THE GERMAN CABINET STUBBORN.

It Refuses to Reduce the Corn Duties, but Compromises by Rearranging Freight Rates.

AFRAID OF YANKEE SPECULATORS.

The Emperor's Foreign Relations Not Exactly According to His Taste.

DOPYRIGHT, 1861, BY THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED

BERLIN, Aug. 15 .- Despite positive assurances to the contrary, it was generally hoped that the Cabinet meeting announced for this afternoon would resolve on some reduction in the corn duties. It was hoped that the influence of Minister Miquel, who still strongly urges a reduction, would have the effect of persuading his colleagues to consent to such a measure. The result of the Ministerial deliberations, as announced this evening in the Reichzanger, shows that, although the Government's decisions are modified, still they are determined not to reduce the corn duties till absolutely com-

The Reichszunger says that, in view of unfavorable prospects, owing to wet weather and the prohibition of the export of rye from Russia, the Government has decided, as an experiment, to reduce freight rates on corn and mill cereals by making a sliding scale. There is no alteration of rates on freights going lesser distances than 200 kilometers, but great concessions for longer The reductions apply to rye, wheat, barley, oats, pulse, Indian corn, wheat flour and pulse shells.

APEATO OF VANKEE SPECULATORS. Though this concession will increase facilities of transport to distressed provinces their want is an increased stock of grain. Advices from various ports of the country show that importations of grain will be imperatively needed. The Government relies on America to supply the deficiency, but the public, and especially the workingmen, are not so easily satisfied as to that. The radical press, in attacking the Government, dwells on the probability that the corn syndientes of America are not likely to show much consideration to Germany if by holding their grain they can force the markets and so get their own price.

Grain merchants are elated at the continand advance of grain here. The enormous surplus of Austro-Hungary, it is expected, will all come to Germany, promising to exporters their biggest profit in many SOCIALISTS SEE AN ADVANTAGE. Socialists are not letting the grass grow ander their feet in taking the fullest advantage of the gloomy situation to actively push their propaganda. Since they obned greater freedom there has been a totable reduction in the number of the con verts which recent international dissensions have not improved; but the coming of winer in what seems to be inevitable distress, verbaps almost famine, promises a rich har-vest to socialism. Workmen pinched with hunger and goaded by savage articles of the radical Socialist pres, will fall an easy prev to the propagandists.

Chancellor von Caprivi's visit to Emperor William at Kiel is understood to have been connected with to-day's Ministerial decision the Government is working in complete harmony with the Emperor, who has been in constant communication with the Chancellor since he arrived from Norway.

CLOSE THEIR GREAT WORLD'S CON-VENTION AT BERNE.

The Associations Will Next Meet in London in 1894, the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Organization-Rules for Future Government Adopted-Some Statistics.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 15 .- At the World's Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations to-day, the topic: "The Association Secretaries, Their Work, Their Position, The Best Means of Training Able, Conseerated Men to Fill This Important Position," was opened with two papers. Mr. See, of Brooklyn, showed that there are 1.186 secretaries, assistants and gymnasium directors employed by the American associations, an increase of about 40 per cent since the last world's convention. Reference was made to the importance of the asso-ciation training schools at Springfield and Chicago, and to the fact that many secreta-ries are entering the work from the college associations. Special emphasis was laid upon the spiritual life of the secretaries and the growth in Bible study among American young men under their direction.

The Central Committee's report showed that there were 4,151 associations affiliating with the committee, of which there were in the United States, 1,305; in Canada, 80; in Great Britain, 614; in Germany, 800; in Holland, 387; in Switzerland, 379; in Norway, Sweden and Denmark, 223; in France, to, in Russia, 9; in Asia, 92, and in Africa, 13. Most of the continental associations are small, the exceptions being those organized on the plan of the American associations, with secretaries and buildings, notably those of Paris, Berlin, Hamburg, Geneva and Lyons.

