Dr. Stanton Thinks Departed Souls Serve an Apprenticeship.

CORNER STONE LAID ON THE HILL.

The St. Benedict Catholic Church Dedicated

by Bishop Phelan. WORDS OF WISDOM FROM PREACHERS

Rev. Dr. W. A. Stanton, of the Shady avenue Baptist Church, departed from the orthodox path in his sermon last night, under the subject, "Where and with whom are the souls of the righteous immediately after death?" The text, taken from St. Luke, xxiii chapter and 43d verse, was This day shalt thou be with me in para-

Dr. Stanton claimed that between death and the resurrection there was an intermediate state, not of a purgatorial character, where the soul might be redeemed from bad to good, but an absolute state, graded according to the sinfulness or wickedness of life. "The text," he said, "gave the world a hitherto unseen glimpse into the furure, and answers the question propounded on the subject, 'Where are the souls of the righteous immediately after death?' 'In lu following up this line of reasoning Dr. Stanton said the word paradise, which corred only three times in the New Testament, was undoubtedly of Persian origin, and was undoubtedly of Persian organ, and was applied to the pleasure gardens of the Oriental monarchs, while in the Old Testament it was applied to the Garden of Eden. The Bible, he said, indicates an inior and a celestial paradise, the text referring to the inferior. The other is some-times called the Paradise of God. It is the abode of the saints, where they are taken by Christ at his second coming and where He is now presuring places for them. After "this day," referred to in the text, had passed, Christ said to many, "I am not yet seended to My Father."

SEPARATED BY A GULF.

He had then been to a Paradise, but not the celestial one. In the parable of Dives and Lazarus Christ taught that the good and the bad are in places for departed spirits, separated by an inseparable gulf, but enpable of holding some kind of com-

We conclude then," said the pastor, that the Bible teaches the existence of a so parts: Paradise the delightful abode of the good until the day of judgment, and schenna, the awful abode of the wicked until the same time. Christ says he has the keys of Hades and Death, therefore these places are under His absolute control, and we are to believe that the souls of the dead are subject to Him prior to the final judgment. The text also nuswers the question, 'With whom are the souls immediately after death?' 'With

Why did Christ go to this paradise instead of directly to heaven? That He might pass through the entire experience of the human soul, from its birth to its resurrection in the spiritual body. Along this course, for every soul, lies the realm of departed spirits, and even that our Savior ould not pass by.

CHEIST IN PARADISE.

He went to paradise, returned to earth, remained 40 days and then ascended to His Father. Christ promised this entrance to paradise with Him that day. There was no terrening sleep of the soul between death and the resurrection, no intermediate purgotorial torments, but immediate life and im-mediate conscious rest with Christ,"

In the morning Dr. Stanton delivered his second sermon on the Sunday question. the previous Sunday he had compared the merican with the European Sabbath observance, much to the advantage of the former Vesterday he showed how the American ob servance of the day could be improved by properly teaching the children that God has ordered that the day be kept sacred and then showing our belief in what we teach by practising it closely ourselves. There were enty of laws, and good laws, a number of ch were cited by the speaker without forence to the Blue Laws, which would asist and make the Sabbath observance per-ert, but they were not enforced. Teach the existence and nothing more will be needed. No more laws are necessary for preventing Sunday baseball, Sunday saloons or any other amusement.

ISAAC, THE RICH MAN'S HEIR.

Dr. Cowan Says Abraham's Son Was an Angel From Heaven.

Bev. E. P. Cowan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, took for his subject last evening, "Isaac, the Rich Man's Heir." The text was from Genesis xiii., 2; xxv., 6, and xxi., 12 He said from all these simple words we gather that he was God's chosen beir. He received all of Abraham's worldly conds and was also beir to all of God's comises to Abraham. A CHURCH FOR THE HEIGHTS.

Hill Methodists, After a Long Struggle, Lay

the Corner Stone. The corner stone of the Haven Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Oneida and Sycamore streets, Thirty-fifth ward, was laid yesterday afternoon. This is the only church in the ward, and it was the first time that the ceremony of laying a corner stone had been performed. The result was that life," said Father Mollinger yesterday. It half the population of DuquesneHeights assembled to witness the services.

