Sad Case of Abused Confidence and Family Misunderstanding.

COMING STYLES OF STATIONERY.

A Little Echo of the Fourth Still Lingering on the Southside.

OTHER SHORT STORIES OF CITY LIFE

There is a certain Allegheny county man and a certain Washington county woman who are just about as angry as an Allegheny county man and a Washington county man can get. The condition of affairs came about in this way: The woman has a husband that's a bold, bad man, but a very clever one. For some time she has been ware of the fact that he was lavishing his burg damsel. The affection she didn't mind much, but the loss of the cash was more than she could stand. So she consulted the Allegheny county man—who is a prominent Pittsburg lawyer—and whose advice to her was to gain, if possible, documentary evi-lence of her liege lord's untaithfulness and determine upon her course of action after-ward. For several weeks she played the Pinkerton role, and was finally rewarded by the discovery of a package of "deary-dad-ing" love letters. Woman-like, she divested m of their envelopes, and tying them up with blue ribbon, she hied her to this city where she left them in the cure of the a where she left them in the care of the attorney. He being busy and absent-minded, placed them in his pocket before going bome, instead of patting them under tock and key, as all lave letters should be. The following morning, without a thought of the package, he donned a ligner coat, and leaving the other one for his patient little wife to hang up left for his office.

The little wife took up the coat; the blueribicated package tell out and, and to relate, was not replaced with the promptness that always makes a poor boy's fortune in Sunday school books; in fact, to be truthful, it was not replaced at all. It was, instead, consigned to the flames and by them consumed, for horrible of all horrible coincidences the disloyal spouse and the lawyer bore the r horrible of all horrible coincidences the sloyal spouse and the lawyer bore the me "given" name and the wife, in her increation, took counsel of no one, but man-like, again, destroyed that which said justify her in her anger. Her man-r toward her husband from that time on is one of studied coldness, much to his estimation, which shally resulted in ousling his suspicion that her love had en in some way alterated from him. The happiness and misunderstanding became ener with each day, and the husband wried over his own domestic relations so not that all oise, even the Washington stay affair, slipped his mind until relied by a letter from the outraged wife. In in then did he search for the bundle of ters that would form the ground for a would form the ground for a ce libel, but to no purpose. Finally, in it, he uppealed to his wife to know if despair, he appealed to his wife to know if beer chance he had left them lying around the house. Slowly the truth dawned upon her, after he had given his description of he fill-aixed letters but it was not until alle convinced by the reading of the letter waterning them that she confessed her larre in the transaction. Reconciliation moved, but alsused innocence is very lighty over the matter, and his client is fur-ous over the loss of her evidence.

Coming Styles in Stationery.

Miss M. D. Hall chatted very entertain over a stationery counter yesterday and told all about the styles that will prenote in that line the coming winter. "In the first piace," she said, "monograms will rage with untold vigor on the paper and on the envelopes as well. Stamped on with the monogram will be the place of the residence, if such is permanent. The colors for ous; the different sandes of blue will predominate. Pure white is always elegant and a good form. Billet-sized paper is used for es and quarto for letters. This Vassar di Repp is going to be a very popular or with young ladies, and is pretty such to be popular with angels," continiough to be popular with angels," continad Alies Hall, as she displayed a sheet of the antiest cream-colored paper with envelope correspond. "This Louise envelope, that ids clear over the stamp corner, enjoys as idearable popularity, especially with ang lovers, who place the stamp on the art that folds over and feel a greater dece of safety. In mourning goods the alian bordered paper will be used more exassively than any other. You seel it is a rrower border than has been used, but it very neat and preity. Then there is a new eliotrope-colored paper, with a wide black order, that will be used by a certain class, is quite proper in mourning, now, to dopt the very wide border at first and gradate down to the Italian, or take the Italian out the first. In many things individual asternles."

Not in Keeping With Her Name.

A prominent railroad official in this city as tearing his hair in great shape yesterday afternoon, and wondering how he should address, in a letter, a woman who signed herself "Sister Mary Townsend, Ditress of the Mt. de Mantell Academy." reciress of the Mr. de Mantell Academy." One of his assistants suggested "Dear Sister," another "Dear Mother," and a third "Dear Nun." Not one of these seemed quite appropriate, and so a Catholic authority was appealed to over the telephone, who declared "Venerable Lady" the correct form in the case. So "Venerable Lady" the letter went, though the author affirms that he cannot see the justice of it, as to his own personal knowledge the lady is young, attractive and very pretty.

An Echo of the Fourth.

There is a man on the Southside who will horeafter examine his pipe very carefully before settling down to enjoy the solace of a smoke. He is a little short-sighted, and many night he went to the mantelpiece and lifted down a pipe which he had not been using for some time. Taking a careless glance at the corn-col he saw that the bowl s filled, and, coiling himself up in his ker, he applied a march. Next moment regiments of the corr-cob were flying ad the room and a full-grown Fourth o by fire-cracker was making things exceed-ity interesting for the old man by explod-con his knee. The youngest son of the use was conspicuous by his absence dur-the remainder of the evening. He had need the cracker in position on the Fourth.

Of all the interesting seaside correspond-ence found in the Sunday papers, one letter in particular was read with supreme inter-

Adverse to Being Interviewed.

