Results of the Fastern and Western Races-Gen

Sporting News of the Day. Old Sport Galvin can step out yet and turn a trick just as gay as the youngest and most brilliant of the pitchers now before the world. He did so vesterday, in fact, so well did the Old Sport do his work, that his services were not needed after the sixth inning. In six innings, with the great

pitching of Jeems'

combined with the had playing of the visitors, the local talent got so far nhead that the pony" battery, Maul and Berger, were given a try. This very onesided state of hings was extremely pleasing to the 935 people present, because Old Sport is one of the most popular of citizens. Of course, there were the usual misgivings as to the result when Galvin went in to pitch, but as is generally the case, the old man fooled the peo-

OLD SPORT FOOLS THEM. It is, indeed singular to note how general the fear of defeat is when Jimmy goes into the box, and yet he is one of the best winners in the business. What our two star twirlers could not do Monday and Tuesday, Jimmy accomplished vesterday in the most need the fellows from Cleveland only one hit was made off his delivery, and then Maul replaced him and three more hits were made. The truth is Jeems was out to show the Cleveland aggregation that they couldn't have things all their own way this But the team generally played much bet-ter than on Monday and Tuesday. They began with more vim and energy and kept it up until the result was beyond doubt. substitution of Maul and Berger for Galvin and Miller was an interesting feature, as it gave the spectators an e hit Is see what Maul is now like in the box. He pitched his three innings tolerably well. He was a little unsteady, but when he got a ball neross the plate it was minutes. Unpire-Emslic.

in the field. They played like a lot of school boys, but they may have become careless when they discovered that Galvin was in his old-time form. Not only was their fielding bad, but Gruber was "real jum" for the home sluggers, and at times it onked as if Henry was going to be knocked clean out of the box.

Run-petting commenced in the fourth in-ing. Miller got his base on balls and was forced out at second by Beckley. The latter stole second, aided by a passed ball, and Hanlon's fly was eaught by Doyle. Lally knocked a long fly to Burkett, and the latter juggled the ball until it fell to the Beckley scored and Lally went to licitly sent a hot grounder to Me-Kean and the latter fumbled it, allowing to reach first and Lally to score Carkhill then banged out a three-bagger,

SCORING THE BUNK

In the fifth inning, after Bierbauer was ont, Shugart made a two-bagger and got to third on Miller's sacrifice. Four singles in succession by Beckley, Hanlon, Lally and Reilly earned three more runs.
In the sixth inning Galvin led off with a grounder to Childs, and the ball was fum-bled, Jeems getting safely to first. Bier-baner followed with a hit. Shugart's grounder was fumbled by Virtue. Miller made a sperifice and so did Beckley. Han-ion made a single, Lally tollowed with another and Rellly came next with a two-bagger. All this hitting, together with two passed balls and two stolen bases, netted MUFFING THE PLIES. In the ninth inning Lally got his base on balls and renched second on a passed ball.

Reilly was out by kneeking a fly to McAleer, and Corkhill reached first on a mulled fly by McAleer and Lally scored. The visitors scored their first run in the venth inning on two bases on balls and two safe hits. In the eighth Zimmer banged out a three-bagger and scored on Gruber's single. Graber scored on a base on balls and ng single by Childs. Young Mitchell Settles Gallagher in 13 Very Lively Fought Rounds. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.-The fight to night between Johnny Herget, better known as "Young Mitchell," California's representative middleweight pugilist, and "Reddy" Gallagher, the Denverite, attracted more in-terest here than any similar event which has taken place in this city since the Corbett-Jackson contest, and the rooms of the new Occidental Club were crowded at an early hour in the evenine. The fight was for $5.000 purse, of which $750 to the loser. The bet-ting was brisk and from odds of 100 to 70 cm Mitchell it vectored to nearly even money be-ting was brisk and from odds of 100 to 70 cm Mitchell it vecred to nearly even money be-fore the fight began. Mitchell's weight was nanounced as 15t. His seconds were Jack Dempsey and Sam Fitzpatrick. Gallagher weighed 153 and was seconded by Masterson and Jimmy Catroll. Peter Jackson was the referee. Both men appeared in the pink of condition, Mitchell being somewhat fleehier than his muscular opponent. condition, Mitchell being somewhat fieshier than his muscular opponent.

The battle opened at $50 with Gallagher feinting for an opening, and Mitchell breaking. Gallagher got in two hot licks in the wind and one in the eye. His terrible left played havoe with Mitchell's head and wind, the latter being unable to counter effectively. The second round was also marked by rushing by Gallagher.

From the third to the sixth round the tactics were much the same, Gallagher's long left usually reached its mark as he maintained a position near the middle of the ring, while Mitchell played around him, raking every opening that presented, but in the ring, while Mitchell played around him, raking every opening that presented but in ducking almost invariably catching a terrific left full in the face. At the close of the fourth round Galiagher's left eye was badly swollen from a right hanner. Mitchell, playing for the ribs, scored twice effectively, but Galiagher's vicious drives for the chin kept him from too frequent repetition.

The sixth was marked by hurricane fighting. Galiagher scored straight lefts on Mitchell's chin, but lacked a shade of knock out effect. Mitchell also scored two hard ones on Reddy's law, and at the close of the seventh found Galiagher was lacking steam. From the eight to the end of the twelfth round honors were about even, though to sound the charge in which, following the cavalry hero of Gettysburg, we will break through the thin breastwork of Bardsleyism and fraud behind which the enemy has endeavored to entreuch, meet him within the line and fight on the living issues of the day; our shield made of American tin, our swords wrought from American silver, our strength, the arm of American labor protected against the paupers across the sea. And we will win, drive him from his guns only to camp in the field of our victory, waiting for the blare of the trumpets sounding the call to arms for the great battle of next year; then, following the White Plumed Knight of Maine, we will win again by 80,000.

