GREAT CHRYSANTHEMUM DISPLAY

Details of the Wonderful Show to Be Given in Central Rink.

Pittsburg is to be treated to the greater flower show ever held in the country. It is to be given in Grand Central Rink, commencing November 10, and lasting until the 15th. The richest and rarest plants known to the florist's art will be on exhibition. Although the plants and flowers will all be contributed, the affair is to be conducted on a scale so magnificent that at least $25,000 will be expended in decorations and in arranging the exhibit, while thousands of dollars will be offered in premiums. For this wondrous display of beauty Western Penusylvania will be indebted to the Pittsburg and Allegheny Florists and Gar-deners' Club. At its regular meeting yesterday it was finally decided to give the exhibition. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday, when all the arrangements will be completed. As the club includes in its embership 150 of the leading florists and gardeners of Allegheny county and is acked by the most wealthy citizen there can be no doubt of its success. Although there will be premiums ranging from $10 up o the hundreds for tine exhibits, still larger ones will be offered by Pittsburgers on special plants. Henry Phipps will offer a big reward for the finest collection of chrysanthemums. Charles J. Clark, whose idmiration for orchids is nearly as great as his love for baseball and fast horses, will give a big premium for the lucky florist who can bring out the greatest combinations of form and color in these strange plants.

OTHER BIG PREMIUMS OFFERED. It is also understood that Paul Backe will put up a sum of money for which florists can te. The same thing will be done by H. Frick, Mr. Armstrong, the coke manucturer, and others who are enthusiastic ower fanciers. The leading clothiers will so offer a prize. As the club believes chrysanthemums to most assistantable flower at present, a ean of space will be given up to them, flowers have certainly resched a perfection than ever did any other in so short a time. At some of the flower shows chrysanthemums it in diameter were displayed, and it is to that even this record will be sur-

all of the great show, however, will be taken up by the crysanthemums. The whole of Central Rink will be laid off in two spacious gardeners, with fountains playing on all sades. They will be under the supervision of two of the most famous handscape gardens in the world, who vie with each ner in the beauty of their various arrange-cents. There will be forests of waving lines and immense banana trees. Every relow and the stage will be banked with owers, ferns and palms UNDER A GREAT CANOPY OF BOSES. The greatest feature will be the coiling Secoration which will be made up entirely of roses with the various shades bienged in the most beautiful combination of color. It will be literally a sky of roses. The florists say they can keep the flowers fresh for ten tays and all their perfect beauty can easily be retained during the four days of the ex-

An idea of the grandeur of the show can be understood when we realize that the richest and rarest plants from all the hothouses of the florists and gardeners in the two cities, besides the best and pretitest from the conservatories of Pittsburg millionaires, will be placed on exhibition. Then, to complete it all, every flower and plant of any importance in the Phipps conservatories in Allegheny Parks will be transplanted in Central Rink. Yet even all that imposing display will not form a tenth part of the great flower show.

only trouble that the projectors of this display are encountering is from the Exposition Society. The officials of that or-ganization want the flower exhibit to form a part of that enormous combination this fall. The florists, however, want more space than the Exposition Society will give, and they also claim it would not give them suf-ficient time to get their plants in shape. The expense incumbent upon the production is intended to be made up by charging an ad-

WORK ON THE EXHIBITION.

Not much real work will be done on the exhibition until the end of the month, as the international meeting of the Society of American Florists takes place in Toronto, Canada, August 18, 19, 20 and 21. The headquarters of the society will be at the Queen's Hotel. About 100 members of the club will go from Pittsburg, but by the time the exhibition comes off, in November, it is expected that there will be 200 members in the club.

The programme of the exercises is gotten The programme of the exercises is gotten up in a neat painbillet, with a clever combination of the cent of arms of United States and Caunda on the first page. The time will be taken up in discussions of trade subjects and in investigating horticultural matters. One of the speakers will be H. B. Beatty, of Oil City, J. W. Ludwig, of Allegheny, is one of the vice presidents of the society, and is the founder of the local club.

A PALACE CAR FOR DOGS.

A Pennsylvania Rathroad Official Will Bag Oceans of Western Game.

A car that attracted unusual attention essed the Union station last evening. It was what appeared to be an ordinary bag gage car, with the exception that it had a barn door on the side, and was fancifully ainted. Attractive gold letters streaming painted. Attractive gold letters streaming across its side, announced that it was a "norse and luggy ear," though it was filled with dogs. The canines are the property of Frank Thompson, First Vice-President of the Pennsylvania Railrond, and he is sending them west for the purpose of searching for quali and other game when the fall season was a serious property.

