MIST BRING YOUR BROTHER WITH YOU

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] BROOKLYN, Aug. 30,-The cabled reports of meager harvests in Europe, and the memory of the vast crops of ripening grain which Dr. Talmage saw during his recent tour in the West, have combined to turn his from this back to that patriarchal time when all the world sent to Egypt to buy corn and to suggest a gospel lesson. His text is Genesis xliii., 3: "Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you." This summer, having crossed 18 of the Voited States, North, South, East and West, have to report the mightiest harvests that s country or any other country ever sped. If the grain gamblers do not somewreck these harvests, we are about to enter bloom the grandest scene of prosperity that America has over witnessed. But while this is so in our own country, on the other de of the Atlantie there are nations arcatened with famine, and the most dis-mi cry that is ever heard will I fear be ored, the cry for brend. I pray God that contrast between our prosperity and their want may not be as sharp as in the ands referred to by my text. There was nothing to est. Plenty of corn in Egypt, but ghastly famine in Cannan. The cattle ing in the stall. Men, women and renowfully white with hunger. Not he falling of one crop for one summer, but he falling of all crops for seven years. A on on your table, and so little appre-the product of harvest field, and rist mill, and oven; the price of sweat, and mxiety, and struggle, -Bread! say the people, "we will start right away and get this supply for our soul." But stop a moment; for from the keeper of that corn crib there comes this word, saying: "You shall not see my face except your brother be with you." In other words, there is no such thing as getting from heaven pardon and comfort and eternal life unless we bring with us our divine brother, the Lord Jesus Christ. Coming without him we shall fall before we reach the corn crib, and our bodies shall be a portion for the jackals of the wilderness; but coming with the divine Jesus, all the granaries of heaven will swing open before our soul, and abundance shall be given us.

I want to make three points. Every frank and common-sense man will acknowledge himself to be a sinner. What are you going to do with your sins? Have them pardoned, you say. How? Through the mercy of God. What do you mean by the mercy of God. What do you mean by the mercy of God? Is it the letting down of a bar for the admission of all, without respect to character? Be not deceived. I see a soul coming up to the gate of mercy and knocking at the corn crib of heavenly supply; and a voice from within says: "Are you alone?" The sinner replies: "All alone." The voice from within says: "You shall not see my pardoning use unless your Divine Brother, the Lord Jesus, be with you." O, that is the point at which so many are discomforted. There is no mercy frem God except through Josus Christ. Coming with him we are accepted. Coming without him, we are rejected. Peter put it right in his great sermon before the high priests when he thundered fourth: "Neither is there salvation in any other. There is no other name given under heaven among men whereby we may be saved." O, anxious, sinner! O, dying sinner! O, lost sinner! all you have got to do is to have this Divine Benjamin along with you. Side by side, coming to the gate, all the store-houses of heaven will swing open before your anxious soul. Am I right in calling Jesus Benjamin? O, yes. Rachel lived only long enough to give a name

THE NAMING OF BENJAMIN. The meaning of the name she gave was the father gave was "Son of my Right Hand." And was not Christ the Son of Pain? All the And was not Christ the Son of Pain? All the sorrows of Bachel in that hour, when sne, ave her child over into the hands of strangers was nothing compared with the struggle of God when he gave up his only Son. The omnipotent God in a birth throe! And was not Christ appropriately called the "son of the Bight Hand!" Did not Stephen look into heaven and see him standing on the right hand of God! And does not Paul speak of him as standing at the right hand of God making intercession for us! O, Benjamin—Jesus! Son of pang! Son of Fictory! The deepest emotions of our souls ought to be stirred at the sound of that nomenclature, ture,
My text also suggests the reason why s

