There is no difference in political prin-ciple. Both factions are convinced that the Irish party should be absolutely independent of all English parties and statesmen, and that no Irish Nationalist can accept place or pay from an English Ministry. both factions desire to get for Ireland a full and practicable measure of self-govern-ment, and will accept no other. The so-called McCarthyites hold exactly the same

Parnell's friends are indignant at the statements made by John Dillon and others that Parnell refused to release the Paris fund of £40,000 for the benefit of the evicted emants. Parnell's friends claim that he was perfectly willing to release the fund provided that his claims for money adranced to evicted tenants should be allowed on the same basis as money advanced by John Dillon and others.

The same paper says Miss Anne Parnell is seriously ill. She was at the seaside, trying to recuperate her health, when the news of her brother's death was broken to her. Miss Parnell is now entirely prostrated.

A STEAMSHIP ABANDONED.

Great Fears for Her Crew Until Their Safe Arrival Was Learned.

LONDON, Oct. 12 .- The steamship Devonshire, from Barrow for New York, has been assed at sen, abandoned. Never has the loss of a steamship at sea caused so much excitement since the time of the great Danmark disaster. For a time no one knew tain and his 36 men were lost. The Devon-shire was abandoned about 550 miles west of Barrow. She sailed from Barrow September 30. She was, if all reports are true, in ballast. She was a twin screw steamship, 316.6 feet long, 36.6 feet broad and 25.6 feet deep, and was worth at least $100,000.

It was learned later that the British steamer Norwegian, which arrived at Glasgow yesterday from Montreal, had on board the crew of the British steamer Devonshire.

Exiled Hebrews Swell the Hanks of the Famished Thousands.

LONDON, Oct. 12 .- Advices from various points in Russia state that great masses of peasants are flocking into the towns from the country districts perishing from the want of food. At least 55,000 have passed through Tuinien alone seeking food. Many are falling by the roadsides and dying in their tracks. The wanderers have no fuel and the cold is intense.
Incendiarism and pillaging are spreading.

The destitute Hebrews expelled from Kieff, Astrachan, Moscow and Odessa are swelling the ranks of the famished thousands. The local authorities everywhere are paralyzed for the want of funds. The organization of relief committees for the distribution of orn to the sufferers has been suspended.

LONDON, Oct. 12.-Dispatches received here from Hongkong announce that the publication of the memorials of the Chinese Minister to London, addressed to the throne of China, throws light upon the recent imperial audience granted to the Ministers of the powers.

It was at first supposed that the granting of this audience was a spontaneous act of courtesy on the part of the Emperor, but the memorials referred to show that it was only accorded after the Chinese Minister at London had strenuously urged this step in order to avoid an anticipated combined de-mand for an audience, which was to have been made by representatives of the European powers.

SCHWAB AND FIELDEN WANT HEARINGS

WASHINGTON, Oct., 12,-The Supreme Court of the United States met for the October term to-day. Three of the justices were absent from the court. Chief Justice Fuller is still in Chicago where his daughter is very ill and Justices Bradley and Gray have both been ill, but are now recovering. The space reserved for the bar was well filled with prominent lawyers. Attorney General Miller, Solicitor General Taft and ex-Attorney General Garland were also present.

The only business transacted was the admission of applicants to practice before the court and an announcement by Justice Field that the most important of the cases advanced for argument next Monday were postponed until the second Monday in November. This step is taken for the reason that it is desired that they should be heard by a full bench, and the probability is that all the justices will not be present Monday next. The list includes the Sayward case, which involves the question of the Jurisdiction of the United States over the seal fisheries in Behring Sea, the antilottery cases, the elevator case and the cases in relative the question of constitutionality of volving the question of constitutionality of the McKinley tariff set. A VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT,

In accordance with a time honored cus-tom, the Judges and officers of the United States Supreme Court signalized the begin-ning of a new term of court by an official visit to the President of the United States. They arrived at the White House about 12:30 o'clock, and were at once ushered into the blue parlor, where the President awaited them. He was attended by Attorney General Miller and Soliciast General Taft. There being no need of a formal introduc-tion the ceremonies were confined to a general handshaking all around and a few moment's conversation between the President and each of the Justices.

CLAIMS MADE IN NOTED CASES.

The case of Fielden comes before the court on a writ of error by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Illinois. The Superintendent Ordered to See That Practical Advantages Are Offered.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.-The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has written a letter to Dr. Dorchester, Superintendent of In-dian Schools, in which the latter is instructed to visit the contract schools and subject them to the same thorough inspection which is made in the case of Government schools. The Superintendent is also to make special inquiry into the character and qualifications of the employes of the contract schools, to compare the course of study in those schools with the course in the Government schools and to point out any defects or superiority which may be dis-covered in it. The Commissioner says it is the purpose hereafter to promote pupils from the contract schools to Government schools where it is found that the course of study is defective or the facilities for in-reasons pupils cannot receive as good an

I regard the highest duty of our small army in the time of peace to be the acquisition and dissemination of military-knowledge among the people. To this end the army should become to a certain extent an educational institution, and each post, as far as possible, a military school with the object of qualifying every enlightened man, as far as possible, to be able to instruct and prepare the citizen who volunteers to serve in time of war. was opened. Since the attack of virtue that induced the police to close the gam-bling houses, which, by the way, was coincident with the arrival of the Fassett investigating committee in this city, Gallagher's place has been open for business as usual. For this reason the recruits for the army should be obtained from the young, ambitious and energetic sons of patriotic citizens, and the army should cease to be the refuge of the inefficient, indolent and wandering element of the country. The recruits should be furnished from all parts of the Union in proportion to the population, to serve, as a rule, only one enlistment, and then be returned to their homes to serve as officers in the event of war and as instructors for the State military organizations in time of peace. The support of the Government in this would raise the standing of the enlisted man at once to one of respectability and secure the enlistment of the proper material, which cannot now be obtained in view of the low estimation which the average civilian entertains for the soldier in time of peace. It would also give a distinctive and republican character to our army, which I regard as very essential under our form of government.