Beneath the car, between the trucks, was sung an iron girder bridge used in load-gehorses in the car, and the arrangement as so ingenious that many milronders ex-mined it with interest. The trustic-like ance was built so lightly that it was not a effect in matter to make it fast to the lattern flicult matter to make it has to the bottom the car, though it was odd enough to at-act a crown.

STICKING BY ITS OFFICER.

The Humane Society Approves of an Agent's

Actions Contributions Received. At the regular meeting of the Humane nesety yesterday afternoon resolutions have peased upholding the actions of Will-law Beaucot, the agent of the society at Braddock, in a cruelty case in which he was the prosecutor. Beaucot's actions had been condemned by a Braddock newspaper which accused him of bringing charges of cruelty when there should have been none.

But shows a good, replication is some good, replication in a scientific manner. Acting on his advice and noticing that the Pittsburg papers spoke very highly of the Electrical and Medical Institute at 442 Penn avenue, I placed my-self under their treatment. You can see the results. I can hear ordinary conversawhen there should have been none.

Pirishurg's dog pond and the method used by the city officials in killing dogs were discussed and every member of the board expressed himself pleased with the method.

LAUCHLAN M'INTOSH'S WILL.

A Lengthy and Complicated Instrume Dividing His Property Among His Relatives-Sobriety, Morality and Industry a Condition for Some of the Heirs' In

The will of the late Mr. Lauchlan McIntosh, a wealthy resident of Shaler township, has been filed for probate. The instrument is dated January 13, 1885, and is lengthy and complicated. After providing for the pay-ment of his debts and his interment, Mr. McIntosh gives to his wife, Margaret, during her lifetime, all the buildings, stock, etc., or the two acres comprising their homestead. MILLIONAIRES OFFER BIG PREMIUMS At her death it goes to their daughter, Lu cretia Mott Martin, and her children. In addition he gives to his wife a one-third interest in his personal property, which at her death also goes to Lucretia Mott Martin. The bequests to Mrs. McIntosh are in lieu of her widow's dower.

To his daughter, Lucretia, Mott Martin, be bequeathes five houses and lots in the First lions G. McIntosh.

To the family of his son Alexander G. Mc-Intosh is given 160-acre farm in Muscolin county, Iowa, valued at $6,400, a farm on Litcounty, Iowa, valued at $6,400, a farm on Lit-tle Pine creek, Allegheny county, valued at $7,000, a house on Diamond street, Pittsburg, valued at $6,000, and three houses on Irwin avenue, Allegheny, valued at $6,500, total $35,000; also enough personal property to make the share equal to that of the others. The income of this property is to be col-lected by Mary S. McIntosh, wife of Alex G. McIntosh, and used for the benefit of the family. The personal property benefit of the family. The personal property of this share is to be held in trust for the children by Lucretia M. Martin and John S. McIntosh. When the children have arrived at the age of 21 years, if they have established a character for sobriety, morality and industry, they shall each receive 4,000 in lieu of a try, they shall each receive $4,000 in lieu of a claim to the income, and it shall be charged to them at the final distribution, in which all the children shall share alike, at the death of Alex 5. McIntosh.

To,his son, James F. McIntosh, and his children is given the house they live in, valued at $1,000; the house at No. 123 Federal street, Allegheny, valued at $6,000; 8 houses on Webster avenue, valued at $12,100, and stock in store, valued at $12,206 42. Also enough personal property to made the share equal to that of the others.

To the heirs of his son, Elspalions G. McIntosh, is given the Klinging-mith property, valued at $5,125; a house on Diamond street, First ward, Pittsburg, valued at $10,005, and First ward. Pittsburg, valued at $10,005 and houses and court on Anderson street, Alle-gheny, valued at $20.410. Total, $35,535. Also gheny, valued at $20,410. Total, $35,525. Also enough personal property to make the share equal to the others. This share is to be held in trust by the executors. Robert, the son of Eispalious G. McIntosh, is to receive one-half of the rents of the houses and courts on Anderson street. If he establishes a character for sobriety, merality and industry by pursuing some lawful calling for five years continuously he shall receive $10,000 from the personal property, and if he continues soher and industrious the rents are to be given him as before. If not the rents shall accumulate in the hands of the ents shall accumulate in the hands of the rustees. If Robert dies leaving no children, the rents shall revert to the original estate. The other half of the rents of the Anderson Street property are to go for the support of the children of his grandson, L. J. McIntosh. When the youngest child becomes of age there is to be an equal distribution made. Lucreta M. Martin and John S. McIntosh are appointed executors.

HE DENOUNCED THE BANCE.

