After Brodie had filed out to Cork-hill, Nash dropped one between Shugart and Corkhill, Lowe crossing the plate. Bierbauer led off for the Pirates with a pretty single to left and went down to second when, he saw stovey juggle the bail, and scored on Mil-ier's single after Shugart had been retired at first. Beckley put in a single in this juning but Hanion and Lally were easy outs. Neither side scored in the second, but in the third the "Burgers" added three more runs, and took the lead by a pretty exhibition of batting. Bierbauer led off with a single over second, Shugart followed this with a double to le t, advancing Bauer to third, and Miller cleared the bases when he caught one of staley's curves just right and sent if over the left field fence. Boston added one in the fourth on singles by Ganzel. Staley and Lowe. The "Burgers" added two more runs in the seventh, Befly going to first on balls, which play was followed by three singles in succession, and a sacrifice, Rellly and Cork-tiet on the gent was followed by three singles in which play was followed by three singles in succession, and a sacrifice, Relly and Cork-tiet or in the eighth when Long's error and Corkhill's two-bagger enabled Reilly to again cross the rubber.

POWER OF CONGRESS. If Congress may forbid the use of the mails for literature tending to promote mala in se, which it could not legislate against directly, thereby disfavoring, and if possible, supres-sing the same, what becomes of the principle that Congress cannot enact laws that indi-rectly touch offences they could not punish directly? Expanding the assumption of counsel for defense that the right to operate a lottery is one of the fundamental rights of man, like the right to exercise a profession as a physi-cian, or a trade, as a laundryman, the At-torney General says it hardly seems worth while to spend time upon an argument rest-ing upon such assumption. If it can be demonstrated that to prey upon one's fellow-men by means of a lottery is a fundamental human right, the Decalogue and the Sermon on the Mount, not to mention the Declara-tion of Independence, ought to be rewritten at once. hereby disfavoring, and if possible, supres-At Columbus-Columbus-Columbus-Device Batteries Leiper, Twitchell and Dowse: Suffint and Murphy: Hits-Columbus, 6; Boston, 14. With reference to the contention of coun-sel that the only plausible defense of the lottery legislation is that lottery is alleged to be of an immoral and injurious tendency, the Attorney General says that in doing this he again assumes as his fundamental propo-sition that inasmuch as Congress cannot pass a law directly suppressing lotteries in the States, therefore it cannot indirectly suppress them, and therefore it must aid them in the transaction of their business through the mails. was never headed, winning easily by two good lengths. Miss Alice broke badly after passing the half. Time, 2:21%. Richardson broke at the first turn in the fourth heat, and Miss Alice went to the front. She was never headed, and won by a length from Richardson. Time, 2:1834. Richardson was put back for running. Following is the summary: SUMMARY.

There were ten competitors for the 2:29 pace, viz.: King Medium, Miss Bruce, Belle Potter, Bessemer, Shaker, Belle N, Col Forest, Greenhorn, King Hiero and Frank W. The pools sold as follows: Miss Bruce, 530: Shaker, $25, and the field, $30. Belle N had the pole and after amountarible do N had the pole, and after considerable de-lay a tolerably fair start was effected, Belle N suon broke, and Greenhorn went to the front, with Shaker second and Frank W third. Greenhorn led into the homestretch where Col Forest, Belle Potter and Shaker all made an effort. In a very close and ex-citing finish Shaker won by a scant half length from Col Forest, with Belle Potter a good third. Time, 2:21 %.

A VERY EXCITING HEAT.

The second heat was an exciting one. Miss Bruce was still a favorite. Shaker broke before the quarter was reached and Colonel Forest went to the front and held a slight lead right into the stretch, Miss Brace, Belle Potter, Greenhorn, Frank W and King Medium all being bunched. When fairly into the stretch Miss Bruce showed most speed and won a most exciting heat by a short half length from Shaker. The latter was put back for running and Frank

W was given second and Colonel Frank W was given second and Colonel Forest third. Time, 2:21'2. Miss Bruce led from start to finish in the third heat, but Belle Potter and King Medium gave her quite an argument. But the favorite always had plenty of speed and was handlike by a learch. Time, 2:0212 won handily by a length. Time, 2:233, The favorite won the fourth heat and race quite handily after a lively tussle with Belle Potter and King Medium. Belle Potter broke near the wire allowing Miss Brace to win by a length and a haif. Time, 2:22. Following is the summary:

WHERE DANDY KILLED THEM.

Four horses started for the 2:23 class trotting. The horses were Dandy, Kinsman, Eva Wilkes and Ben Davis. Kinsman had the pole and the pools sold as follows: Ben Davis, $115; Dandy, $40; Eva Wilkes and Kinsman, $5 each. Kinsman caused lots of trouble in scoring and the start was not a good one. Kinsman and Dandy broke at the first turn and Eva Wilkes and Davis went to the half together where Eva went up. Dandy broke on the home stretch and Ben Davis won easily. Time, 2:25%.

