It is alleged that Tang's persecutors have written to his father in China, telling him that his son is a very bad boy and has cut his queue off and become a Christian. The elder Tang writes to his son that he (the father) does not know what a Christian is, but he hopes his son will be a good man. Mr. Gray says the Chinese of Pittsburg are far above the coolie class, and are no

He says that among these who have joined the Sunday school he has never heard a vulgar expression or even a coarse suggestion. HOW YE TANG WAS TESTED.

Ye Tang showed from the beginning that he was naturally a good man. Two years ago two men undertook to settle a dispute as to the character of the Chinese, one holding that they were all profligate, even when Christianized, and would get druck whenever opportunity offered. They decided to call on the first Chinese laundryman they encountered and tempt him.
They happened to strike Ye Tang first and found him reading a pocket edition of the New Testament. When interrogated as to why he read "that book," he replied that "it made him good," and after some conversation the skeptic said it was of no use burned. One of them has died and two others to ask Ye Tang to take a drink.

Mr. Gray says he has received letters from different cities accusing Ye Tang of being a bad man, and evidently written to uffuence his Christian friends against him, out, on the other hand, he says he knows Tang too well to be influenced against him, and that as to the witness against him yesterday, We Chin, or Chin We, the uncle of the latter, pronounces him a bad boy, a thief and a liar, and that the aforesaid uncle car-ried a warrant for his arrest for a long time. There are some who expect to see Ye Tang's head nailed to a telegraph pole before the thing is all over, but he evidently has powerful backers, who might make some people smoke in that event.

SHIELDS SETTLES UP

And Goes Home Once More a Free Man-The Terms of Adjustment Not Made Public-His Connection With the Company Severed.

Ex-Treasurer and Secretary Thomas L. Shields, of the Allegheny Heating Company, with his attorneys, Cassidy and Richardson, met the committee of directors and their attorney, W. B. Rodgers, last night, at the office of his attorneys, and held a final conference. The terms of settlement were agreed upon, and at the conclusion of of the meeting Mr. Shields went home a free man, for the first time in six days.

Before the meeting Attorney Cassidy stated to a DISPATCH reporter that the Auditor had completed the examination of the books, and that he had made a proposition for his client to the directors, which they had agreed to accept, and that the meeting was for the purpose of stranging the details of the settlement. He was questioned as to the terms of the proposition, but said he could not give the details, but that the nature of the proposed settlement was such that the company would be reim-bursed to the full extent of the deficit. The exact figures he refused to give unless the attorney of the company would consent, but said that the amount was considerably less han $100,000.

The last meeting was of about two hours' duration, and at its close Mr. Shields and his attorneys were seen. They stated that everything was satisfactorially adjusted, and that the company's claims had been satisfied, but again refused to give the amount of the shortage. Attorney Rodgers was asked what the result of the meeting had been, but refused to say anything what-ever about the matter. It was evident, however, that there had been an amicable adjustment, as Mr. Shields departed for his ome unattended by the officer who had een his constant companion pending the ome of the several conferences.

It was learned last night from indispatable authority that the amount of the This will be refunded by Shields and his friends. His connection with the heating company will of course be severed. James B. Oliver was present at the meeting last night for a short time. He is a relative of Shields, and it is said that his assistance was ent in getting the ex-treasurer out of his

One of the directors, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said: "The President and directors of the company have certainly been guilty of the most inexcusable negli-gence and carclessness in allowing the acounts to become so involved, and in permitting the Secretary and Treasurer to asume such responsibilities and priviby him without consulting When Shields went there his salary was but $75 a month, and lately he has been receiving $2,000 a year, yet he was investing in other enterprises, and a few months ago invested $50,000 in a machine company. His private resources may have been such as to enable him to do this, but it was the duty of the officials of the company to investigate this long ago."

