[COLUMN THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED

BERLIK, Sept. 11.-There was a parade to-day of all the troops stationed in the Cassel district, which afforded a brilliant spectacle. The Emperor and Empress, the King of Sazony, the Grand Duke of Hesse, the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar, the Duke of Edinburgh, Prince and Princess Henry of Pressie, and others of high rank were present at the ceremony. Emperor William will now go to Erfurt, where he will review the Fourta army corps. Some of the phrases used by His Majesty in his speech at the banquet at Cassel have added to the uncasiness which now prevails throughout the country. He recalled the time when, as a staff officer, he entered Cassel in 1871 with the victorious Hessian troops. He trusted, he said, that Hessians, in the event of foreign struggles, would help him to fulfil his duties. REGARDED AS A MENACE.

Coming so soon after the allusions made at Munich to the future triumphs of the Bayarian troops, His Majesty's utterance at Cassel is felt to be a veiled menace to foreign enemies and a warning for the country to courageously prepare for trouble. Still the conviction remains unshaken in official circles that a prolonged period of diplo-matic intrigue will precede a collision of

The leading political development of the week has been the practical adhesion of the trahan Prime Minister, the Marquis di Budini, to the policy of Lord Salisbury, the English Premier. The Sultan of Turkey's new bias in the direction of favoring Rus sin, as instanced in the Dardanelles affair. will now have to bear the weight of the counter influence of Austria and Italy, and probably of Germany, for it is stated that Herr Von Radowitz, the German Ambassafor to the Porte, at an andience with the Sultan Wednesday, urged that a favorable earing be given to the view of Great Britain, and through his representations Sir William White, the British Ambassador to Turkey, was given an audience by the Sul-

The Foreign Office here regards England's difficulties with complacency. Lord Salis-bury's solicitations for diplomatic aid forces England into closer union with the Triple Alliance, and thus tends in the direction of bringing a formal compact between England and Germany, Austria and Italy. Hitherto Lord Salisbury has rejected all overtures looking to England's becoming a party to the Dreibund compact.

On the contrary, it says, that he was received with chilly indifference by the people. It attributes this to the fact that people of Bavaria see in the Emperor an emblem of dearness of living and the source of an approaching war, threatening the ruin of the country.

A TURBULENT TIME

In the Trades' Union Congress Over the Eight-Hour Question.

LONDON, Sept. 12.-The Trades' Union Congress terminated to-day, thanks to the creased representation of Socialists and faddists generally. The proceedings were musually turbulent and much important business had to be abandoned, owing to the time wasted by frothy talk. The congress made itself specially ridiculous by its coctradictory and impractible pronouncements upon the eight-honr questions, and it would mre spent the whole week in personal nekerings and academical dissertations had een for the firmness and good emper displayed by Thomas Burt. M. P., tis president. Moderate men, belonging chiefly to the great provincial trades unions, complained repeatedly that the delegates of London, unskilled workers and anden Socialists monopolized the time of the congress, and they openly avow their intention of stopping that sort of thing at the meeting in Glasgow next year. John Burns, who although not a delegate, organized the Socialists and did a lot of and sold. wire-pulling at the congress, is naturally delighted. He told a reporter this morning that the Congress has been the most successful ever held, which is doubtless true from his point of view.

Trades Union Congress closed this afternoon. "Ben" Tillett, the labor leader and one of the delegates present at the congress, in an interview to-day said : "This congress was a distinct advance on all former trades union congresses. Its capacity for debate was greater, and for intellectual vigor, or economic grasp, and sound common sense it will compare with the first assemblies of the world. The voting displayed a truly democratic spirit, and, so far as the old and new unionists were concerned, good temper, friendliness and frankness were shown on all sides and prevented a wide separation. All sections co-operated in the real work of the congress. Resolutions were approved in favor of an increased representation of the labor classes in Parliament, and advocating the appointing of railway workmen as railway inspectors. SHE WANTS A BARON Wealthy Mrs. Livermore to Wed an Alleged Insane Nobleman.