The second heat was a good one. Ben Davis broke just after starting and Dandy went to the front. Davis was again first on entering the stretch, but Dandy showed remarkable speed and trotted Davis off his feet, winning easily by a length. Time, 2:214

There was a long delay before the third heat started. In the pools Ben Davis was selling at evens against the field. Dandy went away in the lead and was never headed, winning by three lengths. Time, 2:23%

Just before the fourth heat, started Davis sold for $7 and the field for $50. Dandy went to the front as soon as the trio started and caused Davis to break at the half.

THAT AWFUL INNING.

In the ninth mischief was done. Stovey was first at bat and he sent a long fly to right, which Lally misjudged at first, but finally got under and then muffed it clean Stovey had got down between first and second and when he saw the error he legged it as Stovey only can and succeeded in reaching third. Lowe hit to Shugart, who threw wild, Stovey secring and Lowe reach-ing third on the error. Galvin got nervous and sent Brodie to first of 'balls.' Then he tried to break Nash's ribs and he went to first. Tacker forced Nash at second. Brodie going to third and Lowe scoring on the pay. Ganzel pat in a single and Brodie scored, after Quinn had flied out to Beckley. Brodie's run tied the score and the mischief was done. The Pittsburg's were retired on three flies in their half and then the crowd settled down for another long inning game. Neither team did anything in the tenth and then Gaffney called the game, the Bostons giad of escaping a defeat, the 'Burgers' in-sisting on continuing, but the umpire's de-cision went and the game was over. At-tendance, 1,665 Stovey had got down between first and #### through the mails. A WEAK POSITION.

League, met defeat here this afternoon at the hands of the home club by a score of 5 to We have already seen this position is wholly untenable, because it is conceded that Congress may refuse the use of the mails and thus indirectly "disfavor and if 2. The game was a very interesting one from start to finish. Uniontown was strength-ened by three new players, and the Bridge-villes by several members of the East End mails and thus indirectly "disfavor and if possible suppress" many practices against which it cannot legislate directly. There-fore, clearly if Congress cannot refuse mail-facilities to lotteries, its inability to do so must rest upon some other principle than is involved in this case—of direct or indirect heristation.

involved in this case-of direct or indirect i legislation. "In briet." said the Attorney General, "I maintain without successful contradiction that whatever acts and enterprises Con-gress has the power to make criminal in the District of Columbia or the Territories it may refuse directly or indirectly to aid, en-courage or abet in any State without viola-ting any obligation, either to clitzen or State. Any State may make the practices of this lottery company or even the possession of its tickets within its borders with intent to sell a crime, in the exercise of this power is of jegislation." In regard to the mails, in the exercise of any of its other legislative powers, the Attorney General holds that Congress has a very broad discretion as to whether it shall act at all, or if so, when and to what extent, and for what purposes it shall act. CHICAGO, Sept. 17.-In the fourth day's play of the Barker-Reed checker match two games were played with second double-cor-ner openings, Barker winning both games. The score now stands: Barker, 3; Reed, 6; drawn, 5; to be played, 22. mackers of Morrissey say that they will give Hammond a race at any time. The United States Government, like an individual, or private corporation, or an ordi-nary municipal corporation, is subject to dividual, or private corporation, or an ordi-nary municipal corporation, is subject to the great rule which pervades all well or-dered society, that no one shall so use his own property, franchises or powers that in so doing he shall inflict a needless injury upon the property or personal rights of in-dividuals or upon the well being of society. The Attorney General then argues to show Congress has the undoubted right to legis-liste for the common good, and say: "Suppose that as now there is a probabili-is it true the United States Government would be under obligation to transit over its telegraph lines messages in reference to business or practices not indictable at com-mon law or not known to the law books as mala in set Could it not refuse to transmit telegrams bioldy relating to gambing trans-actions, trading upon margins in wheat as le of lottery tickets? Or in regard to any other business which, in the exercise of a sound discretion, Congress might declare to be contra bonor mores? FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. The second main proposition of Mr. Car-ter's brief, says the Attorney General, is ter's brief, says the Attorney General, is that the lottery statue is unconstitutional because it is a law abridging the freedom of the press, and is therefore at variance with the first amondment of the Constitution. The Attorney General submits that no quee-tion under the first amendment of the Con-stitution is in issue in this case, nor can it be in issue so far as the Louisiana Lottery is concerned, until a statute shall be passed forbidding, not merely the circulation of the mails, but forbidding the circulation of such newspapers through any agency what-ever.