ORGANIZED THEIR LEAGUE.

FOUGHT TO A FINISH.

"To aid in these mighty contests the voung, progressive, enterprising spirit of the Ropublican party, banded together in this League of Clubs, must have a leader as brilliant as the victories won. Do you want such a leader? one whose victories are the guarantee of his success? Do you desire for your standard bearer a gifted orator, a wise counsellor, a politician in the broadest sense of the term, a statesman whose record is second to no man's in this great Commonwealth, a Republican in victory and defeat, faithful to the party and its creeds? Do you desire to follow him whose very name is a synonym of success, whose election will be the pledge of an earnest, active and aggressive campaign? Would you have a dauntless, fearless, able leader? Then place your standard in the haad of 'Jack' Robinson, of Delaware."

Wanted Both to Withdraw. General J. P. S. Gobin appeared for Major Warren, of Scranton. He made a strong plea for harmony, and delicately requested the two leading candidates to retire in favor of the Scranton man. He thought this would be an easy solution to the problem, and all hard feelings could be avoided.

In the election Robinson had 141 votes, Dalzeli 42 and Warren 15. Dalzeli moved to make the election unanimous. Then the make the election unanimous. Then the Robinson shouters broke loose. They waved flags, howled like Fiji warriors, and kept up the applause for several minutes.

Of the eight candidates for Vice President the following named received the highest number of votes, and were declared elected: Frank J. R. Jones (colored), Philadelphia; William H. Wallace, New Castle, and John C. Carter, Lancaster. Next in order was the election of a Secretary and Treasurer. For the former office James F. Burke, of Pittsburg, was nominated by James Campbell, but he immediately mounted the stage and named his opponent, Elijah W. Randolph, for the office, thereby declining to be a candidate. Mahlon B. Young, of the Young Republican Club of Philadelphia, was nominated for Treasurer, and there being no opposition for the offices of Secretary and Treasurer, the Secretary was instructed to call the ballot for the convention. Randolph is the next Secretary.

Jack Robinson, after his election, was escorted to the stage. He made a pleasing speech expressing his thanks for the honor speech, expressing his thanks for the honor conferred. He paid Dalzell high compliments, and referred to the time when they went to college together. When he said, "We are the boys that hustle at the polls," he caught his people and the applause was deafening. Must Be Willing to Suffer Defeat. Daizell was called to the platform and delivered a speech, which was well received. He said: "No man has any right to enter into any contest if he is not willing to suffer defeat. [Great applause.] He who invites the issues of war against himself, invites against himself all its methods. There is no disgrace in defeat unless it be a disaster, and there is no disaster as long as the flag flies and your honor is untarnished. [Applause.] I have no interest in this convention save as a Republican, and the issue of this day's contest shall weigh with me not a feather in my loyalty to the platform and the candidates of the Republican party of Pennsylvania. [Applause.] "I have to express, as I think I have a right to do, my regret that the action of the Executive Committe and of the convention was such as it was. The object of the committee's action meets my hearty approval I trust there will be embodied in the organic law of the league some provision that will insure a convention against being controlled by any other than permanently organized clubs in the interest of the Republican party. But when the Executive Committee's resolution and your action to-day went beyond that and excluded from the league Republicans as good as we who b-long to undoubtedly legitimately organized clubs, I think we made a mistake. [Ap-this Commonwealth the Republican party met with defeat. He is an honest and wise and true Republican, who recognizes it to his cost and who seeks to guide his party now away from the shoals and quicksands on which last year we met shipwreck. It is under these circumstances that I think it inher these circumstances that I tails it particularly unfortinate, but gentlemen of the convention, you have settled the question and formed your indgment.

"I have no appeal. This fight so far as I am concerned is now ended. And I am ready for another fight. The fight in which we are about to engage is a fight against the Democratic party, and the Democratic party is the same old Democratic party that we all know, bankrapt of principle and representative of nothing affirmative or progressive. We are in the midst of stirring political times. In many States of the Union elections are pending, as with us.

"In the midst of this class of opinions and war of great questions, the Democratic party of Pennsylvania assembled to an nounce the principles upon which it will ask the suffrages of the intelligent citizens of this great Commonwealth, and what does it say? What light does it throw on the vexed questions that reach in their importance to particularly unfortunate, but get ocratic Olympus, has the Democracy of Pennsylvania shriveled up to this? [Anplause.] And is it expected that full grown men, 21 years of age and upward, not the inmates of insane asylums, will vote for any parry that stands upon such a platform as that? What party is it, let me ask, that hopes to win a fight clad in such childish armor? The party that stands to-day in almost every State of the Union for a debased currency and that clamors for free trade—the party of England as against America.

"The great party that has stood always in the way of every scheme for national advancement, which, when it moves at all, moves only to camp in the deserted tents of the Republican party, true to its nature, its history and its traditions, stands to-day calling out to Pennsylvanians that they have maught to do with national issues and no care or concern except about John Bardsley, a convict now serving his sentence in the penitentiary. Oh, for shame, that there should be Pennsylvanians so parrow of visage and so blind in folity."

In addition Mr. Dalzel discussed the tariff and concluded with a talk on the Federal election bill. He said any man was a traitor to the party who put a straw in the way of a free ballot and a fair count.

Fifty-six delegates to the national convention of clubs were chosen. The Allegheny county representatives are John Day, W. R. Ford, John N. Neeb and H. W. Ochse. The delegates at large are Caprtain J. Taylor, Philadelphia, and William C. McCleary.