AN ENGAGEMENT IN HIGH LIFE,

That Is Causing a Flutter in New York and Newport Society.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 .- It is reported on the authority of people in high social circles that Mrs. Charles F. Livermore and Baron Seilliere will be married at Newport next Tuesday. The friendship between Mrs. Livermore and the Baron is one of long standing, and several times before have their engagement been announced, only to be denied. This time, however, gossip says, there is little doubt that the wedding will take place. Baron Seilliere arrived weather was very warm the Baron was muffled up in a heavy tweed overcoat and a large sealskin cap. Baron Seilliere first arrived in this country in 1886, when he accompanied the wellknown noble ranchman, the Marquis de Mores. The Manuis had the entree to New York society, and introduced his friend the Baron to many influential and well-known people, who received him with open arms. Another companion of the Marquis was the Chevalier d'Ullman, an using little man with a long gray beard. The Baron was a great favorite in New York, despite his many eccentricities, about which many stories have been told. In 1887 the Baron returned to France, and shortly after was placed in the private in-sane retreat of Dr. Fairel, at Vannes. Accounts differ as to the means employed to get the Baron in the asylum, but the one most generally believed is as follows: The Baron was in the babit of boasting that he was in possession of certain papers compro-mising the Orleanist cause. He was in-vited to dine with his aunt, the Duchess de Bergues, the well known Orleanist, and, while stepping out of his carriage, was seized by a party of men, who, notwithstanding his struggles, placed him in a cab and conveyed him to the asylum.

The Baron protested against his imprison-ment and claimed that he was an American citizen, as he had signified his intention of becoming naturalized while in this country. The Baron was released after suffering many indignities, and at once came to this country. He voluntarily placed himself under treatment at the Homeopathic Asylum at Middletown in this State and remained there some three weeks. He then left the asylum and spent some time traveling about the country.

Mrs. Livermore is the widow of Charles F. Livermore, who died about two years ago. He was at one time a partner of Henry Clews, the firm name being Liver-more, Clews & Co. He amassed a large fortune, which was left without reserve to his widow. Mrs. Livermore's mother, Mrs. William Riley, married three years ago the wealthy banker, James O'Brien, who built the magnificent granite villa "Inchiquin' at Newport.

There is hardly a doubt that all were lost. The storm of the early part of the week caused much damage to shipping at Arichat. The schooners Swan, Lettie M., Hardy and Dolphin were badly dam-aged, and several fishing boats were lost. A number of vessels were driven ashore at Decousse, West Arichat and Petit de Gras. The Strongest Squadron Ever Collected in America at New York. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.-Like a flight of nowy sea fowl the squadron of evolution came briskly through the Sound vesterday At a nine-knot gait the squadron threaded its way through the narrow waters of the East river and never checked its speed till rounding the Battery, where hundreds of people gathered to watch them, the ships kept their steady speed in such close forma tion that no other craft ventured to break through.

"In point of numbers," said Admiral Walker last night, "this is the strongest United States squadron that has been assembled under our flag since the rendezvous at Key West in 1874. Of course, in point of fighting power the ships at Key West were far inferior to those here at present. As to their efficiency I need only point to their performance to-day. There are not seven other vessels in the navy that could ome through Hell Gate and the East river at a nine-knot speed in close order-which means 200 yards from the center of each ship to the center of her consorts ahead and astern-and make the short turn these ships did in the North river. It is not because the officers of the other ships are less capa-ble, but because only the officers of these ships have had the necessary training in handling them at close quarters with other men-of-war. It is this training that our navy needs, and it can be given in no other way than in squadron formation.

THEN A ROMANCE, NOW A FORTUNE. A Strange Attachment Which Resulted in

Good Luck to a Widow. WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 12.-A subject of great discussion here during the past few days has been the report that Mrs. Asa R. Wood, widow of the well-known reporter, has been the recipient of a handome fortune, in amount about $240,000, at the hands of a wealthy gentleman of Idaho. Mrs. Wood refuses to give the name of he friend. It is William H. Jasper, of Lewiston, Idaho, a man supposed to be worth about $2,000,000. He is a bachelor and a relative of William H. Vanderbilt. He was in Washington a couple of years ago and met Mrs. Wood. However, it is understood that he met her previous to that time and that their meeting was of a romantic husband of the woman he has befriended and admired him very much. Since their first meeting Mr. Jasper and Mrs. Wood have been corresponding and about a week ago H. W. Rodgers, Mr. Jasper's attorney in Lewiston, came here with several deeds for property and seven sight drafts, the latter aggregating $99,000. Mrs. Wood has not deposited her drafts, and of course has has no idea whether they are good or not. As she stoutly refused to show her papers her story was discredited by almost