Cornopolis Church Completely Torn Up Over a Sermon. Heel and toe religion got a terrible shaking up in the Presbyterian Church in Coraopolis last Sunday. The event has been the sensation of the town since. In the absence of Rev. S. P. W. Cochran, the regu-lar pastor, Rev. J. A. Douthett, pas-tor of the United Presbyterian Church was asked to preach, and rolling up his sleeves and spitting on his hands he began by attacking dancing in a way that made a number of the congregation squirm, as they are notoriously addicted to the pleasure, and evidently some of them think they do no more barm by it than did David when he danced a jig before the ark. Not only did the minister denounce dancing, but gibbeted the owner of the hall in which this diversion is practiced.

It is hardly worth while to say that the congregation are divided in opinion, but to is introly worth while to say that the congregation are divided in opinion, but they are not arguing the case on its merits as yet, as the onslaught was so unexpected that they have not yet recovered from the shock. Some who are otherwise rated A No. I in matters of Christian walk and conversation, but are nevertheless very fond not only of the stately square dance, but of the schottish, polka and even the dreamy waltz, have tremors traverse their spinal columns when they think of the preacher's excernation.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE POOR. Good Showing in the Worthy Report of the Poor Association. At the regular monthly meeting of the Association for the Improvement of the Poor a vote of thanks was tendered to Captain Harry Gould and his two associates for the very successful excursion to the poor children and women on July 28,

The following is the semi-monthly report of the goods distributed: $2 lonves of bread, of the goods distributed: 323 loaves of bread, 208 pounds of entimeal, 244 pounds of rice, 289 bars of scap, 70 pints of beef tea, 320 pints of milk, 61 pounds of sugar, 2-8 grocery orders, 375 bushels of coal, 75 garments, 9 peirs of partly worn shoes, 7 partly worn hats. There were 10 new applicants, 439 families visited, 208 families aided, including 87 persons; 643 visits were made to the poor, and 87 visits made for the poor. Three children were placed in Sabbath schools, and two persons were placed in hospitals.

Mr. George Helman, a school teacher liv-ing at Manor station, Westmoreland county, has been one of Pittsburg's daily visity, has been one of Pittsburg's daily visi-tors the past three weeks. On approaching him at the depot he said: "I have reasons to be a very happy man, which you will un-derstand more fully with a little explana-tion. The 27th day of last March I was taken with la grippe, which left me totally deaf and unfitting me for any kind of busi-ness. After civing my family subvisious. ness. After giving my family physician a fair trial he suggested that I had bet-ter come to Pittsburg and try electricity in some good, reputable institu-tion where I would have it administered in the results. I can hear ordinary conversation now very distinctly, and will take charge of a school again the 1st of September. The Medical Director diagnosed my case as congestion and thickening of the mucous mem-brane of the middle ear with closure of the eustachian tubes, due to catarrh and a paralyzed condition of the auditory nerve from subacute meningitis, due to la grippe.

"It is simply astonishing the number of patients they have treating who are afflicted with the various chronic ailments, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis, spinal and hip diseases, nervous prostration, etc., and I tell you they are all highly delighted with the results. I understand they do not treat consumption, claiming they cannot obtain results to warrant it, which I think is very honorable in them."

FARMERS GET A SHOW

Unusually Brilliant Prospects for Heavy Crops This Fall.

INSECT PESTS ARE VERY SCARCE.

Startling Decrease in the Ranks of the Colorado Beetle.

HISTORY OF ITS RAVAGES IN AMERICA

Notwithstanding the fact that wet weather is greatly impeding the operations of the farmers, and some of them are only getting two cents a quart clear of freight for their milk-about what it is worth to extract it from the cow-shipped to the city, they have very great reason to be thankful on one ward, Allegheny, valued at $46,000, known as Colonade row; also enough personal property to make her share equal to any one of claim credit. Not since 1860 has there been a season in this locality when insect James F. McIntosh and the heirs of Elspa- ravages were so slight as this year. Cucumber bugs, potato bugs, and, so far, cabbage burs and worms have made scarcely any impress of devastation, and the sale of bug powder and spraying liquids has greatly fallen off. It is true that everything s late this year except what was raised under glass, and the late frosts were discouraging, but if they effected the destruction of the insect horde they were worth all they cost. The curcu aloue seems to have survived to kill the plums, as the ground under many trees in some sections is covered with immature in some localities gives the bectle the name

TOMATOES IN GOOD SHAPE. Tomato plants look healthy, and their ene mies probably shared in the common insect ruin. J. D. Hamilton says that there is a plant locally known as wild vermifuge, which grows abundantly in the streets of Shousetown, and that the cabbage worm shousetown, and that the cabbage worm has so strong an antipathy for it that a sprig of it placed within the leaves of each growing cabbage is a sure guard for that head. It is also made into tea and the fluid sprinkled on cabbage, but it seems that plant will not be much needed this year. It is true it is not too late yet for the worm to do its work, but as the vegetable has esdo its work, but as the vegetable has es caped other pests this one alone will not be The indybug has certainly saved the po-tate crop and where it is poor it is the fault of the cultivator. Already, home-grown potatoes are so plenty that they are scarce potatoes are so plenty that they are scarce worth sending to market. A description of the potato beetle and its destroyer the ladybug is of interest:

