WILSON A BURGLAR.

Fully Proved in Court.

SUIT CLUB MANAGERS CONVICTED.

Efforts Made to Have James Ward Tried in Westmoreland.

HAPPENINGS AMONG VARIOUS COURTS

In the Criminal Court yesterday, George Wilson, alias George Anderson, alias "Snakes" Anderson, was put on trial for the burglary of the house of Mrs. Kate Lyons, on Stanton avenue, on February 13. The Commonwealth's side of the case was taken care of by John Robb, while Thomas M. Marshall and R. B. Scandrett conducted the detense.

Detective Glenn and Superintendent Muth, of the Allegheny police, testified to the arrest of the prisoner, and finding on him a dinner bucket containing a full set of burglar tools. They also testified that the prisoner told them he was a burglar by occupation, but that he had not done any work in either of the two cities. Mrs. Kate Lyons testified to her house being entered on the night of February 13, and a lot of jewelry stolen. She was awakened by the noise made by the intruder, and got a good glance at him. She was sure that the defeedant was that man, his face having made an impression on her that she could never

AN ALIBI TRIED BY THE DEFENSE. The defense tried to prove an alibi for the prisoner. Three of the members of the Zonic family, with whom he lived in Allegheny, testified that the prisoner was laid up in the house with rheumatism from February 7 to March 1. The defendant also made the same claim. He made no explanation of the burglar tools found on him, and was very retieent and guarded in what-ever answers he gave. In the argument to the jury Mr. Marshall scored the police as usual, saving that, notwithstanding the Glenns and Muths, O'Maras, Coulsons and Fitzgeralds, burglaries still go on and pris-oners saw their way out of jails. Mr. Robb made a very able speech, soored the defend-ant unmercifully and defended police officers in general and detectives in particular.

Judge McClung's charge was a very fair one, and the jury retired. In less than half an hour it returned with a verdict of guilty as indicted. The prisoner then pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons. The trial of the case occupied the entire day. SUIT CLUBS CALLED LOTTERIES.

B. T. Hatten, H. O. Hatten, D. C. Petter, Jr., J. A. Dickson, T. McKnight, J. D. Irones and Addison Bottomfield, the mem-bers of the American Suit Club Company, indicted for misdemeanor in violating the lottery act of 1860, were before Judge Porter yesterday morning. The jury was only out a short time and returned a verdict of pulliv, at which Judge Porter remarked:

"A very proper verdict, gentlemen."
District Attorney Burleigh yesterday wrote to the District Attorney of Westward could not be transferred to that county. Ward is indicted for killing Mary Means, who was assaulted in Westmoreland, but died in this county. The witnesses all reside in Westmoreland, and, as there is a very large calendar here, the Dis-trict Attorney, as well as the judges, agree that the case should be transferred. Hugh Parker was acquitted of the larceny of $3 from Anna Joseph, an Arabian ped-dler, at Demmler's station September 3. Hugh Canfield pleaded guilty to assault and battery on Martin Logan and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs. The assault occurred at the Point last month.

NOT DOWN ON THE BILLS.

An Unexpected Scene in the Durr Divorce Bearing Yesterday.

There was a little scene vesterday that was not advertised on the bills of the Durr divorce case. Frank W. Smith, the commissioner to take testimony, was jogging along pleasantly, while C. F. McKenna for J. K. Durr, Philip G. Pendleton for Mrs. Lucy J. Durr and S. A. Ammon for Mrs. Jarrett were skirmishing for points in the triangular fight, when all at once a witness' testimony made the fight quadrangular and gave a fourth lawyer employment.

Harry Wells, formerly a night clerk at Durr's Hotel, had come all the way from Montana to set Mr. Durr straight on the record concerning certain allegations made derogatory to her by Mr. Durr. Wells testifie that Mrs. Durr had not given him a certain fancy billiard brush.

No sooner had he made the statement than Mr. Durr quietly arose and walked out. He returned shortly after with Al Heiner, from Alderman McMasters' office, and at the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Heiner informed Wells that he wanted him on a charge of larceny, and the two repaired without any demonstration to the alder-man's office, and after a short powwow, Attorney Joseph M. Friedman came into court and went on Mr. Wells' bond to insure his appearance at a hearing this afternoon.

Up to the point named Mr. Wells' testi mony went to put Mrs. Durr in good shape us to the charges of cruel treatment, and he also averred that on one occasion Mr. Durr. during Mrs. Durr's absence, had given a supper to Mrs. Jarrett.