All Her Property Made Over to Searles Just Before Her Death - Young Hopkins' Lawyers Think This Very Damaging

LARGE FORTUNE OF THE BRIDE-ELECT Proof of Undue Influence. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12 .- [Special.]-Creed Haymond, attorney for the Southern Pacific Company, who has just returned from Europe, knows more about the Hopkins-Searles matter than anyone else. From a friend who talked with Haymond it is learned that there are fortifications about, the Searles pile of which the lawyers know not a tithe, and even if the jurors of Salem agree to break the will of the late Mrs. Searles, her relict, need only fall back within a fortress that is well nigh impreg-

> Five days after the late Mrs. Searles signed the famous will disinheriting Timothy Hopkins, her second husband, Mr. Searles, became a member of the law firm of Stillman & Hubbard in New York. Thereupon Mrs. Searles signed a deed, by which one-tenth of the income from her estate was to be paid to the firm of Stillman & Hubbard and Searles in recognition of their services. Further deeds were signed for the husband, and the law partners sniffed the battle from afar it seems and paper after paper was signed by Mrs. Hopkins delivering to her second husband all right, title and interest in the different properties of which she was possessed A noteworthy feature of the affair is that the first deed concerned her house and lot situated on Nob Hill and the next involved an immense tract of red wood land in the Santa Cruz Mountains. In case the Salem court should decide adversely to Searles the latter has simply to fall back upon these deeds and bring about a legal fight that will last till the lawvers have fattened and died from an indigestion of fees.

Haymond holds that Huntington strenuously advised Mr. and Mrs. Searles to remember Tim Hopkins in the will with $2,000,000 on an maintains that the railroad millionaire considered it a great blunder in the will. Boalt and Wilson, it seems, have consulted Choate and Endicott in this dilemma, and the four egal lights conclude that the deeds made by Mrs. Searles, five days after she had igned her will in favor of Searles, form the est evidence of undue influence. Choate thinks that the deeds are very bad evidence against Searles, and they will not serve him before the Massachusetts courts

On August 8 they reached a point five miles in advance of the furthest point reached by Mr.

Messrs. Cary and Cole proceeded towards the falls, which had been reported to be dis-tant 50 miles. On August 13, after a three days' tramp, their labors were rewarded by a deafening roar in the distance. Their provisions were now nearly gone, stores having been cached on the way up, but they pushed resolutely on to the height of the Labrador plateau. The spray of the falls was visible for 20 miles. From the falls the water flows through a canyon formed of archaean rocks, the sides of which rise to a height of 500 feet and are heavily wooded at the top. The height of the falls has been grossly exaggerated, and, while presenting a grand and beautiful sight, measure only 200 feet in a perpendicular fall, the rapids leading to this fall increasing the total altitude of the falls to 500 feet. On rafts the explorers traversed the 300 odd miles to the mouth of the river, enduring the greatest hardships.

BALMACEDA'S CURRENCY LAWFUL

The Junta Recognizes It, and Prosperity Is Again in Sight.

VALPARAISO, CHILE, Sept. 12.-The Junta published a decree recognizing the paper money issued by Balmaceda. The amount is $27,000,000, and it is almost the only money in circulation. General satisfaction is expressed with the decree. It has relieved the financial institutions and the people of great anxiety. Immediately after the news became known the whole business part of the city assumed an animated appearance. The first result was the opening of all the banks. Until to-day their doors had been closed since the entry of the Junta' army into Valueraiso The action of the banks was followed by the resumption of trade in all the stores. The city once more looks like what it was previous to the commencement of hostiliies between Balmaceda and his opponents. The same encouraging news reaches us from Santiago. The wise course of the vic-torious Junta is rapidly restoring order and contentment throughout the country. merciful policy toward its defeated foes meets with unstinted praise from everyone, including the foreign residents.

