SIGNING THE SCAL

A Compromise on the Hours of Work Reached by the Committee Shortly After Midnight.

BOTH SIDES MAKE CONCESSIONS.

Nine Hours and a Quarter to Be the Length of the Iron Heater's Day for the Next Year.

A BIG STRIKE EXPECTED AT DEQUESNE.

Indications of a Speedy Settlement of the Carpente Troubles.

The Amalgamated scale was signed at 12:15 this morning and as a con-sequence only those mills that would have been shut down for stock-taking will be idle to-day. The prolonged conten-tion on the nine-hour clause ended in a compromise, the time from the charging of the first heat until charging shall cease being fixed at 9 hours and 15 min-utes. The whole trouble as previously stated in The Distance hinged on the new paragraph in the memorandum of agreement, added this year. The remainder of the scale was not changed to any extent, and was accepted in almost every

The Scale as Agreed Upon. The additional paragraph, as finally agreed

The additional paragraph, as finally agreed upon, reads:

The time in scrapping and evshelling, also finishing and all other departments shall in no case exceed 9 hours and 15 minutes from the time the first heat is charged until charging shall cease, this is not to apply to boiling department (excepting scrapping and bushelling) also rod mills, wire mills, not and bolt works, and other departments working under the eight (8) hour system.

It is well understood that James M. Bailey

It is well understood that James M. Bailey and A. M. Byers & Co. were the bitterest opend A. M. Byers & Co. were the bitterest opponents of the nine-hour clause, and they took the stand that a limit on the time in which heats should be made would mean a reduction in the output. Then there were others who opposed the rule on general principles, fearing that if it were agreed to this this year, the men would ask for eight hours next year.

As is well known, conferences were held almost daily since the adjournment of the convention. The Amalgamated committee had been given power to act and yesterday it looked as though they would concede the clause entirely. But they cluing to their cause bravely and with a firmness that convinced the manufacturers that they were in earnest. ers that they were in earnest

A Whole Day Without Hope. The whole day was spent without any en oursging indications of a settlement. When the conference adjourned for supper at ? o'clock last night D. B. Oliver said he thought the matter would be arrange all right, but he did not believe th nine-hour clause would be adopted. Mr. A. M. Byers said he was not sure of it. He was sure the manufacturers would not agree to it because of the reduction it would make in the output of nearly every mill in the Representatives of the workmen's committee were just as firm that they would not concede the new clause. A proposition had been made by them during the day to the effect that they would allow the nine hours begin at the time the mill started. This, they claimed, would give the firms an advantage of over an hour, but the manufacturers declined to accept that. Scrambled to Keep Mills Going.

The final session of the Conference Com-mittee was held in the top story of the Fidelity building, last night. It lasted until after midnight, and when it adjourned after midnight, and when it adjourned there was a scramble on the part of the manufacturers to get word to their mills to have their men continue operations. D. B. Oliver dispatched a couple of men to Woods' Eun and another to the Southside, and E. M. Byers sent word to his works to have the mill kept running. Everyone was feeling jubilant that no strike is to occur and the Amalgamated people feel that they have won an important point in this year's scale, even though an advance was not asked for. President Weihe said this morning, after the scale was signed: "This is something we have never bad in the scale before. We never tried to limit the time in which work should be done in any department of the mills before, but I in any department of the mills before, but I guess the firms won't suffer much."

James M. Bailey said: "This is only an experiment. I don't believe it will work. We will try it for a year, however, and if it is not satisfactory we will have to try something else. In all my experience I have never seen business as bad as it is now. We have not an order on our books that we could not get out in three days, and we will close down for about two weeks to take stock." in any department of the mills before, but I

A. M. Byers said: "This course was not wanted by the men, as was stated in the conference. They tried to tell us that wanted by the men, as was stated in the conference. They tried to tell us that six of my own men were anxious to have the new clause adopted. By a personal investigation I found this was not so and I am sure it will operate against us."

