The other feature of the field is the well of the Oakdale Oil Company on the Sturgeon heirs property. This venture is loca-Williams and F. B. McMillan against F. X. ted at least 1,500 feet north of Guffey, Murphy & Co.'s Elliott No. 2, and about 1,900 feet in the same direction from the big Mevey well of Forst & Greenlee. The bit had only broken through the top of the fifth sand when it began to produce 30 barrels an hour. There is a limited amount of tankage at the well and as pipe line connections have not yet been made it will not be drilled in before to-morrow. This well is north of the Miller and Mevey farms and is north of the Miller and Mevey farms and is the only well in that region. It makes a lot of territory look much more valuable and it may be a part of the pool under-lying the Miller and Mevey farms. lease. Henry Fisher, who is a member of the Oakdale Oil Company, said last evening that he had seen all of the big wells which were ever struck in the oil country, and judging from the action of the Sturgeon well, he believes it will be as big as any in the field. He is confident that when it is drilled in it will not fall short of 300 or 400 barrels an hour. It is not over 1.000 feet in a southwest direction from the Sturgeon well to the Royal Gas Company's big well on the Mary Robb farm. A well of even 30 barrels an hour was entirely unexpected in this locality, and it was put down more as a test well than in the hope of striking anything big. It is characteristic of the McDonald, how-ever, that big wells and dry holes are found in the most unexpected places. On Top of the Last Sand. The Latest Move of the Independents Now in Session at Franklin.

FRANKLIN, Oct. 13 .- [Special.]-The annual meeting of the Oil Producers' Protective Association met in this city this afternoon. There are fully 100 delegates present, representing the entire oil field from New York to West Virginia. There are among the prominent delegates present David Kirk, J. W. Scott, H. Cooper and P. M. Shannon, of Pittsburg, and T. W. Phillips, of New Castle. As is usual with this close corporation, the business was done with close corporation, the business was done with closed doors. It is known very widely, however, through the talk of delegates, that the prim-ary object of the meeting is to forward the scheme to combine all the independent re-finers in the country and thus present a solid front to the Standard Oil Company. Lew Emery, the powerful independent of the Bradford field, is represented at the meeting by his attorney, J. W. Lee, Presi-dent of the P. P. A. Though nothing will likely be known to-night, it is said by a delegate that the idea of forming an im-mense trust or combination of the indepen-dent refiners against the Standard will likedent refiners against the Standard will like ly result in securing for them what the ly result in securing for them what the great monopoly alone enjoys-rebates on oil shipments. These once secured, the in-dependents will be in an excellent position to fight the monopoly. Without the reto fight the monopoly. Without the re-bates known to be paid the Standard the independents are helpless. The meeting is still open, and will re-convene to-morrow. Armed guards are stationed at the doors, while every delegate, with his credentials, is closely examined before admittance.
