

THE MUSICAL WORLD.

An Organist That Fills the Bill Already in Sight for the Carnegie Hall in Allegheny.

NO TROUBLE ABOUT THE SALARY, Although the Original Amount Has Been Cut in Two Private Subscriptions Are Promised.

THE PROPOSED SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

Programme at the Exposition and a Budget of General Notes of Interest.

The lively discussion evoked by the article in this department some weeks ago, about local organ music in general and the free organ recitals at Carnegie Hall in particular, warranted considerably from the original text.

The position of those who desire to see Mr. Carnegie's gift and the people's response to it, has been the subject of much and most earnestly has been misunderstood in various important points.

The gist of the whole matter is simply this: Although more fine, new organs are being built here than ever before, and although churches are growing more liberal towards the musical part of their services, the standards of organ playing remain mournfully low and crude.

The Example of Mr. Phillips' Gift. To illustrate this position: When Mr. Phillips presented the conservatory to Allegheny the right place was pointed in placing it under the control of a specialist, one whose life work was in that line, and he was authorized to go ahead and make that conservatory as complete and as an institution of its particular class as he could.

What the people enjoy. It should be understood above all—though this point has been persistently misconceived in the discussion—that the kind of organ recitals now advocated for the people is not to be confused with the kind of organ recitals that are being given elsewhere.

The Inducement is Sufficient. But so happens that the above-quoted declaration has been borne out by facts quite beyond expectation. A certain professional organist of high repute, who has long been known to well-informed persons as one of the best in this country, was written to by a local friend of the cause to recommend some organist or organists suitable for the position.

ON FIRE WITH ECZEMA. Terrible sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by CUTICURA.

My baby, boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head.

Cuticura Remedies. The greatest skin cure, blood purifier, and humerous remedy for eczema and psoriasis.

THE PROPOSED PERMANENT ORCHESTRA. After the full presentation last Sunday of the proposal for founding a permanent symphony orchestra in Pittsburgh, the head of Mr. Honore Moore, there is little left to be said upon that topic this week.

MUSIC AT THE EXPOSITION. The fourth and next of the prize-winning Friday night programmes at the Exposition, including the descriptive notes commensally called by Conductor Cappa—reads as follows:

3. Flute solo—"Reveries".....Doppel. H. H. Wittenberg. 4. Adagio and Rondo (Saxophone).....Gibson. PART II, 9 O'CLOCK. 5. March—"Lemon Symphony".....Haff. 6. Cornet solo—"Ave Marie".....Schubert. Mr. Walter Rogers. 7. (a) Funeral March (Goeftel's arrangement).....Wagner. The grand funeral march, Wagner's death forms a part, is one of the most wonderful specimens of Wagner's originality.

8. Hungarian Rhapsodie No. 4.....Liszt. Crochets and Quavers. ACCORDING TO Philadelphia Music and Drama, "Mr. J. T. Irwin, a former Pittsburgh violinist, has located in Philadelphia."

9. The Lattentia Swedish Sextet (male voices) will give two concerts, mainly of Swedish compositions, at Old City Hall on the 25th and 30th of this month.

10. THE GONDOLA BAND at Venice is a great success. The boat goes through the principal canals, followed by a number of small attendant gondolas bearing lanterns, and it is said that the scene and the soft music have a "ravishing effect" on the dwellers in the city of the Adriatic.

11. This engagement of Antonin Dvorak as director of the National Conservatory of Music, New York, is a bright feather in the cap of plucky Mrs. Taubert, and a truly great acquisition to America's musical life.

12. PRESIDENT CARTER gives assurance that the long-delayed report of the second annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Music Teachers' Association will be issued this week.

13. The genial " raconteur," of the Musical Courier, reappeared last week with one of his inimitable, chatty reviews, devoted this time to "Cavalleria Rusticana." This is a sample of Brother Hunker's views on the new little opera, whose vogue he cleverly parallels with that of the short story in current literature.

14. NEW YORK and truly entitled "the greatest pianist that ever lived, being the master of our species Jozsef." Further along in the same article Jozsef is placed "on a pedestal that towers above all living artists."

15. MARCAUTI has recently finished a grand opera entitled "L'Ami Fritz." The authorities of the Vienna Opera House refused to become the first to give a certain sum down and 8 per cent of the gross receipts. So the first production of "L'Ami Fritz" has been secured by the intendant of the Berlin Opera.

and with the audacity of his talents keep you at a fever heat of climax and exultation. The young man who can do this in our blue musical age must have exceptional stuff in him; but there is much more to be sifted out. Besides, the penumbra cast by other men's ideas is still strong on his brow. But the best thing about the fellow is that he knows how. He writes like a devil.

ARE YOU TO DETERMINE? We blame no one for being partial to what they own, but have you not thought that the way for a merchant to sell goods is to have them and say nothing about them that can't be fully substantiated? We tell you plainly that there is most to be seen at our store; that our facilities are better than the average; that our qualities are sure to be right because we tolerate nothing below the best; that our prices are uniformly lowest. Hardly possible to put it any plainer, eh?

Thousands of the Readers of This Paper. Are waiting to hear what we have to say to-day. NOT ALL we know about Furniture and Carpets—we know so much that to tell ALL would take much space, and newspaper space is costly. But we will tell within reasonable limits all you care to know. First of all comes the fact that our stock is splendid and vast in every sense. There is certainly nothing like it in any other store in this city. Secondly comes the pleasing fact that people can buy here for much less money, much finer goods, than from any other house. Thirdly comes the welcome news that anything in our store can be purchased either for cash or on our popular easy purchase plan.

COME AND SEE FOR THEMSELVES. The world of merchandise in the way of Household Furniture and Carpets is here. Purchased by us to interest you—to sell, but not to give away. You shall have everything at the lowest possible market price—that's our contract with you and we'll live up to it. A BONUS TO OUR EXPOSITION VISITORS! After a mature consideration we have concluded that we cannot more deeply impress our business career upon the minds of Exposition visitors, nor leave a deeper or more lasting sense of obligation in the minds of our many friends, than by offering our entire exhibit at prices so much below cost that there must necessarily be an appreciation for other than a show-window display and a ball of popcorn; there should be an inducement for housewives to examine and price critically all articles displayed, and by this sacrifice we expect to make such an impression on the public that our reputation will be everlasting.