The writer of it caught E. D. Smith, the General Passenger Agent of the Baltimore and Ohio, as he was flying for a train at Atlantic City, and insisted that he must have about a column of Pittsburg news be-forc he released him. Said Mr. Smith: "It was a desperate case. I had to make my train, for I can't stand a seaside resort when raining, and it was mining a whole gerie just then, so I unbosomed myself crything I had known for a year. The spondent is an old Pittsburger and for him to remember what I told him, but the result fairly astonished me. These news-paper writers are tricky. No. I don't believe I want to talk with you."

There is an interesting row between two Allerheny families who live next door to other. The tures sons of one family are endeavering to learn the violin, and are ably supported by the two daughters on a nume. Next door our of the sons spends of his spare time wrestling with a self horn, another operates upon a dolin, while the four daughters of the se divide their attention among a plano, can and a banjo. When the two funas organ and a banjo. When the two families start operations in the evening the neighbors make a headlong break for the parks. Each annily tries to down the other, and the result is a delighful medley of the pappara airs of the past six years—with variations. Since they have commenced the variations, the neighbors have been holding openair indignation meetings for the purpose of decharing table opinion on the matter. In the heantime, the concerts continue with abarming regularity, and the quieter residents in the vicinity are leaving for the senside in large numbers.

By reason of the extensive facilities for nting enjoyed by Percy F. Smith, 53 and Virgin alley, James Pain & Sons are enabled, on short notice, to produce the great spectacle of Pompeii in Pittsburg. Manager Barnheisel, by the aid of Mr. Smith's presses, has billed Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia with illuminated paper in a way which is simply unsurpassed for prompt work. With or without Pompeli, however, Mr. Smith's fine presses are constantly moving on work of every description.

HEADQUARTERS OPENED.

Kickers Against the Republican County Committee Have a Meeting Place-Dalzell Says the New Clubs Have Come to Stay-Other Bits of Political Gossip.

The strong objectors to the action of the depublican County Committee with regard to the Judgeship and District Attorneyship are still girding up their loins for the fray. They will open their headquarters at No. 89 Diamond street to-day and their slogan will ring out as usual until they are assured of liberty of choice or death-at least, so says liberty of choice or death—at least, so says some of them. Judge Fetterman expresses himself satisfied with the present outlook. Some people predict that if the straightouts put a ticket in the field there will be some tare carving on election day, and that most election boards will have an excuse for putting in two days to make the count.

It is given out that Congressman Daizell may be set aside as to the presidency of the State League by the Allegheny county Ecpublicans, unless it is made evident that he can be elected without the aid of mushroom clubs. This is stated to be solely in the interest of harmony and to prevent endangerterest of harmony and to prevent endanger-ing the interest of Morrison for State Treat-urership. This action is not founded on any opposition to Mr. Dalzell. He, however, is not in rapport with the movement and says he will not be a party to such an agreement, and that the new clubs will all be at the convention, and cannot, under the rules, be excluded from admission and representation in the Legue convention.

the Lengue convention. Ex-Postmaster J. B. Larkin says he is not Ex-Postmaster J. B. Larkin says he is not a candidate for State Treasurer on the Democratic ticket, but does not deny that he would make a canvass if nominated, and opines that the Democratic party has a fighting chance to win this season on a well-selected ticket, as he thinks the Philadelphia treasury exposure has had the effect to make a good many Republicans willing to risk a change.

FOR DALZELL FOR SENATOR. The Major Montooth Club, of Washington

County, Declares Itself. The old Ray Tariff Club, of Anderson station, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Washington county, consisting of upward of 100 members, which did such good work during the Harrison campaign, has changed its name to the Major Montooth Tariff Club, and elected A. H. Anderson, S. B. Robinson and Leander McCormick delegates to the and Leander McCormick delegates to the Scranton Convention.

Hon. John Dalzell, whose brilliant record in Congress has made him many warm friends in this county, will receive the support of the delegation for League President. The Republicans of the section named, however, think the honor more justly due him is the exalted and dignified place of United States Schator, representing the great State of Pennsylvania.

A NEW DEAL MADE.

The Valley Road Will Run Into the Central Depot at Buffalo After next Sunday the Allegheny Valley road will run into the New York Central passenger depot. General Passenger Agent Anderson said last evening that their old depot has been that their old depot has been turned over to the Central to be used as a freight station. For this and other considerations, the privelege of running into the Central Depot was granted. It is in the heart of the city, and Mr. Anderson says as soon as the connection is made, their line to Buffalo will be the finest and most convenient out of Pittsburg.

"The excursion business," he said, "is abeae of lest very with us. This morning.

"The excursion business," he said, "is ahead of last year with us. This morning we had 225 people to Toronto and Niagara Falls, I can't underwand why the travel keeps up, either, for the weather has been so cool. I suppose people have made up their minds to go away anyhow for a short trip, and they are not influenced by the weather stalf."

A HOPELESS CASE.

West Penn Hospital Officials Have a Remarkable Subject on Hand. Stanley Lyons, a boy from Clarion county, was discharged yesterday from the West Penn Hospital. He was brought here a week ago, suffering from progressive malig-nant lymphoma. The disease is an enlargement of the lymphatic glands, and from the effects of it he suffered keenly. His neck and effects of it he suffered keenly. His neck and the upper part of his body were swollen so that he could scarcely be recognized. After being at the hospital a week he was turned over to his parents. The latter were informed that the case was a hopeless one. He is if years old, and from a cause not known contracted the affliction.

It was the first case of the kind ever brought to the West Penn Hospital, and notwithstanding the efforts of the physicians there they found that the case was hopeless.
