JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—The sensational case of Miss Furman against Prof. Siegrist Bruckiewicz, for criminal assault, is now in the hands of the jury, they having retired at 4 o'clock. AN ELECTRIC ROAD WAR.

Thirteen Men Arrested While at Work at 3 O'Clock in the Morning.

McKEESPORT, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—The White Electric Company, which has built a line from Duquesne to the McKeessport bridge crossing the Monongahela, as a result of the fight with the township and the people of Duquesne over the 7 trams, had thirteen men arrested last night and today, and 13 men employed by the contractor were arrested this morning charged by the township with obstructing the highway, violating the agreement by laying a single instead of a double track. The matter was fixed up by the men quitting work and leaving the place. It is claimed that the people got an injunction Saturday last to restrain the company from laying the single track. They kept the place quiet until 10 o'clock this morning, when the men appeared and commenced laying the track. Wisser and his deputies were ordered to make the men leave the place. Representatives of the company gave bail for the appearance of the men before Judge Crampton of Duquesne, today. The company claim that it is impossible to lay a double track at the Cochran place on account of the big tunnel which extends along the street. The road would have been in working order within a week had not this trouble occurred.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

B. & B. HAVE YOU SEEN THEM?

The new Fall and Winter Wraps are simply perfect! And just now, before the new has become old by over-much handling, is the most opportune time for examining them.

The Broadcloths, English Serges, Chevrons, Cheviots and Camel's Hair of Spring and Early Summer have been reproduced in Fall and Winter weights, with the additional adjunct of Feather and Fur garniture, in such variety as must please each and every taste.

A Camel's Hair Cheviot, with collar and facings of Otter; the front lined with handsome corded silk, and elegant silk cord fastenings, combine to give a most handsome and stylish appearance to this, but one of the many new, seasonable Jackets.

The same jaunty cut is repeated in Wide Waile, Beaver and Matelesse, with collar and facings of Astrachan, Mink, Marten, Wool Seal, Gray Krimmer, etc.

Two striking top garments in the English Walking-Coat style, of Black and Tan Beaver Cloth, are severely rigid in outline—rather on the tailor-made order, one would say, but for the handsome mink collar, front facings and genuine mink-head fastenings, a combination giving an individuality in style most admirable.

To go into detail and tell of Jackets in Mottled Cloth—the prevailing shade being one of the new browns or
