TEROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.1 HARRISBURG, Oct. 21 .- To-day's inquiry by the Senate into the alleged irregularities of the State Treasurer and the Auditor General developed some interesting testimony. It also developed some brilliant legal sparring between the attorneys engaged in the case. At times the investigation took the form of a court martial, in which the lines were tightly drawn, and the little tilts between counsel relieved the monotony of the hearing.

The attorneys for both sides were painfully deliberate, and between them it was an eye for an eye. Occasionally an inquisinive Senator on either side would insist upon the exercise of his prerogative and would interrogate the witness not strictly in line with court rules, and then the attorneys would wrangle and wrestle over the favorable or unfavorable testimony with zeal enough to destroy the evidence.

Distribution of Campaign Literature. When the Senate convened at 10 o'clock this morning the testimony taken at the previous session was not on the Senators' desks as had been ordered by a resolution. Instead of the legitimate records, however, was an abundance of Republican campaign literature, and the pleasant faces of Gregg and Morrison, the Republican candidates, looked up from the pamphlets like an carnest appeal to the jurors sitting in judgment on their party and the officials whon they hope to succeed,

There were a number of vacant seats in the chamber. The Western Senators, however, were all present. Those absent had gone home during the recess yesterday and did not return until this afternoon. When business was resumed the Attorney General offered in evidence additional letters from Cashier Livsey to John Bardsley, On their admission the first contest between the lawyers occurred. The contest was not for the benefit of the Senators and was carried on over the counsel table.

The Livsey Letters Admitt . 7. The letters were finally admitted. They tended to show Mr. Livsey's connection and familiar acquaintance with City Treasurer Bardsley, and one of them asked anxiously. about the affairs and condition of the now Treasurer Boyer to Mr. Bardsley-were also read.

One letter urged Bardsley to make prompt settlement, and another writes the same day notifying him that there was no need for haste in the matter, and rather advised delay. Documentary evidence from the Department of Education was offered, exhibiting the amount of money which for a period of 20 years went to the school district of Philadelphia, with the dates of payment of some, showing that at no time did Philadelphia receive its share of the State appropriation until after January of the appropriation year.

The reports submitted also showed that Mr. Bardsley did not pay over the amount received by him from the State Treasurer for several months after the same was received by him, and in some years the money of the next year was used to pay the appropriation of the preceding year. It was also shown that the fiscal year for schools in Philadelphia was the calender year, but the State appropriations were applied only from June to June.

Paid Six Months in Advance It was further shown that the three war rants amounting to $420,000, given on December 30 and Decumber 31, 1890, were to be applied for the year ending June 1, 1891. The warrants so specified themselves. The precedents for early payment alleged to exist by the accused were found by examination not to exist, and the allegations of neglect of duty or complicity in crime in the Governor's message were fully sus-

Mr. Boyer was called to the witness stand. He testified that the warrant for the $420,000 was obtained by him and at his solicitation from the Department of Public Instruction in order to reduce the general fund in the treasury below $1,550,000 on January 1, as all in excess of that amount would have to be placed in the sinking fund. This Mr. Boyer gave as his reason for getting the warrant and paying out this money and the authority for his work, if there was any, was an after consideration on the advice of his counsel.

A Discrepancy in the Statements. It further appeared by Mr. Boyer's testimony that the statement he made on oath in his quarterly report on December 31, 1890, showed the amount in the general fund in the State Treasury to be a little less than $1,550,000, counting the $420,000 represented by the warrants as actually paid, while the facts were, as he stated under cath, that the warrants were not indorsed by John Bardsley, Treasurer, nor were the cheeks delivered to him by Mr. Boyer until the night of January 2, 1891, in Philadelphia. Mr. Boyer stated in evidence that e telegraphed Mr. Bardsley from New York to meet him on that night in Philadelphia From Mr. Boyer's evidence it appeared that this money actually belonged to the sinking fund, as Mr. Boyer had possession of the money at the time he swore he had paid it out, and for two days after December 31. Mr. Boyer admitted that he had never made any effort to examine into the financial condition of Mr. Bardsley and bad never paid any attention to the City Treasurer's bonds.

The Warrants Illegally Signed. John Q. Stewart, Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, who followed Mr. Boyer, testified that the warrants in question were illegally signed at the time at the request and earnest solicitation of State Treasurer Boyer. Mr. Stewart said that the law of 1885 required that the schools must be opened six months before they receive their share of the school appropriation. The Philadelphia school year, Mr. Stewart said, commenced on September 1 of each year.

commenced on September 1 of each year.