The other changes in last year's scale were of little importance. The manufacturers wanted one of the "extras" taken from the tin plate scale, but it was finally agreed to. The change in the tank and plate mills is: Top and bottom prices for sheet bars cut from crop ends and defective plates, iron and steel. In sheet mills the change makes the shearman receive one-fifth, the same paid to the reliers. In sheet-mill hands' scale the day hands on sheet and lobbing mills working two turns of eight hours each and on mills working three turns of eight hours each, shall be paid a full turn's work in case of a failure to make the eight heats in the time specified in memoranda of agreement on a two-turn mill or a full turn on a three-turn mill. The addenda is: Roughing down on bar, structural and 12-inch mills must be paid not less than 30 per cent of rollers' wages.

Didn't Wait Till the Last.

The following firms signed the scale yes terday and will be given the benefits of the concession: Moorhead, McCleane & Co., Howe, Brown & Co., the Wayne Iron and Howe, Brown & Co., the Wayne Iron and Steel Company, P. H. Laufman & Co., Lim., the Whitaker Rolling Mill Company, of Wheeling, the Anderson Rolling Mill Company, Anderson Ind.; the Sharon Iron Company and the Atlantic Iron Works, Sharon; Joseph Corns and Son, Massillon, O.; the Labelle Mill Company, Wheeling, and the Findlay Iron Works. Hughes & Patterson, of Philadelphia, and the National Rolling Mill Company, of McKeesport, had signed previously.

Arrangements for the day have been burg. Arrangements for the day have been completed in Steubenville. Information has been received which warrants the statement that over 12,000 men will take part in the parade. A great deal of enthusiasm has been manifested in the object of the demonstration and the temporary closing of some of the mills here will insure a large attendance from Pittsburg.

The completed programme has been announced. The parade takes place at 11:30. There will be nived divisions. The first and last will be important ones, the first comprising the carriages containing the three Governors, the speakers, invited guests, the Pittsburg. Press Club and the family of the late Thomas A. Armstrong. The fifth division will be composed entirely of industrial and commercial displays on floats and will be over two miles in length. Final Conference Will Be Asked for To-Day to Settle It-Painters Threaten to Go Out This Morning-New Rule Not Liked.

last night and instructed its conference committee to ask for another conference to-day and gave the committee unlimited power. This was regarded by many and admitted by a few to mean that the carpenters had weakened and were willing to give in.

They are not, however, entirely responsible for this state of affairs. The developments of the past two or three days have been against them. The action of the plasterers, stonemasons and finally the painters has had much to do with overthrowing the work of the strike leaders and discouraging the men. All the unions seem to be more or less in a demoralized condition, and if the strike is lost it is expected to carry with it a disruption of the Building Trades Council.

The stonemasons will hold a meeting tonight in their hall. All unemployed men are expected to be at the meeting, as important business is to be discussed.

The painters had their new rules submitted to them yesterday, and it is said they will stop work this morning. The new rules of the bosses provide that nine hours shall constitute a day's work, and that men shall be graded and paid according to their merits. The old scale provided for a fixed rate of wages and gave the men eight hours on Saturday. A committee has been appointed by the painters to settle any disputes that may arise through their withdrawal from the Building Trades Council.

'The Suspended Covenanter Preachers Go Into the U. P. Church,

Dr. McAllister and Prof. Wilson Object Strongly, but All in Vain.

THE YOUNG MINISTERS IN BIG DEMAND

The Monongahela Presbytery of the U. P. Church met in Wilkinsburg yesterday, and opened its arms to the suspended Covenantopened its arms to the suspended Covenanters. Revs. John A. Burnett, O. B. Milligan and E. M. Milligan were admitted to the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church, provided they conformed to its principles. This they were perfectly willing to do. The Reformed Presbyterian con-gregations of the East End and Wilkinsburg almost unanimously desired to go with the young ministers and they were admitted. Dr. McAllister and Prof. Wilson were there to talk about the young men's cases, but were allowed only ten minutes each. The session opened at 10 a. m., with Rev. B. A. Elliott moderator and Rev. J. D. Sands clerk.

