had the courage to stand by our convictions.

Ince.

After Rev. Milligan was seen a short whirl around the corner to Buena Vista street brought the reporter to Prof. D. B. Wilson. He does not take THE DISPATCH, and consequently had not seen the decision. but had heard of it incidentally on the street and at the Park Institute.,

He expressed himself as not caring to be interviewed on the subject. He, however, said that the result was a rather expected one, and was no surprise to him. "It don't affect us out here, as we are still moving on without rupture or dissatisfaction in the church," he said. "Of course we were some-what demoralized when the split was made, and the majority of members followed Rev. J. R. J. Milligan, but we are like the man who has been ill and fully recovered. There is always some way to recover from misfortune, providing one has the right basis upon which to start.

Rev. David McAllister was out of town vesterday, and his views were not gotten, but it is understood that he concurs with Prof. Wilson on the matter.

THE LAYMEN'S BUREAU.

Founded by Methodists to Promote Evan gelistic and Church Work.

A new society was organized by Metho dist Protestants yesterday, at a meeting held in Allegheny, for the promotion of evangelistic and church extension work within the bounds of the Pittsburg conference. As the movement is backed by some of the most successful business men and brighest ministers in the church its success s assured. Speeches were made endorsing the work, and suggesting plans of operation. The Laymen's Bureau for Evangelistic work is the title of the Association

H. J. Heinz, Allegheny, was made President; Rev. G. C. Shepherd, of Sharpsburg, Vice President; Rev. C. F. Swift, of Belle-Secretary, and Mr. W. K. Gillespie, of Pittsburg, Treasurer. A committee to draft by-laws and outline plans and methods of work was chosen, consisting of Rev. G. C. Shepherd, Rev. D. S. Stephens, D. D., editor of the Methodist Recorder; Rev. W. S. Hanks, of Knoxville; Rev. George Shaffer, Pittsburg, Rev. C. F. Swift, Belle-vue, and laymen Henry Meyers, of Beaver Falls, Dr. H. H.G. Fink, of Springdale, and Robert Marshall, of Pittsburg. All the city and suburban churches were represented. The organization will be extended to embrace all the churches of the conference, and will shortly be incorporated.

CHASING THE SPECTATORS.

About 60 Warrants Issued for Some of Those Who Saw a McKee's Bocks Fight.

The move against the participants in and spectators of the prize fight in Graham's barn, a short distance above McKee's Rocks. on Charties creek, promises to break up an extensive industry and source of pleasure to many people of McKee's Rocks and Mansfield. Sixty warrants have been Mansfield. Sixty warrants have been sworn out before Alderman Madden for the arrest of people present, and some of them are persons who had rather forfeit a considerable sum than have their names go in this connection before a cold and unsympathizing public.

It is said that Mr. Wagner, the tenant occupying the premises, avers that the mill came off without his consent or even knowledge, but all the same, a resident of Makee's Rocks says that not a month passes without a mill somewhere in the vicinity.