H. W. Halliwell, Secretary of the Central Board of Education of Philadelphia, testified that he had prepared the certaincates upon which the warrants in question were issued at the request of Mr. Bardsley. It is likely that the case against Mr. Bover will be concluded to-morrow, and on Friday it will be argued to the Senators. McCamant's case will not likely be taken up before Monday.

Whatever may be the result of the inquiry the State's affairs have been materially improved by the scandal. The system of Government has been improved. The returns from county treasurers and from other sources of State revenue are coming other sources of State revenue are coming in more promptly than ever before and there is now in the Treasury a balance of $5,000,000 as compared with a balance of $2,000,000 for a corresponding period last year. State Treasurer Boyer to-day decided to pay the warrant for $1,000 for the expenses of the extra session. He will also pay all the salaries when they are due. HERBERT.

Every One of a Baltimore and Ohio Train of Five Cars Demolished-The Accident Caused by the Truck Spreading-Two

Killed Optright. CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 21.—[Special.]—
Another terrible wreck occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad this afternoon about 2 o'clock, 40 miles from this city, by which two men lost their lives and three others were fatally injured. Train No. 6 left Cumberland on schedule time, and when near Sir John's run the train, which was running 50 miles an hour, jumped the track. The accident was caused by the spreading of

The place where the wreck occurred is on a level piece of road, with a rocky ridge along the ide. The track was torn for over 200 yards, and it will take 48 hours to get it in running order. The train consisted of postal and baggage car, smoker, passenger and two sleeping cars, and all were com-pletely wrecked. Not a wheel remained on the track.

Both the engineer and fireman were crushed beneath their engine. The wounded men were taken to their homes, none of them being expected to live. One of the injured was a passenger. The rest were employes. The names of the victims are:

JAMES KNUCKLES, engineer, killed.
RODNEY RICHARDS, fireman, killed. Both

SANTIAGO, CHILE, Oct. 21 .- As has been previously announced the elections for Presidental electors and members of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies were held on Sunday last. The day passed very quietly, and there is no doubt that this was due to the precautions taken by the Prodefunct Keystone Bank. Letters from visional Government to prevent any outbreak. The entire proceedings were marked by due regard for the constitutheasl rights of all voters, and the result shows an over-whelming defeat for the Clerical party. The returns show that the Liberals have large majority in the Electoral College, the duties of the members of which are, to a great extent, those of the Presidental electors in the United States, with the important difference that the members themselves select the chief of the State The members of the Chilean Senate serve term of six years and are elected directly by provinces. The members of the Chamber of Deputies serve three years and are elected by departments. The popularity of the Liberal party is shown by the fact that has elected 30 candidates for the Senate, while the Clericals have elected only two In the Chamber of Deputies the Liberals will have full control of the House, for they will have at least a majority of 30, the re-turns showing the election of 62 Liberals in Jesse James Style. PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 21 .- [Special.] -A band of robbers who do business in a true Jesse James style has begun operations in the Adirondacks. The scene of their latest operations was on the highway leading from Saranac Lake village to Hotel Ampersand, some two miles away. Joseph Labow, an employe of Greenough's livery at the Ampersand, had been out collecting, and on his return, early in the evening, was set upon by two masked men and robbed of $134, his watch and other valua-bles. Labow has no idea who his assailants were. The Hotel Ampersand Company has offered a reward of $250 for the apprehension of the thieves. Intense excitement prevails throughout the Adirondacks, where the wildest stories prevail. The guides are out en masse, and everyone goes fully armed. Pools of Ice-Cold and Hot Water and In-Peppe the ground was cracked and seamed in various places. From these narrow openings in the earth large quantities of water of various temperatures have been gushing forth ever since. In some places the water is ice-cold, while in orthers it is warm, reaching a temperature of 100°.

Masked Mountain Robbers Doing Business

The flow of General Valejo's artesian well has been increased about 100,000 gallons each 24 hours. On Captain Joy's farm the flow of gas from his natural gas well has been increased to a great extent, and a spring that has hitherto been cold has been onverted into a basin of hot water.

TO-DAY HE SOJOURNS IN BOSTON TOWN

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 Boston, Oct. 21 .- Secretary of State Blaine, accompanied by Mrs. Blaine, James G. Blaine, Jr., Miss Hattie Blaine and Private Se tary Dent, with servants, arrived in Boston this afternoon, en route for Washington. Secretary Blaine looked as if he was in perfect health. Not for a dozen years has he appeared so strong and vigorous as he did to-day. He remained in Boston to-night and will not go over to New York until Thursday morning, leaving there for Washington Saturday. Colonel Henry S. Osgood, a lifelong friend of Mr. Blaine's, was among his callers in his private car, and Mr. Blaine asked him if he thought he had improved since coming to Maine.

