WORK FOR MISSIONS.

Interesting Meeting of Western Pennsylvania Baptist Churches

ENGAGED IN A LAUDABLE WORK.

Views of the Best Ways and Means Thor-

THE FULL ORGANIZATION EFFECTED

oughly Exchanged.

The Baptist churches of Western Pennsylvania held a mi-sionary convention in the Fourth Avenue Baptist Church yesterday. Nearly all the leading churches in his part of the State were represented. The meeting was opened with devotional exercises at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. T. H. Chapman was appointed Temporary Chairman to effect an organization and Rev. P. F. De-lancy was appointed clerk. The election of a moderator being in order, Hon. Charles Miller, President of the State Missionary society, was chosen. The convention then secesied with the reading of reports from ie various associations as to the needs of their respective fields. It was found that a good share of the different associations were epresented by ministers and laymen deleites. The cry of each association seemed to be that to carry on the Christian work essfully in Western Pennsylvania there as an argent need of men and money.

ouse to an invitation for an adress on this subject, Dr. W. H. Conard, of Philadelphia, State Secretary of the Mis-sionary Board, took the platform. During the course of his remarks he said that the old things and the old ways are not always old things and the old ways are not always to be despised, and that new things are not always wise. He advocated that it would be a good thing to have evangelists to hold extra meetings, but the convention had better be very cautious in its procedure on the question of putting district missionaries in the field and increasing the responsibilities of the Missionary Association.

FOR THE FATHERLESS CHURCHES. bese extra meetings, he said, should be or the benefit of fatherless churches. Anther mission would be to aid pastors in special meetings. He also stated emphatiions that could support a missionary for nore than a year at a time, and that a mischary should be employed by the State issionary Society and all associations help or the missionary thus employed. Shaw, an attorney-at-law, then arose nd delivered an interesting discourse, set-ag forth the importance of the laymen's nties in the work. At the close of Mr. haw's address the noon hour had arrived. t motion to adjourn was then made and afternoon session of the convention The afternoon session of the convention quened at 2 o'clock with devotional exersises led by Rev. H. Madetes, of New Castle. The question, "How Cann Closer Alliance tetracen Our Local Association Be Brought about?" was then brought up for discussion. Rev. Mr. King was the first speaker on this other. He opened the discussion by states that more meetings of the mature of the me they now attended would be helpful in but direction. He said: "There is a great ack of militant spirit. We must oncentrate our minds and our hearts at the thing to be achieved before we can expect to get it, on must unite our forces well together and of be continually at variance with each be continually at variance with each er. We must get together in this way ocsionally that we may ascertain the needs the different churches. There is posi-ely no way of getting hold of these weak urches and sustaining them, except by conaries."

remarks, among them being Rev.C.A.

W. W. Battell. Dr. W. A. Stanton, J.

ristol and A. J. Ferman.

e next spenker was Rev. W. S. Wood, D.

He opened the topic, "Can Western

sylvania Have Two District Mission—

The scenkers were requested to

The speakers were requested to themselves closely as only ten rould be allowed for each address. Let us see. The need of a ct missionary in this part of the State ods on two things. First, a general and second, a need that is special to stern Fennsylvania. From one-third to obtilities of the churches are pastoriess, a special needs arise from facts like this. I western part of Pennsylvania has had a noiceful growth. Its natural resources almost unparalleled, and its rapid deopment has increased its wealth to starting proportions and made it a recognized rivery in every channel of business.

THE ESPECIAL NEED OF WORK, A wenderful spirit of enterprize has been chown in bringing about this great development, and let me say right here, that here is where the special need lies. We ought to where the special need lies. We ought to arry this great spirit of enterprise and ac-ivity late other channels. We must bring liess people into a sense of their great need of spirituality as well as supplying of their emporal wants. We must get them aroused. We must make these needs to hem outweigh their esteem for the al-nighty dollar. I tell you we want better aith my brethren, we want the faith that ich, my brethren, we want the faith that re-hold of Christ in carrying on the work. Can the men for district mis-sand. This seems to be an algebraic queson depending altogether on the unknown unatities. There's a vast difference beseen preaching and teaching. All preachis are teachers, but all teachers are not reachers. We want competent men. We use have them, and there is no teason that a should not be able to find them.

