PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 EVANSVILLE, IND., Oct. 14.-The convention of the Western Water-ways Association in t in this city to-day and its deliberations promise to be of a highly interesting nature to all the cities situated on the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers. Hon. Burris Wood, of Pittsburg, called the convention to order at 11 o'clock this morning, and made a short address, in which he defined the work to be done, and advised perfect harmony in all the matters coming who for consideration.

Mayor N. M. Goodlett delivered the address of welcome on the part of the city of Evansville, and Dr. P. G. Kelsey, President of the Business Men's Association, through whose effort the convention was through whose effort the convention was secured to this city, added a further welcome to the guests. The temporary organization esulted in the choice of ex-Governor Charles Anderson, of Kentucky, as chairman, and Theodore W. Venneman, of Indiana, as secretary.

James A. Henderson, of Pittsburg, moved that the different committees be appointed, and that they be composed of one member from each State, and that each State be allowed to select its own committeemen. The motion carried, although there was considerable disagreement and squabbling as to the different committees. The committees bosen are as follows:

A FIGHT ON OBERLY.

Quite a ripple of excitement was caused mamber asking that Mr J H Oberly, of Washington City, be admitted as delegate, and be given a place on the Committee on Resolutions. One gentleman on Ohio evidently thought Mr. Oberly nd some sinister design in mind, and cautioned the convention to go slow in the matter of admitting delegates from States the confines of the Western water ways. It was ascertained, however, that Mr. Washington agent of the Mississippi Transportation Company, and that his interest and affiliations are with the Convention, and he was therefore admitted as a delegate, and placed on the Committee on Resolutions. After the selection of the committees, the convention adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morn-In his sneech Dr. Kelsey snoke in favor of the Lake Erie Ship Canal, and his re-marks on the subject elleited rounds of ap-plance. Hon John L. Dravo, of Pittsburg, solved upon as one of the brightest lights n the delegation, said to-day to THE DIS-PATCH correspondent: "The improvement of water ways has become a question of national importance. In the past, legislation has been solicited and appropriations sought for various kinds of improvement, and in the zeal and clamor of individual localities to secure that aid which seemed to revert to their especial benefit jealousies were engendered, controversies started, and the sequel to such rivairies was disastrous to everybody concerned. Appropriations were either no forthcoming, or if secured were curtailed by strong opposition, and made so small that they were utterly inadequate to accomplish the object for which they were

With a full knowledge and a common senti-ment on this subject, the water ways convention has gone into session in Evansville with the avowed intention of unity of There must and shall be no clash of delegates. Not the slightest suspicion of discord has yet shown in the horizon, and the probabilities are most favorable to a The concensus of opinion is that the Water Ways Association shall make as strong an appeal to the National Govern-ment for needed legislation and appropriations as possible, and shall apply all moneys set aside for such purposes with reference to the relative importance of the improvement sought to be gained. With this view in mind and the continued influence of the river interests of the Central United States enthusiastically at work, it is absolutely certain that great things can be accomplished."
Mr. Dravo will to-morrow address the convention on the feasibility of the Lake Eric Ship Canal.

THE OHIO RIVER NEGLECTED. Mr. Kelsey, in referring to the meagertiess of river appropriations by Congress, said in his speech: "The improvement of our water ways is a question of National importance, and this convention should Congress, by the River and Harbor Committe and by the Executive, to the end not be mis-apportioned. "Think of it, out of an appropriation of over $13,000,000, the pality sum of $104,000 was set apart for the Ohio river, upon whose banks there are more manufactories than on any other river on the globe. So much noncy has been wasted in the improvement of valueless streams, to the neglect of the Ohio river, which to-day is impassably simaled by faulty dykes, while river commerce is utterly paralyzed. These dimin-utive local interests should not be permitted to take away from the greater interest of all, and this greater interest demands first, The vibrations were north to south.

