point scored in favo of the local horses. The contest was so close that it hung in the balance during the latter half of the game, and at times it looked as if for certain the scales would be turned against the local representatives. But every time matters looked like that something occurred and they turned the other way or did not turn at all. HAD LOTS OF SHOUTING.

There were between 1,400 and 1,500 people present, and the majority of them shouted mselves hoarse before the end was reached. The shouting at one or two stages had a little to do with Mr. Rusie, who pitched for the Giants. But considering the circumstances he kepthis nerve extremely well. He was in a tight place several times, and so was Baldwin. But that just added to the excitement and the fun. Rusie pitched well, but the hits that were made off his delivery were made mostly at times when they counted hits that were made off his delivery were made mostly at times when they counted runs, and that told heavily against the men from New York.

But the great drawback to the visitors was the fact that they could not hit the ball, just as that fact was their downfall on Thursday. Baldwin was in excellent form, and although he was a little wild at times he managed to counter balance his wildness in the nick of time by effective and opportune work. He was also well supported, and the timely and hard hitting of Bierbauer, Shugart and Beckley helped him to victory considerably. The first named really played a brilling game

ant game
Although Rusle pitched very well, he was not well supported, and it is not unfair to say that the Giants did not play a very good game in the field. It is justice to Glasscock to say that he was handicapped by a very sore finger, and that no doubt caused him to make a most glaring error. To add to the

and this probability makes Manager Mutrie mourn more than ever. Jeems now claims that his team have had more misfortunes that his team have had more misfortunes than all other teams put together.

The contest started out quite lively, and the Giants began it as if they were going to knock Baldwin out of the box. Bierbauer started off the fun, and reached first on Giasscock's fumble. Shugart's grounder to Richardson caused both Bierbauer and Shugart to be doubled up. Miller got his base on halls, and then Beckley banged the ball to the left field fence for three bags and Miller scored. Lally struck out.

Then the Giants got an inning and went the local fellows one better. Gore led off with a splendid single to left and Richardson struck out. Tiernan, however, loomed up with a corking three-bagger to right center scoring Gore. O'Rourke got to first on Baldwin's fumble and Tiernan scored, but Conner made a hit which earned Tiernan's Connor made a hit which carned Tiernan' Comor made a hit which carned Tiernan's run. In the third inning the visitors scored another, which turned out to be their last run. Comnor got his base on balls and reached third on sacrifice hits by Bassett and Glasscock and a single by Buckley scored him. It was at this stage that Buckley injured his leg running to first.

his base on balls. Bierbauer followed with a three-bagger and Shugart came with a double which sent both Baldwin and Bier bauer home. The excitement was high at this stage and Rusie had enough to do to brave the storm of yells and shouts. Miller made an infield hit which Rusie fumbled made an infield hit which Rusie fumbled and Shugart got to third. Beckley's long fly to Gore scored Shugart and the score was tied. There was lots of fun at this stage.

Not another run was scored until the Ginnts had three men on bases at one stage, but not a hit was forthcoming to score a run. In the ninth, after Baidwin was out, Bierhauer made a double to left and Shugart made a safe hit to Bassett, but the latter's good fielding kept Bierbauer at second. Miller got his base on balls, and the bases were full. Then Beckley came again with a long fly to Gore and Bierbauer scored what turned out to be the winning run. The score:

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.-The meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club, which begins to-morrow, is attracting universal attention from racegoers, especially bewhich will be decided on the first day. This very valuable stake for 2-year-olds in estimated to be worth in the neighborhood of $75,000, providing a field of 25 start, and that number is quite likely to go to the post. Last year the race proved a notable victory for the late August Belmont, as that gentleman's colts, Potomac and Masher, ran first and second. As the breeder, nominator gentleman's colts, Potomac and Masher, ran first and second. As the breeder, nominator and owner at the time of the race he secured all the money, but the honor and glory was even more welcome to that ardent turfman. Among the most notable starters to-morrow is another colt of Mr. Belmont's breeding, His Highness, now owned by David Gideon. Although he goes to the post with the top weight of 130 pounds, His Highness has nearly an unbeaten record, and is considered an important factor in the race.

