PETECHAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, Aug. 7 .- King, the Pittsburg pitcher, was monarch of all he surveyed to-day, and his

the ball in a twisting way toward the plate. Instantiv the air became dark as a huge stick of cordwood swished through the mellow sunlight and collided with a vacuum. Whereupon the spectators groaned and Pitcher King smiled scornfully. The New York cranks are forgiving and would readily have overlooked a few innings of that sort of shing, but to keep it up for nine long in-nines was too much, and Pitcher King will leave this vicinity in bad repute. It cannot

e denied, however, that he PITCHED A REMARKABLE GAME Only one good, solid hit was made off his delivery, and that was accomplished by Dunny Richardson. In the seventh inning, with two men out, he hit the ball against the ight field bleachers for two bases, and was then left on second. Tiernan got a pop singleto right in the first, and was also left and. King was chary of giving base hits, but was generous with bases on balls, presenting the New Yorks with seven bases reserring another. King's supporters gave we first bases on errors, and altogether, here were plenty of chances offered to the laceal players to make runs.

In the first unning Gore's stingingliner was rouffed by Shugart, and Tiernan got a popsingle. Elchardson sacrificed, advancing the runners a base, and then O'Rourke and tounor struck out. In the second Bassett got second on Bierbauer's fumble, and Burrill was hit by a pitched ball. A passed ball advanced each a base. Ewing hit to Bierbauer, who threw to the plate. Bassett ran lack to third, and Burrill was already there. It looked as though there would be another complicated play, but both Bassett and Burrill got ratched, and fell easy victims to the long-legges Mack, who caught Bassett before he got back to third, and then chasing after Burrill, ran him down 30 feet from third base, thus completing a double play unassis sed.

SOME VERY CHILDISH PLAY. was a piece of childish base running. The New Yorks made their biggest bid for runs in the sixth. O'Rourke reached first Shugart's high throw, and after Connor and retired on a fly, King sent both W. Ewing and Bassett to first on balls, thus filling the bases. To Burrill and John Ewing allotted the task of sending in three was allotted the task of sending in three runs with a triple. Burrill struck out and haing sent a little fly to Bierbauer. Again in the right they got men on bases, but there was nobody in the team able to hit king. The fact must be set down that John Ewing pttched an excellent game, and it was no fam of his could be set that the New Yorks lost. Buck Ewing sent Busie to but in the first half of the nurth in order that the "Cyclone" mif of the minth in order that the "Cyclo night pitch the last inning in case the New Yorks made any runs in their half of the linth. The big fellow was not compelled to worth himself.

The Pittsburgs got a run in the first on The Pittsburgs got a run in the first on Hanlon's single and Beckley's double, and another in the fifth on singles by Maul, King and Hanlon. Gore made two sensational catches in center, Bassett made a fine capture of a lew line hit, and one of the prettiest plays of the game was made in the cight. Bassett hit an ugly grounder that got past Becking. The latter touched the ball as it glauced towards second. Bierlaner came up on the dead run and scooped the ball.

VERY BRILLIANT PIELDING.

Reckley raced to cover first but Bassett would have beaten him. Just as it appeared the runner would get safely to first, King darted across the base and enught the tossed ball a second before Bassett's feet touched he canvas. Bassett was declared safe, but he was out. In the third inning Gore hit an ugly grounds that Beckley got but was un-able to cover the base. King and Gore had while king was yet six feet from the base Beckley tossed the ball at the base at about the proper neight, and the pitcher got it as he milioned over the bar, it was pretty plain. Bridgeville May Quit. A rumer is current to the effect that the Bridgeville team will drop out of the County League next week. The team has only two more games to play on the home grounds this season, and Manager Mayer claims that sufficient money to pay expenses will not be taken in. There is also a little feeling be-tween Manager Mayer and the East End Gyms relative to a postponed game, which ought to be played at Bridgeville between the teams. If the Bridgeville team drops out the County League will likely collapse.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

BUFFALO, Ang. 7 .- Rosalind Wilkes turned the tables on her fast rival, Alvin, to-day, and the New York mare won another great victory in the free for all. She sold cheap in the pools till she got the third heat in 2:15, and her friends had the money all on before then. The programme for the week was all but finished, the 2:12 class being stopped by a smart shower after three heats. Belle Hamlin has not recovered from her fast work last week, which followed a long let up, and Geers pronounced her unfit for a record breaking mile. This afternoon in the triple hatch, Mr. Hamlin told him to go as fast as he could, as many had come specially to see the novel rig. The trio kept steady to the half, but Belle jumped off her stride there, whereas Globe and Justina were so full of trot that Geers let them go with Belle galtoping. They finished in 2:16, last quarter in 32 seconds. Honest George stood best in the

After the Maid got the next heat in 2:173 with Alvin unable to head her, the race looked peculiar. NOT TO BE BROUGHT. Reference to the Local Law Governing Such uits in Allegheny County-Philadelphia Is a Rather Expensive Delinquent-

Crooked Appraisers Should Be Prose cuted. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH 1 HABRISBURG, Aug. 7 .- Attorney General Hensel's letter of advice to Auditor General McCamant has been made public, and is in line with the latter's communication to

City Treasurer Wright, of Philadelphia, in reference to the collection of delinquent mercantile taxes. In this connection the Attorney General says: . The costs in suits for uncollectible mer-cantile taxes in the city of Philadelphia constitute about 90 per cent of the entire expenses of the Commonwealth of this char expenses of the Commonwealth of this char acter; whereas, the total collections from the city of Philadelphia bear a proportion Examples.