LOYAL TO RIVER INTERESTS. Evansville asks this convention not to consider any local interest, although there are conditions in this immediate vicinity that really demand attention. But we do ask that the Ohio river, from source to mouth, shail receive such recognition at the hands of the General Government as the importance of this great river and the in-terests of the people of the valley country demand

"We do not ask this to the exclusion of any other river. We will applaud your efforts should you be successful in multiplying the Government appropriation for rivers five fold, to be placed in the hands of men loyal to river interests, until every real navigable stream shall be cleared of imped-iments and until they fulfill their natural design by bearing to the world the abundant products which God has designed for the prosperity of the entire nation."

For years this has been a topic of earnest discussion in the conventions of the directors of the poor and it was considered so necessary and important that the convention of 1888 instructed its legislative committee to secure if possible the passage of an act of the Gen-eral Assemble authorizing the appointment of a commission to revise and codify the poor laws of the State.

The discussion on the proposed law was quite lengthly. DEMOCRATIC CLAIMS IN CUYAHOGA

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] CLEVELAND, Oct. 14.-Senator Quay can't be downed even in Ohio. This morning a story was affoat in the city that the Senator had come here to locate for the balance of the campaign and assist in the management. The Democrats were jubilant, but the Republicans promply denied the report. In the last election in Chicago a similar rumor was started, but it was never realized. To those acquainted with the situation in Pennsylvania and posted on Buckeye polities, the statement was ridiculous. Quay should leave his own State at present, where the Republican outlook is considered critical and come into Ohio, where the party of protection is sure to win, was more than the McKinley people can understand. "Senator Quay is certainly here under cover," said Cass H. Hatch, one of the secretaries of the Democratic County Committee, "to help the Republicans. It shows how badly they are scared in Ohio when a politician like the Senator must be imported to give them pointers." This is how the Democrats talked, and it was apparent they intended to work this inference for all it was worth.

AN EXPECTED BOOKBACK.

"I expected the Democrats would start this roorback in a few days," said ex-Con-gressman Burton. "I understand Quay is here on a social visit to Frank Robinson, who is married to one of his relatives. I assure you there is nothing in this report. The Ohio Republicans are able to take care

The Ohio Republicans are able to take care of themselves. We have the Democrats on the run, and we propose to keep them moving until after the election."

Colonel Louis Smithnight, Chairman of the Republican County Committee, is not in the city, but D. E. Christian, who represents him in his absence, said he didn't know anything about it and was sure the story was not true. Secretary Crowl also story was not true. Secretary Crowl also added his denial. As nearly as I could learn the rumor grew out of Quay's visit or intended visit to his relative, Mr. Robinson. The Democrats here have a wholesome fear of the Senator, and they are quick to make capital out of anything that will help their

On my way to Dayton I stopped over at Columbus to see Chairman Hahn. He laughed at the report, and said he guessed the Ohio Republicaus were able to manage their own campaign, though they do not object to entried. ject to outside assistance.

INTERESTED IN OUR SENATE.

The leaders in both parties here are greatly interested in the outcome of the extra session of the Senate in Pennsylvania. extra session of the Senate in Pennsylvania. While in Cleveland this morning I visited the Republican and Democratic head-quarters. The Republicans have just completed a house-to-house canvas of the county. They had a force of 30 men engaged to do the work since the campaign opened, and a few days ago 24 of them were discharged. The normal Republican majority of Cuyahoga county is about 2,200. Mr. Christian had a large roll of figures, but he declined to give them out. He says the county majority this year will be more than 2,200, and he thought it would go up as high as 5,000. Chairman Hahn remarked when he heard this estimate that it was far too high. Mr. Christian is betting that McKinley will have from 25,000 to 30,000

