TWO CRANKS ON JEWELRY.

"Do you ever come across cranks in your business?" I asked of a prominent worker in a jewelry shop the other day.
"Well, I should say so. I hardly know of a

ONE CHURCH DEACON ASSAULTED, business in which we find more 'cranks.' About a month ago a young fellow, of I should say 21, came into the store and asked for permission to make an engagement ring. He wanted to make the ring himself, so as to While Another Opens Fire on Fifty Anti-THUGS HIRED TO BEAT CHURCH PEOPLE

MASCOULAH, ILL., Sept. 7.—There is bitter war being waged in the town of for permission to make an engagement ring. He wanted to make the ring himself, so as to enhance the value of the gift in the eyes of his beloved one. The request was very unusual, but as the young fellow was one of the gilded youtil it was granted, and the duty of helping him to do the work and to prevent his making a botch of it was given to me. "He knew as much about making a ring as a blind pup does of astronomy, but I brought him through all the different stages and took care he turned out a fairly good article, but not up to the standard. Of course, the firms mark was not put on it, but he went away as delighted as a canary bird with a new lump of sugar.

"One day a carriage drove up to the door and ont of it stepped a beautiful blonde—not a carroty headed blonde, but one whose hair was a shower of waving gold. She wanted her bangles, which she took from her wrists, to go at once to the melting pot.

"She assigned no reason for this rather outre request, but insisted that the melting should take place in her presence. She was willing to pay, and her wish was complied with. Before her eyes she saw all the little souvenirs attached to her wrists become a shap-less mass in the heat of the crucible. When the operation was completed and the lump of valuable metal cooled it was tendered to the strange customer.

"Keep it," she said; 'I don't want it; but prominent and fearless men. If there are no tragedies in the town before the war is dered to the strange customer.

"Keep it,' she said; 'I don't want it; but when he comes round tell him he can claim when he comes round tell him he can claim his baubles if he can recognize them.'
"Then she floated out, paid her bill and left the lump, worth about $250, on our hands,"
"What became of it?"
"Why, we've got it still."

HOW VICTORIA TRAVELS.

She Has a Car That Equals the America Palaces.

Frank Leslie's Weekly.] Many times I have seen items in the American papers which said that the Queen of England traveled very plainly; that her private carriage was no better than any other first-class English carriage. I wish other first-class English carriage. I wish right here to say that these reports are based upon no authentic evidence. An official of the Midland road took me into the Queen's carriage as it stood in St. Pancras station, and I must say that it is as fine as any Pullman car ever built—and that is saying a good deal. The walls of the salcon are of satinwood highly polished. The cushions are of white silk embroidered in gold thread. A garter containing her motto, "Houi soit qui mai y pense," surrounds her initials, V. R. Her large chair—and it takes a large one, too—is at the back of the carriage large one, too-is at the back of the carriage and faces the engine. At her hand is a sil-ver plate in which are electric annunciators, pressing which she can call her different attendants who occupy another compart-

Three other easy chairs are in her compartment, besides a satin-wood table about six feet long and three feet wide, upon which were piled the latest English, French, German and American periodicals. The carpet is of velvet and in a good state of preservation, considering it has been in use over 15 years. The curtains at the windows and a portiers are hung on silver poles. The doorportiere are hung on silver poles. The door handles are solid silver, and the whole saloor handles are solid silver, and the whole saloon has the appearance of solid luxury. Victoria herself selected the furnishings, which are said to pattern after the white-drawing room at Windsor Castle. The whole saloon with fittings cost between $30,000 and $35,000. The carriage is about half the length of an ordinary American railroad car. At first sight the carriage impressed me as being gaudy, but this idea wore away in a moment. The railway official informed me that the Queen paid about $1.90 per mile for traveling, besides first-class for every one in her party. As the official from whom I received my information was in a position to know, this explodes other reports that the Queen and her suite always travel free.

CARGO OF SLAVES

THREE HUNDRED LOCKED DOWN.

The Savages Bound for Labor on Mexican Coffee Plantations.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS TO INVESTIGATE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7 .- In Drake's Bay, ten miles from this city, lies the American brig Tahiti, with 300 Gilbert Islanders securely locked in the hold. The Captain says, because he wanted to repair damages by storm, and he did not want to be bothered by curiosity seekers, who would have swarmed over his boat in the harbor. The destination of the Tahiti and her cargo of savages is San Banita and her cargo of savages is San Benito, Mexico, where these poor beings are being taken, ostensibly under contract, to work on ffee plantations.