"Improved?" said Colonel Osgood, "I have never seen you looking better in my life, and I say it with all sincerity." "I have never felt better," replied the secretary, quietly, "and I have enjoyed every moment of my stay in Maine. I go back to my work invigorated and completely restored to health." THE POSSESSOR OF PERFECT HEALTH.

Mr. Blaine said he staid in Bar Harbor just as long as it was comfortable and pleasant, and then he went to Augusta, where he passed the past month pleasantly with his friends and neighbors. All his friends who saw him to-day were unanimous in the opinion that not for years has J. G. Blaine looked to be in the possession of such perfect health.

"It would be hard work to make some of the newspapers believe that I am a well man," he said, "but that is the fact, nevertheless."

Mr. Blaine refused to be interviewed in this city. It was his intention to defer his departure until next week, but he has improved so fast that two days ago he decided to start to-day, and so wired President Harrison. It is said that Mrs. Blaine has been anxious to get back to Washington. She has not been well for two weeks, and the house there is not the same as it was. St. Louis Physician Finds an Insect That Can Chew Tobacco

St. Louis, Oct. 21.-[Special.]-Dr. Ohmann Dumesnil has made an important liscovery. He is a great cigarette smoker, and had often noticed small brown holes in the paper surrounding the weed. A few days ago he decided to investigate. He found that the holes were made by a little insect. To a DISPATCH correspondent he said to-day, as he displayed a number of the bugs under the microscope. "This peculiar bug is what we call a Coleopterous insect. There are thousands of this family, but those I have under the glass and in yonder have are the only tobacco chowers I know of This insect is very small, as you see. It crawls into a box of cigarettes, bores a hole through the rice paper, lays an egg and then escapes. The larvæ develops into a worm, and, for the want of something better, it eats tobacco. You will notice that the mother insect always commences her operation near the end of the cigarette. The worm knows nothing except eating and escaping, and he starts for the end of the cigarette. a Railroad Company's Action. BUTTE CITY, MONT., Oct. 21.-Within the next ten days the famous Anaconda copper mine will be in full operation. Last spring the mine shut down. Two reasons had been given for this. One was that Haggin, believing that he owned and controlled the bulk of copper in the world, closed down in order to corner it. The other reason was that the railroad which runs from Anaconda over to Butte, a dis-tance of 25 miles, had concluded to charge Haggin its own rate for conveying the ore from the mine at Butte to Anaconda and returning the product ready for market from Anaconda to Butte. This Haggin would not consent to and he closed the mine. From what is considered a reliable source comes the information that within the next ten days 2,000 men will be put to work in the construction of a new line from Butte City to the smelters. This done, a new road will be built from Boise City, the intention being to extend it ultimately to the Pacific coast.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.-[Special.]-There was entered at the custom house to-day a cask of Scotch whisky, which was distinguished from other casks of whisky by the fact that its destination is the official residence of the President of the United States. It arrived by the steamer Furnessia, from Glasgow, on Thursday.

The papers for the entry were presented by Broker E. M. Ackerson to Collector Berryman, of the Second Division, and were in the name of Colonel Joel B. Whitehouse, a member of the New York Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, attempted suicide to-day, by shooting himself in the head, in the Clarendon, Brooklyn. Business troubles, and apprehension that he was suffering from consumption, are supposed to have driven him to the act. He lived with his wife and four children, the oldest 19 and the youngest 8, in a fine Brooklyn house. He left his home at 7:30 o'clock this morning, apparently in his usual health and spirits. Four hours later he entered the Clarendon hotel, and asked the clerk to give him the best vacant room in the house. In a few moments one of the servants heard loud laughter and moans in the room occupied by Mr. Whitehouse, and, supposing he was ill, she summoned the

A doctor found that the bullet had the flattened itself against the skull, and had flattened itself against the skull, and had probably not touched the brain. An ambulance was summoned, and Mr. Whitehouse was removed to the Long Island College Hospital. Mr. Whitehouse belonged to an old New York family, and, it is said, only recently came into an inheritence of $200,-000. He speculated heavily in St. Paul, and at the Consolidated Exchange it was said he was short 8,000 shares of this stock.

