The Garrison Alley Property of the Union Switch and Signal Company Transferred to the Westinghouse Electric Company Hig Earnings for Last Year.

According to announcement, the stockholders of the Union Switch and Signal Company, met at Swissvale at the company's office yesterday morning, and by more than a three-fourths vote ratified the sale of the Garrison alley property to the Westinghouse Electric Company. Manager E. H. Goodman presided and Secretary James Johnston kept the minutes. The meeting was not largely attended by stockholders, but they were largely present by proxy and there was not a dissenting vote.

It was also decided that the Board of Directors should take action to secure the the Swissvale property, including such patent rights as the Union Switch and Signal Company has acquired or may acquire prior to such substitution not already

Fired on the Italians.

The Italians employed by the Standard Gil Company to lay a gas main from the Moon field to McKee's Rocks are not making friends of the farmers along the line. The latter say the Romans are a predatory band who subsist mainly by forage. Ed Ewing says that they not only steal corn, but break says that they not only steal corn, but break down what they leave worse than a lot of raccoons would do. Night before last he found a gang in his corn field and opened fire on them with a Smith & Wesson. The crowd set up a dismal squalling, but Ed kept on until he emptied all the chambers. As neither dead bodies nor blood were found in the field yesterday morning the presumption is that all got away.

Four boys were arrested at midnight last night by Officers Kinney and Maxwell on Smithfield street on a charge of burglarizing a pawashop on Wylie, near Fifth avenue, a few nights ago. The boys were taken to Central station and searched and a sandbag and a handkerchiet with a stone tied in it was found on two of them. Their names are Barney Cunningham, John Harper, David Lewis and David Williams and their ages range from 18 to 20 years. A number of mouth organs, said to have been stolen, were also found on them.

Window Glass Manufacturers Contemplate Importing Workers if It Is Found

A LONG STRIKE IS UNAVOIDABLE.

Secretary Francis, of the Master Bricklayers' Association, Says It Is True That

THE MEN ASKED FOR A CONFERENCE.

They Sent a Representative to the Exchange for the Purpose.

The window glass manufacturers have been considering a new departure in consubstitution of the lien of the company's nection with the wage question, viz: the mortgage on the Garrison alley property to wholesale importation of glass workers from Europe. To be sure, the foreigners were not to be introduced into this country like a conquering army and headed by brass mercated in the existing mortgage.
Chough there were two lawyers present, a Schoyer, Jr., and Mr. Scott, the latter Dalzell, Scotta Gordon, there was but the speech making or controversy. Mr. ott appeared in behalf of the Westinghouse control of the Westinghouse plan will ever go into effect will depend on plan will ever go into effect will depend on Mr. Goodman made a statement to the effect that the business of the company, notwithstanding the prevailing depression, was good, better than had been expected, and as the company would share in the railway prosperity which must come this fall, there was no reason for apprehension of anything adverse in any direction, and in this view Mr. Westingthouse and all others present appropriately to coincide.

WILL IMPORT FOREIGN WORKERS. The intention of the window class men to fight their employes with foreign labor in wages and the continuance of certain customs obnoxious to their employers, has been understood among certain of the leaders for understood among certain of the leaders for some time. Immigration Inspector Robert Layton admitted yesterday that he had heard of the scheme, and a Western manufacturer acknowledged about a week ago that this plan had been considered at meetings of the manufacturers. He said that nothing definite had been decided upon, for the reason that the plan might not have to be applied. This is stated in anticipation of the customary denial which follows the publication of a story supposed to be safely corked. In fact, a Disparter reporter was asked more than once not to say anything about it, as it might Jeopardize the settlement of the wage question.

It was ascertained yesterday that the manufacturers are not averse to a struggle with the men. They know that if the fight, which is admitted to be inevitable, does not come off now, it must next year. The con-ditions are more favorable now for a lengthditions are more favorable now for a lengthoned tussic than they are likely to be next any means object. Color is given to this view by the attitude of the manufacturers toward the workers at Tuesday's meeting.

The workers came there instructed to make concessions which would bring both parties so close together that an amicable understanding could hardly be avoided, if such were desired. These overtures from the worker's side were rejected, and the meeting adjourned indefinitely.

WHAT THE NEXT STEP WILL BE. The next step will be the laying of the matter before the whole committee. What the result may be can only be conjectured. A Disparter reporter, however, outlined to Mr. Layton the manner in which the laws were Layton the manner in which the laws were to be evaded, under the manufacturers' plan. There were to be no contracts, no advertisements, nor publicity in any way given to the fact that men were needed over here. An agent, neither a citizen of this country nor, in fact, owing allegiance to any, was to go among foreign glass workers and in a very casual way allude to such a country ns. Bricklayers Did Send to the Masters With a Request for a Conference.

