PITTSEURG & GOOD FIELD FOR WORK

There is a movement on foot in the Episcopal churches of the two cities, which, if t materializ s, a great boon to the poor and middle classes will result. It is a strictly English charitable idea, but so eminently worthy, that it will bear manifold copying.

land, Scotland, France and Belgium, he thoroughly investigated the many modes of two cities, providing the good people who and are doing good work with the limited amount of resources at hand, and the Bishop's dearest heart wish is that the League may be able to branch out in a more extensive way, because the field to work in will itably disposed people don't thoroughly understand the workings and the resultant good done by these organizations in England, hence they are rather dilatory in con-tributing to the cause. In the White-chapel district, London, there is Toynbee Hall, which was usmed after a young Oxford graduate who went there instigated by a spirit of devotion, and through his efforts menaged to get good people interested in the work, and now it is one of the most successful institutions in London for the enlightenment and help of the poor classes.

They have a large house built for the accommodation of Oxford graduates who care to make it their abode and at the same time wish to attend the night schools. "There are lodging, dining and lecture rooms, library, and what has recently bea great feature, summer concerts. This is a magnet which draws the tired and ary working people, who have entree to all the different departments. They also give 'smoking conferences,' at which the men smoke and discuss labor issues of the hour, such as our eight-hour law, etc. These have been very successful. The Saturday and Sunday evening meetings are great features. They are not of a religious there you see Hebrews, Roman Catholies, Presbyterians and Agnostics all mixed up ogether as a common people. A Board of lealth also constitutes a part of the instiinitial and there questions of hygienic and initialy import are discussed. Athletics are indulged in, and Intely there has been organized a Traveler's Club, which approriates so much money to defray expenses or the Toynbee students to take a tramp through the country. This has been found a pleasurable diversion and very healthful.

"The Salvation Army under General Booth has also met with much encouragement in the lower districts of London. The England has also established a similar charitable home at Holborn. It has sisterhoods and brotherhoods, composed of self-sacrificing people, who devote their entire energy and time to the poor and destitute. The Cowley Fathers' Monastery, which is itunte near Oxford, in a very busy parish. They have three large sobools there for boys and girls, all free, with hospital attached, in which the sistors are nurses. Their man-ner of life is very assetic. The instructors are devoted to duty. Every year some of the brothers are sent as missionaries to India, Africa, and other foreign countries.

SUCCESSFUL IN EVERY WAY.

"All the charitable places I have mentioned and their methods of doing work have been successful in every way. The Salvation Army reaches a different class of people than Toynbee Hall and the others. at the work is as popular. "My idea is that we take hints from our English co-workers, and establish institutions of the kind in and about the three cities on a smaller scale at first, and improved, and the "refuges" are popularized we can build up on scale. Take for instance a recently established place in London called a Tectotum. One can go there and for a petiny get a cup of coffee; for a 'tuppence' extra pointose, and for threeponce some ment, etc. This has a drawing influence on the working men and boys who throw their money away for intoxicants, etc.

"I also thought that this winter the plan of having popular lectures would be a good and profitable scheme to raise money to go toward the charity fund, and besides, I have great hope of the liberal minded men of wealth who ought to contribute to this most laudable movement. Pittsburg is rich, but the greater proportion of her people are poor, and I know of no other field where the Charitable or Missionary Homes could be citating and elightening the poor and nid-citating and elightening the poor and nid-dle classes of society. I hope THE DIS-PATCH, with its great influence, will aid us in our new move.

Bishop Whitehead has numerous books and statistical statements of the English homes, and in the near future will give a lengthy and comprehensive talk to the elergy and lnity on the subject.
