of Congress are actually blackmailed into pushing such claims either by the attorney who has them claims either by the attorney who has them in charge or by the applicants, or by a combination of applicants. Country attorneys make claim agents of the Members of Congress from their districts, and almost threaten them at times with the strength of their opposition if they do not push pension cases which the rneys themselves are paid for prosecut-Goaded on the one hand by the fearng a vote of their own party, and on the other by the hope of securing a vote from a member of the other party, they push all cases that come to them with all their might, swearing at the same time ngainst the fate that puts them at the mercy of men who ask everything, while leserving no more than others of their conents, who ask nothing at all.

I happen to know also of a somewhat exry case which has been disposed of within the last three years, in which political influence came near preventing a soldier's widow, who is nearly 90 years old, from getting a pension. Forty years ago the husband of this widow ran away with another woman and lived with the latter ever after as his wife. Children were born to them, who grew up and became prosper-

A Fight Against the Widow The legal widow came to be aged and poor, and applied for a pension. The case was fought by the sons of the second woman, who would have been published as illegiti-mate by a recognition of the former one as the legal wife of the ranaway husband, her proceedings for divorce having never been completed. The pension was refused, at the solicitation of the influential sons, who brought Representatives and Senators to plead in their behalf, but on the other hand, the bureau was threatened with an exposure of the proceeding; the case was reconsidered, and the pension allowed.

It is no slur upon those deserving of a nension to present these well proved asser-tions in regard to fraudulent pensioners. that it is possible that the deserving one have been too indifferent touching fraudulent cases. Far less criticism would fall upon the pension system if veterans who are true to the truth and themselves, had from the first exposed the frauds and assist-

Interesting Budget of News From Allegheny and Other Counties.

NEW OIL POOL OPENED NEAR MARIETTA

The long list of dry holes and small wells which confronted the oil operators last week was increased Saturday night by re-ports from the Moon territory. The Forest Oil Company's well on the William Rouser farm is reported to be through the sand and dry. W. L. Mellon's well on the McFadden farm is also given as through the sand and dusty. Both of these wells, however, are located on the southern edge of the field, and were not looked upon at any time as promising. They are valuable as defin-ing the southern limits of the pool.

A Wildcat Dry. GREEN GARDEN—The well which has been drilled near this place on the James Todd farm is down 1,800 feet, and dry so far. Todd farm is down 1,800 feet, and dry so far. It is being put down by the Consolidated Oil Company. The Shannopin sand was struck at 1,510 feet, and is the only sand which has yet been tapped. The well will be drilled 2,200 feet. It is 12 miles west of south from Shannopin, in Raccoon township, Beaver county. The Forest Oil Company has commenced a well on the Ingell farm, two and a half miles southwest of the James Todd farm well.

The tools are stuck at the bottom of the 100-foot in the Whitesell No. 5 of Bowman and the Augusta Oil Company. Griffith and the Forest Oil Company are still fishing for the tools in their No. 15 on the Whitesell farm. They have put the last string of casing in their No. 16 on the Whitesell. Black & Co,'s No. 1 on the Bubb is ten feet in the sand, with a showing of oil. Bowman and the Augusta Oil Company's Whitesell No. the Augusta Oil Company's Whitesell No. 3 was given a two-quart shot Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon it was doing 22 barrels an hour. The Dunlap well on the Nancy Gibson farm has been thoroughly cleaned out, and is considered to be good for five or eight barrels a day. Guffey & Queen's No. 4, on the Runga farm, is doing ten barrels an hour. Their No. 1, on the Schwab, will be spudding this week, and they will commence. ding this week, and they will commence building a rig for their No. 8, on the Runga, CLAYSVILLE—The Rising Sun Oil Company's Irwin No. 1 will reach the sand next week, barring no bad luck, in advance of the Carson and Mathews. The Victor Oil Company's Carson No. 6 had to ream out, which will delay it about ten days. Aiken & Co.'s Mathews No. 1 is through the big injun and is making good progress.