Pittsburg Manufacturers Still Insist That Ohio's Governor

Glass, Tin Plate and Carpet Men Show the

MEANT ONLY TO CATCH VOTES WITH

From interviews had yesterday with manufecturers whose business was alluded to in his Sidney speech, Governor Campbell is shown not to be thoroughly posted on the industries he takes as illustrating the effect of the McKinley tariff bill. Mr. Cronemeyer St. Malachi's Church, on Pius street. Here shows that in his tinned-plate allusions, the Governor is altogether wrong, and Mr. marshalled by Geo. Kunkel. Frank Weis- Loeffler says that if he is correctly reported, man assumed the position of Commander in he doesn't know what he is talking about. Mr. Groetzinger points out the fallacy of his assertion that earpets are increased enormously in cost, and other business men talk along the same line.

Respecting the Buckeye Governor's strictures on the "great crime," the increase of the duty on tin plate, in which he seeks to show that the farmers, especially, are taxed some $8,000,000 additional through the imposition of the duty, W. C. Cronemeyer, a pioneer in the business, said: THINKS CAMPBELL ISN'T POSTED.

"When Governor Campbell talks about the duty on tinned plate, he plainly shows that he is not informed on the question at all. He calls it a crime; now let us see about that. Galvanized iron, which is iron or steel sheets coated with zinc has to pay a duty of 21% cents per pound, and we never hear of any attacks made upon that article of manufacture. Why should tinned or tern plates, which are steel sheets covered with tin or lead, pay a less duty? By a mistake in previous hills duty? By a mistake in previous bills tinned plate was not brought up to an equality with other iron industries, and the McKinley bill simply corrected the in-equality. That bill imposes a duty of 2.2 cents per pound on tinned plate, and that is .3 of a cent less than what the manufacturpers and officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers Association of Iron and Steel Workers deemed necessary to put this trade on an equal footing with the rest of the iron and steel industries. When Mr. Campbell says that the tin badge used at political meetings is made from imported iron dipped in foreign tin and made by foreign workmen he is altogether mistaken. Proof will be forther mistaken. be forthcoming within a week that tinned plate manufactured from American steel, and coated with tin imported from Singa-pore, where the English get the bulk of their supply, has been made in this country in commercial quantities and has been found superior to the Welch product.

Edward Groetzinger, one of the leading carpet dealers of the city, criticises the Ohio Governor's figuring on carpets. He says there has been an advance of from 10 to 15 cents a yard on all grades, but that this is only one-half the amount claimed by the Governor, emphasising still further his in-accuracy. Mr. Groetzinger most emphativance was placed on the goods usually pur-chased by the wealthy than on those which come within the reach of the working-

The senior partner in Thomas Wightman & Sons, supports the statements lately made in THE DISPATCH, that the increase in the price of fruit jars was due to the unprecedentedly large crop, and not in any degree to the tariff. Referring to Governor Campbell's allusions to the advance as being directly due to the tariff, Mr. Wight-

WHY GLASS JABS ARE DEARER "If Mr. Campbell is quoted correctly to the effect that fruit jars were advanced from $6 50 to $16 00 a gross on account of the McKinley bill, he is either wilfully misrepresenting the conditions of things or es not know what he is talking about. Fruit jars sold last year for $7 a gross, and the price this year is $9, although some dealers may be charging $10 a gross. This is not due to the McKinley bill, however, courred at the family residence, at 201 Secbut to the cheap price of sugar, and the unprecedented fruit crop. The crop for several seasons past has been a failure and sugar being high there was no demand for ond avenue, last night, in the 79th year his age, a man well known to the older residents of Pittsburg passed from this life. Edward Houston came to this country from jars. Consequently but few were made last year. An unusual demand for certain grades will always stiffen prices, duty or no duty.'
William Loeffler says: 'If Governor till 1883, when he gave up active business, having suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he partially recovered, but has been Campbell is correctly reported he does not know what he is talking about. He is re ported as saying: 'After the increase in duty in 1883 wages were reduced from 18 to 20 per cent.' The facts are the duty on window glass was decreased in 1883 and not Cathedral, and was always active in church work. His hand was always open to the poor. A man of npright slife, he was respected by all who knew him.

