· Colored People Demand That

HARRISON MUST ACT SPEEDILY. A Statement From the Secretary on the Secretary Foster Says That the Gold Reserve Is in No Danger.

SIX HUNDRED CENSUS CLERKS ADRIFT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.-Will President Harrison dare to appoint a white man as Minister to Haiti to succeed Fred Douglass? If he does so there is every indication of war in the Republican camp, and a detection of colored voters from the Republican ranks in Ohio that may prove disastrous in November

The rumor, which remains uncontradicted, that the purpose of the administration is to ignore the claims of the negroes and send a white man to Port an Prince, has thoroughly aroused the colored leaders in this city. They demand that their race be given recognition in this appointment, and if their demand is refused they threaten to leave the Republican party in the lurch in Ohio this year and Indiana and Illinois

It has been stated on good authority that President Harrison purposes postponing a settlement of the matter until after the No-vember elections. This has increased the ndignation of the colored people, who now usist that the vacancy be filled before the next election. They are in earnest and will consider any dallying on the part of the administration as an insult that can only be wiped out by the defeat of McKinley in Ohio, in which State the negro vote is absolutely necessary to Republican success.

A COLORED MAN WANTED. Mr. C. A. Johnson, a colored clerk in the Surgeon General's office, is one of the leading spirits in the movement to send another as the United States representative to He, with J. E. Bruce and A. G. Davis, are conducting a new syndicate here in the interest of the colored race. Mr. Johnson is a man of more than ordinary ability and is resolved that his race shall re ceive the recognition at the hands of the Republican party that its long allegiance and service demands. He said to-day: "I am determined that so far as my influence and that of my friends is concerned it shall be used to bring to the negro the rights he has carned. With many others who are deeply interested in the proper treatment of the race I have sent a letter to the President at Cape May, urging the appointment of Thomas T. Fortune, of New York, as Minis-ter to Haiti. The letter states in a modest way the qualifications of Mr. Fortune for the office, and the right the colored people have that one of their race should receive the appointment. Our allegiance to the of the Republican party in their platform of "The elections bill was allowed to be defeated and the Blair educational bill, which held out great hopes to the Southern negro, was scarcely heard of. Now that an office which has been filled, and very ac-ceptably, too, by negroes since Grant's ad-ministration, is vacant, we demand that the oper appreciation of our services to the riv be shown, and that a colored man be de Mr. Douglass' successor made Mr. Douglass' successor. HARRISON MUST ACT.

"We propose that this vacancy be filled before the November election, so that there may be no chance for political juggling. If President Harrison listens to the arguments of the personal enemies of Mr. Douglass and enemies of the colored race and appoints a white man to the Haitian Minisry we propose to withdraw our support from the Republican ticket in Ohio, where t is so much needed. I do not say that the plored people will vote the Democratic ticket. They will merely stay at home, which means Republican defeat.

"I expect to leave Saturday for Ohio and will see Major McKinley and Secretary Foster. I shall impress upon them the ex-nct state of affairs, and if they do not use their influence with the administration to prevent the appointment of a white man, then let them take the consequences. There are in Ohio 37,000 negro voters and they all vote the Republican ticket. That surely is an element that the party cannot afford to ignore. I have advices from that state from the leaders among our people and they are all alive to the import of the situation. They demand that the race be recognized when a man of ability can be found to fill the posi-

While we are backing Mr. Fortune at present, if he should not be acceptable on any other grounds than his color, we have many others to urge who are in every way The colored people of Ohio are united in this matter. WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 .- The Acting Secretary of the Treasury has directed that a Chinaman named Cheng, alias Woo Lee, who was convicted at New Orleans of unlawful entry into the United States, be delivered to the custody of the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, for deportation to China. This man arrived at New Orleans on the 26th ult. per steamer Hutchinson from Havava and asserted that he was a naturalized citizen. He produced a certifi-cate to that effect, dated 1878, and also had witnesses to prove his identity.

It was shown at the trial that he was not the person named in the certificate and that his witnesses had sworn falsely. The Collector of Customs at New Orleans has been nstructed to submit to the United States Attorney the question of the liability of Hutchinson for aiding the immigration of the Chinaman.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

SECRETARY FOSTER SAYS THE GOLD BASIS WILL BE MAINTAINED.

