PLENTY TO TALK ABOUT. Citizens of Bellevue Given a Very Fruitful Subject of Discussion.

One of the attacked party so roundly denounced Monday evening in the citizens' meeting in Bellevue Adams that his name is N. W. Shafer and the other is Hugh M. Bole, and Mr. Shafer looks as though the resolution agreed with him. The speakers who poured their vitals of wrath on the heads of objects to the proposition of the Pleasant Valley Railway Company were Messrs. George H. Quail, William K. Johnson, William Jenkins and John Stanton. The objects of their wrath state the subject somewhat differently, and, in brief, as follows:

A REMARKABLE FAMILY REUNION. Two Governors and Prominent Members From Three States Will Be There.