A set of rules for the government of future world's coventions were adopted. These rules recommend that the headquarters of the committee be continued at Geneva, with the officers and a quorum of the committee resident there. London was chosen as the place for holding the next world's conven-tion, in 1894, the 50th anniversary of the LAW AND ORDER MEETING.

Captain Wishart Tells About the Work of License in Allegheny County.

CHAUTAUQUA, Aug. 15 .- There is in progress here a meeting of the International Law and Order League to tell Chautauqua of the work of the organization. General Agent Hayward, of the Chicago League, said that since 1888 2,264 persons had been prosecuted, and the charges against the same numbered, 4,701; fines and costs imposed amounted to $34,581, and the number of witnesses was 7,437. Captain Wishart, of Pittsburg, says the liquor laws are strictly observed in Allegheny county, and that there is less drinking there than ever before. Arthur M. Burton, of Phila-delphia, said the Brooks law had reduced number of licenses from 6,000 to 1,300, and the number of commitments was reduced from that of the year before.

C. C. Hine, of Newark, N. J., says the League has a fund of $15,000, drawing 10 per cent interest, and is being felt. The Rev. Dr. Drafts told of the stopping of a prize fight in St. Paul. John J. Maclaren, Q. C., of Toronto, Canada, said that there was no police log record in that city; that licenses had been reduced from 500 in a population of 50,000 to 150; that all saloons are closed on election days, and that there were no known unlicensed drinking places.

AN EXCITING MAN HUNT.

Police Officers Have a Difficult Time Catel ing a Thief in a River.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] ALBANY, Aug. 15 .- An exciting land and water chase occured here this afternoon in and about the river front. Two junk thieves were detected stealing brasses off the cars in the Delaware and Hudson yard. One was caught and the other, named John Riley, slipping past the officers, plunged into the river at the foot of Maiden lane, there being no other avenue of escape open. He was clad only in shirt and pants, and though the his clothing while swimming across the river. Whenever the boat overhauled him, Barge Office. he dove and swam under water for several he dove and swam under water for several yards, and in this way eluded his pursuers. The river is a quarter of a mile wide at this point, and in dodging and doubling, nearly an hour was consumed by pursuers and pursued. On reaching the Greenbush, or east shore, the hunted man was met by a crowd of dock loungers and driven into the river again. He then swam down stream, and by occasionally landing and running along the shore, kept ahead of his pursuers in the boat for a couple of miles, when he again crossed the river and nearly succeeded in escaping. He was, however, captured after swimming and running over three miles down the river.

JOHNSTOWN'S UGLY SCANDAL.

The Erring Professor in Jail, and Run

Implicating Others Are Rife. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) JOHNSTOWN, Aug. 15 .- A new feature in the case of Carrie Turman against Prof. Brietkiewicz was developed after midnight last night. It was discovered that the offense was not a bailable one and at 2 o'clock in the morning the professor was again arrested on a similar charge brought before Brietkiewicz was developed after midnight rested on a similar charge brought before mother justice and locked up. At the preliminary hearing to-day he was committed to jail, and at a late hour to-night his friends are trying to have him released on that a prominent official of the Y. M. C. A., who resigned about a week ago and sud-denly left the place, is to blame for the trouble. In the preliminary hea ringbefore Justice Bland to-day the attorney for the prosecution created a sensation by asserting that the proceedings before the other jus-tice on the part of the defense were irregular and would be investigated.

ONLY FIVE CENTS ON THE DOLLAR

Is What Beaver Falls Workingmen Realize From a Co-Operative Venture. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

BEAVER FALLS, Aug. 15 .- Some four years ago the workingmen of this place, but principally the employes of the mills of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., started a large grocery and general store on the co-operative plan, with a capital of $20,000, under the name and title of the Workingman's Co-Operative Association of Beaver Falls. Everything apparently ran smooth for about a year or more, when it was discovered that, through mismanagement principally, the concern mass getting behind. It ran for a while lenger, and then was closed about a year ago, and A. P. Marshall, of Beaver Falls, was appointed auditor by the court to wind up the affair. Yesterday he heard testimony and had claims presented, which amounted to $7,000, and the fund arising from sale of effects will amount to about $1,000. After deducting cost of audit the stockholders will realize about 5 cents on the dollar.

