who were some months ago signed to play for the Pittsburg National League Club, and who, when they signed, and also since they signed, have been so much Bewildered by the Oratory. .

That Micawber oratory is conclusive to the Pittsburg Club; that they have not known bother they were members of the Pittsburg will club or of a company of balloonists who and been signed to take a trip to the moon, the genius that has done so much harm in the team had no influence yesterday. The local team went in to play independent of tatshurg Micawhers or Chicago Anson's; and they played. Not long before the game one player said to the writer.

Governor Merriam fold the committee that he was powerless in the matter and should take no action unless the proper authorities appealed to him for aid in a legal way. Sheriff Bean refused to interfere, saying it was an affair for the municipal court and the city authorities alone. The result is that the fight will positively take place as advertised. The Chamber of Commerce this morning adopted resolutions protesting against the fight.

A host of people from all parts of the country arrived here last night and this morning for the purpose of taking in the contest. There seems to be little doubt in their minds that the fight will come of per schedule judging from the large number of tickets purchased at the club's headquarters at the Ryan Hotel. The management have no fears that the fight will not take place. This afternoon a complaint was filed and a warrant issued for the arrest of Robert Fitzsimmons, one of the principals in the coming mill. It was sworn out by William P. Landon. The fact was at once telegraphed to White Bear and Fitzsimmons and his trainer are now in hiding.

The mass meeting called for to-night

The mass meeting called for to-night brought together 5,000 excited citizens, whose deep earnestness and great indignation found a vent in applauding the strongest kind of denunciatory speeches. Archibishop Ireland was the chief speaker of the evening and he arraigned the prize ring and its "law-lessness and vulgar animalism" and the municipal authorities for permitting the exhibition. Ex-United States Sentor S. B. McMillen and Rev. W. H. Butrick, of the First Baptist Church, were the other speakers, and were even more severe than was the Archbishop. Toward the close of the meeting a memorial was presented calling on the Governor to interfere and prevent the fight in view of Mayor Smith's public refusal to do So.

so.

It was proposed to present the memorial to-morrow, but the crowd would have no delay. With shouts of "Present it now," it was decided to carry the matter before Governor Merriam at once, and the entire 5,000 people went to the State capitol for that purpose. A committee was sent to summon Governor Merriam from his residence to receive the memorial. The Governor told the committee he could not address such a great crowd, but would receive the memorial in the morning, and the citizens dispersed to their homes.

In spite of this action to-night the Athletic Club is confident the fight will be held.

There were 1,640 people present and they enloyed the contest because it was so scientifically played. It may interest the local baseball public to know that there has been going on for some time a low and cunning effort to ruin Hanlon as manager, and it may be that some of the directors know of it. In all fairness, justice demands that Hanlon be given a fair trial, which he is just now having, and if anybody has to be dispensed with as an experiment let it be a noisier, but certainly less useful character. The directors must be careful and also fair, because if they are not they need never rely on honest support. Induce Venezuelan Congressmen to Reject Reciprocity.

RELATIVES HOLD THE OFFICES,

And While They Draw Salary, Duties Will

Not Be Decreased. SULTITUDES OF GOVERNMENT CLERKS

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH 1 CHICAGO, July 20 .- A gentleman just rearned from Caracas, the capital of Venez nels, states that it has long been known there that the Venezueian Congress would reject the reciprocity proposals. The entire revenue for the support of the country, is derived from the import and export duties, and any diminution of these means a de crease in the number of Government employes. No consideration of benefit to the people at large is likely to induce a Con-gressman to take action where it means the dismissal of one or more of his relatives from a well-paying position. A scheme that would increase the receipts of the Treasury would meet with an entirely different reception.

This gentleman, before he left Caracas, talked with a number of people upon the very subject at issue. Among others an very subject at issue. Among others an American named Brandon, who has resided in Venezuela for 12 years, and has been and is in the employ of the Venezuelan Government, expressed himself at that time as of the opinion that reciprocity would be refused. It was not then under consideration but it was known that the matter would come up during the session of Congress that was then in progress, and in consequence the merchants and others were discussing the situation. An American Resident's Opinion.