The Rev. W. H. Rodenbaugh, pastor of the church, was in charge, assisted by Pre- number has seldom been equaled in the siding Elder J. W. Miller, the Rev. T. N. Boyle, of the First M. E. Church of Braddock; the Rev. C. E. Locke, of the Smithfield Street M. E. Church; the Rev. T. N. Miller, of the Oakland M. E. Church, and the Rev. M. S. Montgomery, of the Mount Washington M. E. Church. The services were conducted according to the ritual of the M. E. Church, after which each of the visiting preschers spoke briefly to the as-semblage. The box placed in the corner stone contained copies of the daily papers, a roll of the members, and other things.

The new church will be a frame building 42x55 feet, and will cost $7,000; the lot cost $1,600, and already $4,500 has been raised to pay for ground and building. The Haven Church was organized by the Rev. Mr. Williams in 1866, with 10 members, and for a long time met at his house. In 1880 they built a little church on Sweetbriar street.

The congregation has grown to 108 members, with 275 persons in the Sunday school. WITH THE SPIRITUALISTS.

One Gld Lady Sees Her Mother, Who Had

Been Dead Many Years. Hon, Sidney Dean, of Warren, R. I. lectured in the First Church of the Spiritualists last night. The audience was large, and gave the speaker very close attention. At the close of his lecture, which was not in the least of a sensational nature, he told his hearers that this talk finished his lectures in Pittsburg and that he was going home to-night.

After he had quit speaking the audience pressed around him saving goodby. One old lady, who was in the group, de-clared her mother who had 'passed over," a number of years ago, was standing beside Mr. Dean during the entire services, and that since she had been attending the meetings she had often seen and talked with her.

Rapids, Mich., will begin a series of lec-tures in this church next Sunday.

Preached a Trial Sermon Rev. R. C. Wylie, of Ray, Inc., who has een called to the pastorate of the Wilkinsburg Reformed Presbyterian Church, from which Rev. J. R. Burnett was dismissed for heresy by the Presbytery last spring, preached his first sermon in Wilkinsburg yesterday morning. He chose for his text the words, "Teach Us to Pray," Luke il, 1. Mr. Wylie has not accepted the call to the church, but it is expected that he will do so.

Sermons in Prison. Religious services at the inil vesterday vere conducted by Mr. Whiteside, of the Moorhead Mission. An address was made by Rev. Dr. Dowie, the faith cure disciple rom Australia who talked to the 25 prisoners in an entertaining manner. The sing-ing was one of the features, and was rendered by the Misses Bird.

STRUCK A LITTLE BONANZA.

The Wilkinsburg Branch of the Puquesne Doing a Rushing Business-One of the Most Profitable Bits of Road Reject by One Company and Left to the Last by Another

The residents of Wilkinsburg and of Penn avenue from East Liberty out to the city line enjoyed a new sensation vesterday. The brisk rumble of electric motors brought them out into the crisp October air and bright sunshine; and from their lawns and porches they hailed with delight the electric cars.

By the branch line of the Duquesn which began operating Saturday evening, and which continued with great success vesterday, that section of Wilkinsburg south of the Pennsylvania Railroad is literally lifted out of the mud. To all parts of the borough the new road is a convenience as well as a saving. Fare to the Union lepot, Pittsburg, for single tickets is 20 ents by the railroad. By the street car line a Wilkinsburger can get to town for 8 cents, or to East Liberty for 5 cents, The cars will also run much more frequently than the trains. The opening of a new road to a Western town that had not previously had the benefits of a railroad could not have been regarded with livelier interest than was the almost every trip from 45, to 60 fares. Other crowds gathered along the route, and the experience of a road-opening was enjoyed to the fullest.

From present appearances it would seem decidedly that the Wilkinsburg branch will be the best paying one of the Duquesne system. It runs from one bustling town to another, from Wilkinsburg to East Lib-erty, and besides furnishes such an advantage in fares and a convenience as to fre-quency of cars that its resources will be heavily taxed. The distance is short, being covered in about 15 minutes or less, including all stops, while the 5 cent fares mount up. Originally there was a horse car line planued for this route, and the rails were even laid, property owners along it sub-scribing some $20,000 to its construction. The enterprise, however, fell through. The franchise passed into the hands of the Du-quesne people for a trifle over $12,000. There promises to be a bonanza in it now, But that is owing to the electricity, which gives rapid operation. It could not have been foreseen in the horse-car period. The development of the railroad system in Pittsburg must be as much of a surprise to some of the persons engaged in the bus-iness as to outsiders. When the Fifth Avenue cable line was built its reasonable route should have been to Wilkinsburg, through the rapidly settling Homewood section, but its projectors could not be got to run it farther than Shady Lane and East Liberty. The result is the valuable Wil-kinsburg territory was left to be gathered in by a later company. Even the Duquesne people did not seem to have a high opinion of the Wilkinsburg feeder, as it was left the last of the system to be opened; but the directors were riding on it Saturday with an expression of lively satisfaction in the demands upon its facilities. Several more cars will have to be put on at once to ac-

JOINING HIS CHURCH.

