"I think it possible that Cashier Livsey has gone to England," said United States District Attorney Lyon in speaking of the missing man so greatly wanted by the State Administration. "As is well known, he is an Englishman and fought in the Crimean War. His relatives live in that country and when he resigned his office, he might have quietly gone to New York and taken a ship without telling his people anything about his attentions. I do the not think it possible that he could be in this | as country without some person getting track of him. He was well known, and could not be in Minneapolis without being seen. Even if he went to England, he may not be in hiding, for, of course, English papers will have nothing about the State investigation, and he may not be communicating with anyone. I always considered him honest and careful. I am not saving that he is innocent, but if he is guilty I will consider myself a poor judge of human nature. The man I pity in this investigation is State Treasurer Boyer. I do not believe he was guilty of any dishonesty or even carelessness. He has been an unfortunate man since elected to the position he now holds. A Westmoreland County Man Talks About Politics.

Curtis H. Gregg, Democratic candidate for District Attorney in Westmoreland county, passed through Pittsburg yesterday. He had just heard that a report had been circulated to the effect that his friends are anding James D. Best, the Democratic nominee for Clerk of Courts, in order to benefit himself. Mr. Gregg indignantly defined the report. He said it was a Republican scheme to create bad feeling between himself and Best.

The soldier vote is light Westmoreland county, and will not help to Republicans. The few veterans there belong to the Republican party. The Dem-ceratic county ticket, I think, is safe. I have been at every election precinct, and feel sure of my own election."

A Scab Aggregation.

"I have had strikes on all kinds of questions," said a prominent Democratic street mitway man from the South, who was in attendance at the Street Railway Convention last week, "but the most peculiar was the day after Harrison was elected President. I was running a mule road then. The cars started out all right in the mornbut about 8 o'clock they all stopped, and telephone messages commenced coming in stating that the mules would not go Every one of them balked, and we had t put horses on. Two days afterward I found out the trouble. The mules had struck because they thought the American voters had unde donkeys of themselves and were a aggregation."

In the action he virtually classed the courts of justice as incompetent and unworthy to sit in judgment on the cases of Bover and McCamant, and gave their fate into the hands of a Republican Senate. I have no partisan feeling in their cases. If they are guilty of the charges against them punishent should be meted out to them the same

INTERESTING LOCAL LABOR MATTERS

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the convention of the striking miners commenced in K. of L. headquarters on Third avenue. There were 72 delegates present to represent the 10,000 striking miners. President Costello was in the chair and first called for the reports of committees. These reports were very encouraging. After the different reports were heard National President Rac and President Costello each made speeches, in which they advised the men to stand firm. A committee on resolutions was anpointed, after which the convention adjourned for dinner.

About 2 o'clock the body reassembled and were in session until about 5 o'clock. After the session President Rae said: "This is the most successful meeting of the kind I ever attended. Seventy-two delegates are a good many to get together, but the miners are so firm in their strike that unusual interest is taken in this meeting.

RAE PAINTS A CHEERFUL PICTURE. "This afternoon's meeting was spent in horoughly discussing the situation. President Dempster, of the Pittsburg Coal Company, was present all afternoon. He was there to try and convince the miners that they were in the wrong, but I am of the opinion the miners succeeded in convincing him of the opposite. He thought the miners had broken their yearly contracts by refusing to work after October 1. The miners proved to him that the operators had violated their contracts in every par-ticular as to the prices paid, and there had even been some unfair things in that line by the operators.

"The meeting will not end the strike, nor was it called for that purpose. We always have these meetings just to arrive at better understandings with the men. Nothing in the way of compromising the matter was

WILL BE IN SESSION MONDAY. "We did not finish our business to-day, as the whole afternoon was taken up in hear ing President Dempster's arguments. We meet again on Monday morning, and will probably remain in session all day. On Monday the Committee on Resolutions will report. As to what the embodiment of the resolutions are I am not prepared to say."