To those familiar with the history of the abuses that have been practiced on unfortu-nate islanders who have been conveyed from their homes in the past to work in other countries, it will seem at least singular that so many of them are crowded on board an American brig lying in American water. With regard to the natives who have been carried away to work on the plantations in the northern portion of Australia and in Fijii and other islands, it has been charged and proved that in the majority of cases the savages have been enticed from their homes by fraudulent pretences and treated as slaves by those who contracted for their abor.

slaves by those who contracted for their abor.

It may be that the human cargo of the Tahiti will meet with better treatment in Mexico, than their unfortunate countrymen have experienced elsewhere, and that the Tahiti is engaged in legitimate traffic, but it is at least singular that the brig, when compelled to put into port from stress of weather, should have made for the isolated cove known as Drake's Bay, when the port of San Francisco was so near.

Captain Ferguson, who was in charge till to-day, declares that the islanders have contracts, by which the Mexican Government agrees to return them to their homes when their term of labor has expired. This was denied to-day by Mexican Consul Coney. Federal officials were seen, and Collector Phelps said he would send a tug to the brig to-morrow and ascertain just what was her cargo of living freight. To-day the captains were changed, and fears are expressed that she may give the customs officers the slip before morning. Those familiar with this traffic say that these 300 islanders are virtually slaves.

swindled until near the close of the day's racing.

It was 5 o'clock on Saturday evening that a fine bay horse was entered at Latonia for the second race to-day, which was for maidens 3 years old and upward. The name given was Polk Badgett, Stony Creek stables, 8 years old. In the pools he started 30 to 1, but the buying was so hot and heavy that he backed down till the post odds became 3 and 4 to 1. He literally ran away from the field in the home stretch and won by ten lengths. The plunging bets on him were quickly cashed and horse and owners disappeared without calling for the $500 purse he had won. It has been learned that he had been stabled these days outside the track. The bookmakers admit a loss altogether of $15,000. It is supposed that a gang were en-

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

FIFTH AVE., Pittsburg.

We've had a wonderful three days' sale of all wash garments. The contents of four long counters have all been sold and sent out of the store. To-day we utilize this space to make our first display of Fall and Winter Wraps and Jackets. From now on, this stock will be receiving fresh novelties every day. We can show you enough garments to-day to make your visit an interesting one. The prices will interest you, too.

Our Millinery Department is now in first-class shape to show you the Fall and Winter novelties. All the new shapes in felt hats are now in, and it will pay you to come and get a hint of the coming styles. We can already show you a large variety of the new trimmed hats. Dozens more are pouring into the department every day. Every day sees some changes. This section of our store is well worth a visit.

No one can detect it. It imparts a glossy color and fresh life to the hair. Easily applied. Price, $1. Office, 39 Park Place, N. Y.

It's a far cry from millinery to shoes, but we have them both. Our fall stock of shoes is now in, ready for your inspection. You ought to see our Ladies' Dongola Kid Shoes, with patent tips. They're only $1 25, and they're beauties. Look in our window for hints on shoes.

AD

Cool weather will soon be on us. Buy your blankets now. You'll save about 20 per cent on winter prices. We can give you some special values in all-wool Country Blankets, in red or white, at $3 00 and $3 50. You'll find some bargains in Comforts at this department, too.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.] PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The Phillies lost both games to Pittsburgs to-day. The result of the first gam was practically deter mined in the first inning, when the visitors scored three run on two doubles, a sin' gle, a sacrifice play by Myers and a passed ball. This rude opening seemed to take the starch out of the Quakers, and during the rest of the game they deported them-weekly hands waiting for the expiration of the time limit. Thornton and King were the opposing pitchers, and though our artist had the best ofit so far as the hits went, he was generally found at the light time, while the reverse was the case at the light time, while the reverse was the case with the silver haired youth, who showed up atrongly in tight places. In fielding the local people were not in it with the Pirates, and the usual reliable Chemonia appeared to be trying to get the gauge of center instead of second. The fielding feature of the game was a double play in which Bockley was the main directing spirit. Billy Hamilton wrenched a tendon in his right thigh in the first and was compelled to retire in favor of Eddle Mayer. The score:

three singles and a double.

