CHURCHES AND TEXTS

Interesting Dedicatory Services by Westminster Presbyterians.

REV. DR. IZER ON UNAVAILING WOE

An Allegheny Pastor's Ideas of the Apostle Paul's Revelations.

OTHER PULPIT TOPICS OF YESTERDAY

At the handsome new Westminster Pres. byterian Church, Buena Vista street, Alleheny, the final dedicatory services were held vesterday, and the church formally surrendered and consecrated to the worship of God. There were three services. The paster, Rev. I. N. Hays, delivered the following preparatory remarks preceding the morning sermon: To the members and friends of the Westminster Presbyterian Church: We have come to the last and most solemn act in connection with this interesting occasion, viz : The formal surrender and dedication of this house of worship to Father, Son and Holy Ghost. It is a solemn net of worship, in which the offering laid upon the altar is this beautiful temple deoted to God's praise. Let what is about to be done, be done with all sincerity of heart. Let it not be a formal and unmeaning service. Let it be all that it professes to be-a free-will offering unto the Lord, a supreme act of worship, in which all concerned shall join most heartily."

SERMON BY A BLIND BROTHER. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. J. S. Hays, the blind brother of the pastor. His text was: "The Harvest Is the End of the World." He preached an eloquent sermon, which was listened to ith great interest and attention by the large audience.

In the afternoon the church was again rowded to hear Rev. George Purves, of the rst Church, Pittsburg, who spoke to the took his text from Indres xii, 12: "And Samson said unto them, I will put forth a riddle to you."" He said: "We cannot feel much admiration for the character of Samson. He seems to have been a coarse, brutal man, very little more than a Hebrew Hacules. his one virtue was total abstinence, was continually calling attention to that fact, and total abstinence alone is not enough to make a man a saint. Samson was raised up by God to teach His people that strength comes only through obedi-care to God. This Hebrew Hercules was noible so long as he obeyed community of God. The inferwas plain, if this man was poweral and mighty it was through obedience to God, and he retained his strength just so long as he maintained his obelience. How in incible might not the Israelites become if her would take this lesson to heart and govern their netions in harmony there-

HOW CHILDREN ARE TAUGHT. In the course of his remarks the speaker said that we should not be too impatient to earnall the truth concerning God's mysteries a explaining things to a little child we use guage commensurate with his intelli-oce and understanding, and thus convey his mind a partial idea of the matter, at We do not propound a problem in welld to a child that has not mastered the ddition and multiplication, nor read Mills' logic to one who has not learned he alphabet. Even so we must not expect mything more than an approximation of he truth until the perfect day."

In the evening a sermon was delivered by tev. G. P. Hays, D. D., of Kansas City, o., a brother of the pastor of the church le took his text from the lesson of the mil-Revelations. After the sermon Mr. R. Robb, one of the trustees, read short statement of contributions made the church by members as well friends. Several thousand dollars were received in each, besides much in the way of fixtures, including a communion service and collection plates of silver, pulpit furniture by a class, the large organ by the Young People's Society, stained glass windows by Rev. G. P. Hays, Calvin Hays and Mr. Sheriff. A prayer of consecration was then recited by Dr. I. N. Hays, and responded to by the congregation, and the services, that had asted all week, were brought to a close by When the collection was a benediction. When the collection was taken up last night several thousand dollars atributed toward paying off the debt of the church. The church cost $50,000, and up to vesterslay $30,000 had been paid on it. The collection last night will reduce the delst some $5,000.

RUBBING OUT THE COLOR LINE.

Rev. W. H. Oldham's Advocacy of the American Mechanic Idea.

Rev. W. H. Oldham, of the Butler Street M. E. Church, as a prelude to his sermon last night, touched on a timely and vital topic. He said: "My attention has been called of late to a subject of deep importance, to a question which lus become one of the problems of the age, the negro question. You cannot build a stable government when on have to deal with two classes. There must be homogeneity. There must be unanimity of action. The very newness and freshness of this problem make it hard to solve, and cause a hesitaney and an un-certainty in the handling of it. But there will come a time when there will be no negro question. In three or four generations the prejudices and differences will have faded access. But and differences will have faded away. But this does not concern us now. The question what shall be done with the negro quesion as it is presented to us to-day?

The speaker then referred to us to-day. The speaker then referred to the attitude of the Jr. O. U. A. M. toward the negro, and said that if it were possible, it should be left optional with each lodge of that order to extend the fraternal hand to the colored brother. He said that the negro's was a nature highly predisposed to affiliate with fraternal and religious organigations, and for this reason he thought they would make faithful and helpful additions to the order, and would sid in advancing and promulgating the theories to which the order is committed. "There are 8,000,000 negroes in this country," said he, "and most of them are members of the Methodist nd Baptist Churches; but lately the Roman Catholic Church has been paying great attention to them, and this is another reason why they should be admitted to the ranks of the American Mechanics."