McKinley will have f-om 25,000 to 30,000 of a majority in the State. "There is an element with us in the fight this year that never voted the Republican ticket before," contined Mr. Christian. They are the Poles and Hungarians, and there are a good many in the city. I don't know why they are changing their votes, but this is what our careful canvass developed. PRETTY SURE OF SUCCESS. "All the Republicans have to do in this county is to get out their vote. When we do this we sweep everything. The Democrats sometimes gain a few points when we get careless. To show the interest taken in the coming election, fully 6,000 more Re-publicans registered this year on the first day than ever did before. As for the legislative ticket, we have nominated good fellows and I think every one will be "Under the new apportionment Cleve land will have eight members in the House and three Senators. We are interested in electing these men, and allowing the fight between Forsker and Sherman to take care of itself. That will be disposed of at the proper time." It is generally understood that the Cleveland nominees are pledged to Sherman. Secretary Hatch said he knew of one Republican legislative candidate in the city who would vote for Foraker, if elected. Secretary Crowl, of the Republican Committee, says all the legislative candidates will stand by Sherman. Foraker's strength is with the young men in the southern part of the State, where the Democrats divide honors with the Republican in electing Representatives and Senators. Sherman is solid with the people in the Western Reserve, and they usually are successful with their legislative ticket.

SOME DEMOCRATIC CLAIMS. On the other hand the Democrats are making strong claims in Cleveland. Mr. Hatch says they expect to carry the county ticket, reduce the Republican majority for Governor to 1,500 votes and elect at least four out of the eight Representatives and one of the three Senators. He is a hopeful young man and no doubt a hard worker, as he was very busy sending out campaign material. He believed Campbell will be re-elected, and without mentioning names cited three Republican manufacturers in Cleveland, one of whom makes light tinvare, who intended to vote the Democrati ticket. He claimed McKinley had turned against him many English voters by his constant reference to the pauper laborer of the British isles. He added that these men are Republican and always have been. One thing I noticed that is comman to both parties in Cleveland, they don't like the new' kangaroo" system of voting, and, in-deed, it is hard to find a man in Ohio who will speak a good word for the law. It is feared generally that a number of votes will be mangled and it is hard to say what the outcome will be.

The Cleveland people are making great preparations for the mass meeting October 24. The Americus Club, of Pittsbugh, has 24. The Americas Club, of Phisough, has chartered a train and will join in the parade in the afternoon with their red, white and blue umbrellas. Music Hall will hold 10,000 people, but so many visiting-delegations are coming in that Mr.- Christian is afraid they won't be able to provide seats for them.

M'KINLEY SPEAKS AT RAVENNA. So much for Cuyahoga politics. Major McKinley went to Ravenna this morning from Burton. He spoke in the afternoon to a good sized crowd. The weather was threatening and kept some away. He de-livered practically the Painesville speech of the day before. It was a complete elucida-tion of the tariff and silver questions. At the opening of his address he called atten-tion to the importance of electing a Repub-lican Legislature to correct the lican Legislature to correct the gerryman-der and look after the United States Sena-torship. He concluded his remarks by knocking out many of Governor Campbell's Immediately after the meeting the Major started for Dayton, where the largest meeting of the campaign up to date will occur, if the rain doesn't prevent. There will be plenty of roast beef to eat, and with For-aker, Sherman and McKinley for speakers, oratory will not be lacking. On the way to Dayton I saw Chairman Hahn for a few

"There is no question about McKinley's election," he said. "It is settled beyond a peradventure that he will have a good, safe majority. But the election of the head of the ticket is not all there is in this fight. The Legislature is very important. If the House should be Democratic, then we couldn't repeal the odious gerrymander, and they would continue to have 16 Congressmen for the next two years. The Democrats concede Campbell's defeat, and they are turning all their efforts to the Legislature.

KNIVES OUT FOR CAMPBELL. "There are too many knives out for the Governor in his party, and the Democrats who made threats before he was nominated will have to carry them out to prove their predictions. While McKinley is drawing large crowds, they do not insure the election of the Legislature. We might have 10,000 of a majority in a city, but it wouldn't give us one additional member in the House or Senate. I think the cities will go strongly Republican, but the Republicans strongly Republican, but the Republicans should remember there are 20 doubtful

"I have been calling in the County Chair-men, a few at a time, to instruct them to men, a few at a time, to instruct them to watch the legislative ticket. McKinley from this time out will almost be able to take care of himself. Another week will tell the tale. Then a number of things that are doubtful now will be cleared up, and I will know just where we stand. The veteran Republican organization in Hamilton county will help the State ticket, but I am afraid it will injure the county nominees. The fight in Ashtabula county over the re-

The fight in Ashtabula county over the removal of the Court House will help us, as both candidates are Republican, and the rivalry will bring out a fuller vote.