Treasury's Refunding Operations-About $18,500,000 Four and a Half Per Cent Bonds Extended So Far. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. - Secretary Foster made the following statement to-day in regard to the refunding operations and the financial situation generally:

"About $18,500,000 of 41/2 per cent bonds have been extended, and applications have been received covering about $2,500,000 more. What the final outcome may be, of course I do not know. It is probable, how-ever, that a considerable portion of the balance ($30,000,000) will be extended. It will be no hardship to the Treasury to be called upon to pay those not extended. In fact, such payment will add, by the amount paid, to the money in the hands of the people. By the extension, we succeeded in preventing a decrease of National bank notes, and in fact have so far increased their circulation nearly five millions. The outlook is that considerable more of an increase will be effected. "I am not finding any fault with the action of the banks, as might be inferred from recent publications. I saw Mr. Sherman at Mansfield. I always find it profitable to discuss money matters with him. I do not recall a single disagreement between us. The statement telegraphed from Mans-field regarding our conference is a pure romance. While there is less money in the Treasury than for many years past, it is in a comfortable condition. Because of less money in the Treasury, it follows that more money than ever before is in the hands of the people, thus facilitating the conduct of the business of the country.

"We are on a gold basis, and there is no occasion for alarm as to the ability of the Government to maintain this condition. The Secretary has ample power to maintain or increase the present reserve of gold. I may add that Mr. Sherman fully agreed with me regarding the legal power of the Secretary as above expressed. I do not see any occasion for the exercise of this power, but I do not hesitate to say, should the oc-casion arise, I shall not fail to use it." The Treasury shipments of small notes to the West, for use in moving the crops, aggregate to date $6,250,000, of which am nearly $4,000,000 were shipped during the affairs were first brought to the public attention through the suicide of his first wife, a beautiful young woman, after she had first murdered her three little children, shooting each of them with a pistol while they were blindfolded. The murders and suicide made one of the greatest sensations that New York had heard of for many a day, for Dr. Seguin and his wife moved in high social circles. Dr. Seguin spent several years abroad after the awful tragedy, but returned to New York and took up the practice of his profession again. A few years ago he married again, and six months ago his second wife obtained a divorce from him, and the old sensation was revived in the papers then.

VALUATION OF FARMS.

Interesting Figures Obtained by the Stat. Board of Agriculture.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] HARRISBURG, Aug. 15,-The State Board of Agriculture has obtained the values of 4,832 farms in various counties of the State; these values were placed upon the individual farms by persons who were well acquainted with but in no way interested in them. The total valuation of the 4,832 farms is of tax paid upon them is $295,934 75, or at the average rate of 8.69 mills. The valua-tions include nothing but the farm itself, and these figures therefore may be taken as representing the actual average taxation upon the land itself.

Secretary Edge has found from the average rates of taxation in each county that if $100,000 is invested in farms in each county the average rate of tax paid upon In obtaining this data it is found that great irregularities exist in the assessments in different parts of the same county, and that even in the same township the relations of assessment to real value vary greatly.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] McKeesport, Aug. 15.-The saddest drowning accident that has happened in this vicinity for some time took place this afternoon at Frantz's station, about two miles above this place. The victims were Harry Coursin, aged 22 years, and his sister, Edna, aged 8. The young man, accompanied by his sister and several other children, had repaired to the Monongahela river, just below the Coursin residence, and donned bathing suits to swim.

Frank Trich, an eye-witness to the affair, states that young Coursin placed his sister on a water-soaked plank and began towing her out into the stream. When about 20 cet from shore the plank suddenly sank, leaving them struggling in the deep water Coursin, although an excellent swimmer, lost his head, and before Trich, who was several hundred yards distant, could arrive at the spot, both the young people had gone lown for the last time. Trich dove several times, and at last su evening was a sad one. On each side of the wide parlor lay a body, and between them the aged mother walked to and fro, ever and anon raising the cloth from their faces and gazing broken-hearted at her loved ones. Gathered about in the hallways and yard were little groups of sympathizing neighbors discussing the sad affair in lowered tones.

The children were those of F. H. Coursin, a prominent business man of this city. Harry was one of the best known young men in McKeesport.

A. Leo Weil Says He Never Recommended J. W. Miller to Anybody.

THE LATEST CHAPTER IN THE ROMANCE

Nothing has been heard from J. W. Miller since he left this city Thursday to secure evidence of his innocence of the Catfish robbery. However, matters of interest in connection w.th this interesting case crop out daily. Last night THE DISPATCH received the following special from San Francisco: Colonel John S. Moseby, the famous Confederate guerilla, who makes his home here, gave the following facts in regard to the shooting by his son at Count Mitkiewiecz: "I'm sorry Beverly was so poor a shot. I suppose, however, the Russian was running very fast. The circumstances are these: Mitkiewiecz's wife was Mary Marshall, of Marshall, Fauquier county, at which place I lived for many years. She is a granddaughter of ex-Chief Justice John Marshall. The family was reduced to poverty by the war and I succeeded in inducing General Grant to appoint Mary to a position in the Treasury Department. Her uncle, who was a son of the famous jurist, I had placed in the Department of the Interior. In Washington she met Mitkiewiecz and married him. He is a modern Cagliostro. During the last winter season in Washington he rented an expensive house and lived in sumptuous style. He claims to have Chinese concessions of great value, and he told me last spring that Senator Blair, who had just been appointed as Minister to China, was interested with him. He and Blair are great chums.