My text also suggests the reason why so many people do not get any real comfort. You may meet ten people; nine of them are in need of some kind of condolence. There is something in their health, or in their state or in their domestic condition that demands sympathy. And yet the most of the world's sympathy amounts to absolutely nothing. People go to the wrong crib, or they go in the wrong way. When the plague was in Rome a great many years ago, there were 80 men who chanted themselves to death with the litanles of Gregory the Great—literally chanted themselves to death, and yet it did not stop the plague. And all the music of this world cannot halt the plague of the human heart. I come to some whose allments are chronic, and I say: "In heaven you will never be sick." That I does not give you much comfort. What you want is a soothing power for your present distress. Lost children, have you'll come to you and tell you that in ten years a that time they had a large corn crib, you want is a soothing power for your present distress. Lost children, have you't it come to you and that in ten years perhaps you will meet those loved ones before the throne of God. But there is but little condolence in that. One day is a year without them, and ten years is a small eternity. What you want is a sympathy now—present help. I come to those of you without them, and ten years is a small eternity. What you want is a sympathy now—present help. I come to those of you without them, and ten years is a small eternity. What you want is a sympathy now—present help. I come to those of you without them, and ten years is a small eternity. What you want is a sympathy now—present help. I come to those of you who have lost dear friends and say: "Try to forget them. Do not keep the departed always in your mind." How can you forget them when every figure in the carpet, and every book, and every potute, and every book, und every potute, and every book, and every potute, and every room, calls out their name? Suppose I come to you and say: "God, from all eternity, has arranged this "rouble." "Ahi" you say, "that does me no lector of the present distress. Lost children, have you't it come to you and say to the end of some present distress. HOW TRUE COMPORT IS FOUND. What is the matter? I have found. You ought to go to God and say: "Here, O Lord, are the wounds of my soul, and I bring with e old man, complaining and chiding of the wounded Jesus. Let me wo me the wounded Jesus. Let his wounds pay his heart-break for my heart-break. O, Godi for the sake of the Lord Jesus Christ—the God, the man, the Benjamin, the brother-deliver my agonized soul. O, Jesus of the weary foot, ease my fatigue. O, Jesus of the weary foot, ease my fatigue. O, Jesus of the aching head, hear my aching head. O, Jesus of the Bethany sisters, roll away the stone from the door of our grave." That is the kind of prayer that brings help; and yet how many of you are getting no help at all, for the reason that there is in your soul, perhaps, a secret trouble. You may never have mentioned it to a single human ear, or you may have mentioned it to some one who is now gone away, and that great sorrow is still in your soul. After Washington Irving was dead, they found a little box that contained a braid of hair and a minature, and the name of Matilda Hoffman, and a memorandum of her death, and a remark something like this: "The world after that was a blank to me. I went into the country, but found no peace in solitude. his heart-break for my heart-break. O, God!

a remark something like this: "The world after that was a blank to mo. I went into the country, but found no peace in solitude. I tried to go into society, but I found no peace in society. There has been a horror hanging over me by night and by day, and I am atraid to be alone.

How many unuttered troubles! No human ear has ever heard the sorrow. O, troubled soul, I want to tell you that there is one salve that can cure the wounds of the heart, and that is the salve made out of the tears of a sympathetic Jesus. And yet some of you will not take this solace: and you try chioral, and you try morphine, and you try chioral, and you try morphine, and you try strong drink, and you try change of scene, and you try new business associations, and anything and everything rather than take the Divine companionship and sympathy suggested by the words of my text when it says: "You shall not see my face again unless your brother be with you."

Igo further, and find in my subject a hint as to the way heaven opens to the departing spirit. We are told that heaven has twelve gates, and some people infer from that fact that all the people will go in without reference to their past life; but what is the use of having a gate that is not sometimes to be shut? The swinging of a gate implies that our entrance into heaven is conditional. It is not a monetary condition.

THERE IS NO CHOICE OF BANQUETS.

If Jacob's sons had gone toward Egypt, and had gone with the monetary conditional and had gone with the monetary and had gone toward Egypt, sented at his own table, and he looks over the finite of his guests; and he sends a larger ration to gene of them, but sends a larger ration to Benjamin, or, as the Bible quaninguity of them, but sends a larger ration to Benjamin, or, as the Bible quaninguity of them, or the sendence in Egypt, and it had been found that Benjamin was with them, all the storehouses would have swung open before them. And so, though by intal casualty we may be ushered into the eternal world; though we may be weak and exhausted by protracted sickness—if, in that inst moment, we can only just stagger, and faint, and fall into the gate of heaven—it seems that all the corn cribs of heaven—will open for our need and all the palaces will open for our need and all the palaces will open for our need and all the palaces will open for our reception; and the Lord of that place, seated at their table, and all the margels of God seated at their table, and the marryrs seated at their table, and all our giorified kindred seated at our table, the King shall puss a portion from his table to ours, and toen, while we think of the fact that it was Jesus who started us on the road, and Jesus who at hat gained admittance for our soul, we shall be glad if be has seen of the travail of his soul and been satisfied, and not be at all Jealous if it be found that our Divine Benjamin's mess is five times larger than all the rest.