It would appear that Mr. Durr proposes that if it be shown that Mrs. Durr did not give Wells certain property he shall ex-plain the manner in which it came into his possession. The whole affair was so quietly aducted that some people in the building did not know a hearing was in progress. The case promises to make a large amount of grist for the lawyers.

Agents of a New York Book Firm Demand

the Right to Seil. Petitions were filed in the United States Circuit Court yesterday to secure the release of C. D. Nichols and William Tyerman from arrest in Titusville, Pa. Both men are residents of New York. They state that they are agents for P. F. Collier, of New York, publisher of Once a Week, an illustrated periodical. The paper and books accompanying it are published in New York and sold by subscription. Nichols solicits sub-scriptions and Tyerman delivers the packages shipped to him by Collier.

On October 3, they state, while pursuing their business in Titusville, Pa, they were arrested by Chief of Police Mc-Grath, of that city, and taken before Justice of the Peace Holden, where they were charged with violating an ordinance requir-ing them to pay a license tax. On October 5 they were given a hearing and each fined $78. The question at issue in the case has been decided a couple of times in the United States Courts. It has been held that a city or borough cannot make any ordinance imposing a tax on or restricting the business of a corporation or firm of another State, it being a violation of the United States Constitution and contrary to the inter-State

Two New Suits for Damages. Attorneys Wise & Minor yesterday entered suit in behalf of John Wilson against the Duquesne Traction Company for $2,500 damages. The case is another one resulting from the collision between a Duquesne Traction car and a Pittsburg Traction car at The Mysterious Prisoner's Guilt the Atwood and Forbes streets crossing May 20, Mr. Wilson was a passenger on the Atwood street car and claims to have been severely bruised and injured. David Sopp and his wife, Bessie Sopp, yesterday entered suit against Mrs. Flora McCullough, of Seventh avenue, for damages for alleged malicious prosecution. Mrs. McCullough, it is stated, sued Mrs. Sopp before Alderman Ritchie for being a common scold. It is asserted that the prosecution was ma-licious and damages are asked for.

THE PLAINTIFF SWOONS,

But Judge Stowe Orders the Case of J. P. Fisher Against the Monongahela Connecting Company to Go On-The Attorney Pleads in Vain for a Postponement.

The suit of J. P. Fisher against the Monongahela Connecting Railway Company was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Stowe. The case is an action for damages for injuries received by Fisher, who was struck by an engine. The case was tried twice before, and has been to the Supreme Court. When the case was called for trial A. H. Clark, attorney for Mr. Fisher, asked for a postponement for the reason that his colleague, T. M. Marshall, was engaged in the Criminal Court. Judge Stowe refused the request, and remarked that the case had been postponed three days because Mr. Clark was engaged in the Supreme Court. Had he known Mr. Clark had a colleague he would not have granted that postpone-

The calling of a jury was proceeded with, but before the trial commenced Mr. Fisher, who was seated behind his attorney, fell back in a faint. He was carried into an ante-room, where he recovered sufficiently in a short time to be removed to his home. He had been complaining for some time.

Mr. Clark at this again asked for a post-ponement. Judge Stowe again refused and said that the case had been tried so often that they must have Mr. Fisher's testimony in writing. Mr. Clark wanted his client present and offered to get a physician's cer-tificate as to the genuineness of his client's illness. He did not want to go to trial without client or colleague present.

Judge Stowe replied: "I have no doubt you can get 40 certificates from 40 physi-cians. About the only trouble I have with the attorneys is to get them to go to trial and keep them from postponing their cases all the time. Go on with the case." The trial proceeded without Mr. Marshall's or Mr. Fisher's presence. It is still Barrels of Oil Produced Yesterday in the McDonald Field.

FORTY-TWO THOUSAND

SEVERAL WELLS DRILLED DEEPER

And They Fulfill the Greatest Expectations of Their Owners.

MANY BITS NOW ON TOP OF THE SAND

The production of the McDonald oil field was greater yesterday than at any time since it was opened. It reached the 42,000 barrel mark, which is just about half the amount of oil put out in any one day by the celebrated Bradford field. The territory from which this great production comes is not a twelfth the size of the big upper country pool. The relative size of the wells is scarcely comparable. Such gushers as are now being struck were never known before. They are the wonder of the age, both to geologists and oil operators. Everybody is guessing how long they will last. As it is they have surprised even the most sanguine, and may continue to do so for some time to come.