A Letter From Mr. Burnett. After the reading of several reports, the etter of Rev. John A. Burnett was taken up. It was as follows:

Dear Fathers and Brethren: I would hereby request that you receive me under your care as a minister of the Gospei in the United Presbyterian Church. I would hereby request that you receive me under your care as a minister of the Gospel in the United Presbyterian Church.

It is unnecessary that I bring before you the causes which place me in my present position, as they are well known to you, but I briefly bring before you the facts in the case.

I was refused ordination by the Pittsburg Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterion Church because I failed to answer satisfactorily certain questions pertaining to church order. The questions did not relate to doctrine or anything fundamental to Christianity, but to the interpretations of the standards of the church, in the light of certain acts of Synod, which have vitiated the testimony of the church and placed her upon an inconsistent basis with the United States Government.

The Presbytery not only refused to ordain me, but also revoked my license to preach within the church. I filed complaints in Synod againsteach of these actions of Presbytery, but the complaints were dismissed and I was not given a hearing. I would therefore ask that you take such steps as you consider necessary in accordance with your church order, and with the curtesy due another court of the Lord's house, to restore my license and receive me as a minister of the gospel. I make this request believing the doctrine and order of the United Presbyterian Church and being ready for the service of Christ in furthering the interests of His Church.

It was referred to a committee composed of Rev. Reid and Hutchinson and Elder Donaldson. Then followed a petition signed by 58 members of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of Wilkinsburg, asking for the organization of a new U. P. congregation, with Rev. John A. Burnett as pastor. The petition was presented by R. B. Thompson and W. N. Hazlett, two of the petitions of the prestitions of the prestitions of the control of the B. Thompson and W. N. Hazlett, two of the petitioners. It was referred to the committee already appointed. The committee retired to act on the questions.

the East End R. P. Church. It was referred to the same committee as the petitions. The two visitors thought they ought to be allowed to go before the committee and explain matters in full, but the Presbytery was of a different mind.

A call from the Steubenville church for Rev. E. M. Milligan was laid on the table because the latter desired first to come up for trial before the Presbytery. The body then took a recess.

Rev. Dr. McAllister in the afternoon presented a written protest against the action of the Presbytery in entertaining the application of the East End members, and praying the Presbytery to refuse to recognize the petition until the members should renounce all claims to the church property. The protest was read and referred to the Committee on Petitions. S. W. Douthett and S. B. Hart then preached their trial sermons, and were licensed to preach.

They also reported that no reason could be found why J. A. Burnett should not be received into the church and his license restored, and recommended that in event of Mr. Burnett's signifying his willingness to teach the doctrines of the U. P. Church and render due obedience in the Lord to the ecclesiastical courts of the church he be admitted and relicensed. The committee further recommended that the individual members of the East End Church who had applied to be received into membership in the U. P. Church be admitted, and appointed a committee consisting of J. K. McCluskin, Samuel Mahood, David Blair and Dr. J. G. Temple to meet at a place designated by the petitioners on Monday evenings, July 13, at 7:45, to organize the church.

"Regarding the cases of the Rev. O. B. Milligan and E. M. In obedience to their request we recommend that in even of the request, we recommend that in event of the brothers signifying their willingness to abide by the laws governing the U. P. Church, they be received into the church and their suspension removed."

Mr. Reid sat down and Dr. McAllister rose and asked that he and Prof. Wilson be granted the privilege of saving a few words.

Mr. Reid sat down and Dr. McAllister rose and asked that he and Prof. Wilson be granted the privilege of saying a few words before the report of the committee was adopted. J. D. Sands, clerk of the Presbytery, told Dr. McAllister that neither he nor Prof. Wilson were able to tell the convention anything which the committee's report did not cover. Dr. McAllister, however, refused to be sat on, and persisted so strenuously that the courtesies of the house were extended to himself and Prof. Wilson for ten minutes each. Prof. Wilson came forward with an immense roll of paper. Dr. McAllister cautioned the Presbytery to be careful in their action regarding the East End church property. He said the civil courts were yet open. A "respectable minority" holding to the principles of the mother church could hold the church property, and cited as an illustration the decision of the courts in the Detroit U. P. Church, where the minority were lately given the church property. He then proceeded to find flaws in the petition handed in by the members of the East End church, claiming they had applied for admission as a body. To this several ministers objected, claiming it was not the case. Dr. McAllister grew angry and said he had a verbatim copy of the petition, and that they had said as "a body."