Mr. Gideon, however, has two strings to his bow, as that other good colt, Merry Monarch, is a certain starter. He will carry 122 pound; Both colts acquitted themselves well in their final trial at Jerome Park yesterday. With 116 pounds up the two covered the distance in £18%, a decidedly good move for Jerome, where the fastest three quarters ever shown was in £17. Bergen has chosen Merry Monarch as his mount, and James McLaughlin will ride His Highness.

Among the others well liked is the McLewee representative, Yorkville Belle. She is credited with lightning work at Morris Park. Dagonet, also, is being talked about. In rebuttal to the argument that the Tremonts do not like three-quarters of a mile, it is set forth that the Futurity is a little short of that distance. Sims has been secured to ride him.

Captain Brown is especially pleased with the showing made by Lamplighter. His race yesterday was in the line of work for Saturday. All who saw the race know how good it was. According to Mr. Galway, the hope that Garrison will have the mount is without foundation. Mr. Galway, does not think the jockey will be reinstated.

DAMPENED THEIR ARDOR.

The Absence of Pool-Selling Make Things Very Quiet at Tarentum. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

TARESTON, Aug. 28.—Increasing crowds mark the attendance at the races and fair here, which is now nearing its close. A great lack is felt here in interest, owing to the fact that no pool-selling has been allowed on the races. Since the first attempt was made the management had promptly shut out all bookmakers, and if anything is done in that line it is on the quiet. The Pittsburg sports are well represented, though the shut-down on "frenchies" has rather dampened their ardor. The track was in good condition to-day and the races interesting. Summaries:

September 12, and have the return game the following Saturday.

ONE of the things that the League would have stipulated for in case the conference had continued to a finish was the restoration of a 50 cents admission fee by the Boston American Association Club. The Association demanded almost everything in sight, probably on the basis of asking for everything and taking what they could get.

LEVEL headed patrons of the game in this city are of the opinion that the Boston League club made a very unwise move in putting Mike Kelly into their fine team. It is pointed out that the Boston League teams of 1885 and 1889 felt the blighting effects of his presence, and it is asserted that the present splendid team of sober, earnest players will surely deteriorate as a result of his presence in it.—New Fork Sus.

A DISPATCH from Boston says: The Boston Ball Club (Association) held a meeting this morning and took steps to head off any further defections from their ranks. The desertion of Kelly hurts them, despite their load assertions to the contrary. At the meeting to-day the players were asked to sign ountracts for the season of '92. Duffy, Richardson, Brown, Stricker, Radford, Murphy, O'Brien and Fitzgerald signed. Bronthers and Joyce were present, but they refused to sign until after the season closed. Farreli and Buffingion were not present, and their intentions are not known.

scason closed. Farrell and Bulmiglon were not present, and their intentions are not known.

THERE is little question that the Detroit A. C. and New Jersey A. C. teams will again battle for the Amateur Athletic Union championship. The Bergen Pointers have won the local series with ridiculous ease, and will now have their hardest task of theseason, the defeat of the Columbia A. C. team of Washington. The Capital City boys are playing astrong game, and are quite liable to surprise the Jersey men. However, the odds are in hvor of the latter winning the series. The Detroit and Cicveland A. C. teams have won the series in their respective cities, and are now struggling with each other for the western championship. The series is five games, and Detroit has up to date captured two out of three, and there is little doubt the Wolverines will manage to win another. Providing the Jerseys are the contestants for the national championship, two games will be played in New York, two in Detroit, and a fifth game, if necessary, on neutral ground. The Detroits will present ago, and the Jerseys are not materially changed.

Desired by Some and Opposed by Others at the Grange Picnic. THE BOYER TAX BILL ATTACKED

Owing to the frequent rains and the almost impassa-ble condition of the roads there was a falling off in the number of people brought here in vehicles, as compared with the

It is known that he was released but a short time ago from the Michigan Penitentiary, when he came here and committed a burglary, and an hour later killed Officer Freed.