At Yesterday's Session of the Typothetæ in the Queen City.

CINNATI. Oct. 21.-[Special.]-The second day's session of the United Typothetæ of America, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, had an unusually large attendance. The Committee on International Copyright, appointed at the last convention, reported the passage by Congress of an act, which, while not entirely satisfactory, had many good points. The committee upon copyright in its report called attention to a number of defects in the law, but offered no suggestions as to beneficial changes. The committee asked for more time, which was granted. A committee to secure additional legislation was appointed, with R. T. A Spanking Post Wanted

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 21 .- [Special.] -Oscar Strouse, a 9-year-old son of Benjamin Strouse, of Meriden, was tried to-day in the Superior Court for arson. He set fire to several barns in Meriden, early in September. The jury found him guilty, and Judge Phelps imposed the lightest fine possible, 40 days in jail. In presenting the case, State Attorney Dolittle asked for a light sentence, and stated that he regretted that the days of the whipping post were passed, suggesting that a "spanking post" would be beneficial for some boys nowadays.

The few male confidents of the crusaders counseled legal measures, urging the women to appeal to the Mayor and police to prevent the performances. This plan was not favorably looked upon at first, but finally it was decided to make this concession to orderly methods, and a committee was appointed to influence the city officials.

PITY PATHERS COULDN'T BE MOVED. The committee went to the Court House, aw the officials and came away without getting any concession. The agent had paid his license, the city was billed, the performances advertised, and any arbitrary action on the part of the officials meant a law suit against the city and more trouble than a little. means to destroy the obnoxious pictures. Last evening a group of women armed with rakes, pitchforks and hatchets started out on their mission of destruction. While the band tooted a welcome at the Opera House entrance, half a dozen richly clad women, armed with weapons and a fierce determination, approached the bill boards and began the self-imposed task. The skirt dancer's shapely foot was obliterated, and her skirt lowered to the ground.

ONLY LEFT A DUDE'S PLUG HAT. The creature in pink tights was torn to shreds, and the dainty girl disguised as a dude was robbed of everything save her plug hat. Other women entered the stores and shops, and without ceremony tore from their fastenings the pretty lithographs that adorned the show windows, and trampled them under foot.

A mob, yelling and chaffing, followed the women, who soiled their drasses and lost their tempers before the work was ended. Scores of persons who had not given a thought to the performance were prompted to investigate the wickedness of the gaiety show, and a large audience was the result. The show was a good one, and the attendance to-night was even larger than that of last night. The crusade has been noised about this section, and many persons came in to-day from nearby towns to attend the performance.

TO JOIN THE ECONOMITES.

Some Talk of Radical Changes in the Society's Government. TRUSTEE DUSS TALKS CAUTIOUSLY.

Teed and Henrichi Will Not Be Interviewed.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED

There are quiet goings-on at the settlement of Economy at present, and ere long, if rumor proves true, a deal be consummated which will involve many millions of dollars. Dr. Cyrus Teed, the founder of the Koreshean Home, near San Francisco, and a similar institution in Chicago is closely closeted with President John Henrichi and John Duss upon a matter which is very substantially thought to be the receiving of Dr. Teed into the fold of the Economites. He has long been making overtures to this effect, and has come all the way from Sun Francisco to bring things the Sherill was called and arrived of battle between the Childs and the control of the control o Numerous stories have been floating indiscriminately about the country that Dr. Teed was preparing to negotiate a loan of $150,000,000 from the society at Economy, which is known to be fabulous!\(\vec{\psi}\) wealthy, but this is looked upon as absurd by President Henrichi and Trustee Duss. The usual air of quietude pervaded the little weird town yesterday, but a painful silence greeted the reporter when he attempted to call an answer as to the why Numerous stories have been floating inhe attempted to call an answer as to the why and wherefore of Dr. Teed's presence in the village. Even John Duss, who is usually so affable with every one, refused to tell his mission and declared himself ignorant of any scheme which might be hatching.

Teed Applying for Membership.
The impression is that Dr. Teed is here to make application for membership to the Economy Society and subsequently bring about an amalgamation or confederation of the celebate societies of the United States.

