A Falling Off in Sales During the Week, but Some

BIG DEALS ARE UNDER WAY.

The Prevailing Opinion Is That Prices Have Touched Bottom,

REPORTS FROM THE CHIEF MARKETS

OFFICE OF PITTSHURG DISPATCH, FRIDAY, Oct. 16.

RAW IRON AND STEEL-Business during the past week shows no particular change. There is certainly a singular monotony, and it is almost impossible to break away from the conditions which have controlled the market for some time. Unless all signs fail bottom prices have been reached, as all must admit that when good Bessemer is selling at $15 25@15 50 it is about time to call a halt. There is no money for makers at those figures. We know of a large mill that has been holding off for prices to touch bottom. The firm believes that time has A Healthy Condition Prevails and Good prrived. One of the members informed the writer that they are now in the market for a four months' supply of Bessemer-about 5,000 tons. We also learned of another large firm that is in the valley market for a lot of 6,000 tons of Bessemer for this year's delivery. The firm is not a Pittsburg one, being located near a valley furnace. They made an offer of $15.00 for mated. One of our iron brokers reports the placing of a large order of steel plates for special contract. The tonnage will amount about 4,000 tons.

What a Valley Furnace Man Says.

A letter from the Mahoning Valley h this to say: "I think you quote Bessen pig too low. I have seen contracts of several thousand tons at $15.70, Pittsburg, an I know of offers of $13.85 having been mad during this week. Please note that valle furnacemen have advanced wages 10 p ent, which will have some effect on cost production. The rolling mills and furnaces e well employed in the valley, all busy." The present drawback in regard to the Pittsburg iron trade is want of confidence but this is being slowly restored. When that is accomplished you may look out for a

The volume of business during the week has not been up to the average of the transactions for some weeks past, and there is therefore a slight weakness in some branches, but this line in no way checked the growth of the confidence in the future. The hull in the demand being regarded as only temporary, some of the leading dealers are not disposed to sell to any extent at present prices, preferring to hold their iron until the demand improves, which is considered to be a question of only a short time. The inquiries are of such a nature as to give

A well-informed dealer has this to say about the Eastern market: "On the whole, pig iron appears to be the strongest on the list, as the bulk of the business is at better prices than during earlier months of the Buyers cannot place orders on as ble terms as heretofore, no matter what the quality may be. The very low priced makes are relatively as firm as the standard qualities, and in no case is there any necessity for holders going a begging

THE LATEST-Sales during the week moderate. The volume does not show up as well as previous weeks. Bessemer sold at very low figures. Gray forge seems firmer than some descriptions. Billets and stales weaker but not quotably lower. Muck bar shows no change. Charcoat sales were the most liberal for some weeks. Scrap from steady with fair local demand. Old ran rails not so firm, buyers being indiffer-

CHICAGO MARKET ACTIVE.

Several Large-Sized Deals Put Through With Many More of Them Pending.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.-[Special.]-Rogers, Brown & Merwin say: General activity continues o characterize the Chicago market. A num-ber of deals of size maye been put through during the past week, and others are now pending. Coke irons, both Northern and have made up the bulk of the mying, but Southern charcoals are in modcrate demand and various inquiries are in on this class of metal, covering long scattered delivery. Prices remain on practically the same basis as a week ago, though here is a trifle more of firmness in produc-ions on the point of making long deliveries. In the other hand, some of the local coke tions on the point of making long deliveries, on the other hand, some of the local coke formaces of this district are to-day making propositions at present figures, covering detweries during the entire year of 1892, but he southern companies are opposed to contracts of this character, and with here and there in excention, are not willing at present to sell becoed next spring, preferring even to restrict sales to January I. While this is a fact, both coke and charcoal furnaces concede that there is likely to be but little change in the way of prices during aces concerte that there is likely to be but title change in the way of prices during he balance of the year. With one accord, one ever, they look for a much heavier denard and better figures after January. Eke Superior charconis are somewhat less irm than has been the case during the past match or two. It is even reported that a maner of leading brands can to-day be arrelated at $47, Chicago. Some companies are still retting however, from $18

the Market at Birmingham, BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Oct. 16 .- [Special.]-The iron market is again profoundly quiet, which means that the situation prevailing for many months has not been permanently changed by the briskness two weeks ago.

changed by the briskness two weeks ago. The advance then scored has, however, been partially maintained, and the market f. o. b. at the furnace may be quoted as follows: No. 1 foundry, $12 25@12 50; No. 2 foundry, $11 59@11 75; No. 3 foundry, $16 75@11 00; grey forge, $10 00.