CAUTIONED AGAINST MITKIEWIECZ. "My mother and daughters spent last win-ter in Washington and lived on the opposite side of the street from Mitkiewiccz. Naturally Mrs. Mitkiewiecz, who is an excellent lady, felt grateful to meet and show a good deal of attention to my daughters. I cautioned them about Mitkiewiecz, but for sake of his wife told them to be civil to him. He introduced one of his pals named Miller to my daughters. I never heard of Miller until two months ago when I re-ceived a letter from him, asking my consent to his marriage with my daugh-ter. I regarded it as a piece of imperti-nence for a man of whom I had never heard to write me such a letter without furnishing some credentials of his character, and 1 treated his letter with contempt. I to my son to inquire about him. It seems from the telegram that my son discovered he was an imposter and very properly held Mitkiewiecz responsible for introducing him to his sister.

A. Leo Weil telegraphed the following to THE DISPATCH last evening from Philadelphia, where he is stopping:
"The statement of Count Mitkiewiecz in to-day's DISPATCH, that J. W. Miller came to him with letters of recommendation from me, is false. I had nothing whatever to do with bringing Miller and Mitkiewiecz together. I met the latter when in Washington, on professional business for clients with whom Miller was associated, and on this fact and his audacious mendacity the Count has predicated his statement."

A PART OF MILLER'S ROMANCE. It has long been known that Miller claimed the ability to prove his innocence of the crime, and he is now in pursuit of his evidence. Yesterday his attorney, W. D. Moore, made the statement that Miller is not Miller at all, but that he is entitled to hold a name not quite so promiscuously claimed. In fact, he is said to be the son of wealthy parents, who live in New York. His father and mother had some trouble and separated, and he was deserted by his father when he was but three years old. Since then he has hated the name of father, and adopted the name of Miller in preference to adopted the name of Miller in preference to going by the name of a man he detested.

Mr. Moore says he has positive proof that Miller did not commit the Catfish robbery, and has written Miss Mosby a letter telling her the facts in the case. The man who committed the crime confessed to the attorney and hired him to defend Miller. But the most interesting part of the story is yet to come, and when Miller returns he will show that his life can give fiction ten yards start and beat it the hundred AUSTIN, TEX., Aug. 15 .- Adjutant General Mobry, of Texas, was decidedly shocked to-day by receiving a letter from an editor in one of the border counties stating that a Mexican Governor had offered a reward for his head. The writer, Catrine Garzia, is the of one of the wealthiest Spanish families in Nueces county, and is editor of a paper at Alice, Tex. The paper is printed in Spanish, and the particular issue in question contains a two-column article denouncing one Reyes, who is Gov-ernor of one of the Mexican border States.

This article contained a number of per-sonalities regarding Governor Reyes, who became mortally enraged at the editor, and issued a proclamation offering a reward of $1,000 for the capture of Mr. Garzia or his head. His capture was not so easy as was thought, and proceedings were then brought against him in Texas. Warrants were were issued for his appearance before the authorities in Laredo. The dep-uty who was to take him to Laredo learned that an armed band of Mexicans were preparing to wreck the train and kill Garzia o carry him over the border. The officer im mediately telegraphed Captain McNeil who, with nine men, boarded the train at Alice and made the trip without the officer and editor. On arriving at Laredo they found fully ,400 armed Mexicans waiting for the train. On finding that their man was not aboard, the mob quietly dispersed and nothing serious happened. The rangers and Texas authorities are on duty and equal to any emergency. The Adjutant General of Texas will have the matter thoroughly investigated, and accord Mr. Garzia all the protecion due an American citizen.

an American by b rth is contained in the following letter, received here from Mrs. Bell:

You ask me if Sarah Bernhardt is my sister. Yes, she is my own dear sister Sarah. When I last saw her she was a pretty, dear little girl. It was in 1892. I lett her living with my sister, Mary Finefield, in Rochester, Cedar county, Ia. I came to California when but a little girl, with my brother and his wife, and after a time my older sister wrote me that my sister Sarah had gone away; that she had quarreled with my sister Mary and had told her that as she was always quarreling she would go away, and if any of them ever came where she was she would go where they would never hear of her again. She went to Davenport, Ia., to work in a dressmaking establishment. After she had been there some time, John Finefield, my sister Mary's husband, visited Davenport on business, and called at the dressmakers' to get Sarah to go home with him. When Sarah saw him she went out by another door, and when he had gone, came back, collected her wages and left for Terow, Ill., where she again secured employment at dressmaking. She became acquainted there with a gentleman from New York City and married him, after which she went to New York to live.