For the prevention in Allegheny county of the abuses which have so manifestly pre-valled in Philadelphia, a local act was passed March 11, 1870, the eighth section of which reads as follows: passed March 1, 1879, the eighth section of which reads as follows:

"In all cases when upon investigation, the Treasurer shall be satisfied that certain mercantile taxes cannot be collected by process of law, he shall make out a list of mercantile licenses, giving in detail names and residences, and return them to the Auditor General under oath or affirmation, stating that said licenses, in his judgment, cannot be collected by process of law, and it would be a waste of the State funds to make costs thereupon. If the Auditor General is satisfied of the honesty and truth of said statement, he shall direct the Treasurer to be exonerated for said delinquent mercantile licenses."

It is true that no such provisions of the law applies to other parts of the State, but considering the reason of the law which requires these suits to be brought, and from the very nature of things, it is wholly unreasonable and improper to insist upon such a literal enforcement of the law and utter discrete of its unifit. regard of its spirit, as to annually impos-from $30,000 to $30,000 without any return whatever.

I am clearly of the opinion, therefore, that in the city of Philadelphia it is your right and your duty to advise and instruct the City Trensurer not to bring suits against delinquents, when he can procure and present to you satisfactory evidence that no moneys can possibly be recovered upon judgments. against them.

The Attorney General closed by suggest ing that the methods of the mercantile ap-praisers be investigated and that if any crookedness is discovered criminal pros-ecutions should follow.

OMAHA, Aug. 7.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in any of the trades, but at a meeting of the smelter employes the threat was made that unless the company came to terms soon there would be trouble in the Denver branch of the institution. "They persisted in calling this a strike," he said, "but it is not a strike, it is a lockout. They want to call it a strike, why we will just let them have one in good earnest. I am now in correspondence with some of the labor organizations in Denver, and I promise you the Omaha and Grant Smelting Company will hear something drop pretty soon if this lock-out continues in Omaha."

Bold Robbers Tracked by Means of a Little Piece of Cloth.

LIMA, Aug. 7 .- Miss Della Howard, the pretty 15-year-old girl who recently created a sensation in this city, is in prison to-night on a curious charge. At 4 o'clock this morning, Officer Gus Miller was awakened by a loud ring at his door bell. Hastily donning his apparel he opened the door and discovered Miss Howard, who calmly asked the officer to conduct her to a house which has a questionable character.

The astonished officer refused, when girl burst into tears, and said her aunt had treated her so cruelly that she had determined the only recourse left was to lead an independent life. The girl was locked up and her father sent for. Some ten days ago Della hired a rig, kidnaped her little sister, and drove with her into the wilds of the oil district, where, after a two days' search, she was found in an old abandoned house. The girl claimed at the time to have been under a peculiar spell, which attacked her frequently and made her utterly unconscious of what she said or did, in fact, that she was hypno tized. The girl must be again under the spell, as her story is hardly true in regard to hav-ing been badly treated, and she has a good home. She is very bright, pretty and well educated. The case is attracting widespread attention, and a consultation of physicians will be held to-morrow in order to determine, if possible, the reasons for her re-

LITTLE FOLKS DELIGHTED. They Furnish a Day of Enjoyment for Themselves at Ridgeview. RIDGEVIEW PARK, Aug. 7 .- The little folks took this place by storm to-day, it being set apart for them. Hundreds of delighted hildren formed in line and marched down to meet the day express, which was filled with hundreds more, accompanied by a band of music. The return march was then taken of music. The return march was then taken up to the great auditorium, which presented an unusual and pretty sight, being filled with delighted children, all dressed in white, and accompanied by their more soberly dressed mothers or sisters. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the exercises in the auditorium began with a grand chorus by the children.

Every number on the programme was rendered by children. The first several numbers consisted of music and Bible recitations, after which came songs and recitations, after which came songs and recitations by the following little performers, many of the renditions being of more than usual merit: Winona Nicely, Emma Cartwright, Beulah Gardner, Maria Smiley, James Evans, Kate Smiley, Melzie Proudfit, Bertie Tomb, Lizzie Stoner, Eugene Cartwright, Pearl Stoner, Mabel Wagner, Nellie Smith, Cora Loughrey, Grace Mercer, Gettle and Carrie Vaughan, Maggle Grifflith, Nellie Orendorf, Laura Rugg, Blanche Shaffer, Mollie Kelly, Francis Schramm, Edna Robinson, Lorena Ehrenfeld. After these delightful exercises the line of march was again formed, and four balloons were sent skyward.

