and located in Anniston in 1888. They had only been living here a few months when they again separated and were divorced. Both married again, Dickson taking a young girl not then out of her teens. In the summer of 1886 Mrs. Dickson was married to a Mr. Baker. Last year Baker died. Again Dickson and the much-married woman made up, but to get Dickson's wife out of the way was the question. For several weeks they puzzled over it and planned to no effect. Finally the opportunity came. Trumped-up charges were brought against her, and so plain a case did they make against the unoffending girl that Dickson was again granted a divorce. The decree was made last spring, and a few days ago Dickson and Mrs. Baker were married for the third time. How long they will live toposer's name has become known the world over. The chief merit of "Cavalleria Rusti-cana" is the warmth and sincerity that pervade its measures. As for, the form of the opera as a whole it inclines more to the old-time patterns than to those of the new school, while the purely modern spirit is apparent through-out in frequent and abrupt changes of tempo, and in at least an occasional ten-dency to bend the music to the significance of the drama.

of the drama. Without entering into detail, it may be said that the most striking numbers of the evening were Alfro's first song, a sort of postillion difty, which, though common-place, was effective, and had to be repeated. The intermezzo was played three times, and the decidedly vulgar drinking song twice, while the powerful duet between Turiddu the third time. How long they will live to-gether no one can tell. nd Senturia elicited enthusiastic applause and Santuzza elicited enthusiastic applause. The artists in the performance were the tenor, Guille, Signor Del Puente, Frau Kro-nold and Miss Campbell Frau Kronold was particularly happy as Santuzza and M. Guille's voice commanded abundant ad-miration. With rich Italian voices and well-noting singers, "Cavalleria Rusticana" will for a season be an excellent curtain raiser at all events.

MINING STATISTICS.

A Report on the Condition of the Anthracite and Bituminous Regions.

HARRISBURG, Sept 9 .- [Special.]-The Sec retary of the Department of Internal Affairs completed to-day a tabular statement giving the condition last year of the anthracite and bituminous mining regions. Breaks Its Agreement. SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Sept. 9 .- Two years ago the Aransas Harbor City and Improvement Company acquired a tract of sandy beach on the gulf coast of Texas, received permission from Congress to construct a deep water harbor at Aransas Pass, and began advertising extensively in Northern papers. A town was laid out and $275,000 worth of lots sold at public auction. The company on its part agreed that bona fide work for the deepening of Aransas Pass should begin by May 12, 1891. The second payment on the lots is now due. The draw-ers of the notes will protest on the ground that the company has not fulfilled its part of the contract.