The lady bug is a beetle of the family cocinellide, order coleoptera, so called from its graceful form and delicate coloring. Its eggs are laid in clusters and the larvæ are for the most part carniverous, feeding on plant lice and bark lice and small insects of all sorts. One, however eats the leaves of plants. The adult beetles are in the main pudacious, but sometimes feed on pollen. plants. The adult occurs are in the main pudacious, but sometimes feed on pollen. One kind, known as the rosebug, is not a favorite with women. The species are very numerous and are variously called ladybug, lady-clock, lady-cow, lady-fly, etc. It seems that insects, like dogs, generally have their day, though a few, like the locusts on which John the Baptist fed, endure from age to age.

THE POTATO BUG'S EVOLUTION. Fifteen or 20 years ago the potato bug was an insect very different in appearance from the Colorado beetle. It had a long body and was active, and could even fly a short distance. Its ravages were frequently stayed by driving it out of a patch into dried grass by driving it out of a patch into dried grass and then setting the latter on fire. It had the same properties as the cantharidæ and people were sometimes hadly blistered by incautiously crushing them in their hands. Some people think the day of the Colorado beetle is over, while others are apprehensive that their fewness this year will make people careless, so that they will generally allow the beetle to go to seed and make the condition worse. These do not stop to consider that if nature has decided to abate the scourze size can do it more effectually scourge she can do it more effectually through even an insignificant little bug than man can with his paris green and lon-

The Colorado beetle hasn't any wings worth speaking of, but he gets there all the same just as effectively as did his predeces-While on the subject, the learned name of While on the subject, the learned name of the Colorado pest and its listory may as well be given. Naturalists say it is a chrysomelid beetle, the notorious doryphera decemilineata, which up to 1885 or 1886 lived in the Rocky Mountain region, feeding on the wild solanum rostratum, but which as the cultivated potato reached its habitat, increased enormously and began to spread to the East, reaching the Atlantic coast at several points in 1874, and since then has had things pretty much its own way. It has gotten to Europe several times, but has always been promptly stamped out. Both larvas been promptly stamped out. Both larvies and beetle feed on the leaves of the potato, and the pupa is formed in the earth at the foot of the plant. There are three generations annually, and the perfect beetles hibernate.

hibernate. A PRETTY SLOW TRAVELER. Had the nation known it, it would have paid well to prevent the cultivation of the potato say on a strip 300 miles wide east of the Rocky Mountains, as it isn't likely it the Bocky Mountains, as it isn't likely it could have made its way in great numbers without its favorite food to subsist upon. As Europe has been able to stamp it out it is evident that it might have been prevented from reaching the Mississippi, as it required, under favorable conditions, 20 years to travel from Denver to Boston.

Farmers should encourage the increase of bugologists and insectiverous birds. The former must have inducements held out to them, but the birds would increase of themselves if the robin and flecker shooters were suppressed.

RECORDS OF THE POLICE. Two-Thirds of the Arrests Were Made in the First District. Mayor's Clerk Ostermaier yesterday com leted the report of work done by the police magistrates of the city for the month of July. This is called the Mayor's report. It shows a big fulling off from the report of July, 1890, and the report for the six months ending July 31, this year, also shows a big financial decrease from that of the corre-sponding period of last year. In July, 1890, financial decrease from that of the corresponding period of last year. In July, 1896, the receipts of the office were $6.444 62; in July, 1891, they were $4.957 85. The receipts for the first six months of the fiscal year of 1890 were $37,363 68; for the corresponding six months of this year, $34,124 33.

The estimated receipts from this office for this year are $77,000, according to the appropriation ordinance, but as will be seen, unless there is a big increase in the coming six months, the receipts will fall far below what the Finance Committee expected.

The only magistrate whose return shows an increase for last month was Magistrate Gripp, his receipts being $174 larger than for July, 1850. The magistrates of the Second and Third districts ran away below their last year's reports. The July report shows that 1,502 persons were arrested by the police during the month, of whom 381 were gathered in Inspector McAleese's district, the balance being about conally divided between the Second and Third districts, Magistrate Gripp tried 524 cases and turned in $1.288 80; Magistrate Leslie turned in $282 30 from 59 cases; Magistrate Hyndman, 202 cases and $882 60; Magistrate Succop, 230 cases and $715.
