from a prospective improvement in the in-trinsic value of stocks. When it is consid-ered that no more than eight months ago Wall street was visited by a cyclone that swept away every vestige of speculative margins and left many operators without the means of recovering the wherewith to operate, it does seem rather sanguine to ex-pect that already the places of these dis-abled operators should have been refilled by a new contingent of well-equipped buyers. "Ordinarily, the bond market is regarded as affording a good criterion of what may be expected in the share market: and it is sound reasoning, when we find nobody wanting unexceptionable mortgages yielding 4 to 5 per cent on their market value, to conclude that there is a scareity of funds seeking in-vestment; and the reasons that make money scaree for investment are tikely to make it still more so for speculation. This obstacle to buying is the more important when, as in the present case, it applies not only to our own market but also to the foreign markets that deal in our securities. And it is further to be considered that the market is still struggling against an extra supply of stock, which was in part sent here pending last fail's break in the foreign markets and in part contributed by the large local realizing on both investment are speculative holdings at about the same time.

It is inconceivable that, after the extraordinary amount of cash liqui-dations this country has lately made, there can still be outstanding against us an ad-verse foreign balance. We must therefore regard the continued shipments as due en-tirely to special causes. The principal cause appears to be that while there is an abund-ance of exchange being made to meet all necessary requirements for remittances, yet a considerable portion of the bills are un-available in consequence of the credit of the payers having been unfavorably affected by the prevailing financial distrust in Great Britin and on the Continent. This causes a scarcity of negotiable exchange, and the result is that we are remitting gold at a time when the balance of our account with the rest of the world is in our favor. While the sources, there is the satisfaction that it ogold to be returned hither at a later stage."

There is an old saw that "the third time is the charm." If this is true our order's name will be changed on the last meeting night of bicember. Between now and then, however, there will be a considerable amount of agitation. The question will be discussed from one end of the State to the other. The National Council has wisely provibited the issuing of circulars on the subject, but the entimests on both sides will lose no time in putting in a word whenever the opportunity arises. The west sends in a Macedoman cry of "Come over and help us," by giving a name that is not a misnomer, and there is no doubt but that this cry will be answered this year. The result was free liquidation on July contracts. Holders who had been hanging on in hopes of a turn for the better lost all courage and decided to drop their burden. Short sellers were made bolder than ever, and, while the offerings were thus increased, the demand was less than neual and an intensely weak market was the natural result. July opened at 914,@91%c; broke without any considerable reaction to 39%c; reacted to 90%c; broke again to 89%c; rallied again and closed at 90%c. Corn was active but decidedly weak. The fine growing weather, the unexpectedly heavy receists and the demonalization which prevailed in the other grain pits ex-ercised a most depressing influence. The courage of the hitherto most stalwart bulls became exhausted, and there was an indis-criminate slaughter of long property. When it was offered no one scenned to want it, and there was an immediate decline. and while there was no particular pressure to sell long stocks, the bears were again active and aggressive, and by vigorous drives at certain specialities, gave the entire market a weak tone and broke some shares very badly. The industrials were again the most valu-able point in the market, and more stop orders were uncovered in cordage, which was evidently left without any support whatever, and dropped from 36 to 80%. Sugar followed, but met with some support and rallied slightly, and Chicago Gas, which was inclined to show some strength in the early trading, gave way toward the close. Several other weak spots were uncovered in the general list, however, and Northern Pacific preferred, St. Paul, Louisville, Pacific Mail and some others scored material losses for the day on comparatively small trans-actions. than wiped out the increase in reserve, and this was interpreted as a point in their favor by the bears, and the selling for the short accounts was resumed with vigor in the last few minutes of business, bringing down many stocks which had remained compara-tively firm up to that time. Among these the Wheeling and Lake Erie, C., C., C. & St. L. and Northern Pacific preferred were especially prominent. More Active but Weak.

John M. Oakley & Co. received the follow ing over their private wire: "The market for the last two days has been more active than for some time past, but at the expense of values. It opened this morning at about than for some time, just, but at the expense of values. It opened this morning at about last night's closing prices, followed immedi-ately by a break of 1 per cent in Louisville and St. Faul. Cordage opened at 93 and broke quickly to 91. There has undoubtedly been liquidation going on this week in such stocks as Bichmond and Terminal and North American. The Granger stocks have been comparatively steady, and while we believe they will ultimately sell at considerably higher prices, we think in the immediate future they will have to sell lower. "The books of the Louisville and Nash-ville Railroad closed June 25. On Monday, July 6, the stockholders of record will meet to consider and if approved to assent to and approve of the purchase by said company of the purchase of the Kentucky Central Hail-way, and to ratify and approve of the taking by the said company of its proportionate part of certain proposed increased stock of the Nashville. Waiting for Good Things. Henry Clews & Co. furnish the following in regard to stocks and gold exports: "Wall street is still in an expectant mood, but the good things hoped for fail to put in an ap-pearance. There is little the matter with the condition; the main trouble appears to be in the lack of buyers; and why they are not forthcoming is not altogether an agree-able question for contemplation. It is ordi-narily taken for granted that, when things on all sides are conceded to be cheap and yet nobody wants them, the trouble is to be attributed to the buyers. And in this case it is not as all unrequirements of the 25 per cent rule. A New York authority says: "We are told that the explanation of the gold export thus week is this: The Bank of France wanted $0,000,000 of gold, and in order to get it here agreed to return it without premium when it was wanted in the fall.
