THE EFFECTS OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

Dr. Sutherland Says Any Man Can Win in Spite of Difficulties

LIFE'S BEST PATHWAY POINTED OUT

Rev. Dr. Sutherland's evening topic at the Second Presbyterian Church last night was "The Determining Power of Circumstances in Building Up Character." Said be: "Too many think people good or bad according to their natural environment. We are accustomed to blame circumstances for moral defects. The poor think that it would be easy to do right if they were only for law nor more suffering in the family than in a period of great prosperity hen large bodies of men are employed. worldly property were the great remedy moral evil then rich men ought he always models of goodness. The man who has a fallen disposition can fall and will fall in any place. God has nade us capable of overcoming disabilities. The man who is determined to do a thing he man who is determined to do a fining ill generally de it, and when he has no dis-osticio to do it he will find plausible ex-uses. A man's ordinary business engage-eants need not stand in his way, and will or, if he really desires to be a Christian. "Our greatest men of this country have cen and are now men who had difficulties aurmount. This is an old story, but it reires to be repented for we constantly hear lures in life attributed to circumstances.

POWER FROM ON HIGH.

Circumstances good or bad can only do just what we let them do."

Professor Coleman Tells How a Minister Should Preach the Word.

"The accession of this power from on high is one of the pre-requisites for successful Christian work. This work hould begin at home, among the children, at unless parents are possessed of this over from above they may talk and teach of exhort and persuade, but to little avail, he same is true of the Sunday school achiers who, having the direction of those oung souls for but one hour a week, should ray for power to discharge aright the great same light the great same shifting men them. Ministers sonsibility resting upon them. Ministers he Gospel should not be discouraged by difference of the world or the careles f congregations, and thus allow then hese of congregations, and thus show them-selves to deliver their message in a dry, per-functory manner, without hope or expecta-tion or faith that any good seed was being sown. They should persevere and pray for that outpouring of the spirit that would en-able them to drive the truth home."

An Allegheny Pastor Points Out the Way to Happiness.

Strive to Enter in at the Straight Gate" was the subject of Rev. David S. Kennedy's discourse last night at Carnegie Hall, Alle

The idea which this exhortation is intended to convey," said the pastor, "Is that to reach that gate and to enter, there must be a certain amount of strife and struggle." He said there were five causes for this diffi-culty and strife in setting toot on the right path and following it to Christ, viz. distance, s to the second cause: We are deterred companions and associates, and many per reasons from leaving the City of De-uction and seeking the path of truth, and order to reach the gate we must use com-te decision and determination, and be ved by earnest conviction and not by
