RAILROADS SEND IN THEIR SHARE

Yesterday was another terrible day for accidents, though the record on the rail, which is always in the majority, was not so large as Saturday, there being but two acciing and inability to swim brought two more names to the already lengthy list at the Coroner's office, while more than the usual number of minor mishaps in mills and factories, runaways, falls from wagons and other cases made the record of the day

Samuel Brown, aged 12 years, and James Collins, aged 14 years, were injured on the P. R. R. yesterday afternoon. At 4 o'clock they were crossing the tracks at Twentysixth street. A freight train stood in the way, and they climbed up between two of the cars. As they did so a shifter struck the train, and the shock threw both boys under the cars. Brown had ribs broken and sustained a severe scalp wound. They were taken to the West Penn Hospital, where Brown's legswere amputated. He is not expected to live. The condition of the other boy is not so serious. Both live on St. Francis street.

Sunday Excursionists in Trouble. A very serious accident occurred to a third toll gate on Southern avenue. Parties coming in that way stated that a wagon-load of Germans, men, women and children, had been dumped over an embankment and half a dozen of them more or less injured. According to reports the party had been spending the day eating and drinking and toward evening they started for home. The men were a little the worse for drink The men were a little the worse for drink and a small boy was given charge of the team. Near the third toll gate the boy lost control of the horses and the wagon went over an embankment into a barb-wire fence. One man had his leg broken in two places a woman was thrown into a tree and fell from that to the ground, suffering severe inuries, and several more of the party were njured in various ways. The injured were cared for by neighbors and afterward sent home. The wagon was and afterward sent home. The wagon was a complete wreck.

Thomas Berry, a foreman at the Republic Iron Works, South Twenty-fifth street, was helping to clean boilers yesterday. Berry struck a light to see if the boiler was all right and an explosion of gas, accumulated in the boiler, occurred, burning him very seriously about the head and breast. He was removed to his home at the head of was removed to his home at the head South Twenty-third street.

A Probably Fatal Fall. Edward Manion, a stack painter, 23 years old, was painting the stack on Jones & Laughlins' Brownstown mill yesterday. He went to the top of the stack, 50 feet above the roof, and had no sooner reached the top

Mr. Whistler was a painter and decorator, and bearded at 412 Frankstown, East End. has lived in Pittsburg about, eight months. He was formerly a resident of Johnstown, and at one time was postmaster at Apollo, Cambria county. He was not married.

About 6 o'clock last night Robert Conners, aged 15 years, while bathing in Char-tiers creek near the Lake Eric Railroad bridge with some boys of about his own age, got into a deep hole, and, being unable to swim, was drowned. The body has not been recovered. The boy's parents reside in Shalersville, Thirty-fifth ward.

John Johnston, of Thirty-ninth street, fell from his porch yesterday and was knocked insensible. He was injured about the shoulder and spine. Sawed His Hand in Two.

Nellis Jones, a carpenter employed at Murphy & Diebold's planing mill on Wabash avenue, West End, was sawing out some lumber on a large circular rip saw Saturday, when his right hand slipped. The saw passed up between the first and second fingers, splitting his hand. He was re-moved to his home on West Carson street. At 8 o'clock last night Rudolph Ebert was thrown from his hone; while define in At 8 o'clock last night Rudolph Ebert was thrown from his buggy, while driving in Millvale borough. The accident was caused by the horse running away. Two of his children were driving with him, but were not thrown out. His fall was a severe one, and his skull was crushed. He was removed and his skull was crushed. He was removed to the West Penn Hospital at 11 o'clock and died half an hour later. The deceased was 65 years old, married and had several children. He lived at 5125 Penn avenue, where he kept a grocery store.

SUMMER PANTS.

Oscar Wilde's suggestion as to knee breeches doesn't seem to gain much headway, and the majority of men still wear pants. This is fortunate for us, for we've an immense stock of them, and if a large number of men were to discard them we would be badly stuck.

Our Pants trade this season exceeds anything in that line we ever achieved before, and we are going to wind up the season with several pant bargains which will certainly make our competitors "pant" in their efforts to keep pace with us.

Here are three or four samples out of dozens we could name if space permitted:

We begin below the dollar mark and show you a line of Blue Cheviot which we have sold readily all the season at $1.50, and have now

REDUCED TO 98 CENTS

Perhaps you don't admire blue in Pants. That being the case, step into the next aisle and let us show you a line of striped Cassimeres which will go this week

FOR $1.25.

25 cents more gives you same thing in all-wool pants. We shall show this week a fine line of all-wool stripes and plaids of choice new styles at

JUST $1.50.

We have several hundred pairs of Pants left from suits out of which people have selected coats and vests. These we expect to lose on, and we do. They are from suits which sold at $14, $16 and $18. We have divided them into two lots, and you can take your CHOICE AT $2.50 AND $3.50.

BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S PANTS.

It's a money-saving time of year for you in these also. And a money-losing time for us. Children's Pants from 29 cents up. Other lines at 48c and 98c reduced from higher prices, of an Elastic Insertion at the inner and outer seams, which gives elasticity in movement and comfort in fit. The Drawers are cut in figure outlines and afford the wearer all the advantages of knit goods, while retaining the superior comfort of woven fabric. The Patent Elastic Seam, which contains no rubber, retains its springiness and wears longer than the other portion of the garment. It makes the Drawers conform to the position of the wearer, and avoids any strain, no matter what attitude the body assumes.
