The kodac has reached a state of import ance in the summer excursion busines equal to the umbrells and the tooth brush. It is considered a necessary and indispensable feature to every well-regulated vacation or pleasure jaunt. Exertion that would otherwise be considered burdensome, is esteemed the height of bliss when in the interest of the kodac. And the person so devoid sentiment as to demurat a mile's walk in the blazing sun in search of a picturesque spot to transfer it to paper, or to prefer a hammock and a novel to sitting on a sharp tone beside a creek with a make-believe tically pictured, is not considered a desira-ble addition to the tourist party. To return to the city after a few weeks ab-since without a score or not block of the second state of the sence without a score or more kodac offorts-some of them could not be dignified by any other name-would be a flagrant disregard of one of the most important social laws of the recreation period.

THE BEST OF THE SEASON.

Among the hundreds of vacation pictures that have already returned to Pittsburg via their owners there is one that is the envy of all photographers, both amateur and professional. The fortunate possessor of this prize is George Shiras III., who came from farquette last week, and who displays a Marquette hast week, and who displays a picture of Marquette harbor during a flun-der storm, with three distinct flashes of lightning plainly visible. It is the wonder of all who have seen it, and upon the least critical examination of the most kodac-ignorant person proclaims itself a wonder-ful production. Mr. Shiras admits har-ing had for some time an ambition to photoersoch nature in one of her violent stograph nature in one of her violent slons, as continued sweetness and beauty pressions, as continued sweetness and beauty with it, as with persons, often become disa-greeably monotonous and palls upon the taste, but the result of his efforts in that di-rection exceeded his wildest hopes. As good luck would have it he succeeded in oatching Marquette barbor in the most pronounced electrical commotion it has ex-perienced within the memory of even the long resideats who are prone to recall some-thing way basis in the difues or sixties that generally discounts any eccentricities of modern weather or elements. In the picture may be seen the perfect outline of the har-hor, the wild waves, the lowering sky and the dashing breakwater all by the instanta-boons final of three distinct sheets of light-ning that in their serpentine beauty and reacting size and power. ealism and power

The reunion and picnic of the United Brethren Churches of Western Pennsyl-vania, held at Idlewild Thursday last, was an event of some importance the past week. It was the largest outdoor gathering of that denomination since the church was founded, and the largest picule in point of numbers and the largest picule in point of numbers that has been held at the popular grove this season. All the churches and Sunday schools in the Allegheny conference, com-prising the Altoona, Johnstown, Greens-burg and Pittsburg districts, numbering in all 41 churches, were represented by almost their entire membership, with the excep-tion of four in the Altoona district, which are so far from the main line of the Penn-sylvania Railroad that they could not get a train to carry them. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. E. R. Kephart, Bishop of Jowa, as soon as all the excur-sionists arrived on the grounds, and he also delivered an eloquent address. The Rev. Harry F. borough for a long time. It was under the auspices of the R. C. U. Knights of St. John, but the ladies of the church lent their services and labored untiringly to make the fete as pleasant and entertaining as possible. The success which attended their efforts was extremely gratifying. Those in charge of the tables were as follows: Candy, fruit and flowers, Misses Nettie Weaver, Emma Kuntz; aids, Misses Nettie Weaver, Emma Kuntz; aids, Misses Aneressa Bonner, Agnes Lambing, Agnes Kuntz, Maggie Doran and Kate Brennen. One of the prettiest and most successfu

