"It is persecution not prosecution," said Councilman Dahlinger. "I opposed Wyman for nomination, but I think this last at-tack is for political effect rather than reform. The free use of adjectives and general tone of the auditors' report show that it is not a fair and impartial in-matigation. The affidavits are old charges and carry no weight. It is not fair to con-demn men who have hitherto borne good characters on the testiment of demakeds demn men who nave nitherto borne good characters, on the testimony of drunkards, gamblers and disorderly housekeepers." Councilman Stauffer thought the charges warranted an investigation. The Money Would Not Be Stolen. Councilman Henderson said he pro-posed to vote against the issue, not be-cause he thought the money would be stolen or squandered, but because he was opposed to the proposed methods for raising money for the necessary improvements. In case the proposition carries it would cost the city $40,000 in interest and an additional $30,000 for the sinking fund. It was not proposed to spend more than $100,000 a year of the $950,000, and in this event, with the additional money that will be received from the liquor licenses next year, the city would have an abundance of money for the improvements intended by

Here Mr. Quay quietly protested to his attorneys against what seemed to him . needless waste of time on the part of the counsel on the other side, and remarked that he must go home on a 5:30 train. Mr. McCook—Now, Senator, you say you made a note without knowing to whom it was unde?

Senator Quay-I did. I gave the note a seek before the election of 1889, and the proceeds were placed to my credit at Beaver, after being handed to me at Washington by Mr. Martin.

"For what purpose was the note given?" To indemnify myself."

"Now, will you kindly give us the full history that connects these facts?"

Objections From the Attorneys.

This was objected to by Mr. Marshall and Major Montooth and the question was ruled

Mr. McCook-Senator, I'll show you i copy of the Post dated October 28, 1891, concopy of the Past dated October 26, 1881, con-taining a copy of the notes and the indorse-ments which are, "Pay to the order of M. & Quay, signed John Bardsley." Below that is the name "M. & Quay." Is that a correct copy of your signature? Mr. Quay reached for the paper to ex-amine the signature, when Mr. Marshall edjected on the grounds that the certificate itself was not present. The objection was sustained.

sustained. "Well," said Mr. McCook, "if the Magistrate is determined upon sustaining every objection made to our questions we may as well quit and we will ask for an adjourn-ment of this hearing until we can produce the certificate and other witnesses.

Mr. Marshall objected to an adjournment saving that the defendants would like to have the final hearing postponed until after the election, but he wanted it settled at the election, but he wanted it settled at once. Alderman McMasters said be could see no reason why there should be a postponement, and the hearing proceeded.

Only One Other Witness.

W. C. Schoyer was then sworn. He mere-ly testified to the connection the defendants have with the paper in question, and iden-tified a copy of the paper in which the al-leged libelous matter is printed. There were no other witnesses examined, and at the close of Mr. Schoyer's examina-tion Mr. McCook asked Mr. Marshall when is model on the into arong the case

We find in examining the witness fee book and the book of testimony that in a great number of cases where fees have been taxed and col-lected no witnesses appear, neither is there any record regarding them. In nearly all instances where a number of defendants ap-pear in one case, the witness fees have been taxed on each individual and thus cumula-tive taxes are extorted which is contrary to law

Witnesses Not Registered.

One singular feature connected with the witness fee receipt books in present use is the fact that of 3,138 witnesses supposed to have testified, the meager number of 52 names appear in the column devoted to the names of witnesses, while the insignifican number of 25 witnesses attested and signed for the fees paid them. We herewith submit a tabulation, being We here with submit a tabulation, being part of Exhibit "S." which shows cases wherein parties arrested on view have been taxed and amounts collected from them for witness fees, when the records fail to show that a single witness was called upon to tes-tify; also cases wherein officers testified and fees for same collected aid not returned to city as they properly should, and also where a number of defendants appear in one case, the fee for each witness has been taxed up to each individual detendant, thus extorting cumulative fees in utter disregard to State statues governing same.

time to verify and form the subject for a supplemental report. For the same reason we only examined into the matter of remitted fines beginning with April, 1889, and find that the dockets in use during ex-Mayor Pearson's term of office show remission of fines and alterations of figures to the extent of $2,076, and we also find that by the docket in use during the present term of Mayor Wyman from April, 1890, to October, 1890, fines were remitted and figures changed aggregating $2,010. These sums have been filegally diverted from the City Treasury by reason of fines and the alteration of finures after the judg-ment was entered and entry made on the docket. Grave Charges Made.

The most important was from Lewis Koerner, who, during the seasons of 1884, 1885 and 1886, was superintendent of H. O. Price & Co.'s place of amusement at the Exposition grounds. He testified that during the sum-mer of 1885 a theater was run for 11 weeks, and that Chief Murphy was paid $25 per day license. He also claimed that va-rious sums were paid for foot races and show licenses. In addition, Mr. Koerner testified that a wheel of for-tune was run while herse races were under

In 1884 we paid $200 a day, and in 1885 the first day we paid John R. Murphy $400, and the second day paid Mayor James G. Wyman $500, and on the third day we were stopped running the wheel by W. L. Braun, the de-tective, who called and said: "You will have to stop the wheel as the newspapers are giving us fits."

The testimony closes with the statement that during the seasons of 1884, 1885 and 1886, $10,000 was paid for licenses and priv-

The Democratic leaders do not seem to be overly sanguine as to their State ticket, but they declare their unity with the Repub-licans on the county ticket and they say the judiciary appointees of Governor Pattison will, without exception, receive the Demo-cratic vote. Judge Kennedy, they admit, will receive more Democratic votes than his colleagues, because there are plenty of the faith who could not be induced to vote for a Republican, but the same can be said of many Republicans in relation to a Demo-crat candicate, and the result is expected to be a stand-off. The Democratic leaders have issued orders to their poll workers not to allow cutting in favor of any of the Straightout candidates, and as far as the organization can control it, the party vote will go for the county ticket indorsed by the party. The Schenley Park Zoo will not always remain at the head of Panther Hollow, where it is now located. Chief Bigelow thinks it is too far away from the main entrance of the park. As it is one of the chief attractions of the place the object is to locate it in a place as easily accessible as possible. Chief Bigelow is of the opinion that the zoo should be placed near Joncaire street in the hollow below the park bridge.

Gregg and Morrison-A Fairly Large Audience Present.

A Republican meeting in the interests of the State ticket was held in Old City Hall last evening. The auditorium was not filled, but there was a good crowd present. Major E. A. Montooth presided. He paid a glowing tribute to the war records of Wood street.

a glowing tribute to the war records of General Gregg and Captain Morrison. The State, he said, owes a duty to the old soldiers, and he appealed to voters to stand by the Republican ticket. Tolonel Frank A. Burr was then intro-dived. He served with General Gregg three years, and said he knew the man, Gregg, ha said, taught the world a lesson in cavalry tacties that it would never forget. Caster, Sheridan and others were the brilliant and dashing cavalry leaders, but Gregg was the reliable end of the force. Gregg was a central figure, but he was quiet and mostentations, and at the close of the war west quietly to his vocation. If ever there was an example of a fighting citizen, it was D.