My friend, you see it is either Christ or famine, If there were two banquets spread, and to one of them, only, you might so, you might stand and think for a good while as to which invintion you had bettet accept; but here it is feasting or starvation. If it were a choice between ornburios, you might say: "I prefer the Creation," or 'I prefer the Messiah." But here it is a choice between ceremal harmony and everlasting discord. O. will you live or die? Will you start for 'Messiah." But here it is a choice between ceernal harmony and everlasting discord. O, will you live or die? Will you start for the Egyptian corn-orib, or will you perish amid the empty barns of the Canaanitish farme? "Ye shall not see my face except your brother be with you."

A Slump in Cereal Prices Follows the Bull Movement.

VEGETABLES OF ALL KINDS A DRUG

No Encouragement Yet for the Hide and Harness Leather Trade.

BOSTON VIEW OF THE SHOE TRADE

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH, SATURDAY, Aug. 29, 1891, The week has been characterized by slow movement in cereal lines, with a general weakening of markets. The bull movement of last week is demonstrated to have been largely speculative, and we are now having the consequent reaction. Wheat and flour are barely steady, and oats have declined within the past few days. The shortage of breadstuffs in Eastern Europe has been evidently worked by speculators for more than was in it, and wheat and rye are 10c per bushel below the highest point reached a week or two ago.

In grocery lines we note the continued activity of sugar and weakness of coffee. In activity of sugar and weakness of coffee. In the early part of the week it was given out that the Sugar Trust had reduced price of granulated below $\psi_c$, but the announcement proved a fake, and prices are now firm at rates of a week ago. Package coffee has declined $\psi_c$ per lb. within the week, and is quiet at the decline.

Vegetables of all kinds are a drug and have been for a week past. Cabbage, tomatoes and cucumbers are especially dull. In frait lines peaches have the lead. Receipts for the week linve not been less than 100 carloads. Demand has been good for all good stock offered. With the great activity in this line, other fruits have been a drug and price of apples and tropical fruits has been merely nominal.

Hides and Calfskins.

The situation in this line has undergone no changes worthy of mention since last Saturday. Boston reports indicate a slight improvement in demand. Tanners who have been holding off for some weeks past because of downward tendency of markets are forced to replenish stock, but are buying only as necessities require. There is no sign of any speculative movement in hides. While it is probable that prices are at their lowest for this season, tanners are not disposed to buy beyond immediate wants. Following are prices paid by Allegheny tanners for stock delivered here:

Allegheny tanners report active demand for their products. Prices are very low, so low that margins of profit are well nigh oblow that margins of profit are well night ob-literated. Harness manufacturers are busy as bees, and all signs point to an extra fall trade. Good crops bring heavy demands in this line, and the manufacturer of horse equipments who lays in his stock now will be justified in the near future, as future changes are bound to be toward a higher changes are bound to be toward a higher level.

The great depression in this line, which has resulted in so many heavy failures, appears to be coming to an end. A better era dawns. The Boston Herald has this to say of the situation and outlook:

"There is again some slight improvement to be noted in the boot and shoe market, from the standpoint of manufacturers. Orders are slightly better in some classes of goods, mest notably in women's oil grain shoes and men's cair goods. In these goods the orders are in the way of duplicates in fall goods, though some of the salesmen are on the road with samples of spring goods, though no considerable business is reported. The demand for heavy goods is rather quiet, though there has been some duplicating of orders of late. A few salesmen are already here looking for spring goods, but they are here mainly for looking over the bankrupt stocks rather than the giving of orders for goods to be made. The teeling in the market in the way of prices for goods is slightly firmer, though without any advance.

