Some of the Topics to Be Discussed in Our City Pulpits.

GLEANINGS FROM CHURCH FIELDS

It is a strange anomaly that music should be one of the main subjects of discord in the churches; but such is the fact. Rowland the churches; but such is the fact. Rowland Pardon."

It is a strange anomaly that music should be one of the main subjects of discord in the churches; but such is the fact. Rowland Pardon." Hill, one of the great London preachers of the last century, said: "If the devil cannot get into the church in any other way, he is sure to get in through the choir gallery." Strange and sad it is that music, which lifts worshipers to hearenly place should so often be a bone of contentina in the churches. An old minister, with an experience of more than a quarter of a century in the pulpit, said recently: "I never had any serious trouble in my ministerial work until the singers got into a quarrel. Then there was music of a kind that was altogether discordant, and the strife became so intense that I found it necessary to seek a new field for opera-

The McDonald Gushers Are Now Producing About 80,000 Barrels.

FIGURES FOR CONTEMPLATION.

There Are Twelve Wells Which Should Reach the Pay To-Day.

The month just ending has been the greatest in the history of white sand oil products. The McDonald field has covered itself with grease and glory. It has produced more oil in the last 30 days than was ever produced before from a white sand rock. The highest daily production of the month has been reserved for the last. Yesterthe output of the field was estimated as about 78,000 barrels. These figures will no doubt be disputed by some people who are ignorant of the facts and by all of the jealous producers, especially those in the upper country who have no interest in the field. A simple formula will suffice, however, to show them that 78,000 is even however, to show them that 78,000 is even below the actual production. Take the figures given below in the gauge as the production of the larger wells per hour and multiply them by 24. The result will show the combined production of the wells whose gauges are given to be 2,970 barrels per hour, or 71,280 barrels per day. Even this is a very conservative estimate as always are given to well.

estimate, as almost every owner of a well named will say that his well is not credited with as much oil as it is producing. He will say that the gauge is too low entirely. Be that as it may, the 71,280 barre's do not include Patterson & Jones' No. 1 on the Kelso farm which was drilled deeper yesterday, and its production in-creased from 100 to 300 barrels per hour. Neither does it include their No. 1 L. Shaffer, which reached the fith sand yes-terday and last evening was producing from 40 to 50 barrels an hour, W. L. Mellon's Neeley farm well with a production of 45 barrels an hour is not a part of the 71,280

Additions to Be Made.

Add to this the daily production of these wells, the small producers which are making from 50 to 150 barrels a day, and the Gordon sand wells which are producing from 100 to 800 barrels per diem, and the entire production of the field will be found to go considerably above 80,000. It is only persons who have no production in the field, and are ignorant of the situation who are now attempting to cry down the production. Unfortunately the natural gas is too strong, and the oil the natural gas is too strong, and the oil continues to come from the recesses where it has been hidden for years, to the utter confusion of the calamityites. No account is taken of the stocks backed up in the field by the bears on production. A writer not more than a week ago stated that Greenlee & Forst's No. 1 Mevey had fallen off so much in production that it was not worth reporting any longer. This same well, not worth reporting, was at the time well, not worth reporting, was at the time making 170 barrels an hour. It is true that making 170 barrels an hour. It is true that the old wells are rapidly declining. Yesterday, for instance, the No. 3 Miller, of Hays & Gartland, stopped flowing entirely. For some time, however, it has been making only about ten barrels an hour. So far the decline in the old wells has been more than offset by new production, and as long as this is the case the general output of the field will be in the ascendant.

Twelve Wells About Completed.