During the past week the only idle furnace of the De Bardeleben Company blew in and another Sheffleid furnace went into blast. The difficulties that have long best Sheffleid seem to have been partially overcome, and two of the five furnaces there are on the active list, with prospects bright for the other three.

active list, with prospects bright for the other three.

The week has been enlivened by a visit from a committee of Louisville and Nashville Railroad directors, appointed at the recent annual meeting to look into the matter of a subscription to the steel plant here. They gave assurances while here that they would recommend a subscription of $100,000, which would bring the total up to $550,000.

THE ST. LOUIS MARKET.

OLD AND NEW VALUES.

Instances of Enhancement on Some A Profound Quietness Takes Possession of of the Prominent Streets

TO BUSINESS EXPANSION.

Prices Still Much Below Those in Other and Less Favored Cities.

The advance in land values on the principal streets of Pittsburg in the last few years, while considerable, is not out of line with the progress of the city in wealth and population. Growth and enhancement are simply due to the legitimate operations of the law of cause and effect.

It was stated in this column a short time ago that $6,000 a foot front had been offered and refused for the Schmertz property, on Fifth avenue. This looks like a pretty steep price, but when the depth of the lot, 240 feet, is considered, the figure is not so formidable. It has been exceeded on Fourth avenue and on Smithfield street. Five or six years ago the same property. although not in the market, was valued at about money. The increase in business on Fifth avenue justifies the enhancement, and that owners so regard it is shown by their re-

The opening of the new postoffice has caused a diversion of business and travel to the district of which it is the center, and brought Smithfield street south of Fifth, Fourth and Third avenues into prominence, with the natural result of enhancing values. For the lot on which Captain Vandergrift is erecting one of the largest and finest buildings in the city he paid $2,000 a foot about two years ago. It is now worth not less than $3,000. The appreciation on this street within five years will average fully 50 per cent.

Enhancement on Smithfield street has been no less rapid and positive. Three or four years ago $2,000 a front foot was con-sidered a good price for property on this street. Now it is difficult to get it for less than $3,000, and in some cases more is asked. Mr. Messler was paid at the rate of about $2,500 for the ground lately sold by him to Mr. Solomon. It is only 60 feet deep.

Values on Third avenue, between Wood Values on Third avenue, between Wood and Grant, have experienced a slow but steady appreciation. A property on this street changed ownership in 1886 at about $16,000. It was resold last year at $26,000. The Rahm property fronting the south entrance to the new postoffice, the sale of which was reported on Thursday, brought almost $1,400 a foot front. Adjoining property is held higher. erty is held higher.

almost $1,400 a foot front. Adjoining property is held higher.

There is nothing remarkable or abnormal in these instances of increased values on the streets named. The precinct of which they are the main arteries comprises as good business territory as can be found in the city, if not the best; and with the bulk of the inquiry for downtown property centering in this direction, enhancement naturally follows. Progress is catching. It affects everything. Old values were as imposing in their day as new values are in this. They have been forced up by the pressure of business.

But big as they seem, they are still far pressure of business.

But big as they seem, they are still far below those in other cities possessing scarcely any of the immense natural resources of Pittsburg. The steady advance in real estate and the firmness of the market are the best evidences of general pros-perity that could be furnished. It is merely keeping in line with the expansion of other

The great feature of the trading was the sharp rise in New York Central, which was not only more active than for a long time, but at one time showed a gain of 2% per cent over its last night's figure, the buying being based on a rumor that there would be an increase in the dividend rate when the next dividend is declared. Atchison again led in the dealings, but it was comparatively sluggish when compared with other stocks, even though it closed with a material advance. The general list and specialties were never prominent in the market, and, as a rule, were traded in within narrow limits and scored insignificant gains for the day. eigners were liberal buyers of all their specialities.