There has been nothing like the present activity in the history of the business. The only such that might compare with it is the only spot that might compare with it is the Bradford pool when it was in its palmy days. Cherry Grove was small in comparison, and died a sudden death before it was scarcely three months old. One great difference between these pools and Monthly and Monthly of the second statement of the second scarcely three months old. One great difference between these pools and McDonald is that Bradford and Cherry Grove were each so far away from any city that the people, who went to these places were compelled to remain there. Consequently people built houses, laid out streets, established municipal governments and prepared to remain. Bradford proved to be alrea and prelifie pool and is still a and prepared to remain. Bradford proved to be a large and prolific pool, and is still a bustling city. Cherry Grove was a mush-room, and the inhabitants of its two centers of population disappeared in a night. McDonald would be another Bradford only for the proximity of Pittsburg. The thousands of men who are interested in the field live in Pittsburg and visit the town every day. Every train on the Panhandle bound for the place is crowded to overflowing.

Standing in the Car Aisles.

Yesterday morning the train which left Pittsburg at 10:30 was made up of six passenger coaches, five of which were filled with men bound for Oakdale, Noblestown and McDonald. At Mansfield a large delegation got on from Washington, and when the train pulled out of Mansfield there were 30 men standing in the aisle of the smoking ing car. It is the same of returning trains. the main street of the borough of McDonald was as crowded as Fifth avenue on Satur-

Teams are as numerous as the derricks, and all are busy. Any place which serves a meal for transients is always crowded a meal for transients is always crowded from 12 to 3 o'clock each day. Under a spreading maple tree, at the intersection of Merrimac avenue with Main street, an enterprising upper country individual has put up a stand that would serve as a team shed at a country church. In this crude habitation he has a tobacco store, a soft-drinks counter and a hotel and restaurant. There are two long tables, with two grizzled men, in shirt sleeves and top boots, to wait upon the hungry customers. The seats con-sist of rude benches nailed to the floor, and the motto for patrons seems to be "Heaven helps those who help themselves." The pipe line office is in a little 12x20 frame building that was put up in an afternoon. A tent serves for a photograph gallery. There are no saloons, but a sick man with a short club could not make a de-monstration without striking a man with a bottle in his pocket. Wells are located everywhere, on front yards, back yards, graveyards and onion beds, with some of them scarcely a yard apart.

Features of the Field. McDonald-Among the wells yester-lay the increase in the production of the 42,000 barrels production of the field. From among these were Guffey, Murphy & Co.'s No. 1, on the Elliott, which was drilled deeper and when the control of the contro of them went to make drilled deeper and when visited by THE DISPATCH reporter yesterday afternoon it was doing 180, barrels an hour. Glenn T. Braden, General Superintendent of the National Transit Company, was on the ground with a force of men laying a six-inch line to the well. It is located about 800 feet northeast of their No. 2 Elliott, which is small. Then to the north-east a little over a mile is Guffey, Murphy, Jennings & Co.'s No. 1 Baldwin, which was also agitated, and its output went up from 125 to 200 barrels an hour. Gartland & Hays' No. 3, on the Miller farm, which came in at 75 barrels an hour late Wednes day night, had increased yesterday after-noon 150 barrels an hour. Their No. 1, on the same farm, which has not been dis-turbed since Monday, was putting out 150 barrels an hour also yesterday, and some oil was going to waste. great Mevey well of Greenlee & Forst is still a gusher, notwithstanding some reports to the contrary which were in circulation vesterday morning. At 3 o'clock vesterday afternoon it was producing 360 barrels an hour steady. There is no doubt whatever but that W. P. Rend's well is quite a good one now in the Gordon sand. In the 24 hours, ending yesterday at noon, it had filled a 250 barrels tank, and is considered good for 125 or 150 barrels a day from this stratum. or 150 barrels a day from this stratum. Liggett, Haymaker & Co.'s well on the Toward lot is in the Gordon sand and is producing at the rate of 200 barrels. On Top of the Sand, There are nearly a dozen wells in the sand or else in the Gordon. Roland & Co. got the tools out of their well on the Mc-Lain lot late Wednesday night, and were on top of the fifth sand last night. They will drill into the rock to-day. George S. Martin & Co.'s well on the Heiser was in the Gordon sand restroker and filled. in the Gordon sand yesterday and filled up several hundred feet with oil. Guffey, Murphy and the Oakdale Oil Company's No. 1, on the Wallace farm, will be in the Gordon to-morrow. Guffey, Murphy, Jennings & Co. were about through the Gordon sand in their Herron No. 2 when THE DISPATCH scout left the well yesterday afternoon. It is only 300 feet southwest of the big Matthews well. Davis & McClurg were on top of the fifth sand on the Ewing lot yesterday afternoon and shut down. Their well is making 125 barrels a day from the Gordon, and they will not drill into the fifth until the oil can be saved. The People's Gas Com-pany tubed its well on the Davidson lot yesterday. There was first-class fifth sand in this well, but on account of its proximity to the Royal Gas Company's No. 3, Sauters, and Leconite and Vallilee's short lot well, it is believed that the rock was drained by these two gushers. Guffey, Murphy and the Oakdale Oil Company's No. 1 Sam Sturgeon, and No. 1 Sturgeon are both in the Gordon and show-

Objections to a Weil.

