SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CINCINNATI, July 1 .- In the first of the great battles between the rival "hard lucks" Pittsburg won by a rally at the finish reached second after Carroll had advanced him a bag. Bierbauer redeemed himself by putting out a grounder too hot for Latham to handle and St. Jacob too hot for Latham to induce and as second, second. The gladiator led off in the second, and there was a great welcoming chorus from the stands, and the Pittsburgs joined in giving him a hand. Mark Baldwin sent up a slow ball, and "Pietro the Only"

Out of a Tight Hole.

"How de do, Pete?" inquired "Calliope" Miller as he threw him out. The Reds squeezed out of a tight hole in the third, and when Captain Haulon shouldered his wagon tongue the bases were full. Beckley and tongue the bases were full. Beckley and Bierbauer had made clean singles and Mack took a base on balls. Two outs had been recorded and the crowd let out a cheer when smith squeezed Hanlon's grounder and threw to McPhee. Mack died. It was "Old Pete's" turn to laugh in the fourth. He had two strikes when Baldwin put in a ball close to his belt. He swung his stick and caught it near the handle. Over Beckley's head into right salled the ball. Just as Carroll ducked to get it the sphere passed him and the inspector reached third. He scored on Hellly's slow hit to Fields. Smith plumped the ball into the same spot for two bags, and there came near being a riot when Umpire Battin decided him out at home. He ran in on a wild pitch and was safe to the idea of everybody but Mr. Battin.

Hanlon to the Rescue.

Hanlon to the Rescue. With two out in the fifth Sir Antoine filled the bases, and once more Hanlon had chance to do something for his country. It was the third time he had been there, and he did hit it out. Carroll scored, but Browning had the ball back before Bierbauer could follow him in. Maul's vicious hit was well handled by Smith, and the bases remained in a state of fullness. The tied score was also broken. Fields led off with a two-bagger into right and Baldwin got a present. Miller advanced both men, and after Beck-ley's fly had fallen to "Pfetro," Fields got ley's fly had fallen to "Pfetro," Fields got home, but Baldwin was caught between bases. There was one out and Bierbauer on first when Latham let Mack's grounder get away in the eighth, and Hanlon also drove both men in. Fields also hit safely and Hanlon tallied. The Reds were dumped, but Latham's hit, a bouquet of three errors by Bierbauer and Fields, and Browning's hot drive gave them a pair of runs in the eighth. Score:

Jack O'Connor Suspended and Severa Other Players on the List.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] COLUMBUS, July 1.-The Columbus Associa ion club has been playing such bad bal lately that the management concluded to institute an inquiry, and held a meeting for that purpose to-night. It was developed that the men, with one or two exceptions, have been conducting themselves in such a manbeen conducting themselves in such a manner as to destroy their usefulness as players. It was the intention to lay off five or six men, but, owing to the fact that the club leaves on the Eastern trip this week, it was concluded to adopt no stringent measures. The seat of the trouble in the club was found to be in the conduct of Jack O'Connor, the catcher, and a resolution was adopted instructing Manager Schmelz to suspend O'Connor indefinitely without pay for conduct unbecoming a gentleman and a ball player. The talk of O'Connor on the diamond has become so intolerable that the club suffered greatly from lack of patronage. The manager was given instructions to suspend at once any of the other players found guilty of violating any of the rules.

gone to pieces. The three first-named clubs, however, seem likely to continue through the season, and a strong effort will be made to secure the Water Cures, of Phillipsburg,

Keystone State.

THE FIRST WORK OF THE COMMISSION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] HARRISBURG, July 1.—The initial meeting of the World's Fair Commissioners to-day was attended by all the members, except Edward H. Williams, of Philadelphia; Robert Purvis, of Philadelphia; George H. Barnes, of Pittsburg, and Terrence V. Powderly. Governor Pattison opened the meeting with the follow-

"GENTLEMEN—In accordance with the provisions of the act of Assembly for the appointment of a commission to the World's Columbian Exposition, you have been chosen commissioners of the Board of World's Fair Managers of Pennsylvania. Believing that it is of the utmost importance that an early organization, should be secured, and have summoned you as commissioners to this meeting to-day. The National Government has already made ample provision for a representation of the Government at the Exposition. Pennsylvania occupying the position, as she does, among the sister States, while probably in one instance, overmatched in numbers, yet in all other respects the first in importance, should give to the Exposition in Chicago the very first and finest exhibition of any State in the Union.