From a reliable source it is learned by THE DISPATCH that Dr. Teed has been in communication with the head men at the Economy Society, and it is intimated that his overtures have not beenmet with disfavor. Another story is to the effect that Teed wished to establish a commercial equity business, which is on the plan of doing away with all profits to dealers, wholesale and retail, by dealing directly with the manufacturers and the consumers. It is said that Teed wishes to borrow the money from the Economites, which will amount to $200,000 or $300,000, to successfully inaugurate this scheme, and carry it to a finish. His aim now is to affilcarry it to a mish. His aim now is to ami-iate himself into the good graces of Veteran Henricki, and through the combined efforts of John Duss, who is an admirer—it might be said a disciple—of Dr. Teed, he hopes to accomplish the desired ground to-night, and had it not been for his coolness and advice several men would have been killed by the enraged farmers, who say they are being robbed of their rights. To-night it is said by the Childs faction that the legal points will be settled in the case before any attempt will be made again to brave the farmers, but it is feared by parobject. May Publish His Paper Here. The latter has two papers which are published in the interests of the Koreshaan Homes in San Francisco and Chicago, and it is also hinted that these sheets will be moved with the parapherualia and printing apparatus to Pittsburg or Econ-omy, if Dr. Teed is installed a member, Soon to Engross the Attention of the Transwhich is almost beyond peradventure, judging from the tenor of talk from John Duss OMAHA, Oct. 21 .- The debate on the free last night. The names of the papers are the Plough Share and Pruning Hook, of Frisco, and the Flaming Sword, of Chicago.

For a long time the question agitating the community has been, who will succeed John Henrichi? There has been a trail of misfortune following every name mentioned heretofore, and no less than three men suggested met with accident or died, and since then a halo of superstition has hung over the office, no one signifying their willingness to serve. However, the latest and most popular man mentioned is Hammond Fishern, who is a bright, brilliant mem-ber, of only five years' standing. When spoken to anent the matter, he was as modest and diffident as a schoolboy, and merely said he did not strive for the nosi.

tion, but only worked for the welfare and interest of the society. It is said that a factional spirit has sprung up, in which Fishern was ignored, although John Duss says he has the warmest feeling toward the What Mr. Duss Has to Say, After the DISPATCH writer made peated inquiries for Dr. Teed and President Henrichi and in turn being informed that they could not be seen. Trustee John Duss consented to an interview.

He admitted that Dr. Teed was there, the following:

While on a visit to my son, who is an officer in the army, the question was asked me "Why has not Western Pennsylvania an army post." I was struck with the force of the question. An army post could be established in the vicinity of Pittsburg. In my opinion, after looking carefully over the ground, it certainly is the piaces It is a railroad center, and troops could be easily sent to any part of the country where they might be needed. With an army post near Pittsburg, riots such as you had in 1877 would be next to impossible. In addition to that, socially and otherwise, it would be quite an attraction to Pittsburg, and would be a very pleasant and desirable post for the soldiers. out said he did not know what was the object of his visit. He also stated that if Dr. Tweed did join the society the idea of his succeeding President Henrici was nonsense. He spoke seriously about Mr. Fisher's chances of succeeding the present president. He did not know that the Koreshean Society was financially weak. He thought they had made a great deal of money in California. "Do you believe in Dr. Teed's doctrine?" Once more the trustee hesitated, but an-wered finally: "Well, the principles and mode of life are fundamentally the same as ours, and what I have read of it his ideas are very deep and scientific. His explana-tions of the difficult questions of the Bible are very consistent, and in some instances wonderful."

"Are you using any efforts to induce Dr

Teed to join the society?"
"No, I am not." "Are you in favor of receiving him and his following?"
"I am in favor of Confederation if the right people are brought together."
"Doesn't Dr. Teed claim he is the Messiah or Jesus Christ?"

"Well, no; he merely claims that he is the Shepherd the Stone of Israel." "Do you think there will be a radical change in the Economite Society soon in their doctrine, rules, etc."

Afraid to Answer Direct. To this Mr. Duss would not give a direct and positive answer, but warded the inter-rogative thrust off by saying: "I think there will be a radical change in the whole world soon. These labor troubles, political strifes, both foreign and domestic, immorality and dishonesty of public officers and trusted men, and many other damaging issues will bring about some sort of a reaction result which will revolutionize country. Regarding the story of the silk searf which a Chicago paper says was made for the Messiah, and purported to have been stolen by two girls and given to Teed is laughed at by Mr. Duss. He says his cousin, who is a member of the Chicago Unity, had one of the scarfs made by the Economites 50 ago, and which she presented to Dr. Teed as a token of her esteem and friendship.

As a final question the reporter asked:

"Does Dr. Teed believe in theocracy, and does he expect to be theocracized, and do you coincide with him?
"Well, 'we shall not all fall asleep, We shall be changed in a twinkling of an eye at the last trump."