DEDICATORY ANNIVERSARY

Of the Boens Vista Street M. E. Church Celebrated Appropriately.

"dedicatory unniversary" service was hold at the Benna Vista Street M. E. Church vesterday. Dr. A. L. Petty was present during the entire day, and con-C. W. Smith, of the Pittsburg Christian Advocate, at 10:30 A. M., and at the Ebeneezer Baptist Church, Colwell a platform meeting was held at 3 P. M., and ldresses made by several neighboring and former pasters. Dr. J. T. Satchell, paster of the North Avenue M. E. Church, conducted the evening services.

The Buenn Vista Street M. E. Church has a long and interesting history. It was formerly known as "The Old South Common Ginreh," and occupied a building on Church avenue, which was dedicated in 1838, and in which services were continuously held till 1883. The corner stone of the present handsome structure was laid in 1886. der the pasterate of Rev. J. J. McIlyar. Among the many who have occupied the pulpit since 1838 the following names will pulpit since 1838 the following names will revive many pleasant memories. Simon Elbott, E. Burkett, Thomas McGrath, Z. H. Caston, L. Burton, Israel Dallas, C. C. and Reaping."

Best, S. R. Brockmier, Homer J. Clark, S. D. Dunlap, John J. Moffit, Charles Cook, D. P. Mitchell, J. S. Brackens, John Will-iams, R. T. Miller, W. P. Turner, and J. J. Mcllyar.

THE CHURCH AND THE SALOON

Was the Subject of Rev. S. W. Davis, of Walton Church, Last Evening.

Rev. S. W. Davis, of the Walton M. E. Church, South Twenty-fourth and Sarah streets, took for his subject last evening "The Church and the Saloon." His text was from Matthew, vi:13: "But deliver us from evil." In the course of his remarks he said there were 128,000 schools and churches and 140,000 saloous in this country. In drawing the comparison he said: Think of the evil that is being dealt out day by day! How much do we lose, and who will make the estimate? What does it cost? The cause of temperance is the cause of humanity. There is a humane society for the dumb brute, and how much lower is a man than a brute.
Why not have a humane society for the drunkard? How many bright young men are there who have fallen by the fell destroyer? The Lord hath said that 'the drunkard shall not enter the kingdom of heaven,' and again, 'look the kingdom of heaven,' and again, 'look not on the wine it is red, nor put the bottle to thy neighbor's lip.'

"This cause is of the church, and we should do all in our power to help the fallen ones. I tell you that he who touches, tastes or handles, breaks not one, but the entire Ten commandments. In New York it is said that the police officials are bribed by salcouls expers. How are we to counteract saloonkeepers. How are we to counteract that? If the drunkard is to be reformed, it will not be by the force of will power, but by the grace of God. How wide, deep and strong is this tide of wide, deep and strong is this tide of iniquity, and how hard it is for us to stem There is but one way-seek the aid of the Lord. Ask for His help to overcome the desire for drink, and you will be saved. You who have sons and daughters, never cease to pray God to protect them from this abominable sin."

SERVICES IN A THEATER.

Dr. Izer Prenches at the Duquesne on the Subject of Unavailing Woo. Rev. G. W. Izer, pastor of the Christ M. E. Church, preached in the Duquesne Theater last evening on the subject of "Unavailing Woe." The attendance was sparse, owing, presumably, to the heat. Dr. Izer said that one of the most fatal delusions was that sin works its own convictions. It does not. It works its own undoing. The sinner may take pleasure in his sins, but he shall have woe after them. The end is the same to every sinner. "Into a state of unavailing grief, of unavailing woe" shall be the lot of the sinner, and a fine thought is that found in the inscription found in the heathen temple, "The impious, the sinner, shall commit sin without recompense, but not without remorse." He may sin without recompense, but he cannot without remorse. That inscription is in the form of a mere heathen observation, but it is true, and its truth forces itself upon every one who is guilty of iniquity.

Dr. Izer drew a vivid picture in illustrating a class of woes beyond help. He de-scribed the man who had drained the cup of pleasure to the dregs and then had pressed the dregs to his lips to obtain the full measure of its sweetness in his last hour, and depicted the agony that such a man must and did suffer at that final moment of his life. He had time to look back on his career and the intelligence, too late awakened, to see that he had misused his chances. This was a phase of unavailing woe. There was a serpent lurking in every cup of sin. He may not be apparent, he may not be seen, but sure as the cup is drained he will rise up from it in the ghastly hour of judgment.

THE BAPTISMAL BIRTH.

Dr. Laws Treats of an Interesting Topic at the Green Street Church.