Work at Canonsburg. CANONSBURG-The Manufacturers' well n the Samuel Linu farm, in North Strabane, is doing 00 barrels a day. The com-pany is building three more rigs on the farm. The well on the McClelland farm, in North Strabane, has been completed and is a duster. Two more wells will be sunk on the farm. The Fishers will put down two wells on the Samuel Wilson farm, southeast of the borough. The well which came in recently on the farm of William Martin, in recently on the farm of William Martin, in North Strabane, is doing 50 barrels a day. The Washington Light and Heat Company's well on the farm of the McCoy heirs, in Chartiers township, is down about 500 feet. The rig has been completed for the Washington Light and Heat Company's well on the McCoy farm, near McConnell's Mills.

WASHINGTON-B. B. Tanner's No. 2, on the Wade farm, just East of Washington, was doing only seven barrels a day a short time ago. It was shot three weeks ago, and on June 9 the tubing was put in and the hours it put out 60 barrels and since then i has been gradually increasing until at the present time it is doing 105 barrels a day.

From Greene County. WAYNESBURG-The third string of ca ing has been put in the Milliken well. This well is very near the Harvey producer and is expected to be good. The Throckmorton No. 1 is nearly completed. Considerable interest is manifested in this well, lying as it does between the Rutan, McCollum and Wolf failures and the Harvey gusher. The Cook well has now the fourth string of casing in, and is nearing completion. It is near the old Cook well which was abandoned after a strike of oil because of fast tools. The Jacobs well is down about 2,000 feet and the third string of casing was put in this week. This is the third effort to drill a well at that place the two previous ones. a well at that place, the two previous ones being abandoned at about 1,200 feet. CAPTURED IN NEW YORK.

Columbus Thief Taken in by Inspecto Byrnes in the Metropolis.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] COLUMBUS, June 21.-A telegram was received here this morning from Inspector Byrnes, of New York, stating that J. Arthur Safford had been arrested in that city. He is wanted in Columbus for grand larceny. Detectives left to-day with requisition papers for Albany, thence to New York. On June 13 Safford entered a picture frame store here and engaged the proprietor, P. P. Smythe, in conversation in the rear room. Smythe's attention was attracted to the front of the room by a customer and when he returned Safford had gone out the rear door. A count of cash was made and $105 missing.

A warrant has been mailed Inspector Byrnes. Smythe received a letter from Safford since the latter's return to New York, but he refuses to give the import. Safford is a cultured man, a bright conversationalist, and there seems some mystery connected with the transaction.

PINCHED FACE, BLUE LIPS. Why a Lady Was So Unattractive

"I saw a lady with pinehed features, blue lips, and a ruddy nose, as I came down in the cars this morning," said one of the lead-the cars this morning," said one of the lead-ing doctors of America recently. "She was unhappy, and really did not know the cause, But 1, as a physician, though never having seen her before, knew exactly the source of her trouble. What was it? She was suffering from malaria. This, you know, is now the great disease, and it seems to be on the in-crease."

great disease, and it seems to be on the increase."

"Is malaria dangerous, doctor?"

"Yes, and no. It is the indirect cause of many, perhaps most diseases, and it always puts a person in a condition to invite disease, although it is bad enough of itself."

"And what do you do for it?"

"Ah! There is the hardest part of the subject. The principal remedy has been quinine, but it is not always advisable. One thing, however, is almost a necessity in any case of malaris, and that is a pure stimulant, preferably whiskey. Where it is the right kind it seems to kill all the germs of malaria quicker than any other known thing."

The remarks of the doctor are most valuable, but he did not go on to state what is known to the writer—that both himself and most prominent physicians prescribe Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Their reasons for this are many, the principal ones being that it is the only medicinal whiskey in the market and the only one which for years has stood the most scrutinizing chemical tests. Of course cheaper and impure whiskies have been advocated and certain unscrupulous dealers try to sell them because they can make a largere profit upon them than the can upon a purt and expensive whiskey like Duffy's Malt, bu any one who desires healty and to keep off malaria should insist upon having Duffy's and take no other.

What would you give for a Friend who would take half your hard work off your shoulders and do it without a murmur? What would you give to find an assistant in your housework that would keep your floors and walls clean, and your kitchen bright, and yet never grow ugly over the matter of hard work? A Sapolio is just such a friend and can be bought at all grocers,