One of the pretitiest and most successfu events of the week was a party given at the residence of Mr. R. Rawsthorne, of La Belle street, Mt. Washington, in bonor of his son, Herbort. There was a merry company and the evening was spent in dancing to the beautiful strains of the Amity Quadrille Rand. At 11:30 r. M. the guests sat down to supper. Danoing after that was resumed, The guests departed after spending a pleas-ant evening. Among those present were the Misses Kellar and Mrs. Brookes, of Knox-ville; Measrs. Adamson, Wilhelm and Rose-feidt, of Wost Liberty; Misses Mullen and Jones; Mesrs. De Grote and Blockinger, of the Southside; Misses Rollins, Scott, Capea, Neale, Donahue, McCoy, Detriohand Messrs. Notwithstanding the fact that Tuesday was a very disagreeable day, the Forbes Club, of Pittsburg, and their friends had a very enjoyable time at Castle Shannon Grove. Tuesday was the day set for the picnic, and, as usual, the members made things as comfortable for their friends as things as comfortable for their friends as conside expected. They had a large crowd, considering the weather, and all danced to the sweet strains of the Original Boyals, with an occasional break of Mr. McMichaels' melodious voice. Dancing commenced at 9 o'clock and was continued until 10:30 r. x., and everybody seemed to be in the best of spirite when they arrived in the city at 11 r. M. This club is noted for its sociable gatherings, and in the near future will be ranked as one of the leading junior clubs of the city. Among the events of the week was a delightful surprise party tendered Mrs. A. W. Liebler, of Thirty-ninth street, on Mondsy evening, by her numerous friends, the occasion being her birthday. An elegant supper was served, and a very enjoyable time was spent by all those who had the time was spent by all those who had the good fortune to be present. Her friends also remembered her with numerous handsome presents. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Kreuzkamp, of Allegheny; Mr. and Mrs. George Liebler, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kiemm, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ritter, Mrs. Hunter, of Allegheny; Mrs. Brown and the Misses Kreuzkamp, Haney, Shaw, Hanser, of Alle-gheny; Miss Fritschie, of Columbus, O.; Miss Basier, Bell and Heibling, and Messrs. DELIGHTS OF THE SUMMER.

Picnics and Outdoor Fleasures Popular

With Society Folks. One of the events of the season at Brownsville, Pa., was the party given Friday night at the beautiful home of Captain H. B. Cock, of the steamer Germania. The party was given by the Captain's accomplished daughter, Miss Louise Cock, in honor of her lour guests, the Misses Emma Davis, of Hazelwood, Ora Walsh, Helen Hiose and Ells Morse, of Mckeesport, all of whom are spending several weeks at the Cock mansion. Music, denoing and re-presentents, together with the charming en-tertainment of the young hostess, went to make the evening pass off most delightfully. The fait was one of the rarest treats afforded brownsville and Bridgeport society for many weeks. Among those present were: In: and Mrs. Howard Parton, Mrs. W. H. Teda, Misses Ethel Almon, Helen Blose, Nelle Cock, Manie Curey, Helen Blose, Nelle Gock, Manie Curey, Helen Blose, Nat Chait, W. Robbins, of McReesport; J. Holmes Patton, W. Kaiser, F. Taylor, S.

Vocal solos by the Messrs. McAllister, plano selections by Miss Ednas Carr, and recita-tions by Miss Ednas Carr, and recita-tions by Miss Elanohe Oswald (late of the Minnie Palmer Company) and Miss Mary Byron, followed by dancing and an elegant iuncheon constituted the evening's enjoy-ment. Those who participated were: Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Walsh, the Misses Allce Roney, Celia Byron, Nan Isberwood, Mary Byron, Edna Carr, Blanche Oswald and Messrs: Frank L. Kohen, John C. Fisher, Joseph V. Roney, Harry Steffner and Joseph A. Fisher.

A small party of young people was handsomely entertained at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Loughrey, 4 Van Braam street, on Tuesday evening. Music and re citations comprised the larger part of the evening's enjoyment. Refreshments were served at 10 r. x., and everyone present voted

A most enjoyable affair was the social gathering at the home of Miss Maggie Harrison, on Webster avenue, last Friday evening. The principal features of the evening were music and dancing, and the niano dust, by the Misses Smith, which was heartly enjoyed. At a late hour a most tempting lunch was served. Among those present were the Misses Smith, Miss Ninnie Martin, Miss Mollie Harrison, Miss Minnie G. A. Smith.

A party of young folks arrived home last week from a two-weeks' sojourn in the country, at the summer home of Mr. Frank country, at the summer home of Mr. Frank Gorman, in Economy. They were enter-tained there by Mirs. Gorman and her daughter Minnie.