The don't want missionaries that reach for money, neither do we must men who are continually duming
ecple for money for religious enterprises, a they soon become decidedly obnoxious to any congregation, and it at once becomes arent to the congregation that that man t to the congregation that that man wants to talk to reach their pocketics. I tell you, friends, we want to reach hearts of people. We must have the rit of God before we can succeed. You ust have a gospel root before you can have spel growth."
ev. T. H. Chapman, the next speaker,

Rev. T. H. Chapman, the next speaker, sank: "I think the State should be divided into four districts. Two missionaries for the eastern part and two for the western part of the State. We could easily support one here in Pittsburg, and I think the northwestern mart of the State could do so also, We need these men and should have them. But we don't men who go about burdening the people with the collection basket every olace they chance to sneak. Such men would since they chance to spenk. Such men would own cause a discontent and finally an aver-ion that would shut them out altogether, et the pastors look after the collections, it is their duty. There is plenty of money a the State to support this cause, and I be-ere we could raise double the money re-uired. or they chance to speak. Such men wo egates made short speeches saying that r times the amount of money necessary and be raised and that the people should to work up an enthusiasm on the subind with convincing power and then ork will be carried on succes

TALK ENTIRELY TOO CHEAP. Moderator then made a few remarks. "Talk is very cheap," he said. "One great omble in conventions of this kind is hat the people interested are aleavys present, but those we want interest are inveriably absent. Do we ed two missionaries in Western Pennsyl-Yes; we need ten. But can we pay We cannot pay them. I say em-ally that the churches cannot pay that we not fled business men that ant plan. We should appeal to the smen to help us financially in this

These remarks brought Rev. Appleanth out to the platform. "Mr. Miller and layself are friends." said he, at I disagree with him. His remarks remarks not the boy in London he picked up a gold sovereign in the street needs. He never saw the sun afterwards, a he was everlastingly looking for gold. the financial side of this itterly ignoring the power of our faith be it unto you.' We must have pit dirst and then works. The Lord is not sing to hand us over the year's salary for a issionary until wego to work. As for myself to not want a missionary in my church. I maid not have him. We want missionaries the destitute and unexangelized churches at districts. Here is where the need lies, here are men drawing salaries in this cause we that should be dropped. We have been iking a good deal at random on this subject of missionaries and have got things somewhat mixed, like the boy who, when asked to give the population and size of Albany said there were 200 houses and a 1,0,0 people all standing with their gable ends next to the street. Let us probe this matter thoroughly and institute a reform in the evangelistic field that shall be felt all over the State.

CHURCH PEOPLE'S INCONSISTENCY. Rev. Mr. Wood again made a few remarks on the inconsistency of some church people. He said: "We go out preaching the gospel and admonish the people to lay aside all their cares and to lean on the Lord and ask their cares and to lean on the Lord and ask Him for help and guidance, but have got to have a year's salary assured before we will proceed a single step. I tell you we want to get more of the love of God in our hearts. Money will come in streams afterward."

The Committee on Resolutions was then cailed, and read the following report:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the missionary work of the State be under the general management and direction of the President of the State Missionary Society, together with the Board of Managers.

Managers.
That a recording secretary be appointed by the President.

"That the State should be divided into as few districts as is consistent with the ability of the district secretaries to thoroughly canvass, and that a district secretary be applicable." pointed for each district of the State, whose duties it shall be to thoroughly canvass the territory under his jurisdiction, raise money for missionary work in duties it sum be to therroughly can as the territory under his jurisdiction, raiso money for missionary work in the State, act as evangelist and missionary to weak charches and destitute fields and hold occasional district conventions in his territory for the pupose of inviting the people and stimulating missionary sentiment."

Hev. Mr. Applegarth offered an amendment regarding the Pittsburg society which has heretofore been not altogether in harmony with the State society. Following is the amendment: "In event of this resolution being carried by the State society it is understood that the Pittsburg association will do its work through the State society."

This amendment was objectionable to many and caused a lively debate, but was sustained by the moderator and finally passed. A vote was then taken on the resolution, standing 33 yeas and 7 mays. Motion to adjourn was then carried.