The surviving members of his family are his wife and Charles W. Houston, business manager of the Press; Edward F., of the increased, and as a result of the lowering of the duty, the wages were reduced 10 per cent, and not 18 per cent to 20 per cent. After the period of depression that followed the lowering of the tariff in 1883 there came a period of prosperity, and in 1887 the wages were advanced 5 per cent, and in 1889 another 5 per cent advance was paid. So you see no reduction was made except in Globe Refining Company, and Mrs. James Flood. Funeral services will be held at the residence Tuesday, at 8:30 A. M., and mass at 9 A. M. The interment will be from the 1883, when the tariff was reduced. Another thing Governor Campbell is reported as say ing is, It is needless to say there is a "trust" in window glass. This statement is absolutely false. So far we have no trust witness fee books to the auditors to-mor-row. It was thought litigation would be resorted to in order to settle this point, as the ex-Mayor had refused to deliver the books, claiming they were his own personal we have not even a strong trade organization, so that when we have meetings we find it difficult to get a full attendance. Governor Campbell is generally well spoken of, but if his statements otherwise are as untruthful as those regarding win-dow glass, he certainly is very unreliable." POREIGN PRICES FOR PLOWS.

Major Joseph T. Speer, of the Globe Plow Works, said when called upon: can say regarding Campbell's speech in reference to plows and cultivators, that he has been misinformed on the subject. We has been misinformed on the subject. We export largely to South America and the West Indies, and we get from ten to twenty-five per cent more for our goods than we do in the home market."

To this W. W. Speer, added: "Yes, afid more prompt payment."

Governor Campbell's statement that there was no necessity for an increase in the data.

was no necessity for an increase in the duty m cotton ties because the Americana had been underselling the foreigns with a 35 per cent ad valorem duty in effect, while now there is a specified duty imposed, is positively denied by Pittsburg manu-fecturers. This trade was at one time a leading industry in this section, but it was destroyed by the reduction of the tariff. Since, every effort has been made by manufacturers to reestablish it. They secured every patent taken out to cheapen the cost in an endeavor to compete with the foreign product. Under the old tariff the latter could deliver cotton ties in Louisiana at cheaper prices than they could be made up at in local mills. The result of a protective tariff is that Pittsburg makers can now successfully compete with the foreigners in every part of the country. Another Allegheny Dalzell Club. The Invincible Republican Club of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, has been organized with the following officers: President, Louis Gottwals; Vice President, Charles

EMPLOYES IN THE ALVIN THEATER

At a general meeting of representatives from the unions last evening the constitution and by laws of the new "Trades Assembly of Western Pennsylvania" were adopted. This is the name of the new legislative body which has arisen from the ashes of the Central Trades Council. Unlike the defunct aggregation, it will be representative to a degree, embracing every union body in Western Pennsylvania. There were 250 delegates at last night's meeting, representing 150 unions and about 80,000 workers. As far as Secretary McNamee could get it, every union in the section had a representative present. The next meeting will be on Saturday week, for organization. The declaration of principles of the new body is contained in the preamble, as

To rescue our trades from the condition into which they have fallen, and raise ourselves to that position in society to which we are justly entitled, to pince ourselves on a foundation sufficiently strong to secure us from further encroachments, and to elevate the moral, social and intellectual condition of every wage-worker in the country, is the object of this Trades Assembly, and to the consummation of so desirable an object we do pledge ourselves to unceasing effort. THE POLITICIANS LEFT OUT.

Trades Council contained a declaration pledging the body to political action in certain emergencies; it is noteworthy that the above preamble is without political allusion whatever. The constitution expressly stip alates that no lawyer or professional politi cian shall be eligible as a delegate.