TEACHERS IN CONVENTION.

The Berkley County Institute at Martinsburg is also creating a great deal of interest, it meeting being the most successful ever held in the county. Prof. Miller, after a talk on orthography, created a diversion by announcing that he would give the teachers an object lesson in that science. There were just 113 well-educated school teachers among his hearers, but when the professor gave out a hearers, but when the professor gave out a list of 25 common words frequently used, but frequently misspelled, only seven of the teachers spelled the entire list correctly.

Detectives in Pursuit of Thieves Who Have Been Operating Largely. McKeesport, Aug. 7.—After several days and nights of difficult work, an important arrest was made here to-day, which is thought will lead to the detection of a bold gang of robbers and thieves that have been striking terror to the hearts of Elizabeth township residents. A few days ago the house of William Hamma, a Greenoak car-penter, was entered and a coat and vest with some small change were taken. Detectives were furnished with a sample of cloth from which the stolen goods were made, and traced their man to this city, where it was discovered that the fellow had where it was discovered that the fellow had pawned the stolen articles, and this morn ing A. Moudel, a second-hand clothing dealer, was arrested on the charge of re-ceiving stolen goods, and Hamma's coat and yest were found in his possession.

The Bedford was delayed by fog, not arriving from Wheeling till about noon. She got away again about 4 o clock.

The Scotis did not get in yesterday till 2:30 o'clock P. M., having been delayed by fog and a heavy way business. She left late in the evening for Cincinnation. In the United States District Court resterday Stewart Beer filed a libel in admiralty against the steamboat Little Fred, for $33, for wages claimed to be due him.

In spite of protests from rivermen and shippers, the sandboats calmly continue to deposit small mountains in the river bed. It is expected that some declaive steps will be taken soon to put a stop to this obstruction of the channel. THE Ohio river is almost entirely blocked at Wheeling by the false work which the Wheeling Bridge Company has placed in position for the crection of the channel span. A very narrow space has been left for the passage of boats. This state of affairs will probably last for several weeks.

This old adage is applicable to all phases of life. Never more so than it will be in our store during this month of August. You go to every department, and at every one of them you save money. You save fifty cents here and a dollar there, and when you have finished ,the sum total of your savings makes a very respectable showing. You can buy your whole outfit here, from shoes to millinery, and if you buy during this month you save money on everything you buy. The reason? Why! it's the finish of the season with us. There's still two months of warm weather for you, but we have to make room for the coming

Mr. Bausman from Europe, which will be about the 25th. Mr. James H. Ewing (one of the two elders), a very warm and personal friend of the pastor, was seen this morning, who emphatically denied that the session asked for Mr. Bausman's resignation. He says they wrote him in June protesting against the doctrines he was teaching, which they claim are not in harmony with the doctrines, as set forth in the Confession of Faith of the Presbyterian Church.

In reply the reverend gentleman says in a letter received last evening, that he does most decidedly dissent from many points in the Confession of Faith, as he does not be lieve that they conform to the teachings of God's word, and therefore offers his resignation as their pastor, to take effect immediately. Mr. Ewing said there will not likely be any action taken by the church till after the feturn of Mr. Bausman. It is but just to say of the pastor and people, that the very best of feelings exists between them. The session say that they are only doing their duty as prescribed by the laws of the church, under similar ciscumstances. The letter received from Mr. Bausman will probably be an ato to the congregation next Sunday morning.

bright-minded young man. He was caught in the rush of waters, and after a fearful experience, rescued. The day after the flood he refused to speak The day after the flood he refused to speak for hours, and sat as one benumbed. Finally he was cheered up somewhat, and his relatives begged him to try and forget the many friends he had lost in the flood. He seemed to recover, and went to working at the carpenter trade. All these months, however, he evidently had but one thing on his mind, and used to sit silent and apart. To-day he suddenly became raving insune, and does nothing but talk incoherently of the flood. His mind is hopelessly gone, and he will be taken to the asylum.

Physician Charged With Making a Patient's Leg Short. BEAVER FALLS, Aug. 7 .- This afternoon at o'clock John Lambright, of this place, filed papers in a suit against Dr. T. G. McPherson, of this place, for malpractice, claiming $10,000 damages. The declaration filed states that in July last John Lambright, an employe of Emerson, Smith & Co.'s saw works, was engaged in the work of unloading grindstones, when one of them fell on his leg, breaking it.

Dr. McPherson was called and set the broken bone and attended him during his confinement. The broken limb was placed by the physician in s plaster cast, but the weights and other appliances were neglected and the result was the two ends of the broken bone were drawn past each other. In this position the injured limb healed up, and one leg is four inches shorter than the other. ploye of Emerson, Smith & Co.'s saw works,