The officials of the journeymen bricklay-ers have sought to negative the story relating to the position of affairs between them and the masters printed in last Saturday's Disparcia. They have declared that no "written" communication asking for a conference was sent to the Bricklayers' Associated that the same of the

But because no "written" communication

But because no "written" communication was sent, it does not follow that no overtures were made; and, in point of fact, the essential truthfulness of what was stated was fully vouched for yesterday by Secretary Francis, of the Master Brickinyers' Association. Mr. Francis said:

"The only matter in which the article in Saturday's Disparance erred was in implying that a written communication was received by us from the journeymen asking fo a conference. There was not; but there was a verbal communication made to us with the same object, and that was through James White, who is, I believe, associated with Chris Dixon. White came here on that Monday, and on requesting admission to the meeting was given the privilege of the floor. Mr. White said he had been asked to come before the association to ascertain if we before the association to ascertain if we would grant the men a conference. He said that O'Brien had appointed him to come here and ask this. Our reply was that we would grant them a conference any time they wanted it. The meeting most decidedly understood White to have come before it on behalf of the men."

the special display of the imported dress stuffs now arranged gives a slight idea of the enormous stock of novelties in fall and winter dress fabrics now shown by this firm. This season more than ever before Jos. Horne & Co. maintain their unquestioned supremacy as the "Leading Drygoods House" of the two cities. In fact, no house, east or west, can surpass, or even scarcely hope to equal, their vast and varied collections of latest styles in silks and dress goods, many of which are manufactured to their order and shown only by themselves.

The Pottery Trade Growing. Will Jackson, a pottery man, of Findlay, At Berger's, Liberty and Sixth avenue.

In addition to an increasing business, the quality and general finish of the American ware was now generally conceded to be equal to the English and Irish. It was true that much of the designing and decorating were still being done by foreigners, but the native talent was fast coming to the front.

the Charge of Negligence. The Allegheny Sub-fire Committee met last night for the purpose of continuing further investigation into the alleged charges of negligence of employes of the fire bureau in permitting a burned-out wire to remain in that condition for 24 hours some weeks ago. The meeting was enlivened to a considerable extent by the declaration of Mr. Shadd that the entire proceeding was "rotten," and that a snake in the grass was apparent and had been intended to menace Chief Jones. Mr. Shadd grew emphatic at times and demanded that the whole matter be investigated to the bottom.

Assistant Chief Hunter was called on for an explanation as to why be did not report.

be investigated to the bottom.

Assistant Chief Hunter was called on for an explanation as to why he did not report the break in the wire. He explained to the satisfaction of the committee that he had reported the matter to a lineman and got assistance for him to find the break. When they were unable to locate it, he sent to Pittsburg and secured a man, who found it and fixed it. In the meantime, Fire Marshal McFadden learned of the break and caused the matter to be talked about, but the break was fixed as soon as it possibly could be. The matter was but briefly discussed, and Mr. Stauffer declared the Fire Marshal to be responsible for the report of negligence in the bureau, that he ought to be present to make a statement, that he should be censured for his absence and that the sense of the committee ought to be put on record that he knows more, or alleges he does, than he desires to tell.

Mr. Shadd said those were his sentiments, and if Mr. Stauffer made a motion to that effect he would second it. He desired at the same time to apologize to Mr. Hunter for saying at the last meeting that he should be discharged. He labored under a mistake at that time and was sorry for it.

Mr. Stauffer moved that Chief Jones, of hat time and was sorry for it.

Mr. Stauffer moved that Chief Jones, of Air. Staulier moved that Chief Jones, of the Fire Bureau, and Superintendent Loomis, of the Bureau of Electricity, be exonerated of any negligence, and the motion prevalled. Then Mr. Shadd suggested that before they adjourned they ought to pass a vote of censure on the fire marshal for interfering, but this did not recoved.

D. E. Cassidy, attorney for Secretary Shields, stated last night that there was no shortage, but merely a discrepancy or mistake in the accounts, caused by the complicated system which it was necessary to use in a business of that kind, the failure of the different books to tally probably being the result of rebates made to consumers and other similar reasons. He said that Mr. Shields' absence from the office was explained by the fact that he had been at the office of his attorney for several days going over the books. Attorney Cassidy said that the matter would be adjusted not later than to-day and that Addison Lysle, president of the company, was satisfied with the explanation and had stated that he did not apprehend any further trouble.

Have a charming exhibit of everything in ornamental iron and wire, but, practical and effective as they are, they must stand back when their heavy iron manufactures are in question, such as fire-escapes, iron staircases, cellar doors, vault doors, iron shuters, iron beds, bank and office fixtures, lawn and porch furniture and stable outfits. These must be seen at the warehouse, 201, 203, 205 Market street.

Drilling and Portable Engines Are both shown by the Oil Well Supply Company at their hagnificent exhibit in Exposition grounds, and are respectively the Innis and "Mogul" types. The "Mogul drilling engine," for deep wells, is an important subject for investigation. The patent out-off for economizing steam is a desideration. for economizing steam is a desideratum when the "Mogui" is used for pumping.