"I expect to see Ashtabula roll up more ballots than she ever did. People outside of the State think we are all right, and so we are, but I tell you the fight is on the Legislature, and nothing else. It will have to be watched closely. Taylor will surely be elected in Guernsey county, but about

DEMMLER TIN PLATE DISPLAY. McKinley will be in Columbus Saturday evening. Among the features of the demon-stration will be the exhibition of a lot of canned tomatoes. The tin plate was made at Demmler. The cans were turned out and filled by the Xenia Canning Company. The object is to show what the tariff will no for home production. Mr. Hahn is determined to make the Columbus meeting a big success. Chairman Hahn has received a letter from J. W. Gates, President of the Braddock Wire Company, which explains itself. It is this:

itself. It is this:

Please say to Major McKinley that since the McKinley bill took effect in July, 1890, the price of wire nails has declined fully from $10 to $12 per ton and wire nails can be purchased to-day at Salem, Findlay, Cleveland and Pittsburg at 1½ cents per pound. This is a lower price on wire nails than is to-day made in England. Barbed fence wire, which, before the McKinley bill took effect, was selling at 3 cents per pound for painted and 3½ cents for painted and 3 cents for galvanized, is now selling for 2½ cents for painted and 3 cents for galvanized, and to-day burbed wire can be purchased lower in Ohio and Pennsylvania than in any other portion of the known world, notwithstanding free trade England.

Say to him that we are selling thousands of tons of barbed wire in Africa, England, South America and Australia in competition with all makers, both of Continental Europe and the British Isles, and are able to get from $4.00 to $5.00 more per ton for our product in competition with American manufacturers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 .- Ira J. Ordway, the father of A. K. Ordway, furnishes the following statement for publication: "The statement of Mrs. A. K. Ordway, who was taken to the Bayview asylum yesterday, is my first intimation that my son, Albert K. Ordway, who died in Baltimore last March, had any connection with the Snell murder. The statement has no weight with me, nor will it be credited by hose who are in a position to know the

This is the first association of the name of young Ordway with murder, and the story is generally descredited. Young Ordway was associated with his father in the tailor ing business in this city at one time, and firm made Tascott's clothes; but it does not appear that young Ordway ever had other than business relations with the sup-posed murderer. The woman who tells the story was a Mrs. Beachman and was married to young Ordway after the latter was divorced from his wife. His death in Baltimore in last March is supposed to have been

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. - Frederick Douglass, ex-Minister to Haiti, delivered a lecture on Haiti last night at the Metropolitan African Methodist Church. Mr. Douglass replied with feeling to the criticisms of his policy in the Mole St. Nicholas affair, and made the suggestive announcement that if driven to the wall he had it in his power to put before the whole world all the dence about the affair in a different light and a light some gentlemen would not like to see. He described the Mole as the Gibraltar of the Caribbean Sea, and said that the nation that would hold this stronghold

Minneapolis Mills Are Crowded With Orders From Europe.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.-Advices from the other side of the Atlantic are almost uniformly bullish with regard to the future value of wheat. A feature of the trade here which does not usually appear in the daily reviews of the market is the extraordinary demand from England, and even from France, for American flour. A Paris flour merchant, writing under date of October 1, says that American flour is preferred there by bakers, and can be laid down there at such rates that it does not pay to import the wheat for milling. The result has been that wheat bought in this country for future delivery has been resold. The writter expects higher prices for wheat, even if Russia does not prohibit exports, though the latter is anticipated.

On the Derby day, a few years ago, a well-known man of business—let us call him Mr. X.—went down to Epsom with the rest of the world, and, after the great race was over, bethought himself of lunch. It was then 4 o'clock, and he was ravenously hungry. Seeing no friendly coach or car-riage at hand he entered one of the refreshment booths, where a three-and-sixpenny meal was provided for all comers. He attacked some ribs of beef and soon cleared chicken, which also disappeared; finally he espied a pigeon pie at the other end of the table, which had not yet been touched, and ordered the waiter to bring it to him.