There are 12 wells in the McDonald-McCurdy field which should get the pay streak in the fifth sand to-day or Monday. They are fairly good locations, and there can be little doubt but that they will more than offset any decline between to-day and Tuesday. These wells are the Oakdale Oil Company's No. 1 on the Walkace farm and No. 1 on the Hopper farm; Guffey, Murphy & Galey's No. 2 on the Sam Sturgeon: Hays & Gartland' No. 7, Miller; Greenlee & Forst's No. 6, Mevey; the Forest Oil Company's well on the lumber yard property, near McDon-FOURTH U. Guckert & Serle's No. 5, on the Mevey farm, was drilled through the sand yesterday and is dry in that rock. It is only a couple of hundred feet northeast of Hays & Gartland's No. 5, Miller, which started off at 250 barrals an hour and is still doing 70 barrels. The sand in the Mevey No. 5 was Wilson lot, reached the sand yesterday and is making 300 bar-rels a day from that formation, W. L. Mellon and A. W. Campbell finished a dry hole yesterday on the Isaac A. Ewing farm in southwest McCurdy. It is through the sand. Mr. Campbell leased all of the territory in southwest McCurdy in which Mr. Mellon is interested and holds a one-half interest in all except 16 acres, This territory includes eight farms which are now being thoroughly tested. They have a rig completed for No. 2 on the Ewing farm. lust east of McDonald borough Davis & Brown are down 800 feet in their No. on the brickyard lot and 500 feet W. P. Brown & Robison are building a rig on the Mc-Murray lot at Noblestown. Guffey, Jennings & Co.'s No. 3 Bell is on top of the Gordon sand. Black & Frink's well on the Charlier lot, at McDonald, is just in the Gordon and making 200 barrels a day. Black & Co.'s santers well is still doing 800 a day from the Gordon.

"A Marriage for Love," by Frederic Halevy; translated by Frank Hunter Potter; Dodd, Mead & Co; J. R. Weldin. Here is a most charmingly told story—one pre-eminently sweet and pure. The render cannot resist finishing it before laying it down. It is a story of a young sub-licutenant in the Twenty-first Chasseurs and a beautiful girl of 16. They had both kept diaries unknown to each other. After marriage she came upon him suddenly reading his diary. She glanced over his shoulder and found the words June 16, "I love her!" June 17, "I love her!" She immediately accused him of loving another. There were explanations and they decided to read their diaries to each other. The story of their courtship and marriage is beautifully told through their diaries, and it will give one a great deal of pleasure and amusement to the Practice of Medicine and Surgery Than in the Mechanical Arts. The more thoroughly one studies electro-therapeuties in all its relations, medical and surgical, the clearer it becomes that the real scientific basis for the use of electricity in medicine and surgery is found in electro-physics more than in electro-physiology.

in medicine and surgery is found in electrophysics more than in electro-physiology.

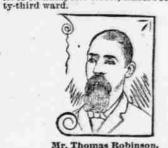

Now that electricity has become popular in medicine, there is, in some quarters, a temptation to overdo the application, not only in strength, but in length and frequency; to treat all cases allike by routine, mechanical applications, regardless either of the discase or the idosyncrasies of the patient; hence in not a few cases come injurious results with disappointment on all sides. The dornge of electricity is a special study of the greatest practical importance; the difference in result between a very gentle and short application and a very strong and protracten one being, in some cases, all the difference between agreeable success and painful failure.

The position of electricity in the front rank of tonics and sedatives and its pre-eminent value in the treatment of neuralgia, rheumatism, paralysis, sciafica, imbago, etc., has now been so long confirmed by electropathic specialists in this country and Germany that demonstration of these propositions by cases is less needed than formerly, yet here is one of interest;

"I was attacked with facial neuralgia, and have suffered since such tortures as man seldom suffers from pain, continuous and almost crazing, in my face and head. I was also afflicted with lumbago, accompanied by its usual terrible pains and aches. The constant strain upon me finally resulted in complete nervous prostration and insomnia or sleeplessness, that nearly set me crazy.

"The pains in my head were so severe and continuous that I could neither eat nor sleep. It was in this condition that I applied to the physicians of the Electropathic Institute, 507 Penn avenue.