Attorney George Shiras, Jr., said last night that no date had yet been set for holding a meeting of the creditors, but that they might get together to-day or to-morrow and have an informal talk over the statement. He said this would be but a preliminary meeting, and that nothing definite would be done for several days, but that it was considered a foregone conclusion that the five years' extension would be granted.

Mr. Shiras stated that the $400,000 mortgage which has been referred to is held by the New York Life Insurance Company and another Eastern insurance company. Among the banks holding the firm's paper are the Fort Pitt, Union National, Mechanics', People's Savings Bank, Exchange, M. & M., Allegheny National, Tradesmen's National, Bank of Pittsburg, Citizens', and Third National of Allegheny. The Homeopathic State Medical Society Demands Reforms.

But Indorse a Pet Measure of the Ladies'

Health Association. BIG BANQUET AT THE MONONGAHELA

The second day's session of the Pennsylrania Homeopathic Medical Society convened shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The attendance was much larger than that of the previous day owing to the arrival of more delegates. The first matter taken up was the papers submitted by the Bureau of Surgery that had been postponed on the first day owing to the absence of several members of that bureau. The first paper read was on "Supra-Pubic Cystotomy or Encysted Vesical Calculus," by Dr. C. F. Vischer, of Philadelphia, which was discussed by Drs. Thompson and Korndoerfer.

The next paper was "Notes on Intestinal Surgery" by Dr. W. B. Van Lennep. The

The Chair then called for the papers from the bureau of gynecology, of which Dr. Millie J. Chapman, of this city, is chair-man. Dr. Williard gave a verbal report on 'Excisions of the Tibia," not having time to prepare a paper. Dr. Chapman then read a report of two patients under the subject of clinical cases, which was discussed at some length. A paper on the "Sympathy or Relation Between Rectal and Uterine Diseases," by Dr. Sarah J. Coe, of Wilkesbarre, was read by the Chairman. Dr. Pearl Starr followed with a paper entitled "Arsenieum Album in Ovarian Cystilis." The introduction of the bureau of nathol ogy and pathological anatomy finished the morning session. Among the interesting papers in the afternoon session were the "Homeopathic Medication of Children and Its Influence on the Health of the Race," by Dr. Yocumis.

A BULWARK OF HOMEOPATHY. In the latter paper it was argued that the nedication of children was one of the main bulwarks of Homeopathy; that it was practiced in all ages and by all races; in early times cruelly and ignormantly, but since the birth of Hahnemann the treatment had be ome known, and stamped by success. In regard to its influence on the health of the race, the speaker said it was recon structive, advantageous and preservative and tended to make a child a perfect speci-men of physical mankind and of sound mind.

The other two papers read were "Hind-The other two papers read were "Hindrances to the Cures of Children's Diseases," by Dr. A. P. Bowie, and "The Effects of Errors in Eating Upon the Health of Children," by Dr. W. J. Martin.

In the latter paper it was claimed that nearly all sickness in children was due to the eating of candies and pastries.

The report of the Committee on Legislation was then received. It was presented by Dr. James E. James, Chairman. It referred to the efforts of the committee to secure the passage of the "medical education bill" and the "medical examiners' bill," both of which bills failed to pass owing, according to the report, to the strong division of sentiment among the different schools of medical practice upon medical legislation. Through this division all the medical legislation of both schools failed.

REFORMS ARE DEMANDED. The report further, after giving in detail the circumstances that encompassed their defeat, urged a renewed action, a thorough discussion of the subject and the settlement of a plan of action for the future, whether it of a plan of action for the future, whether it shall be a three-board examiners' bill as a matter of policy, an examiners' bill with equal representation, an educational bill or no bill at all. A thorough organization of the homeopathic physicians in the State and country districts was urged to bring an in-fluence to bear on the Legislature. As there was only a little time till adjourn-ment the report was referred to a committee. ment the report was referred to a committee, Drs. Parson, Willard and Pitcairn, with in-

The society then adjourned to prepare for the banquet at the Monongahela House. Over 125 guests were present, and everything passed off smoothly. The banquet hall was tastefully decorated with plants and flowers. The Gernert & Gunther Orchestra furnished the music. Speeches were made by Drs.J. F. Cooper, W. J. Martin, Augustus Korndoerfer, Z. Arrived at No Decision The committee of 18 appointed by Chairman Brennen, of the Democratic County Committee, to consider the nomination of a District Attorney and Prothonotary, met in Brennen's office yesterday afternoon. There were 16 of the committee present. Mr. Brennen was elected Chairman and Stephen C. McCandless Secretary. The Chairman was authorized to secure permanent head-quarters, to secure poll books and have them written, and to name a Finance Committee. After a longthy discussion as to the advisability of putting candidates in the field they adjourned, to meet again on Friday, the 25th inst., and every Friday afternoon thereafter. The meeting was held with closed doors.
