BY L. M. STEARNS.

Steps are being taken to increase the library of the club. The annual meeting of the English Coun-ties Chess Association was held this year at Oxford. The following is the final score: Rev. A. B. Skipworth, 7½; J. H. Blake, 7½; Trenchard, 4½; Owen, 4½; Lambert, 4½; Bateman, 4½; Thorold, 4; Dr. Hunt, 3½; Plachy, 3½; Scott, 2. Two games were played last week in the pending match between Major Hanham and Mr. Kemeny, each player winning one. Loyd, Kemeny, Mungo and Otten are com-petitors in the tournament that has just been organized for the championship of the City Chess Club, of New York. Louis Poulsen drank water only-no spir-its, coffee or tea. He did not smoke. Too bad: Mr. L. M. Stearns offered a prize for the best solution to above problem, which was won by W. E. Metchin, Murfreesborough, Tenn., and Mr. Stearns has forwarded the prize to the above gentleman.

To the Oil Editor of the Dispatch: To the Oil Editor of the Dispatch: Mhat the producers require is so reason-stated to be complied with. For the infor-mation of all concerned, especially the pipe line authorities, that they be prepared, I will state about what the producers want. We have no objections that the oil deliv-red to the mimor lines go into the lines of prefer that this company should be the cus-todian of all, as it possesses the capital, and the proper transaction of the binsines, bit before we deliver to it our goods we de-site that certain definitions and rules be es-tablished so that when we give we shall un-derstand definitely what shall be returned. The usages of the trade has established five different kinds of crude petroleum, viz: Lima, Bradtord, Tiona, Middle and Sonth-cern. These kinds have been run, held and delivered separately, and each has com-tranded a different price. We desire that these distinctions and separations be main-tained, so that each shall stand upon its own merits in the market and the owner shall