Mr. Reid said such was not the language of the petition received by the committee.

Dr. McAllister Is Vigorously Hissed.

Dr. McAllister fairly shrieked as he sprang toward Rev. Mr. Reid: "Then your petition has been changed for a purpose."

A storm of hisses from the rear of the house greeted this outburst and Dr. McAl-lister tried to smooth matters by claiming a house greeted this outburst and Dr. McAllister tried to smooth matters by claiming a misunderstanding.

Dr. Reid said: "I hope my life-long friend,
Dr. McAllister, will not think hard if I say something that will hurt his feelings, for I must say it. He, as an intelligent man, knows than any property of a congregation which is chartered under the straight Presbyterial law cannot be taken by the majority. Why is he here? I very much suspect there is some irregularity in this charter which he is afraid of and he has come here to throw obstructions in the way. I object to Dr. McAllister or anyone else using this ecclesiastical court as a place in which to accomplish any personal ends."

The report was adopted and Dr. McAllister then arose and began to rend a notice that they would complain to the U. P. Synod, but Mr. Reid told him that he could do nothing but petition the Synod, as he was not a member of the U. P. Church and they would not recognize him. Mr. McAllister sat down, saying: "If I can't come at you one way I will in another." "We will be glad to see you when you come," said Mr. Reid.

Rev. E. M. Milligan was presented with his call from Steubenville and accepted it,
The Presbytery then adjourned to meet at Shadyside on the second Tuesday of September.

THE NINTH CHURCH

U. P. Allegheny Presbytery Adopts Some of the B. P. Children. De Haven is now a name marking an epoch in the history of Allegheny Presbytery of the U. P. Church, for it was in the Allison Park Church of that denomination at that place yesterday that four ex-Covenanter ministers and one congregation were received under the protection of the United Presbyterian ordinances and faith. The meeting was opened at 10 o'clock in the morning by the Moderator, Rev. R. H. Park, of Vallencia, who, after an invocation for a divine blessing, called the order of business. There being a vacancy in the pulpit of the Mt. Nebo Church, and that congregation having made strong demands for the stationing there as pastor the Rev. D. R. Imbrier, Presbytery cheerfully acquiesced and that reverend gentlemen will hereafter minister to that flock as he has done in the past.

After a substantial lunch was enjoyed in the grove near the church the meeting was reconvened to hear and dispose of the applications of Rev. J. R. J. Milligan and of his Allegheny congregation of about 200 communicants, as well as the applications of J. S. T. Milligan, of Kansas, and Reva. Teas and McChurkin, Reformed Presbyterians until the late unpleasantness. These important measures were put into proper shape for action by a committee, which having reported, the reception of the petitions was made positive by unanimous assent. Rev. J. R. J. Milligan, and he will soon be transferred to the Kansas Presbytery of the U. P. Church. The new congregation will be organized in the Second ward, Allegheny, principally by a committee having that duty to perform, and it will be known as the Ninth U. P. Church of Allegheny.

The World's Fair Commissioners Will Organize To-Day.

The World's Fair Commission for the State will organize at Harrisburg to-day with Governor Pattison as Chairman. Commission-ers Pat Foley, J. M. Guffey, A. J. Barr, A. G. Roenigk and George N. Riley left for the Capital last evening. None of them knew capital last evening. None of them knew what would be done. A Sécretary, who will probably be Thomas Jones, of Harrisburg, and an agent to represent the commission will be elected. The preliminary work will also be mapped out.