Another section provides that "no trade or labor organization shall be entitled to representation in this assembly that is com-

The rest of the constitution provides for execution of the business and the election of officers. The delegates who were fore most in debate last evening were Messrs. W. J. Tanner. of Theatrical Attaches' Union No. 5371 American Federation of Labor, it was ascertained that Mr. Davis had signed their scale on the 12 of September. The union greed to furnish a master mechanic, elecricians, chief lithographer, assistant, ticket sellers, etc., etc., at stipulated rates, and Mr. Davis accepted it in the following

"I hereby accept the above scale and agree to employ none but members of the American Federation of Labor in the Alvin; Theatre employes of my selection to be accepted by the union as members. All employes to be governed by the rules of the

The Theatrical Attaches' Union has membership of 34 and was organized in March last. Twelve new men will be nitiated within it to-day. It has members in Harry Williams', Harris', Opera House, and H. Davis. It was stated last night that the American Federation of Labor would see that the Knights of Labor kept their hands off its union, else there would be quarreling between the two organizations. Mr Davis said he had accepted the scale which suited him best. He was doing his best to open his house on date and give the Pittsburg people the house he had promised them, and he did not wish to be involved in any quarrel. His men were all union men. If the Knights of Labor officials chose to take out the musicians they had agreed to allow play with his own men, he would try to survive it.

NOT SOLD AS YET. Fresh Rumors About the Fifth Avenue

and Duquesne Roads Run Down. It was once more freely reported yesterday that the Fiith avenue company had swallowed up the Duquesne Traction road, but Colonel Elkins declared he knew nothing about it. He said the 3-cent tares would be continued during next month, the tickets were already printed, and might for several months to come. He said he knew nothing whatever about the Duquesne road, and had no interest in its business.

The Colonel said that 12 winter cars were being built in Philadelphia of a new pat-tern. The seating would be like that of the summer cars, the sides of the cars, of course being closed in. They would be larger than those now in service

SANITARY MEASURES IMPERFECT. Miss O'Reilly Finds That All Females Are

Not I roperly Cared For. Deputy Factory Inspector Miss O'Reilly ompleted another week's work yesterday. She found no cause for complaint on the score of employment of child labor. says the laws governing female and child labor are more strictly adhered to than in the Eastern section. She found the sanitary arrangements in female employing establishments excessively deficient and she says these infractions of the law will be dealt Miss O'Reilly has visited about 60 fac-

William Zoeller, a Southside butcher, was $10,000 suit of Mrs. Zelpha Wood against arrested by Constable Langenbacher yesterher husband's parents, for the alienation day to answer a charge of assault and batof his affections, the jury, after an all night's tery. Stanislous Perposkie, a Pole, says session, returned a verdict for the plaintiff Zoeller assaulted him in the Southside in the sum of $1,065. The trial occupied market house. In telling how the trouble several days, during which time the entire came about he said a friend of his went to community was interested, owing to the prominence of the parties and the fact that Zoeller's stand to buy some meat and it was to cost 80 cents. His friend laid down the main charges between husband and wife were that he knocked her down for playing dollar, and Zoeller not being able to make the change asked the Pole to give him a nickle, and he then handed him a quarter. croquet on Sunday, while she complained that he indulged in poker and "old sledge" Pertoskie thought a mistake had been made and told his friend. This started a pretty hard argument, and Zoeller handed the Pole another quarter to get him to go away. This did not seem to end the matter, and Pertos-kie says Zoeller got mad and struck him. William Richardson and Frank Wilson, STYLE, strength and flexible qualities are combined in my ladies' fine dongola button shoes at $2—all styles, shapes and widths— at Simen's, 78 Ohio street, Allegheny, Pa. Pittsburg, were to-day found guilty of picking pockets at Rock Point on Grand Army Day. Richardson claimed he had Army Day. Richardson claimed he had seen Steele put his hand in a man's pocket and take out his pocketbook. Steele denied this and the jury evidently thought Richardson was trying to get out of the scrape by throwing the blame on Steele, and they promptly found Richardson himself guilty as indicted, while Steele was found guilty of larceny.
