

WALHS WREWER SO LOW

As at Present, and Builders' Hardware Depressed in All Lines. REFRIGERATORS ARE IN DEMAND.

The Sewer Pipe Trade Falls Below Last Year's in Volume. A PROSPEROUS SEASON IN DRYGOODS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH DISPATCH, TUESDAY, AUGUST 11.

Builders' hardware has been depressed in all lines. The volume of business will fall 25 per cent below that of last year, with the best possible fall trade.

In 1890 we had a boom and in 1891 we had a strike. The effect of the lock between contractors and journey men has been to curtail demand for everything in the line of builders' hardware.

Probabilities are for a big fall trade in builders' hardware. Dealers are building high hopes on the immense crops which will be put on the market.

The same influences which have proved adverse to the line of hardware have also been felt in the line of dry goods.

Probably no other branch of business has felt the summer's depression so keenly as the woolen dry goods trade.

One of the Most Backward Sections in the City Shows Signs of Revival. NOVEL OBJECTION TO SKYSCRAPERS.

The fact of a scarcity of buildings in Pittsburgh has been frequently referred to in this column. This is so not only as demonstrated by inquiry at the real estate offices or by personal investigation throughout the city.

The inclination of the modern business house is upward. This is due almost entirely to the enhancement of land values, which has been the result of the skyscraper boom.