At the Green Street Baptist Church, Allegheny, yesterday Dr. Laws, the pastor, preached from Mark xvi., 16. Subject: "The Baptismal Birth." He said: "A universal sanction of the gospel by faith would be the strongest evidence that the kingdoms of this world will soon become the kingdom cious coupon rooms, separate apartments of our God and of Christ. The comfor women. Boxes rented at $5 and upplete fulfillment of the prophetic predicions and apostolic evidences closes here forever the great controversy between God and man. To declare the objects of His mercy and those of His wrath, who shall be saved and who eternally damned, is forever decided by the highest authority. The ordecided by the highest authority. The order is, preach to all; preach at all times; preach the whole truth, preach it everywhere Some will believe you, others will not; some will love you, others will hate;
some will stand by you, others will leave you; but you preach. 'For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.'

"This counsel includes the birth of regeneration, the Scriptural ordinance of baptism, the sacredly restricted use of the Lord's Supper, and the divine ordinance of marriage, which forms the basis of family, church and State. The text is constructive of the commission to "go;" instructive of their authority to preach, teach and baptise all believers, and is destructive to all who refuse to believe, accept and be saved. The dispensation it presents, the practical use of faith required, and the baptismal faith of every creature, as described in the baptism of Christ, are the terms of salva-tion which bring eternal life to the soul."

THE CHRISTIAN IDEAL.

Rev. W. F. Richardson Talks on the Apostle Paul's Great Revelation.

There was an unusually large audience last night at the First Christian Church, Montgomery avenue, Allegheny, to hear Rev. W. F. Richardson. His text was: "Christ in You the Hope of Glory," taken from Paul's first letter to the Colossians. This, he said, was the greatest revelation of the ideal of God ever given out.

"The pagan idea of worship," he continued, "was that of placating the wrath of a God, not because they had in any way offended Him, but because He was a God of power and delighted to use it whether or not it was to the advantage of his subjects. The Jewish idea was above this simply in the fact that they were taught to curry favor from a kind God as well us to appease a wrathful one. The expressed by Solomon in the words 'To fear God and obey His commandments is the

"The ideal that Paul gave, and which we now enjoy, was that of a God whom we could love, a God that we are to imitate, In fact, we are to grow like him. It is the ideal of a God we are to love and rever-

SOCIETY AND

A Pretty Pet of the Former who is now Devoted to the Latter.

MISS WASHBURN IN PITTSBURG.

Well Satisfied With Her Chosen Avocation and Surroundings.

HER FIRST EXPERIENCE IN TIGHTS

Miss Minnle Washburn, the New York society lady, whose debut in tights with an opera company created such a sensation, arrived in the city shortly after midnight last night. The company came on from Balti-more in a Pullman coach, and Miss Washburn was one of the first to alight. She is a pretty brunette, with black, sparkling eyes and a beautiful figure. Her dress, made of some sort of dark brown material. bore evidences of the tiresome journey, and her heavy black curls were somewhat disarranged. In spite of this, however, she was cheerful and decidedly pleasant. . When a DISPATCH reporter introduced himself, Miss Washburn excused herself on the ground that she was tired and wanted to go to her hotel.

SATISFIED WITH HER LIFE.

"I have nothing to say beyond what has already been printed," she said, "except that Mr. Carleton has been very kind to me, and has tried to make my life pleasant. He has helped me in my new calling, and I feel deeply grateful for his assistance. The members of the company have extended uniform kindness, and I feel that my new lines have fallen to me in pleasant places."

Miss Washburn was not inclined to talk about her first experience in fleshings, but after some questioning she consented to talk a little.

"The spectator in front," said she, "has but a faint idea of the amount of courage it requires for a woman to put on tights For several days before the opening night donned them in secret, and tried to accus-tom myself to the idea that my friends were looking at me, and I flattered myself that I had succeeded. I was mistaken. In the first act of 'Indigo,' my dress had a drapery, and I was not inconvenienced. But the second act—I shall never forget my experience.

NOT UNLIKE THE FIRST BATHING. "Imagine a young lady who has never been in bathing appearing before a beach filled with strangers, in a short kilt and uncovered limbs. Well, I felt much worse than that. There was a sense of goneness about the skirts. I felt that a sheet or something of that sort would have been the greatest boon that could have been offered me. I felt that my movements were ungraceful, although the papers said otherwise. There was an absence, something lacking, which I could not explain, but which I could feel very plainly. There were many of my friends in the audience, and I naturally felt that they were criticizing my every movement. I don't think I will ever get used to tights, although the members of the company reassure me with encouraging words. Remember, I have only been on the stage a week, but I hope to get over my dread, for I have decided to make my living, and I will do so."

With a pretty bow and a pleasant smile, Miss Washburn bade her questioner good night and sprang into a waiting cab and was hyperied to her hotel hurried to her hotel.
