Fred C. Fitzsimmons Found Guilty of the Skelly Robbery.

HE TREMBLED FOR THE FIRST TIME.

Secrets of the Schmitt Burglary New Being Made Public.

CORA WYATT AND THE CLARKS ON TRIAL

After the lapse of about a week the famous Fitzsimmons case, which was stopped by the death of District Attorney Johnston, was taken up yesterday. On the Skelly robbery Fitzsimmons and his accomplices were found guilty, and now the court is fairly into the meat of the Schmitt robbery. Al-though the attorneys protested Charles and Cora Wyatt were placed on trial with the famous robber.

The courtroom was crowded all day by people anxious to hear the evidence and get a look at the defendants. Fitzsimmons, or Rudd, was still as defiant as ever when ught into court, and nearly all day kept up a chatter and laugh. In fact, his actions are such as to cause comment as to whether progress when the case was stopped a week ago. Thomas M. Marshall cross-examined her, but did not shake her story. She said the silk recovered by Detective Gilkinson had been given her by Fitzsimmens. Her husband's name is William Hill. She has never been divorced, but is known in Pitts-ourg as Laura Snowden.

J. A. Skelly, of McKeesport, testified to the obbing of his store. O. P. H. Somerell and James Wright, emplores of Mr. Skelly, told the story of the robbery. Wright identified the miner's lamp as one found in the cellar after the robbery. Miss Dora Readle testified to the amount of silk stolen. Chas. Foser said he knew Budd and had seen him in McKeesport about a month before the rob-

The Commonwealth rested, and, after a short consultation, Major Montooth, for the defence, said they had no evidence to offer. Judge Single's charge to the jury was short and direct, and at II o'clock the jury retired.

was ready. It was brought in and the verdet of guilty on both counts, burglary and entering a building, was submitted. Alchough this was expected the effect on the prisoner was marked. His face paled and he became very nervous.

The case based on the robbery of John F.
Schmitt's jewelry store, in Homestead, was aken up next. In this case the grand jury indicted A. G. Budd, alias Fred C. Fitzsimmous, Charles M. Clark, Emma Clark, CoraWyatt, Daniel S. Deever and Laura Snowden. Attorney Cox asked for separate trials but the Court refused. Some little time was spent in securing a jury, each side exhausing their list of challenges. During the callpent in securing a jury, each side exhausting their list of challenges. During the calling of the jury Fitzsimmons was not a little mused and as a juror was stood aside he could look at the juror and laugh. When the name of Henry Gallagher was called the risener remarked loud enough to be heard if around, "That's a Frenchman," and then idulged in a hearty laugh at his little joke.
After a jury had been secured District Atorney Burleigh informed the Court that they would only try Fitzsimmons, Charles I. Chirk, Emma Clark and Cora Wyatt under the indictment. William Reardon, Esq., for the defense, entered an objection to this, but was overruled by Judge Slagle, who said was overruled by Judge Slagle, who said at the District Attorney had a right to do he pleased in such a matter. The open-raddress was made by Assistant District torney Martin, who said that the Commwealth expected to prove that the robry had been committed by Fitzsimmons d that he was aided and abetted by the per defendants.

John F. Schmitt was the first witness alled. He testified that he was the proprieor of a jewelry store at No. 30 Eighth aveine, Homestead. At 5:15 o'clock on the vening of January 31, 1891, he left his store, rest lecking it, and then went home to supet. He was away from the store half an our, and on his return the gas was out and he trays with watches, chains, rings, etc., and found a hole in the floor just under the nd found a hole in the floor just under the

He Found the Burglar's Tools.

The piece of floor cut out was shown the and identified by him. The witness ntinued, that on going into the cellar he d a brace, a chisel, a jimmy and a car brace, a chisel, a jimmy and a carschisel. The property taken was at $2.941, and consisted mostly of s, et which 101 were taken and 46

The witness continued that he saw Mrs. ark in his store on the day of the robbery 4-450 clock. She stood at the showcase outsining the watches talked for 10 or 15 inutes over the purchase of a comb.

Caught by Laura Snowden's Wiles. Laura Snowden came in the store at ! clock, stopped 15 minutes and talked about aying a watch or chain for a present for tr brother, but did not make any purchase, be witness knew Fitzsimmons for 18 months I he was in his store one week before the

The cross-examination developed nothing per than Mr. Schmitt's statement that he ther than Mr. Schmitt's statement that he ad gone out of the jewelry business, at hich Fitzsimmons hughed heartily. Detective P. J. Murphy testified that after he robbery he went with Mr. Schmitt to Lynn, usquelanna county, on March 12, and found lady's gold watch, two studs, a ring and a ocket. These goods were at the house of r. Picker and were in the possession of rrs. Picker. The goods were identified by r. Schmitt as some of the stolen property. Isaac Jury, a policeman at Homestead, testied that Mr. and Mrs. Clark live on Fourth wome, Homestead. He made a search of the Clark house after the murder, and found uried under the house a fruit jar which ouried under the house a fruit jar which contained 3 pieces of silk, 3 lady's and 1 gen-lemmn's gold watches, 1 silver watch, 4 rings and 1 locket. The fruit jar was buried about nine inches in the ground.

Court adjourned for the day with this witness still on the stand. Other Work of the Criminal Court.

Gas and Electro-Combination Chandeliers, Brackets, Pendants, Portables, Etc.,

Designs and finishes not obtainable in any other stock in the city. We deal in nothing but the best grades of goods, yet our prices are lower than asked for inferior goods elsewhere, Our effects are artistic and always undertaken under guarantee. We are in a position to fit up all classes of residences, and we refer with pleasure to a majority of the finest residences in Pittsburg and Allegheny as to our ability to furnish something out of the common order at a minimum price. If you have gas fixtures too good to throw away we can alter them into electro-combinatiou or straight electric effects, and can refinish them in any color with most pleasing results at very little cost. We are always glad to furnish special designs and special effects on application. As we deal exclusively in goods mentioned we can assure you better results than can be obtained elsewhere. Trade solicited for all classes of dwellings, stores, public buildings, etc., etc.