The West Newton operators were jubilant last night over the condition of the strike as many of the men have returned to work on the Youghiogheny river. Scott's No. 2, 100 men were at work, out of that number there being about 20 Huns. At Banning 50 men were in, an increase of 40. Pacific mines started up with 20 men. In the Youghiogheny district 125 gondolas were loaded, an increase of 65 cars over Friday's loading. Probably Monday will see all the mines on the river at work. A good winter's run will be had as orders for gas coal are away ahead of the production while the local trade is excellent.

HOLMES ON THE RACK AGAIN.

penters Now Re-Opens His Case and Demands That He Make a Public De nial-Threatened With Expulsion.

During November and December of last year a vote was taken by the carpenters of Pittsburg and vicinity on the advisability of calling a strike on May 1, 1891. Out of this vote it will be remembered a fight sprung up between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and E. A. Holmes, a member of Union 230, of Pittsburg. Now another complication has arisen. Mr. Holmes told his story to a DISPATCH reporter yesterday and it is as follows:

"The voting last winter," said Mr. Holmes, was against the strike, as has since been shown again and again, but notwithstanding the actual return of the vote, the District Council gobbled the reports and none but the elect have been able to see them. After they had secured the returns

"This action was opposed by many members of the brotherhood and especially by Unions 165, 506, 230, 337 and others. I was opposed to it, and for the fight I have made against the unjust, arbitrary and unconsti-tutional acts of the local officials I have incurred their enmity as well as that of the general officers of the brotherhood. This has found vent in many expressions current among the carpenters of the city to the effect that they would deprive me of a living and compel me to leave the city. "I was tried once just after the conclusion of the strike and was acquitted by the court of inquiry. I was again charged by General Secretary P. J. McGuire with having given an interview published in THE DIS-FATCH of July 15, and was recently tried on this charge. The attorney for McGuire at this time was R. J. Davis, President of the District Council. In this court the verdict was unanimous in favor of acquittal. Against this verdict of the court, which constitutionally is the highest tribunal, McGuire took an appeal to the General Executive Board. This board met last week and ordered Union No. mand of me that I publicly deny having anything to do with the article in THE DISPATCH of July 15, and in ease I re-fuse to make the denial, expell me from the Brotherhood.

"I am not averse to saying what is right and just in the matter. What action Union 230 will take now I do not know. I will take the matter to the General Convention next year if necessary, but I judge that the body of carpenters are too honorable to al-low one of their brethren to suffer an unjust expulsion from the order. It was proven at the time of my trial that I did not give the natter to THE DISPATCH. McGuire and

May Have Trouble Finding Coal. A party of Pittsburgers whose names could not be learned have joined with some Californians to develop a large body of Bes-

A Pittsburg iron manufacturer, in speaking of it yesterday, said that the only trouble in developing it would be in the trouble of finding suitable coal in California for coking purposes.

LAID BY BISHOP WHITEHBAD.

Laying the Corner Stone of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The corner stone of the new Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, Second and Johnston avenues, Hazelwood, was laid vesterday afternoon. Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, D. D., Bishop of the Pittsburg diocese, officiated, and was assisted by Rev. Andrew D. Heffern, rector; Rev. Marison Byllesby, of Emanuel Church, Allegheny; Rev. E. A. Augell, of Crafton; Rev. W. N. Webble, St. John's Church, Lawrenceville; Rev. W. Rogers, Verona; Rev. Daniel Duroe, of St. Luke's Church; Rev. Thomas Garland, St. Peter's; Rev. G. A. M. Dyers, Bellevue, and Rev. James Foster. Bishop Whitehead and the clergy marched to the new foundation from the rectory, while the surpliced choir, accompanied by a cornet, sang the one hundred and twentysecond psalm. After devotional exercises in which the large congregation present took part, the Bishop laid the corner stone. Following this a brief address was made by Rev. Marison Byllesby, of Allegheny. He congratulated the congregation upon its success, and wished it "god-speed" in its new house of worship. The Bishop also made a few remarks appropriate to the oc-casion. After referring to the number of new churches in the Pittsburg diocese dur-ing the past year, the Bishop said that every new corner stone is a protest against unbelief and an evidence that Christianity is spreading. He dwelt at some length upon this theme, and concluded the cere-monies with prayer and the benediction.