Superintendent Pitcairn surprised everybody by declining to serve, and W. H. Barnes, Receiver for the Allegheny Valley road, was appointed to represent the milroads. Mr. Pitcairn felt that he hadn't the time to give to the work. Herbert Welsh, of Philadelphia, also declined, and Colonel William Hasson, of Oil City, was selected to succeed him. None of the local Commissioners know anything about him. Mr. Barnes is a good man.

Complaint has been made that the educational, scientific and engineering features have been overlooked by the Governor. The State is full of first-class colleges with representative men on their staffs of teachers, but none were taken. It is claimed in making up the commission the Governor paid off a lot of political obligations.

WITH THE POLITICIANS.

N. S. Williams in the Judgeship Fight to N. S. Williams is pushing his canvass for the judgeship, and he thinks his chances are very good. He remarked yesterday that he was in the fight to stay, and he could see no reason why he should not strive for one of the offices. The impression is strong that Messrs, Williams and Fetterman will give Judges Kennedy and McClung a very tough Judges Kennedy and McClung a very tough argument. It is generally conceded that Porter can take care of himself.

Congressman Dalzell has returned from the East. He repeated what he had said to a Disparch correspondent in Philadelphia, that he understood the league presidency belonged to the western part of the State. He and his friends are doing some great hustling, and it won't be his fault if he is defeated. Frank Case will take up the cudgel in the east, and keep up the fight in Jack Robinson's stronghold.

Dick Quay came up from Beaver yesterday, but he was not throwing around any party secrets.

Serious Runaway in Allegheny - A Railroader Has a Foot Smashed.

A runaway horse seriously injured two ladies in Allegheny last evening. The accidents of the day are not numerous, but they are painful. Here is the list: old, and her daughter, Mrs. John Ambacher. were run over by a frightened horse in Alle-gheny and were badly injured. The animal is owned by R. A. Stephenson, and taking fright at an electric car broke away with the above result.

Mason—Harry Mason had his foot badly crushed at the Union depot last evening.

He was employed to drop passenger cars. He was employed to drop passenger cars down under the shed, and his foot was caught between a car and a depot backstop. It will have to be amputated.

Malley—Michael Malley, an employe of the Fifth avenue line, was struck by a car and his leg was broken in two places.

OVERCOME BY PARALYSIS. Thought to Have Been Partly Caused by the Heat.

Robert McDowell, a foreman at Bryce's Southside glass works, was overcome by a paralytic stroke yesterday afternoon and will probably die. He was at work at the time, and the stroke is said to be partially due to the heat. He was taken to his home near Sidney and South Nineteenth streets unconscious, and up to a late hour last night was still insansible. unconscious, and up to a late hour last night was still insensible.

McDowell was well-known on the South-side, and has for a number of years been a prominent member of the South Fourteenth Street U. P. Church.

Frormous Death Rate for June. The Health Bureau reports 630 deaths dur ing the month of June, which is the largest known for years. Of these deaths 6 were known for years. Of these deaths 6 were from typhoid fever, 16 from inanition, 35 from cerebro spinal meningitis, 2 from cholera morbus, 25 from convulsions, 32 from pneumonia, 55 from cholera infantum, 7 from phthisic pulmonalis, 6 from congestion of the brain and 47 among infants from

The Pittsburg Passenger Agents' Associa tion held a regular meeting at the Baltimore and Ohio offices yesterday. Manager John-ston appeared on behalf of the Exposition, and it was decided to repeat the liberal rates of last year. On special days for popular ex-cursions 1 cent per mile will be charged within a certain radius of the city.

Low Exposition Rates.

Fishing Clubs Moving. The Cresson Fishing Club left yesterday for Sibern in the Muskoka district. The Metropolitan Club will leave on Thursday for the same place. Committees representing glass workers are out looking for camping sites along the local rivers.