During the short time he had his liberty after leaving the Jackson Penitentiary he courted and married Miss Carrie McCarrick, of Detroit, who was not aware of his criminal career, and to whom he represented that he was a traveling man. That his wife has led as spotless life is attested by those who personally investigated the case. Fizzgerald claimed, while here, that he had wealthy relatives near Oneida, N. Y., and this has, with his other statements, been proven false. A voluminous bill of exceptions was signed to-day by Judge Robinson, but there is no probability of the Circuit Court granting a new trial. Among the speeches delivered to-day was one in Pennsylvania Dutch by W. N. Benninger, of Northampton county. Senator Jones, of Indiana, prominently identified with the Grange of that State, had a good thing to say for the picnic, and told his hearers that the Democratic and Republican parties were preparing for a great fight in hearers that the Democratic and Republican parties were preparing for a great fight in 1892, and that the third party would open their campaign next December. Representative Tewksbury, of Columbia, attacked the Boyer bill as not meeting the wants and just demands of real estate owners, and urged the Grangers to continue their fight for legislation containing the principle embodied in the equalization of tax bill.

In the afternoon an interesting meeting was held to discuss the propriety of the constitutional convention. Senator Brown said corporate aggession had become a menace to popular rights and was able to sway legislation by its ability to influence voters. A secret ballot was thus rendered an absolute necessity and the Australian system was not a remedy, because the present constitution compelled the numbering of the ballot. He urged the farmers in their own behalf, and that of every ligitimate interest, to make their influence felt in outaining the ablest and best delegations possible.

A TRAVELING MAN'S SUICIDE.

He Gives as His Reason That He Had Taken His Firm's Money. EBENSBURG, Aug. 28.—Early this morning Harry Brunn, traveling for A. J. Logan & Co., of Pittsburg, shot himself in the Mountain House at this place, and at latest accounts will die. Brunn came here on the evening train last night and after supper took a drive. He went to his room at about midnight, and soon after J. B. Denny, proprietor of the hotel, heard a pistol shot. On bursting open the door of Brunn's room the inmate was found in bed with a bullet hole in his head. When Brunn saw the proprietor he exclaimed, "I have done it," and fell back on the bed. Physicians were at once called and located the ball back of the right ear. It had entered the left temple and gone clear through the head.

Brunn was conscious long enough to state that he had taken $300 of the firm's money, but it is thought there are other causes for the shooting, as he told Mr. Denny to telegraph to Pittsburg at once and teil his wife that he had done what he said he would. Brunn was well known along the route here, having been with the Logan furniture firm for a number of years. During the days succeeding the Johnstown flood he was one of the first to volunteer aid. He was about 35 years of age and very fine-looking, and ARRON, Aug. 28 .- The famous Herrick fa fly reunion, which was held at Twinsburg, r here, yesterday, attracted 130 member of that family, coming from points all through Ohio, Illinois and several other far-ther Western States. The reunion was held on the borders of a pretty lake, where an enormous tent was pitched, while anchored enormous tent was pitched, while anchored in the middle of the lake was a boat completely filled with flowers and greens.

Among the patriarchs who gathered about the table were Captain Horace Herrick, of Pittsfield, Mass., aged 99 years, and still hearty; also Jonathan E. Herrick, as historian for the family, traced the history back to old Henry Herrick, who came over and settled in Salem, Mass., in 1829. He was the son of Sir William Herrick, of Beau Manor, county Leicester, England. In the seventeenth century Beau Manor, the ancestral seat, was the home of the poet, Robert Herrick, and still remains in the family. The report showed that of the 135 nicinbers of the family in this country not one had died report showed that of the 155 memoers of the family in this country not one had died during the past year, while several little Herricks had been added to the roll.

An Old Quarrel Renewed and Results in

MONONGAHELA CITY, Aug. 28.-News of a fatal affair has reached here from Union township, which grew out of trouble that arose a year ago at a picnic, when Henry Blankenbuchler whipped Samuel Cooper.

It is said at that time Cooper said he would get even with his opponent. Yesterday the two met and the old quarrel was renewed. Cooper picked up a fence rail and struck Blankenbuchler a terrible blow on the breast, breaking several of the latter's ribs. One of his ribs was driven through Blankenbuchler's lungs, inflicting a wound that will cause death.