The Leading Bankers and Mannfacturer Add Their Praise to the Efficiency of the Regular Republican Candidates on the County Ticket, The indorsements of the Judges of Com-

Mr. H. K. Porter, of the H. K. Porter Locomotive Works, said: "I am in favor of the present bench. That will be my ticket beyond doubt. I am for Judges, Porter, McClung and Kennedy."
George I. Whitney, broker, said: "Of course I am for Judges Porter, McClung and Kennedy. They are eminently qualified, and I can see no reason why they should not be elected. In fact, I think there is no doubt about it. Joshua Rhodes, President of the Penn-sylvania Tube Works: "I am most heartily n favor of Judges Porter, McClung and

Kennedy. They are men well known for their brains and ability." Mr. Max Moorhead, iron manufacturer: "I am not an alleged 'straightout.' I am a stanch Republican. I am and have always been one. I am for the regular Re-publican ticket which was regularly nomi-

W. R. Thompson, banker: "Both Judges Kennedy and McClung have been personal friends of mine and are in my mind excel-lent men. I do not know so much about Judge Porter, but from all indications he is their equal, as he has been spoken of in business circles in a very complimentary manner. Charles E. Speer, First National Bank said: "I consider the regular Republican ticket a good one. I refer especially to the gentlemen nominated for Judges and Disrict Attorney, because I have known all of them for many years. It would be difficult to make a better selection. I have no doubt of their election, and I have perfect confidence that they will fill their offices with credit to themselves and the entire satisfaction of the community." George A. Kelley: "The present incum-bents (Judges Porter, Kennedy and Mc-Clung) will have my hearty support."

Mr. A. E. W. Painter, iron manufacturer: 'I have no fault to find with the regular Republican ticket. Judges Kennedy, Porter and McClung, and District Attorney Burleigh are entirely satisfactory. I shall support it without a cut."

Mr. B. F. Jones, of Jones & Laughlins, iron manufacturer: "I am a Republican, as everybody knows. I will support the ticket named by the County Committee. I consider it the regular ticket, and I might be more emphatic by saying that it could not be improved upon. District Attorney Burleigh has acquitted himself admirably during his short term of office. They should all be elected " Thomas McBride, Superintendent of La Belle Steel Works: "I think the Governor's appointments were fair, and that he was wise in his selections. I think Judges Kennedy, Porter and McClung should be elected to succeed themselves, and I shall vote for them and do what I can to that

W. Dewees Wood, iron manufacturer: "I heartily indorse the candidacy of Judges McClung, Porter and Kennedy and District Attorney Burleigh. I will do all in my power to secure their election. The manucturers and business men seem to be a unit for them. The bench should be as far removed as possible from politics." Mr. D. Leet Wilson, of Fort Pitt National Mr. D. Leet Wilson, of Fort Pitt National Bank, said: "I have had an acquaintance with Judges Kennedy and McClung and consider them excellent lawyers and would like to see them elected. I am going to vote the whole regular Republican ticket."

THE WALKER SMOKE CONSUMER GIVES ENTIRE SATISFACTION.

West Penn Hospital and Health Officials Stamp It With Their Highest Indorsements.

LARGE ECONOMY IN FUEL.

Made by the Most Eminent and Practical Engineers.

A practical demonstration of what the R. L. Walker Smoke Consumer will do was made at the West Penn Hospital yesterday. Any unfavorable comments made about this consumer were thoroughly set at rest by the demonstration. Among those present were Mrs. J. M. Oakley and Mrs. J. B. Pontefract, representing the Ladies' Health Protective Association; Major J. F. Denniston, Samuel Hamilton, and Superintend-ent Cowan of the hospital; W. C. Burzy, the well-known lumber dealer, and quite a number of other prominent business men and manufacturers interested in seeing practical and successful consumer adopted for general use. The result of the test was that if any one went there with any other idea than that the consumer did everything that is claimed for it, they had their opinion that is claimed for it, they had their opinion completely reversed, for every one joined in one general remark of commendation.