Will Enforce the Liquor Law. Chief Brown says the provisions of the new liquor law will be rigidly enforced by the police from this day on. This means a breaking up of the jug trade, since whole-salers must sell beer in pint bottles.

of the High School have been at work, under the direction of Prof. Wood, on the papers of the 559 applicants for admission and finished their labors at 8 o'clock last night. Last year there were 502 applicants. The per-centage of those successful is rather smaller than usual. Out of 559 candidates 483 had the passed; 35 fell below in one study only, and are entitled to an examination; 3 did not finish the work on account of sickness, are marked incomplete and will probably have another chance, and 38 failed entirely. honors are taken again this by Miss Graham's Grant school. There were 29 pupils in the class from this school, and all went through, while the highest average was made by a Grant pupil, Jane F. B. Martin, who made 97.2 per cent. The second place is held by the Lib-erty school. A class of 36 came from this school and all of them passed, with Maggie Davis, of the Liberty, making the second average—96.6 per cent.

In the entire city but 24 of the candidates reached an average of 90 per cent. These were Walter Fleming, Bedford, 92.6; Alice Leech, Franklin, 90.6; Frank Armstrong, 90; Emma M. An Attempt Will Be Made to Prove That It Is Unconstitutional.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HENSEL CALLED IN

Quite a sensation was caused in already troubled Pittsburg last night when it be-came known that Mayor Gourley and W. J. Howard, of the Howard bill fame, were trying to oust the chiefs of departments. A telegram from Harrisburg brought the in-formation, as follows: "It is stated on apparently good authority that Mayor Gourley and W. J. The idea that such a thing would be attempted created consternation among politicians. An attempt was made to see W. J. Howard, but as he has no permanent home in the city he could not be found. In fact, it was stated he was out of town. Mat. Washington Sub-District.

Mr. Howard said he had some matter to submit for the subject, but as we were talking the messenger rapped on the door. We did not pay any attention to him, but he rapped again and again. Mr. Howard, thinking he was taking up too much of my time, then went out. When he reached the door he found that it was Senator Flinn who waited admission and then both Mr. Flinn and Mr. Howard come back. We then sat in my office and talked for fully any hour about the bills that Pittsburg had before the last Legislature. We also discussed street paving and the recent troubles over Treasurer Bardsley in Philadelphia.

"Finally, Mr. Howard went out, saying that he wanted to talk further with me respecting the charter. He said he was going away, but promised to come to see me on Saturday. He did not come back, however, and I believe he has gone out of the city. At least I have not heard anything from him since, and I am not connected with this action. I cannot understand how my name comes to be mentioned with it. There must be some foundation for the telegram, and it may be that Mr. Howard is making arrangements to ask Attorney General Hensel for such a writ. I do not believe he had done it yet, for Mr. Howard, being almost a total stranger in Pittsburg, would likely try to gather the ideas of a number of other persons besides himself."

To-morrow we will be at work the same as usual, but as citizens, or farmers, or whatever you choose to call us. I think about 270 members of the service in all received their discharges, only about 50 being retained in the Signal Service, which will go on as before."

Sergeant Stewart enlisted in the Signal Corps September 4, 1878. His first post was at Norfolk, Va., during 1879-80 he was with Colonel N. A. M. Dudley in the campaign against the Apaches in New Mexico. His next post was at Yuma, Arizona. From there he went to California, and was again transfered to Port Canby, Washington. January 5, 1884, He was transfered to Pittsburg, and has been in charge here ever since.

H. McP. Baldwin, who has been assistant to Sergeant Stewart since 1889, leaves to-day to take charge of the office at Alvena, Mich. Mr. Baldwin was formerly in coarge of the North Carolina Weather Service, which acted in conjunction with the United States Bureau.

Nearly Nine Millions of Dollars

In premiums were collected from policy holders in 1890 by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, and only $76 96 was lost through its agents, less than one-thousandth of 1 per cent.

With such fidelity in the collection of policy holders' money, with a higher inter-est rate, with a lower death rate and a vastly more economical management, and doing a purely United States business (it does not write a dollar in foreign countries), it is no wonder that the Northwestern Mutual is able to do far better by its policy holders than any other company in the