With Father Mollinger.

The Priest in Good Health and Turning Out Remarkable Cures.

SICK PEOPLE COMING FROM INDIANA

"This is one of the happiest days of my was confirmation day at the Church of His Most Holy Name, and about 250 children had been received by Bishop Phelan. The largest congregations, and never before in Allegheny. Father Mollinger's fame has spread until the Catholics of all Upper Allegheny have become anxious join his church, believing that to be under his priesthood will insure divine favor. The congregation has spread until the large church just at the head of the Troy Hill steps has become too small to accommodate the crowds, and frequently on warm summer days services are held on the lawn.

by the Bishop and Fathers Mollinger, Laengst and Smith. The impressive church children and adults. About half of those confirmed were girls, dressed in snowy white and attended by 25 Sisters. The exercises commenced at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mass had been held at 7:30 and 8:30 in the morning and high mass at 10. Troy Hill turned out in solid ranks to witness the great triumph of the church, and the many who could not get inside waited in silent reverence for the exercises to close. THE PRIEST IS WELL. Father Mollinger says his health is good, There are about 70 patients on Troy Hill now receiving his blessing every morning and taking the medicines prescribed. Although little is said of the wonderful cures claimed, except on St. Anthony's Day, the people in the vicinity allege that miracles people in the vicinity allege that miracles are worked all the time. Among the more recent cures mentioned is that of Dr. John N. Firsch, of Batesville, Ind. A medical practicioner of high standing himself, he came to Father Mollinger partly to ascertain what is the power of the aged priest, and also to see if an internal trouble, with which he had been suffering for years, could be enred. He came to Allegheny could be cured. He came to Allegheny Several of the ladies wept quite freely as they bid Mr. Dean goodby.

by Divine power.

Another letter from Alfred Smith, of Batesville, Schuylkill county, states that he will go to work to-day after having been compelled to remain idle for eight years on account of rheumatism. He left Troy Hill last week after having been there three days.

A CARLOAD COMING.

A special car to carry patients to Troy Hill is one of the things proposed by J. G. Walls, station agent at Evansville, Ind., who claims he has been cured by Father Mollinger. He writes that since his return from Troy Hill to Evansyille two weeks ago his office has been constantly besieged by people anxious to know if Father Mol-

SUNDAY IN THE PARKS.

Warmth and Sunshine Drew Crowds to the City's Beauty Spots.

It would be difficult to conceive a more beautiful fall day than was yesterday. Thousands of the people of the two cities took advantage of the warmth and general delightfulness of the day to visit the parks, and the streets were also thronged with people out for an airing.

At Highland Park the benches were filled with visitors long before noon, and in the afternoon thousands more came and kept moving about the grounds around the big reservoirs. During the past week the park has been entirely denuded of the flowers and plants which have been one of its beauties, on account of the approaching winter, and the grass has become yellow in spots for want of water and by reason of the frosts, but the glory of autumu is upon the scene and it still has charms for the people.

At Schenley Park, too, there was an imarded with livelier interest than was the pening of the Wilkinsburg branch. Crowds ode on every car—the register showing on linest every trip from 45, to 60 fares. rigs of every description. The beauty Schenley Park, consisting as it does in its roads and trees, shows off now to its best advantage, for while the former are in most excellent condition, the latter are assuming all the variegated and beautiful shades of fall foliage. Numerous parties, generally in pairs, were observed yesterday gathering autumn leaves and ferns, and the assort ment at hand was large and varied. one-mile electric road, that leads into the park from Boquet street, broke down during the afternoon before the travel became heaviest and disappointed many who desired to enter by that route. The Duquesne and Fifth Avenue lines both did a rushing business to and from the East End from noon until after dark.