We heard no more of her. I was almost crazy about her, for she was our baby sister and I always thought so much of her. I wrote many letters, directing them to New York and Terew, but with no result, so I ceased writing and mourned her as lost. I never ecased inquiring for her, however, of every person I met from New York, but heard nothing until I got a letter this spring from my brother, John King, saying that my nice, Mary E. Mum, stating that she had married a man by the name of Bernhardt and was an actress and would be in the United States in the spring. She said she would be in San Francisco April 24 and remain until May 2. So you see she is my sister. She told my niece she would travel all over the world and that she had her son and his wife with her.

I could tell you many little anecdotes re "Our campaign at present," said Colonel Polk to-day, "is not to elect a President or to secure the governorships of States. We are striking at the monopolists in the United States Senate. So far we have landed three. The first was Senator Hampton, of South Carolina, then John J. Ingalls, of Kansas, followed by Gideon C. Moody, of South Dakota. The next one to go into retirement will be John Sherman, of Ohio. Matt Ranson, of North Carolina, will also be retired. The fate of these two Senators is just as certainly sealed as that of John J. Ingalls. "We made two mistakes that will not be repeated," continued Colonel Polk. "With complete control of the North Carolina Legislature we allowed Senator Vance to be re-elected on the strength of his promises that he would be a faithful political servant to the interests of the people. The election of Governor Gordon, of Georgia, was also a mistake as he has shown himself to be far more interested in his own personal success than that of the Alliance. WILL NOT TRUST POLITICIANS. "Hereafter no promises of the politicians of the old parties will be accepted."

"How do you propose to defeat John Sherman?" "We have him defeated. In the legislawe have him deteated. In the legislative districts the Alliance will support candidates pledged to vote against Sherman. The voting strength of the actual organization is 40,000. Our members, however, are doing missionary work among the farmers generally and thousands of voters not congenerally and thousands of voters not con-nected with the Alliance itself will be ral-lied against Sherman. If you would look over the correspondence from Ohio you would be convinced that it is now an impossibility for him to succeed himself."

"Is the fight being made on McKinley

"It is not. As I stated, we are now cleaning out the United States Senate. Governorships are not valuable to us at the present time. It would have a good moral effect to elect State officers, merely as an evidence of the strength of the organizaion, but our primary object is to SECURE THE BALANCE OF POWER in the Legislatures which enact the laws and elect United States Senators. Probably many Alliance members will support the People's ticket in Ohio, but there is no movement to have them do so. Consequently the Alliance is not fighting Mc-Kinley; but do no infer from that that I think he will be elected." "Can Senator Wilson, of Iowa, be re-

"We are figuring much on results from Iowa," replied Colonel Polk. "The organization in that State is weak, though the popular assumption is that we are making a great fight there. That idea is a mistaken one. The most we expect to get out of the contest in Iowa is to determine what contest in Iowa is to determine what strength the movement is developing there. No scalps are expected. In the Northwest, however, the voters seem more ready to break away from the old parties than in other sections of the country."

"Will the Alliance undertake to dietate the successor of Senator Quay in Pennsylvenio":

NOT AFTER QUAY'S SCALP. As matters stand now I think not State is not yet sufficiently organized. How-ever, the work is progressing rapidly. You do not see much about it in the newspapers, do not see much about it in the newspapers, but about two local Alliances per day are being organized in the State. By the time Sen-ator Cameron's term expires we will prob-ably be ready to supply his successor. In New York State the situation is much the same. Nevertheless, Senator Hiscock will be retired in 1893, though other causes will operate to that end besides the spread of the Alliance movement."

"The reports from Baltimore are to the Wheeling creek, and excavations were being made there for the building of an effect that Senator Gorman has captured the Maryland Alliance." "That is an invention. I was present throughout the recent convention. If the Maryland Alliance is true to its principles two Alliance Senators will be elected from that State next winter, and Arthur P. Gor man will not be one of them. He is too much of a straddler on the silver question to suit our principles, and is unacceptable in other ways. The two Alabama Senators must also be relieved from further service in the United States Senate. Mr. Morgan will come first, then Mr. Pugh. Congress man Oates, who has openly declared against the Alliance, will head the procession of those who go out of public life from that State. This fall we expect to secure com-plete control of Virginia."