"It is wonderful." said one. "It beats anything I have ever seen," said another, and "it goes beyond all my expectations," added the third. Mr. Walker has gone at the problem with the theory that smoke is essentially waste and should be converted into fuel. If the coal is completely consumed, according to his idea, there would be no smoke; and the reason coal is not completely consumed is that it does not receive sufficient oxygen to perfect the combustion. What he herefore, and does it successfully, is to furnish enough oxygen at a high tempera-ture to burn all the smoke that has formed He consumes 90 per cent of the smoke for certainty, and therefore, turning this into fuel, saves a large percentage of coal.

The tests and letters below clearly show the large amount of economy in coal and the great evaporation of water, both of the greatest interest to users of steam power. The arrangement is so simple that any ordinary fireman can learn to run it success fully in two or three hours. In the test yesterday, as at all other times, when the furnaces are attended to properly, the smoke was consumed, the only time that any was emitted from the stack being when the fireman fired up or cleaned the flues. As soon as the doors were closed the smoke stopped immediately. The test was watched with a great deal of interest. After it was over, Mr. Hamilton was seen. "I had almost made up my mind that this consumer was not a success, but I find I was unjustly criticising it. It was our own fault. Mr. Walker has demonstrated to our satisfaction that our man did not quite understand how to fire the furnace. He has shown us how the work is to be done, and I guess we will get along better in the future."

Major Denniston said he felt satisfied that the consumer would do all that was claimed for it, but one might with as great a degree of common sense put an incompetent engin eer on a railway locomotive and expect himto run it successfully as to expect an inexperienced and faulty fireman to get results rom a smoke-consumer. Mrs. Oakley seemed very much interested in the invention, and the reporter ventured to ask her for an opinion on it. She said: "Being president of the Ladies' Health Protective Association, I am interested in seeing the greatest possible perfection at tained in the matter of smoke consumers. We will enforce every ordinance we have to insure cleanliness. I had heard that this consumer was making too much smoke, and we came here for the purpose of making a personal inspection of it with a view to re-porting it to our association, if we found anything wrong about it, but I am very free to confess that it seems very satisfactory to me. I find it a much more complete and better arrangement than I had expected to see, and I am very sure that if none of the other consumers made more smoke than this one does, our association would have no cause for complaint."

Mrs. Pontefract, who accompanied Mrs.
Oakley, indorsed what the latter said.

Superintendent Cowan said the consumer was new to their man, and they had not been getting the results from it that they had anticipated, but he was satisfied that the arrangement was all right and would do all that was claimed for it, if handled prop-

Mr. Walker would not say anything about the consumer himself. He was very much pleased at having proven the excellence of the apparatus to those who inspected it, and did not care to express any further opinion. The following clarly demonstrates the efficiency of the Walker smokeless furnace. Messrs. Holingsworth & Vose, paper manufacturers at East Walpole, Mass., had new boiler set recently by the Robert L. Walker Smokeless Furnace Company and are so well pleased with the results obtained from a test made by George H. Barrus (the result we give below) that they have or-dered the smoke consumer put on the rest of their boilers at once.

The following is Mr. Barrus' letter: GEORGE H. BARRUS, and Consulting Steam Engineer, 95 Milk street. Boston, Boston, Oct. 19, 1891.

Messrs. Holingsworth & Vose, 44 Federal street, Boston, Mass. GENTLEMEN-I beg to report briefly that the results of my evaporative test of your new 72-inch boiler, set with the Walker furnace, was an evaporation of 11.622 pounds of water per pound of coal from and at 212 degrees, the coal being of the Pocahontas semi-bituminous class. The heat tests of the coal in my calori meter show a total heat of combustion of 14.114 B. T. U. per pound of coal, which is an indication of superior quality.