The influences which led to this result were, first, the action of the governors of the Bank of England in keeping their minimum rate of discount unchanged at 3 per cent, the taking of the new Russian loan in France and the general easier feeling in all the European financial centers. Domestic operators didn't respond with alacrity to this movement on the part of the foreigners, but enough new buying appeared to keep the market moving along and to swell the volume of business to respectable proportions. The material gains, however, were generally among the shares having an international market, the rest of the list following at a safe distance throughout the day. ening of the grain movement leaves the Western money markets well supplied with funds to meet the demand which may refunds to meet the demand which may result from the increase of activity in general business throughout the agricultural districts. As a consequence, although lenders are not willing to put out funds on time at less than 6 per cent, the volume of such offerings during the past week has been noticeably greater, giving the market an easy tendency which has been long absent. These conditions would certainly lend to the conclusion that, within a reasonably short time, increased ease in money will react upon and stimulate general trade."

THE MARKET BASKET.

The upward movement of choice dairy products and garden stuff are the features most prominent the past week in the line of market basket materials. High grades of creamery butter have not been as scarce for years as they are at this time, and prices have advanced fully five cents per pound in the past ten days. The sharp frosts in the early part of the week gave a fresh impetus to garden stuff and prices in this line are moved upward. Peaches are still to be had, but demand is light. Grapes have the lead in fruit lines, but receipts have declined the past few days and markets are firmer. At the fish stalls trade is reported only fair, White fish and select oysters are scarce.

Soft shell crabs are things of the past and frogs are very scarce. Florists report a quiet week's trade with prices unchanged. Staple meats rarely change whatever the ups and downs of live stock.

was treated with rideole. The result was that shorts, who were such eager buyers yesterday, were ready sellers this morning in spite of fair buying orders from New York.

Cables were weak and lower. Receipts in the Northwest were heavy and the weather there was cleeft, though the Weather Burean predicted rain to-morrow.

The offerings were in excess of the demand. The market opened lower, receded gradually during most of the session, then reacted some on rather better cables and good buying by shorts, who chose to accept their profits. December onened at 98% and closed at 98% c.

Corn was exceedingly weak, partly in sympathy with wheat, partly on account of the failure to confirm Russia's reported prohibition of corn exports and partly owing to the increasing receipts of new corn, 15 cars having arrived to-day. Longs were discouraged, and such as had not liquidated yesterday sought to market their staff, but found few buyers. In the competition to get rid of it October fell from $26,93% c at the opening to $1% c, but reacted later as shorts took advantage of the break to cover, and this sent the price up to $2% c at the close. A good demand for eash corn toward the end of the session was also a strengthening factor.

THE O. AND M. ABSORPTION.

Its Immediate Consummation Depends on the Action of Court To-Day. CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.-The adjourned neeting of the Ohio and Mississippi stockholders, representing what is known as the Baltimore and Ohio interest, was called to order at 11 o'clock this morning, but inasmuch as the lawyers on both sides had gone into court to fight the battle out there upon a motion to dissolve the injunction and mandamus obtained last evening by the Baltimore and Ohio party, it was deemed inadvisable to proceed with the election until the court had passed upon the question, so the meeting took a recess until tidings should come from the court, and the stockholders entertained each other with stories while they waited. while they waited.

In the court room the real battle was fought. Mr. Ramsey, acting for Mr. Smith and the American stockholders of Ohio and Mississippi, in support of his motion to dissolve the restraining order and thus render effective the action of yesterday whereby the election was postpored until Negarby. effective the action of yesterday whereby the election was postponed until November 19, said the sole purpose was to gain time to enable the stockholders to more fully in-form themselves concerning the negotia-tions for the absorption of the road by the Baltimore and Ohio. Mr. Barton and Mr. Ramsey argued for the motion and Mr. Colston opposed it. He claimed that the adjournment was a trick to delay matters, and that Mr. Smith know all about the neand that Mr. Smith knew all about the ne-gotiations. He also claimed that the viva voce vote on adjournment was illegal. At the conclusion of the argument the Court took the papers and announced that a de-cision would be rendered to-morrow morning. When this news was conveyed to the stockholders' meeting they adjourned until 11 o'clock to-morrow.

The Evangelical Conference Adjourns.