Some Silver Lining. from the standpoint of manufact

"Financially, the position of the boot and shoe trade is better. It is asserted positively by those in position to be thoroughly posted that it is easier placing boot and shoe paper with easier rates. Collections are certainly a little easier, since the money rates have a little easier, since the money rates have been a little easier. This is more especially true of the West rather than the South, where the improvement from the excellent grain crops is not noted. The better feeling in the West is a special feature of the boot and shoe market to-day, and if the improvement continue, the market is certainly rapidly drifting toward better things. Manufacturers begin to be slightly more busy, though the influence of the recent very hot weather has been felt in increasing the inclination to run as light as possible. But the better demand for goods has been rather positive, in many instances, and of a nature that manufacturers do not like to put off."

PROVISIONS FIRM AT RULING PRICES

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, SATURDAY, Aug. 29. COUNTRY PRODUCE-Jobbing prices-Supply of choice creamery butter is still below demand and it is reasonably certain that there will be an advance at the beginning of the week. Jobbers here report a good week's trade and active demand for all dairy products on hand. Friday was the best day of the season, as regards the amount handled. Different jobbers report sales amounting to nearly 2,000 boxes of cheese for the week. Eggs have grown firmer under the influence of cool weather, and our quotations are again advanced. Fruits of all kinds are low, with peaches as the exception. The latter are coming in very freely, but are going out almost as fast as they come. Under the influence of liberal receipts prices of peaches have been steadily drifting downward all the week. Apples, melons and tropical fruits go very slow, and are likely to do so until the great peach crop subsides. Vegetables of all kinds are dull at quotations.

A Poor Bank Statement Has Not Even a Momentary Effect—The Highest Prices for the Week—The Market Closes Strong—Bonds Active.

New York, Aug. 29.—The stock market was extremely active, the transactions for the two hours of business being the largest seen for that time in more than a year, except during the November panic of last year. The list displayed the most pronounced strength, and, notwithstanding that realizations in the advances of the week were unusually large, the demand was such that prices halted only for a short time and then resumed their upward movement all along the line. The buying was of the best quality, and was very marked in volume for both foreign and domestic operators, the bullish feeling running very high and carrying all before it.

The bank statement showed a further loss on surplus reserve, but it had no effect even for the moment, and the triumphant advance mot with no check after the first half hour's trading. the best quality, and was very marked in volume for both foreign and domestic oper-ators, the bullish feeling running very high and carrying all before it.

our's trading.
The opening was strong at fractional ad-The opening was strong at fractional advances over last night's figures, and the enriving demand sent the list further on its upward march. The realizations here caused a temporary setback, but the buying was then resumed in earnest and prices began a forward movement which lasted until the close. The market finally closed very active and decidedly strong at the highest prices for the day and the week. The trading reached the unusual total of 192,118.

Bailroad bonds kept pace with stocks in the amount of business done, though' prices are unchanged and business not so evenly distributed. The total reached $2,474,000.

HOME SECURITIES AND CASH. Outside Influences Beginning to Make gr

In speculative circles last week, but there were a few good features which strength-ened the hopes of the sanguine element. Bear cards were scarce. Saturday's sales were 675 shares, for the week they were 1,330, Final prices as compared with those of the previous Saturday show the following changes: Philadelphia Gas gained ¼, Central Traction ½, Pleasant Valley ¾, Switch and Signal ¾, Airbrake 2¾, Electric 1½, Wheeling Gas declined 2¾ on the fire at McDonald, but finished with an upward tendency. Luster dropped ½, on considerable pressure to sell. The drift, as will be seen was upward, only two stocks in the active list showing concessions.

Saturday's market, during the short time it lasted, was about the best of the week. It was in closer sympathy with New York than usual, and every bulge there struck a responsive chord here, resulting in a respectable volume of transactions and better values. The result of the week's operations was to leave the market in good shape to respond to any further forward impulse. It needs no argument to prove that the crucial period of the year has been passed.

Sales Saturday were 20 shares of Cittzens