A bill in equity was filed yesterday by Samuel Yates and wife against W. P. Black & Co. and Julius Cromby. The plaintiffs state that they own a house and lot in Me-Donald borough. On a lot separated from theirs by only a 20-foot alley the defend-ants have erected a derrick and are about to drill an oil well. It is claimed that if gas or oil is obtained their property will be endangered, the water will be drained from their well and the property damaged. An injunction is asked for to restrain them from boring the well. Big Wildcat Near St. Mary's.

St. MARY'S-The Acme Oil Company, of Van Bramen, this county, drilled in a 200 barrel well on the Grieve farm, near there yesterday morning. The well is a wildcat, and the prospecting company owns several thousand acres surrounding the lucky find, which is six miles in advance of developments. The strike has set the town and surroundings wild with excitement, and farmers are holding off for bonuses. Explosion of a Boller,

Wednesday evening the boiler at the Smith well, in Florence, Washington county, blew up with great force. The well is located on the Stephen Smith farm on the edge of the village, and visitors are frequent. At the time of the accident a number of young people were at the well, a great of how he in your a far they ber of young people were at the well, a crowd of boys being only a few feet away from the boiler. The bottom was torn out of the boiler, and the main part blown a distance of 90 feet up the hill, and was left in exactly the same position it first stood in. Coal was thrown a couple hundred yards and the boiler door was blown about 100 yards. Strange to say, no one was hurt. The cause of the explosion is supposed to be because the water was allowed to get too low. The well is about due.

Twenty Cents for Waste Oil. The Beaver refinery, of Washington, is paying 25 cents a barrel for the waste oil from the McDonald field, which escapes down the creek. In consequence at least half a dozen residents along the run have built dams and tanks, and are pumping the escaping oil into the tanks. One man is reported to have secured 3,000 barrels. The refinery sends its tank cars after the oil.

Ohlo's Production Falling Off. ST. MARYS, O., Oct. 8 .- A thorough rest. MARYS, G., Oct. 8.—A thorough review of the Onio oil fields shows that the production from this formidable field will full far short of that of last year. This is attributed greatly to the decrease in production of the famous Allen and Wood county fields, and the great St. Marys reservair roal along has saved the production voir pool alone has saved the production from a far more disastrous decline. In the reservoir field wells are coming in daily at the rate of 200 to 400 barrels each, though this field also received a blow in the striking of a dry ho e on the Blew farm, in the very center of what was supposed to be a lake of oil. The average daily production of the Ohio field is now about 55,000 barreis, but 15,000 more than the new Mc-Donald field in Pennsylvania. Runs and shipments from the Ohio wells amount only to 28,000 barrels, while oil now in tanks here amounts to fully 25,000,000 barrels

SHE SUFFERED 13 YEARS.

Dr. Grubbs and associate physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, 323 Penn avenue, give special attention to diseases of women. Mrs. Thomas Hatton, Putnam, Allegheny county, Pa., suffered for 13 years, as few women have. She had pain in al-

She had pain in almost every part of her body, especially sharp and cutting across the lower part of her body and in the small of her back. It was always worse when much on her feet. She felt, tired all the time, had no ambition, dark circles around her eyes, sallow skin, and many other symptoms. other symptoms.
She employed 15 of the best physicians she could find between here and the far West.

here and the far West.

Still she grew worse, her pain more severe, so that for three months her mind was unbalanced, and for a long time was confined in bed. She became very weak and emaciated, only weighing about 100 pounds. No one expected her to live, much loss get cured. After three months' treatment from the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute she became entirely cured.

She says: "My case was worse than has been described. It is two years since I became cured and no trace of the disease has since appeared. I am glad to testify to my permanent cure. Mes. Thomas Hatton." Dr. Grubbs and associates treat successfully catarrh, dyspensia and diseases of women. Terms for treatment and medicine five dollars a month and upward.
