The Unearthin Experience of a Wanderer on a Stormy Night.

FIGHTING A THOUSAND REPTILES.

Uncanny Fate's Seeming Grudge for an Oil Country Family.

MINOR NEWS FROM THE THREE STATES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] JOHNSTOWN, July 2 .- Joseph W. Flude, of Indiana county, has just returned home after a thrilling experience in the famed rattlesnake den on Laurel Ridge, this county. Mr. Flude is a nephew of John Dick, one of the Indiana county Dicks, and decided to visit his uncle, who lives on the extreme top of Laurel Ridge, his home being surrounded by inting stone bowlders and rocks upheaved ages ago. Near the summit are the wrecks of many old charcoal pits, with old forgotten roads leading from them down the mountain

de. Mr. Flude had walked from his home in Indiana county, and when near the base of the ridge, he left the well-beaten road and emiered the woods in order to make a near cut. It was about 7 o'clock in the evening, the was about 7 octions. In the vending, to had hardly entered the woods before den storm broke over him. He was hed in a minute, but clambered on up its of the ridge, half strangled by the has dashing into his face, the mountain is having swollen into torrents in a springs having swollen into torrents in a snort time.

The young man finally reached a flat rocky, open plateau, and was moving along more rapidly, when a flare of lightning flashed into his face, revealing an apparently bottomless pit at his very feet. He staggered back, and at the same moment telt something wind about his leg. Thinking it at twig, he stooped to pick it off, and was horrified to find he had grasped a live snake about the neck. At the same moment an onlineous rattle warned him of the deadly nature of the reptile. Flude dashed the snake from him, and struck at it several times with a heavy club.

The snake hissed londly, and the signal was echoed from every side, the horrified man finding himself her med in by an army of intriesnakes that rattled at his very feet. Flude was panie-stricken for a moment, and

Two hours later, worn, drenched and bruised, he reached a comparatively sheltered ravine, and lay down and slept till daylight. Finde was doubly frightened when his made told him that he had evidently walked right into the midst of the great Laurel rattle-snake den, and Mr. Dick and his son, only last Monday, had gone near enough to the den to kill 70 reptiles within an hour. Mr. Dick and others who have been near the flat rocks say that every warm day the rocks are covered with a mass of writhing rattlers, copperheads and blacksnakes, that give out an odor easily detected at a great distance, and positively sickening at any near approach. Mr. Flude was prostrated by his experience, and was only able to return home last evening.

A STRANGELY AFFLICTED FAMILY.

The Last of a Long List of Fatal Accid to the Wingards.

OH CITY, July 2.- The remains of Samuel Wingard, whose death occurred at the Homeopathic Hospital, in Pittsburg, Wednesday afternoon, from the effects of the burns received in the gas explosion near Cornopolis, arrived in the city this afternoon and were taken to the residence of Peter Long, at Cornplanter, from which the funeral will take place to-morrow.

Tonight they are hustling for bail.

THE CHURCH ORGAN QUESTION

Responsible For the Probable Disruption of a Jeannette Church. GREEKSBURG, July 2. - A serious disruption

GREENSBURG, July 2.—A serious disruption has occurred among the members of the United Presbyterian Church, of Jeannette. The trouble arose through the persistent efforts on the part of some of the members to introduce an organ into the sanctuary. The matter was put to a vote some time ago but was defeated.

Feeling grew among the members, and those favoring the organ purchased an instrument and propose by next Subbath to have it placed in the church. As a result a great many of the leading members are preparing their resignation, and will ask for their certificates.

AN IRISH REUNION.

Nationalists of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio Meet.

Youngstown, July 2.—The Irish Nationalists of Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvanis held a reunion here to-day, with large delegations from abroad in attendance. The visitors were welcomed by Mayor Montgom ery.
Letters of regret were read from Secretary of State Daniel J. Byan, who had been called to New York, and Hon. M. A. Milhere, of Philadelphia. The programme concluded with sports on the track and dancing.

INDIANA, July 2.—The State examination of the normal school at this place closed to-day. There were upon examination be juniors, 44 seniors, 2 junior scientifics, 2 senior scien-tifics and 5 who were examined in special subjects. All passed.

SUED FOR THE ADMISSION FEE. on's Circus Has a Queer Expe

With an Ohio Man, (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) NEWARK, O., July 2.-Licking county has some peculiar people, and the most noted of the kind has bobbed up there with a suit the kind has bobbed up there with a suit against a circus to recover the price of his admi-sion. John Forgraves attended Robinson's show Tuesday afternoon, and had stettled down to a steady enjoyment of elephant and clown when the elements broke loose, and the circus managers advised the people to leave the tent in order to avoid a panic. Forgraves objected, and sued the managers for the price of his admission. He recovered the fare, which the management promptly paid.

Then the management of the circus issued a circular, stating that those who had been dismissed at the afternoon performance would be admitted in the evening free of charge. Forgraves again came up smiling and wanted to enter free. This was too much for even the good natured circus men, and Forgraves was obliged to shell out for the evening show.

BISHOP KAIN'S JUBILEE.

Many Clergymen and Prelates Attend the Wheeling Festivities.

WHEELING, July 2.-To-day and to-night the silver jubilee of Rt. Rev. Joseph Kain, Bishop of Wheeling, was celebrated in magnificent style. The occasion was notable for the large number of prelates from a distance the large number of prelates from a distance who participated, among these present being Rt. Rev. Bishop Pheian, of Pittsburg, and Rt. Rev. Bishop Vandeviver, of Richmond. All the members of the clergy in and around the city were present.

The celebration was begun last night by the children of the Catholic schools, and high mass was celebrated this morning. The Bishop, whose diocese comprises all of West Virginia and parts of Virginia and North Carolina, is greatly beloved by his people, and was the recipient to-day of many costly presents. Letters and telegrams of congratulation have poured in from all parts of the country. At noon to-day a splendid banquet was served at the Episcopal residence. To-night a great torchlight procession marched in the glare of red fire and to inspiring music to the Cathedrai, where fully 10,000 people were addressed from the balcony by Bishop Kain.

Indiana, July 2.-Judge Wilson, of Clario INDIANA, July 2.—Judge Wilson, of Clarion is lying at the residence of Mrs. Nixon dan gerously, and it is feared fatally, fil. charged with the murder of David H. Preston in this city in March, is locked up in the ante-room of the Criminal Court, where they were sent by Judge Du Bois at 4:30 this afternoon. The court has been adjourned until next Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock, but will, of course in the event of a verdict being reached, be at once convened.

The proceedings of the last day of the celebrated trial brought out a tremendous crowd. More ladies were present to-day than at any time since the trial began. The defendant, as has been his wont, occupied his usual seat in a rocker, using his fan vigorously and maintaining an apparently indifferent air. The time of the court intil 3:30 o'clock was taken up by Attorney General Peters in the closing argument for the State. The charge of Judge Du Bois, which occupied one hour, was concluded at 4:30, at which time the jury retired.

UNCLE SHM'S CELEBRATION

Uncle Sam knows his business. He nails his flagstaff where it is likely to stay, and he might have done worse than to choose one of our shoes to hold it, for our shoes will stand it every time. We don't make them merely for show, but for use, wear and tear, and we make them to suit all occupations and all pocketbooks. "Satisfaction" is our motto. We don't say our Shoes are better than anybody else's, but we do say they are better for the money than anybody else's. We have so improved and advanced our Shoes in quality you would hardly know them. COME OUR WAY and be convinced