"The Venezuelan Congress," said Mr. Brandon, "will never consent to any propomuch more perfect than I have, but you know my health is had now. I have been in a bad state of mind some time. I feel that I am tired of life and must go.

SECRETARY BLAINE'S CONDITION.

His Physician Says He Is Continually Improving and Gaining.

BAR HARBOR, M.E., July 20.—When Dr. Taylor called upon his patient, Secretary Blaine, this morning, he found him about to go out walking, and the two walked down to the cottage of Emmons Blaine together. The physician says Mr. Blaine is continually improving. All he can do is to watch his progress and counsel him about exercise and food.

The Secretary spends his time here gbout as usual in summer. After breakfist he examines his mail, discusses with his secretary matters needing his attention, see his friends who call, and about 11 o'clock arives or walks out. He returns about 1 o'clock and usually goes out a second time about 5 in the afternoon. He stends his evenings with his family. Mr. Blaine's appearance "This is but a sample of the manner in sition which means a reduction of the reve elsewhere.

"This is but a sample of the manner in which the affairs of the Government are carried on. In the offices of the Minister of Finance, of the Interior and others the forces are equally as large and there are almost as many Government clerks in Caracas as there are in Washington. In the Customs as there are in Washington. In the Customs department it takes about six clerks to do what one man might do in the United States. Is it any wonder then that Congressmen will not vote to reduce expenses when their own relatives are liable to be cut off?

"The Congressmen as well as the President are in their offices for what they can make, at any rate that is the general impression, and results seem to bear out this conclusion. Guzman Blanco was regarded as a great public benefactor because while he held office he expended a portion of his money in improving the city, but when he went out or office he had between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000. The present President was a poor man less than two years ago and it is said he could not pay his daughter's music bill. Now he is reputed to be worth from eight to ten millions.

Congressmen Geta Share.

Congressmen Geta Share. "Congressmen get a share of the profits of office holding also. As an instance showing how public spirited they are, it is only necessary to visit the electric plant erected for supplying the city with light. There is a gas, company in Caracas which has supplied the streets and parks with gas at $10 per thousand for a number of years. Congressmen own most of the stock of the company, and the profits go into their pockets. When the electric light company asked permission to put up its wires, Congressrefused. They did not care to benefit the public so much as their own pockets, and the company is idle.

"The Congressmen don't care whether prices of food products decrease or not. Some years ago potatoes were imported from the United States. The market men were forced to sell them for 6 cents per pound. The same price is asked for them today. At the same time the duties on onions were contract the decrease of the same time the duties on onions were contract the decrease of the same price is asked for them today. At the same time the duties on onions for supplying the city with light. There is pound. The same price is asked for them today. At the same time the duties on onions were such that the dealers were to ask il cents for 5. This has been the price for years and is current now. Butter is sold at 50 cents per pound as it was years ago, and is imported principally from Belgium in tin cans. Flour sells at about $16 per barrel, and coal cannot be obtained for less than $23 per tou. The Congressmen and their gas factory don't pay that for it, but the duties to every one else make it cost never less than that

one else make it cost never less than that price.

"The sole and only reason, upon which Congress will refuse reciprocity, will be that it directly affects their own fortunes and those of their friends. Attempts have been made to have the enormous expenses of the Republic cut down, but they always failed and reciprocity and lower prices of food stuffs cannot come until action is taken in this direction. Each Congressman is afraid to take a step looking toward reducing expenses, because he thinks that his relatives or his friends may be the ones to be cut off from the salary list." Another Similar Opinion.