CAUGHT MANY VICTIMS.

A Couple of Bold Swindlers Get in a Good Day's Work at Zanesville.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 15 .- Two men who registered at the Grand Hotel this week as John J. Benchoff, of New York and Harry C. Sink, of Pittsburg, pretended England's traditional policy of a free hand. | to be correspondents of a New York paper and swindled numerous citizens and hotel proprietors.

Among the victims was the Hon. Jere Brown, of Cleveland (colored), member of the Legislature, who was attending the Knight Templars' Convocation.

M. F. Cox, the Philadelphia inventor, at tempted suicide Friday at the Glen Summit summer resort, near Wilkesbarre, by cut-ting his throat. He may recover.

MRS. DALLAS REED, of Beaver Falls, was a cidentally shot with a revolver in the hands of her Il year-old son yesterday. The wound is severe, but not necessarily dangerous. Two Baltimore and Ohio freight trains collided at Attica, O., yesterday, one train being driven through the depot, damaging it to the extent of $10,000. One fireman hurt. THE brewery of Kimmel & Werner, of Al toons, has been closed by the Sheriff. The proprietors say that a business entanglement caused the embarrassment and that they will soon resume business.

Pathetic Case of Russian Persecution of a Hebrew Family.

THEIR DWELLING BURNED DOWN.

llunted Like Criminals, They Are Compelled to Flee by Night.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN GET SEPARATED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The story of Feive and Hinde Zlabowsky, a boy 19 years old and a girl of 12 years, Hebrews, and their escape from Russia to America, reads like one of the old abolition stories of the underground railway. They belong to a despised and persecuted race, but there is a simple heroism about them that commands respect. Their father, Abraham Zlabowsky, was a outcher in the little town of Hruskoy, in he government of Kursk. The anti-Semitic troubles drew on, and July 15 of last year, 8 out of the 15 Hebrew families were ordered to leave within 24 hours. Where they were to go the authorities didn't care, only they were to leave Russia. Abraham Zlabowsky fortunately had enough money to buy a steerage ticket to San Antonio, Tex., where he has a sister. Incautiously he let it out to some one of the countless spies that he intended to go to America and leave his family behind until he could get enough money to send for them.

THE HOUSE BURNED DOWN.

The night after the father had gone their house was set on fire by somebody who was determined that the whole family must go too. The house the Zlabowskys had paid for and every stick of furniture and every rag of clothes, except what they had on their backs, went up in smoke and not one of the village turned a hand to help put out

They had an uncle named Joel Bardetzk They had an uncle named Joel Bardetzki in the town of Kanatop, 20 English miles distant. The mother walked there, carrying the youngest of the children. They fied by night as though they had been criminals. They were lucky that no one challenged them and had them put into prison. When people came along the road they hid in the Meantime Abraham Zlabowsky was very anxious to get his family from Russia and over to San Antonio. Therefore he put money in his purse until there was enough of it to buy tickets for the mother and the five children.

One day last month there came a letter to the house of Joel Bardetzki, in Kanatop, and this letter told the number and name of a ticket for each one that could be found at a certain office in Hamburg. Then began the modern passover, out of the house of bondage into the new land of Canaan.

There are men who correspond to the conductors of underground railways of antebellum days. He didn't bother with passports. He took the mother and the little ones in a wagon by night through Poland, and passed them from one place to another. It isn't much wonder that when Mr. Reinherz spoke to them the girl burst out crying and the boy had all he could do to keep his chin from trembling and the water from coming into his eyes. Their sorrow was turned into joy when they were told that their mother and the other children were coming on the next boat. Mr. Reinherz had them put into a boarding house and it won't be long before there will be great doings in the house of Abraham Zlabowsky, in San Antonio.