I will give further details regarding the

that your smoke consumers put under our boilers are giving us entire satisfaction, and are doing all you promised for them.
We are getting from 25 per cent to 33 per cent more steam without any additional fuel, and are satisfied that we are not producing as much smoke by 90 per cent as we were doing under the former arrangement of ur boilers. Yours truly, THE SPANG STEEL AND IRON Co.,

JOHN C. PORTER, Treasurer NEW YORK, March 27, 1891. lobert L. Walker, Esq., Boston, Mass. DEAR SIR-In regard to the several conversations we have had together, I desire to say that upon careful investigation I think you have got one of the best appliances for mical generation of steam that I have ever seen.

I have carefully investigated the application of this device, and think that you have got the secret of burning amoke. got the secret of burning smoke.

This is a matter that perhaps, like most other engineers, I have considered impossible; but, taking the matter in a theoretical point of view, I have seen that your furnace, throwing down the smoke in the first place by reverberatory action, throws the carbon of the unconsumed smoke back again on the rear of the grates, where a fresh introduction of air, with its carbonic oxide, will tend to consume the same and deliver, almost practically free, gases to the outer air. Mfg. Co.'s, 6 Sixth street.

This will result in not only the saving of the smoke nuisance in our large cities, but will also result in the saving of fuel to boiler owners, as we all know that the wast-ing of carbon is a direct loss. I think you have struck the keynote to a very large improvement in steam boiler construction. am yours truly, R. M. HUSTON, M. E.

JAMES N. LEWIS.

ONE OF THE OLDEST ENGINEERS ON THE ALLEGHENY VALLEY RAIL-ROAD HAS A NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

In a Railway Collision He Was Thrown

From His Engine, Sustaining Serious In-jury to His Ankie-He Claims His Remarkable Recovery Due to Electricity. One of the oldest and most prominent en gineers on the Allegheny Valley Railroad known all along the line between Pittsburg and Oll City, is Jimmie Lewis. His train met with a collision near Kittanning on the 14th inst., throwing him from his engine and incurring serious injury to his right ankle. In speaking of the accident he says "I have had many narrow escapes, but this one was just a little too quick for me. Nevertheless, I was thankful to come out of it with one ankle rendered helpless, which no deubt would have laid me up for some time had I not gone to the Electrical and Medical Lections 42. and Medical Institute, 442 Penn avenue, where by the use of electricity the pain was eadened at once and the swelling reduced relieving me of all lameness, so that I was able to report for duty in three days. They have a great many patients treating for chronic nilments, but I want to say that if the boys would take advantage of that treatment when first receiving an injury it would save them money and tinfe."

nue, Pittsburg. Shock in the Custom House,

Great commotion and surprise in the Pittsburg Custom House was caused by the first importation of diamonds that was ever made direct in bond to Pittsburg, Mr. M. J. Smit, the Smithfield street jeweler, de-J. Smit, the Smithfield street jeweler, de-serving full credit for so doing. Mr. Smit is a professional diamond polisher, and that certainly entitles him to be considered the best expert in the city. Mr. Smit left for Europe in July and returned the latter part of September, 1891. During his stay in Amsterdam, Holland, he visited the largest factories where the diamonds are cut and pol-ished, and from them made personal selec-tion of an elegant lot of diamonds, varying in weight as smill as 1-64 of a karat up to 10 in weight as small as 1-64 of a karat up to 10 harats each stone.

The great display and sale of said diamonds will begin on Tuesday, October 27, and will be personally superintended by M. J. Smit, who will assist purchasers in the selection of ear drops, lace pins, neck-laces, hair pins, or any design in mounting of said diamonds will be carefully executed. Now is your time to secure great bargains in diamonds, as they will be sold at lower prices than ever offered in this city or any part of the United States. You can make your holiday selections and we will take care of them for you free of charge until called for.

VERY

Yes, with the emphasis on the "swell," that is what our fine MERCHANT TAILOR-MADE GARMENTS actually are. No such fine Top Coats, Prince Alberts, Cutaway Frock or Sack Suits have ever been on sale in Pittsburg as these shown this season in our various departments. It was a master stroke on the part of our traveling purchasing agent when he secured such magnificent garments at the early setting in of the season. There is nothing loud about the patterns, rather quiet and subdued, but really rich and elegant, and, best of all, the prices are such as place them within the reach of almost anybody.