ROBBED BY HIS PRIEND.

John Daly, the Noted Gambler, Fleeced by

His Manager, Hollingsworth. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.-John Daly is said to have been robbed of a large sum of money by his manager, William S. Hollingsworth, The money was taken from the safe in Mr. Daly's gambling palace, No. 39 West Thirty-ninth street, last Friday night. The amount is estimated at from $60,000 to $100,-000. The story is that Hollingsworth took the money from the safe, of which he held the combination, and used the greater part of it to cover losses in Wall street.

Hollingsworth has been for years the trusted business manager of Daly, and has nandled in that time several millions of dollars belonging to Mr. Daly. Hollingsworth did not leave the city, and it is said that when Daly went to him and demanded his money Hollingsworth coolly informed him that he had only taken what belonged to him, and dared him to prosecute. Daly has taken no steps in that direction, because, it is whispered, any action of that character on his part would involve persons of prominence in the administration of the city of

MRS. WUCHTER'S FAST

For a Year and a Half the Unfortunate Woman Hasn't Eaten.

TERRIBLE LIFE OF STARVATION.

The Sight of Food and Water Causes Her Intense Suffering.

CONVULSIONS OFTEN RACK HER FRAME

ALLENTOWN, Sept. 12. - Mrs. Adam Wuchter, of Whitehall, who was known for 238 days as the fasting woman, was called upon by a reporter to-day. She was found in hed on the second floor of the house, which she says she has not left for over a year and a half. On March 3, 1890, she took to her bed, being then in an exhausted condition, having existed for several months previously on very little food, taken mostly n liquid form.

She grew worse from day to day, until her left side became paralyzed, and she almost completely lost her sight. Fearful convulsions racked her frame, and 15 ninutes at a time was the longest period of sleep she was able to obtain. Blood flowed from her eyes and mouth, and the pain in per head and stomach was almost unbearable. Whenever food or even water was brought near her it would make her very sick, and a convulsion would invariably follow.

NO FRAUD IN IT. Leading physicians from all over the country visited the woman, most of whom declared the case one of fraud, and said she was shamming. Her family physician, Dr. Sieger, of Siegfrids Bridge, said the fast was ine, offering to stake his reputation on his decision, and he tendered the privilege to any person or number of persons to watch the bedside, day and night, and see whether Mrs. Wuchter partook of any food. No one accepted the proposition, and so the case gradually became lost to the public.

Judging from the appearance of Mrs. Wuchter to-day, she is very little better than when it was reported that she had begun to take food, December 18, last. She has a terrible cough, and though she had no convulsions while the reporter was present, the attendants say she has them every day from one to a half dozen times. Her left side is still paralyzed, and the twitching of the arm and the sinews of the face have never ceased since they began.

At first she objected seriously to being interviewed, saying that she had suffered enough already through the newspapers, and wished the relief from the gossip of months past to be left unbroken. She speaks little above a whisper, and what food she takes consists of small pieces of toast and soda biscuit. She cannot drink.

SHE CAN SCARCELY SWALLOW. Most of the liquid which is put into her mouth runs out again, and very few drops enter the stomach. She declares positively that she cannot swallow, and any attempt to do so gives her much pain. She says she has not lost faith in her God for a moment, and though she has been a terrible sufferer,

Her husband remained with her almost day and night for more than a year, but now manages to do an occasional day's work. He was not at home to-day, the mother being in the care of a daughter, now 16 years of age. Dr. Siege: visits the woman regu-larly and says the case is as mysterious today as it was a year and more ago. He has given positive instructions that no one shall be allowed to see her, and whenever the husband leaves the house his orders are as ositive as the doctor's, that no one shall be dmitted.

How long the woman may live is merely a matter of conjecture. It may be a year or only a few weeks. She may live until every particle of strength is gone, or she may die during a convulsion.

A Prophecy For America That Is Near to Fulfillment This Season. New York Advertiser.

Many celebrated men have prophesied that the United States would one day become the great granary of the world, just as Egypt once was in the days of the Pharaohs. Coming events cast a shadow which shows that day to be near at hand. Throughout Europe there has this year been a general failing of crops; in this country, on the contrary, the crop is the largest ever known, and Europe has to depend upon us to supply her citizens with food.