The star dielding of the game was a great one-handed circus catch by Reilly. Beckley also played a superb game at first, showing up particularly strong in heading off men at second. A NEW TENNIS CHAMPION. Prof. S. W. B. Moorhead Defeated by Charles A. Buch After a Hard Contest-

The Finest Lawn Tennis Ever Seen in Pittsburg-Every Set Close. Prof. S. W. B. Moorhead has been deposed from the tennis championship of Western Pennsylvania, and this year the Grogan challenge cup will go to Altoona under the proud guardianship of Charles A. Buch, secretary of the Altoona Club. The annual tourney of the Pittsburg Club was finished yesterday. Notwithstanding the bad weather, several hundred people were present, and they witnessed some of the most exciting tennis ever seen in Pittsburg. Both champions played wonderfully well, and throughout it was a most interesting contest.

At the outset Mr. Moorhead seemed to have it all his way, but his antagonist slowly crept up on him, and after hard work won the first set. After that Mr. Buch settled back, and Mr. Moorhead him, and after hard work won the first set. After that Mr. Buch settled back, and Mr. Moorhead won two sets with apparent ease. Then came the finest playing of the day. In the fourth set the games stood 5-2 in Mr. Moorhead's favor, when Mr. Buch seemed to gain renewed energy, and lought hard, the set ending 10-8 in favor of the man from Alboona. This put the players even, and the last set was the real battle for the championship. Some magnificent tennis was shown, and up to the end of the last game there was no one able to pick the winner, though the friends of each were certain their favorite was the better player.

The play of both gentlemen created the greatest enthusiasm, and the winner, though he was among strangers, was greeted with load applause and obsers from the entire party present. He deserved-it, as he defeated a man who was heretofore undoubtedly the best tennis player in Western Pennsylvania. Nor has he lost any of his cunning. It was entirely the other way. Mr. Buch has improved wonderfully since a year ago, when he was considered only a tairly good player. He is ac cool and steady as a veteran, and if he continues to improve as in the past few months, he will stand an excellent show for higher champion-ship honors. Mr. Buch is a pleasant, genial fellow, and, since Pittsburg could not hold the championship another year, every member of the local club is glad the emblem has fallen into such good hands. The score was: Buch beat Moorhead 7-5, 2-6, 4-6, 10-8, 7-5.

l-6, 4-6, 10-8, 7-5. 2-6, 4-6, 18-8, 7-3.

In the morning the finals for consolation and second prizes were played. In the consolation M. K. Coster beat R. K. Miller 6-8, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4. In the single seconds Messrs. Christy and Porter defaulted to Messrs. Byrnes and Barr. and R. R. Reed beat Mr. Barr 6-0, 6-1. In the double seconds Messrs. Byers and Pier defaulted to Messrs. Coster and Vaill, and Messrs. Buch and Fay defaulted to Messrs. Moorbead and Reed.

ended, it will be a great surprise to people equainted with the situation. The Methodist Church people determined to put a stop to the picnics held in the town on Sunday. Every saloon in town was closed up Sunday a week ago, and a bitter feeling was engendered between the two factions. Yester-day the church people again enforced the Sunday law and had all of the saloons closed. Last night a crowd of 40 or 50 men on horseback, with white caps drawn down over their faces, made a visit to the residence of Mr. A. Morgan, a prominent churchman, and one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of Washington county. The visitors were not unexpected by Mr. Morgan, as he had been active in the fight against the saloons. He was prepared for them.

The White Caps surrounded the house and The White Caps surrounded the house and called for Morgan. The man they called for was at home and an army twice as large had no terrors for him. He walked boldly out upon his front porch single-handed, and opened fire upon the crowd with a Winchester rifle. Three shots were fired into the crowd, which became panic-stricken and fied in disorder. Mr. Morgan retired to sleep without fear of White Caps or anything else.

sleep without fear of White Caps or anything else.

This morning two tough-looking, well-dressed strangers got off the train at Okarville. They hired a horse and buggy and drove around the town. They finally met John Teabear, a prominent churchman and a perfect stranger to them. The strangers evidently recognized Mr. Teabear as the man wanted. They sprang from the vehicle simultaneously, and both jumped on the unsuspecting church deacon. After beating the deacon up in a horrible manner, the ruffians sprang into their buggy and drove out of town at a breakneck speed. An unarmed crowd of citizens tried to stop them, but they pulled revolvers and were allowed to go. They drove to the city, left their team and boarded a train forest. Louis.

The church people believe the strangers were hired to come and assault the prominent church members there, and the feeling is greatly embittered. Deacon Teabear is badly hurt, and his recovery is doubtful.

