WASHED IN CHURCH. A Lady Worker Among City Slums Mysteriously Disappears. SHE DWELT IN A PASTOR'S FAMILY. Last Seen at the Door of a Catholic Institution in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The whereabouts of Miss Ava, the English woman philanthropist, is unknown. She has been living at the residence of Rev. Dr. Bolton. Last evening Miss Ava and Mrs. Bolton drove to the Catholic church on West Twelfth street.

Mrs. Bolton waited a half hour, and finally became alarmed when Miss Ava did not return. She remembered that the missionary had spoken of receiving letters, in which her life was threatened, and feared she had come to harm.

The well was shot yesterday evening, every precaution being taken in getting the well to the surface. The well was drilled to a depth of 100 feet.

MISS AVA'S MISSION. Miss Ava is said to be very wealthy, and has devoted her time and money to indulging her hobby for "slumming." Her friends say that her crusade against the slums was a noble one.

Mrs. Bolton was very much mystified over the sudden disappearance of Miss Ava. Mrs. Minny, an elderly lady, said that Miss Ava had been in the house for some time.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—It has been frequently stated since Timothy Hopkins determined to contest his foster mother's will, that he would claim undue influence, and offer to prove the unusual mental condition of the testatrix.

It is generally understood that Mr. Scaries is an apostle of spiritualism, and that most of his associates are engaged in fathoming the mystery of communication with departed spirits.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 10.—Dr. Joel G. Justin the inventor of the dynamite cartridge, by a practical test of his invention at Perryville, Madison county to-day, proved its value to the science of ordnance.

PENNSYLVANIA COBBERNS. A Story That Reflects Credit on the Palates of Keystone Men.

A gentleman well known as a philanthropist, who has an office on Chestnut street, east of Broad, tells this story:

"When quite a young man I made one of a party to the Mammoth Cave, Ky. Parties from various points along the route boarded the train on the same errand.

"I never tasted much of my mother's cooking, Ellen," said Mr. Numarri, by way of introducing a breakfast conversation.

"No-no," replied young Mrs. Numarri, who wasn't so young that she didn't know her father died in his 37th year.

"And after that the years crept slowly by one way and another, until I was a young man, and a great variety of subjects to my mother's biscuit ever remained a topic too sacred to be profaned by in the presence of coffee."