The Glory of the Centennial. "GENTLEMEN-In accordance with the pro-

The Glory of the Centennial. "The reasons for this are manifold. She is ntitled to it by reason of her position in the Centennial Exposition of 1876. In the judg-ment of the commissioners of that date Pennsylvania was regarded as the best place for such an exposition. It attracted strangers for such an exposition. It attracted strangers from all parts—not only from our own country, but from the whole civilized world. I believe that it is the judgment of all nations represented at the Centennial that no exposition such as the one given at that time by the people of this country was ever surpassed. It was especially marked by the hospitality and liberality of the citizens of Pennsylvania.

surpassed. It was especially marked by the hospitality and liberality of the citizens of Pennsylvania.

"It has been deemed wise to have a celebration of the landing of Columbus, an event which will be upon us within the next two years. The celebration of the centennial would perhaps have been made impossible without the event we are now about to celebrate. Certainly, there is no period in history that has been so marked in its bearings upon the progress of the human race as the discovery of this continent. Whatever, therefore, has been done with reference to the exhibitions of the past to set forth the grandeur and magnificence of our own country, there is no event that demands, at our hands, more liberal and carnest consideration and attention, not only of our own country, but of the world.

It Should Be a Grand Event.

It Should Be a Grand Event. "This celebration should be upon a scale of magnificence not to be surpassed in the history of the nations of the world. I have simply outlined the purposes of the commission to demonstrate to you the work connected with it and the duties that are im-posed upon you. The responsibility will be upon your shoulders, and it is within your power to make the exhibition of the natural power to make the exhibition of the natural resources, products and enterprise of the State of Pennsylvania a grand success at the Exposition to be held in Chicago.

"If it be a success great benefits will result to this State, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have well performed your duty. If it be a failure a corresponding condemnation will follow. I do not think it is necessary to charge upon you the importance of your duties so as to enable Pennsylvania to maintain her position in the World's Columbian Exposition, which she so handsomely maintained at our Centennial."

Coming into this life, heir of a distinguished name, departing, he has left that name with undiminished lustre."

MUST PAY BUT ONE TAX.

Judge White Rules That the State Tax As sessment of Liquor Dealers Is Illegal. Judge White yesterday handed down an opinion of interest to bottlers, brewers, dis-tillers and wholesale and retail liquor dealtillers and wholesale and retail liquor dealers. It was in the cases of the appeals of the Iron City Brewing Company, Joseph Einstein & Co., the Large Distilling Company, Mary E. Pollard and J. K. Lanahan from the assessment of a State mercantile tax. They contend that the payment of the license fee covered all the State tax they could be called upon to nay.

contend that the payment of the ficense tee covered all the State tax they could be called upon to pay.

Judge White, after reviewing the different license and tax acts, says: "The general review of legislation on the subject shows that the policy of the State has been to make dealers in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors pay an annual tax to the State like all other dealers in goods, wares and merchandise, and generally a higher rate. Whether called a duty, a tax, a rate or a license fee, it means the same thing.

"We hold, therefore, that the license fee required to be paid by distillers, brewers, wholesale dealers and bottlers under the act May 24, 1887, is all they are required to pay; they are not liable to a mercantile tax in addition thereto under the acts 4, May, 1841, and 22, April, 1846. This, of course, only applies to them as dealers in intoxicating liquors."

KICKERS FROM BEN VENUE. A Suit Brought to Prevent the Duque Traction Company From Using Bitu-minous Coal Until They Relieve Their Neighbors From the Malodors-Little Court Findings.

A bill in equity was filed yesterday on behalf of John M. Oakley, S. F. Scull, A. M. Speer, A. Bradley, C. H. Bradley, John F. Scott and G. W. Simonds against the Du-quesne Traction Company. The plaintiffs state that they are the owners of property in the Twentieth ward at Ben Venue, which they intended occupying or renting at a high price on account of its value as a place of residence, being removed from the dirt of residence, being removed from the dirt and noise.

The Duquesne Traction Company has erected its power house at Ben Venue and commenced to operate it in May, 1881. The power house is in a deep ravine and the smoke stack is on a level with the windows of the first floor of the dwellings. The black, dense smoke and soot from the smoke stack penetrates the dwelling houses of the plaintiffs, and the sulphur, soot and smoke nas depreciated their value. It is destroying vegetation and household goods.

The Court is asked to make a decree compelling the defendant company to abute the nuisance and grant an injunction restraining them from the use of bituminous or semi-bituminous fuel in their furnaces until such alterations are made as in the judgment of the Court will prevent the continuance or repetition of the nuisance.

INJURED THREE PEOPLE.

Gripman Frank Joice, of the cable car, was arrested and taken to the Nineteenth ward station. He was released last night on ball. It was reported yesterday that President Elkins was on the Pittsburg Traction car, but he denied it last night.