ANDREWS' THRILLING EXPERIENCE. His Little Dory Capsises With Him in Mid

Ocean, But He Rights It. Boston, Sept. 7 .- Captain William A. Andrews, of the Mermaid, relates in his log his trials the last few days of his ocean voyage before he was picked up by the steamer Elbruse. He was in a driving northwest storm most of the time, with everything scaked and floating and his life in constant danger from the heavy seas, followed by sharks, and cold, wet and hungry.

His most thrilling experience was on August 17, when, while he was in the cockpit with the hatch open about 12 inches, his boat was turned over in the seas and finally settled bottomup, the water rushing through the cockpit hatch. Though stunned and dazed he realized that some air still remained over his head at the floor of the boat as the vessel stood upside down. Taking a long breath and clearing away the cluttered contents of the cockpit from the hatch, he managed to jam it open and let himself down into the water, and succeeded, after an exhaustig struggle, in reaching the keel and hoisting himself up on the bottom of the boat. While in this situation, with the seas breaking over him, he relinquished all hope of ever coming out of his venture alive. Finally he noticed an inclination of the boat to heel as she arose on a steep wave, and as she rose on another sea he leaned way out over the sea to assist the boat in righting, and finally succeeded in bringing her right side up again, leaving him floundering in the water. It was all he could do to get into the boat again. storm most of the time, with everything

HOW TWO MEN MADE FORTUNES. But They Will Be Prosecuted for Embezzle ment of Heavy Sums. HUTCHINSON, KAN., Sept. 7 .- E. E. Wise Treasurer of the Hutchinson and Souther Railroad, was arrested to-day, and a warrant Rairoad, was arrested to-day, and a warrant for the President of the same road, H. A. Christie, of Chicago, was issued.

In 1889 a party of railroad men set on foot the project of building a railroad south from this city. The road was chartered as the McPherson, Texas and Guli Railroad. Reno county subscribed to the stock of the road $22,000, and issued county bonds for that amount. The city of Hutchinson donated $20,000 for terminals, etc. White township, in Kingman county, subscribed $10,000, and the city of Kingman $20,000 for terminal facilities. The company built 32 miles of road from this city to Kingman and mortgaged bonds were hypothecated to the UnionPacific Company for 75 per cent of their face value, netting the company $300,000 in cash. From the bonds issued $142,000 were realized, a total value of $442,000. The construction of the road cost not to exceed $7,700 a mile, or a total value of $244,000, bowing a balance on hand of $105,000. It now transpires that there are no other stockholders than Reno county and a township in Kingman county. The officers named are charged with the embezglement of the $250,000 which should for the President of the same road, H. A.

one price of admission should be charged for everything on the grounds. It was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

A resolution was adopted instructing the members of the Commission to labor with the members of Congress of their respective States to vote for the proposed Government loan of $5,000,000. The Committee on Tariffs and Transportation made a report of progress, to the effect that negotiations with the railroads had progressed so far that low rates for visitors to and exhibits for the Fair would be made by the railroads of the country. The Committee asked for leave to ask the railroads for passes for the Commissioner and members of the Board of Lady Managers to and from their respective meetings, thus saving a large item of expense. The report was approved.

The Committee on Judiciary reported upon the recommendation of the Auditing Committee in regard to the prospective deficit in the appropriation for the Commission for the current year. The Auditing Committee recommended that $5,000 of the salaries of the Chalruma and Vice Chalrman be cut off: that $3,000 be taken from the salary of the Director General, and that the April meeting of the Commission be postponed till July in order to avoid the expected deficit.

A Plea for the Far West.

Chicago Tribune. The existence of a vacancy on the Inter-State Commerce Commission suggests the fact that the vast area west of the Missouri has never yet been directly represented by a membership in the commission. The South has been duly recognized, but not the great West. The States of Kansas, Nebraska Colorado, and the broad areas beyond them have hitherto been ignored, though they contain a railroad mileage greater than that of the Southern States, and have agricultu al and mining interests second to none tr ral and mining interests second to none in the importance of transportation by rall as an essential to their prosperity. Some of the problems there presented are so peculiar in their nature that it may well be they are not fully grasped by one whose observation and experience have been limited to the States east of the Missouri river, and the

The Kaiser Visits Bayaria. MUNICH, Sept. 7 .- Emperor William's visit to Bavaria is recognized as an event of the first importance. No German Emperor has first importance. No German Emperor has been here since 1871. It is hoped that the coming visit will weld closer than ever the ties uniting Bavaria with the Fatherland. The Emperor arrived here this evening. He was greeted at the station by Prince Regent Luitpoid and the Royal Princes, who were accompanied by their suites. On the way to the palace the Emperor received an enthusiastic ovation from the citizens.