Chauncey M. Depew cables over from London: "This is the greatest opportunity America has held for a decade to grow rich.

America has had for a decade to grow rich. It is a stupendous year. Let speculation stand back and wealth will pour in upon us. The farmers will have plenty of money to improve their lands, build new barns and buy more supplies. This will give the manufacturers more to do, and the wage-workers will share the general plenty. Railroads will reap a golden harvest, em-ploying more men, and more side tracks will be built, increasing the work of the mines and iron mills. Wealth work of the mines and iron mills. will spread itself through the whole people. Every man, woman and child in America should be richer this year, but if any 'cor-ner' is attempted this prosperity will shrink up.

AN INVENTOR'S GREAT IDEA.

Having Trouble to Head Up a Barrel He Puts a Boy Inside to Help. New York Advertiser.]

George Bump is a great inventor of North Lyme, Conn., who as yet has invented nothing useful, because all his time has been taken up with a problem of perpetual motion. As a distraction from the great ambition of his life, he runs a small farm to weeds. On Tuesday afternoon he was out in the yard trying to put a head in a barrel to be used for eider. He could not make the head stay up until he tightened the hoops, so, putting his deaf and dumb boy inside the barrel to hold up the head, he went on with his work. The scheme worked first rate, and he soon had the barrel headed

Leaving the yard he went out into a field to dig potatoes, forgetting all about the boy in the barrel. When the child was rescued he was so frightened that he went in spasms, and his life is almost despaired of. The next day Bump's wife applied for her husband's arrest on the charge of attempting to kill his son while insane. The examination failed to prove his insanity, however, and Bump was accordingly released. In all probability the incarceration of the boy was one of Bump's perpetual motion experi-ments, for the boy, being deaf and dumb, and given to rolling, the barrel might have been used as a motor for the cider mill.

ISLANDERS ATTACKED BY SHARKS. They Are Devoured After Their Canoes

Had Capsized in a Gale, SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The schooner General Banning arrived from Flent's Island yesterday with a cargo of cocoanuts. Her commander, Captain Spring, reports that while loading the cargo his vessel was twice blown out to sea by severe storms. On each occasion about 100 natives were on board and they hastened ashore in canoes. The second time several canoes were capsized and the occupants thrown into the water. The water swarmed with sharks, and many of the natives were torn limb from limb before they could be picked up by other canoes. One young islander plunged into the water with a long knife to plunged into the water with a long knife to save his father. Both, however, were torn to pieces. One young girl had almost reached a canoe when a shark seized her by the middle and dragged her down. Out of 38 people who were thrown into the water eight were seized by sharks and killed, and one man had a leg bitten off.

The residence of Farmer Morrison was completely destroyed, but the contents saved. The home of David Rankin was partially destroyed. Both fires origin-ated from defective flues.

At 11:40 o'clock last night an alarm of fire was sent in from station 67. It was caused by the burning down of a small two-story frame house, occupied by A. Boerstein, Thirty-third and Smallman streets. The fire originated from a defective flue. The loss was $600. The house belonged to the

At Richmond, Ill., Friday, a fire, which started in the livery stable of Alexander Dermont, quickly spread north and south, there being no fire department to fight it, and the principal hotel of the village, the Richmond House, and the residence of Theodore Shroeder were soon burned to the ground. Loss, $25,000; insurance light.

PRURITUS 15 YEARS

Under Doctor's Treatment Four Different Times. No Relief Whatever. Cured by Cuticura,

I have used the CUTICUBA REMEDIES, and found them to be just as you represented. They have given me a perfect cure. I have been troubled with pruritus for over fifteen years, and have been under the doctor's treatment four different times, with no relief whatever, until I tried the CUTICUBA REMEDIES. After using them just one week, I found that life was not such a burden after all, and am satisfied that I shall never be troubled again. Such faith I have in your remedies. You can send anyone that is troubled with pruritus, and I will satisfy them what it has done for me. I will not restrict you from publishing this communication, but would rather not. The remedies are so good that it would be rather selfish in me not to speak of their good qualities.