"Senor Francisco Paul, of the firm of Paul & Co. told me," continued the recently re-turned gentleman, "that there was no hope & Co. told me," continued the recently returned gentleman, "that there was no hope for reciprocity. Senor Paul is a relative of the President and has considerable influence with the government. He did not use the same language as did Mr. Brandon, but he intimated that reciprocity would fail, for the reason that the expenses of the government were so large that Congress could not aford to reduce its income. I talked with at least a dozen merchants on the same subject and the opinions of both Mr. Brandon and Senor Paul were reiterated. Dr. Batchelor of the English Harbor Company at La Guayra was very emphatic in his denunciation of the manner in which the Customs department was conducted. He had been at La Guayra for severfal years and was familiar with affairs there. He had found that unless the Congressman was to be benefited in his own pocket, no measure could pass. The taking off of duties on English goods would have suited him but he said it was useless to try as long as the majority of people of influence were office holders. He had found that the Poople had to pay for their food so long as their positions were dependent upon the present tariff. Every other man outside of the few merchants and the laboring classes was an office holder and as long as they drew enough from the Government to may for their fuxurious time nothing would they drew enough from the Government to pay for their luxurious time nothing would be done."

WANT RECIPROCITY.

Cuban Tobacco Manufacturers Say It Would Be Good for Them.

CHICAGO, July 20.-Luis F. Del Pino and his brother, J. Y. Del Pino, Cuban tobacco

CHCAGO, duly 10.—Luis F. Del Pino and his brother, J. Y. Del Pino, Cuban tobacco manufacturers from Key West, are registered at the Richelieu. They say that the McKinley tariff on imported eigars is throwing the manufacture of the best grades of cigars into Key West.

"Last month," said Luis, the elder brother, "there were 4,000,000 less cigars imported from Cuba to the United States than for the same period in 1890. The McKinley tax caused that, and the trade is being diverted to Key West. Cigar deslers are beginning to look to Key West for their goods instead of to Cuba. The benefits derived from the increased tariff on the home-made goods are, however, to some extent lessened by the increased tax on tobacco. You see, the Key West manufacturer buys all his tobacco from Cuba, but the tax has also been raised on it to $2 a pound. That knocks out the smaller manufacturers altogether, and hurts the big ones. Then, too, the domestic goods are cutting into our trade to a great extent. The manufacturers are looking for some sort of a reciprocity treaty that will free the imported tobacco." some sort of a reciprocity treaty that will free the imported tobacco."

MAN WITH A GRIEVANCE

Creates an Excitement in the British House of Common LONDON, July 20 .- The House of Commons to-day was aroused to an unaccustomed de-gree of liveliness by a decidedly sensational enisode. A man who had obtained admit-tance to the strangers' gallery suddenly sprang to his feet and wildly flourished above his head a bundle of documents referring to some real or fancied grievance which he attempted to explain to the members of Parliament. The police, however, soon started toward the stranger and were upon the point of capturing him, when the man with a grievance threw his bundle of papers down to the floor of the House. By this time the wild visitor was in the hands of the police, who promptly ejected him from the House of Parliament precincts and locked him up. ocked him up.

When the members had recovered from the excitement the Speaker read a letter written by counsel for Mr. Edward De Cobain, member for East Belfast, who is Cobain, member for East Belfast, who is charged with serious offenses, asking that proceedings against him be suspended in order to enable the accused member to return to England and meet the charges brought against him. Mr. De Cobain, according to the letter, is now at Boulogne, under the care of a physician, and a certificate to this effect was enclosed. Thursday, July 13, was the day fixed upon for the expulsion of Mr. De Cobain from the House of Commons.

REREDOS FIGURES STAY.

An English Court Says They Do Not Encour age Superstition.

LONDON, July 20.—The famous St. Paul's Cathedral Reredos case was dismissed in the Court of Appeals with costs against the appellants. This was the appeal of "Allcroft and others" against a decision of the Bishop of London, and has been a subject of great interest to churchmen and others since the litigation was commenced in 1888.

The question raised was as to the legality of the figures in the Reredos, or wall at the back of the altar of St. Paul's Cathedral, the contention of the appellants being that the sculptured figures of Our Savior and of the Virgin Mary in the Reredos were calculated to encourage superstition and to suggest un-lawful ideas of devotion. The decision sus-tains the Bishop, who held that this conten-tion was not well founded, and consequently
