THE EMPIRE DEFIANT.

Its Celebration of Sedan Accompanied by Grave Forebodings.

VIEWING THE COMING STRUGGLE.

Germany United in Her Resolve to Hold the Fruits of Victory.

POLITICAL PARTIES ALL PATRIOTIC

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—Sedan Day was cele brated according to custom, with school fetes, services in churches, parades of vet-erans and banquets to the soldiers of the various garrisons. The principal monuments were decorated with wreaths and the public buildings and many private houses were covered with flags.

A large imperial crown, wrought of copper, surmounting the dome of the new Reichstag building, was exposed to view for the first time, the scaffolding concealing it being removed. The crown forms an imposing ornament and drew admiring crowds. The papers concur in regarding the situation as a grave one. The Reichsanziger says: "With recollections of Sedan is bound up a feeling of gratitude for the spirit of self-sucrifice by which such brilliant results were gained and satisfaction at the progress since made in the sentiment of solidarity, leading us to yow to hold and protect the blessines won."

blessings won." It is a great error to dis-simulate on the fact that the position is be-coming worse. We celebrate the victory that saw arise the aurors of the German Empire. In recalling Count Von Moltke's saying that Germany must remain 50 years under arms in order to keep what she had won at Sedan, we have no desire to trouble peace: but if others provoke war, Germany will remain resolute and will fight as cour-nercously as 20 years ago, confident in God's aid."

The Kreuse Zeitung says: "If war is inevitable it will be a struggle of which the world has never seen the like. Our splendid army and Generals of proved capacity, and the course and energy of the Emperor, give us confidence in the result, which will involve the very existence of Germany. If we are besten it will be finis Germany."

The Freizin ige Zeitung says: "Germany, unified after Sedan, will remain one. In spite of the divergence between the German political parties, all are resolved to maintain what was gotten at the cost of much carnagre. More liberal institutions would further strengthen the country."

Pantor Stocker, in a letter to Das Folk, says: "The men of Germany may soon be summoned to defend the privileges won on the bloody fields of 1870 and to fight for unity, honor and liberty. At the critical moment Catholics, Socialists and all Germans alike will do their duty."

THE POWERS WON'T PROTEST. Russia's Breach of the Dardanelles Treaty

May Pass Unnoticed.

London, Sept. 2.- A high official of the Foreign Office thinks it improbable that an immediate serious dispute will arise over the Sultan's permitting the Moscowa to pass through the Dardanelles, Official dispatches record the fact that the Moscowa's stoppage at the entrance of the straits was due to a breach of the regulation requiring that no-tice be sent to the Porte and that the Sul-tan's firman be obtained before making the passage. The Russian Government replied that the customary notice was unnecessary, as the only military aboard were soldiers who had been discharged, having served their time.

he man a learning time.

A similar case occurred in April, when a learning abir, under the commercial flag A similar case occurred in April, when a Russian ship, under the commercial flag carrying soldiers and war material, was permitted to pass through the Dardanelles. The British Ambassador then advised the Sultan that Great Britain and the other signatory powers would take united action in the event of any material change in the Porte's policy in regard to the Dardanelles. The signatory powers were cognizant of the Moscowa Incident, but do not consider it such a breach of the treaty of Paris as to require a formal protest.

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA.

The Emperor William's Present Visit a Sign of a Strong Allianca.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.-Emperor William and Horn to meet Emperor Francis Joseph. Apropos of the departure of the Empero for the scene of the Austrian army maneuers, the North German Gazette says: "The imperor will again bear testimony to the serious import attached to the consolidation of the alliance between Austria and Germany. The meeting ought to be welcomed as a sign of the indissoluble nature of the alliance, and should reinspire the hope that peace will be maintained.

AMERICAN GOLD'S OPPORTUNITY.

If Italy Removes an Edict the Work of Old Masters Will Come This Way.

ROME, Sept. 2.- It is rumored that the Government proposes to ask at the approaching session of Parliament for the abolition of the edict of Cardinal Pacca, which forbids the export of the works of the old masters. If this edict should be abolished it will at once enable Prince Borghese to be relieved of his financial difficulties, and at the same time give a chance to the United States to become the possessor of a famous collection of the old masters.

POVERTY STRICKEN ITALY.

Both Exports and Imports Show a Marked Falling Off.

Rose, Sept. 2.-The commerce of Italy for the seven months ending July 31 show a marked falling off as compared with the same period of last year. The imports decreased $20,800,000 in value and the exports $4,000,000. During the same period the revenue from customs fell off $4,300,000.

AN OLD POLITICIAN DYING.

Penniless and Without Relatives, He

Cared for by Charity. McKersport, Sept. 2.—[Special.] — James Moran, widely known here in Democratic political circles, is reported lying at the point of death and in destitute circumstances in a house just outside the city limits, where he is being cared for by friends.

Mr. Moran was lately the most prominent aspirant for the office of the first Mayor of McKeesport on the Democratic ticket against dames M. Piper, both being defeated by the measure. ngainst James M. Piper, both being defeated by the present incumbent. Soon after that Mr. Moran was taken sick and dropped out of city life here entirely, many thinking he had gone away. He has no living relatives, and is now seeing taken care of by his staunch old friends here. An attempt was made to have him admitted to Mercy Hospital, but for some reason he was refused.

A Big Hollidaysburg Failure. HOLLIDAYSBURG, Sept. 2 .- [Special.] -- William K. Calvert, an extensive contractor builder and planing mill proprietor, has falled for $30,000. No statement of assets has been given yet, but it is supposed that the assignee will be able to pay nearly 100 A Handsome Catalogue, Messrs. Campbell & Dick, of Fifth avenue, bave just issued their fall catalogue. It is a handsome book, indeed, and very carefully compiled. The covers are printed in two colors, rather an unusual thing on cata-logues. Messrs, Campbell & Dick are to e congratulated on the appearance of their book. Mr. Edwards, who attends to their advertising, has evidently spread himself on the careful preparation of this book, and it should be a great aid to all ladies who do much shopping. Anyone can get one of these books on application to the firm.

This illustrates a game of see-saw. And something akin to this may be seen in our store. That is the prices you see now you never saw before. Small-as the prices are, values you obtain for your money are heavy enough to weigh down those offered by others.

Small Prices--Big Money's Worth!

Apply this principle to any article in any department, and you'll find that it holds good everywhere.

FALL We are already selling a goodly num-ber of them, for on these chilly mornings and evenings a tp coat feels quite comfortable. We've a large assortment here already from which to make selections in Kerseys, Meltons, Worsteds, Cheviots, etc. By buying one of these useful garments a week or two before you expected to, you may escape a fit of sickness and a doctor's bill. FALL All the new shapes for Fall are in and on sale. You'll find a material difference in the style for $1.98 as for $3.24. Quality is all you pay for with us, and quality only. FALL Choice lines of NEW FALL NECK-WEAR from all the makers of repute NECKWEAR. have arrived, and here, again, you'll be surprised by the absence of anything