QUITE A BUSINESS ASPECT The Alliance headquarters are not main tained on mere talk. There is apparently plenty of money at command. At the principal offices there are stacked up hun dreds of hugh packages of printed matter for distribution. The typographic work is first class and there is nothing cheap or shoddy about it. On North Capitol street, almost within the shadow of the Senate wing, a four-story printing house has been established and within it is as busy as a beehive. A large force of women are employed in the mailing department and in clerical work, showing that there is no prejudice against the softer sex. In short, one of the secrets of the success of the Alliance has been the interest taken in it by the women. An extensive literary bureau is also maintained In all these departments there is a spirit of enterprise and enthusiasm, which may give he key to the success that has been attained in Alliance undertakings and which has caused such a fright in old political circles.

DISEASE IN THE HAM.

Terrible Torture of a Boy Suffering With Trichinosis.

MOTHER AND SISTER AFFECTED.

The Slightest Touch Makes the Sufferer Cry Out with Pain.

THE TROUBLE IS A VERY RARE ONE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 .- In a room where the sun rarely shines, a boy is tossing from side to side of a big bed, showing in every

look and movement the most excruciating agony. No need to wonder at the pain, for his disease is trichinosis. The boy is Charles Deicke. He is 16 ears old, the son of Dorothea Deicke, a widow. Up to July 4 Charley was errand boy for a printer on Ann street. But the boy has not worked since July 4, and the chances are that he will never work again.

On that holiday Mrs. Diecke thought that the evening meal should be of a better quality than usual. So she sent her little girl to buy some meat. The girl bought two pounds of cooked ham from the grocery of J. P.

Inborf. All three Dieckeses are heartily of it. ALL THREE ATTACKED.

That night each was taken with a severe spell of vomiting. The next day the mother and daughter were fully recovered, with the exception of a feeling of weakness, but Charley was in bed, the victim of a burning fever. A physician said that the boy was suffering from scarlet fever. Two days passed and the physician called another in consultation. The second doctor pronounced the disease typhoid fever.

Another day passed and the boy acted so queerly, tearing at himself with his nails and complaining of an insufferable itching, a third physician was called. He said that he had inflammatory rheumatism. The boy was dosed accordingly.

At the end of two weeks he had recovered to such a degree that he could walk. He secured work at a carpenter shop and was to have gone there a week ago last Monday. But on Sunday of that week, while sitting in the kitchen, he gave a great cry, ran over to the bed and threw himself upon it, tearing at the sheets and shreiking aloud in the frenzy of pain.

"Oh!" he cried, "they're eating me up!"

YOUNG DIECKE'S TORTURE.

His mother, almost in hysteries, ran for the nearest physician, Dr. H. Freeman. He came and looked at the boy. After a moment he began to pinch the pain-racked figure. With every pressure on the flesh there came a cry of pain. All parts of young Diecke's body excepting the ears and nose, were abnormally sensitive to the "Trichinosis," said Freeman.

Mrs. Dicke protested that the boy had not eaten pork since July 4, but this only added to Dr. Freeman's certainty, his diagnosis having convinced him that the death-dealing parasites had reached the muscles of the lad. muscles of the lad.

For nearly two weeks Dr. Freeman, by use of stimulants, has managed to keep Charley Diecke alive, despite the tortures which rack his little body. Yesterday, however, the case had reached such pitch that Dr. Freeman notified Dr. Cyrus Edson, of the Board of Health. Dr. Edson will investigate the case and ascertain if any action should be taken concerning the seller of the A RARE DISEASE.

Trichinosis is a very rare disease in this city. Dr. Freeman says these are the first cases that he has seen in all his medical practice, and many physicians go a lifetime without having any experience with it. This may account for the fact that it was not immediately recognized by the physicians who were called in by the Diecke family.

The disease is produced by a multitude of tiny worms which are communicated to the make their way in myriads to the muscles. cially the voluntary they cause the patient great agony and generally death. The lad was seen by a reporter last even-He had been lying in a kind of stupor

ing. He had been lying in a kind or supportant all day, but roused up when the reporter entered the room. He screamed with pain when the muscles of his arms, face or body when the muscles of his arms, face or body and that he suffered were touched, but said that he suffered little pain except when he was touched. Last week, on the contrary, he was in great pain, and he cannot yet bear to be moved. pain, and he cannot yet bear to be moved.

The ham which is supposed to have caused the trouble was purchased at the grocery store of J. P. Indorf. Mr. Indorf says that he has never had any complaint from any of his customers, and he never heard of the ham making anybody sick.
