Fortu-nately, the recent trouble in banking affairs does not strike the boot and shoe trade, except indirectly. Indeed, it may be noted that the trade is in excellent condition financially, having made successful collec-tions on the goods of the past season, and not feeling any particular pressure from paper due. But it is a fact that the jobbers are buying very conservatively, though with the feeling that goods are to be wanted in full volume as the season progresses. They say that the retail trade is not fully satis-factory, though there has been a change for the better since cold weather. But in some sections of the country there is a complaint of a light retail trade. This is accounted for by the putting of too much moncy into short-time endowment societies and other schemes for making money so rapidly. The poorer classes of people, having paid their money into these schemes, are now in want of the tory morey to buy the necessaries of life, among which necessaries boots and shoes stand in the front ranks. "But a good trade is coming later. Manu-facturers are getting orders in spring goods, after a moderate figure, and they are getting ready to commence soon the making of such goods, though the taking of stocks is very likely to hinder the factories some days." ### An Island With a History.

This island has a wonderful history. With 6,000 knights of St. John it at one time stood out against 200,000 warriors under "Solvman the Magnificent." The city had 5,000 statues, and a statue to Apollo colled Colleans which has also be called Collosus, which has always since been considered one of the seven wonders of the world.

of the world. It is to me an infinite pathos—this Colos-sus not only of Rhodes, but the colossi in many parts of the earth. This is only the world's blind reaching up and feeling after God. Foundered human nature must have a supernatural arm to help it ashore. All the statues and images of heathendom are attempts to bring celestial forces down into human affairs. Blessed be our ears that we have heard of an ever-present God, and that through Jesus Christ he comes into our that through Jesus Christ he comes into our hearts and our homes, and with more than fatherly and motherly interest and affec-tion he is with us in all our struggles and

As we more on up through this Archipelage, I am reminded of what an import-ant part the islands have taken in the history of the world. They are necessary to the balancing of the planet. The two hem-ispheres must have them.

The King of the Archipelago

The Bing of the Archipelago. But there is one island that I longed to see more than any other. I can afford to miss the princes among the islands, but I must see the king of the Archipelago. The me I longed to see is not so many miles in circumference as Cyprus or Crete or Paros or Naxos or Scio or Mitylene, but I had rather, in this sail through the Grecian Archipelago, see that than all the others; for more of the glories of heaven landed there than on all the islands and continents since the world stood. As we come toward it I feel my pulses quicken. "I, Jol in the island that is called Patmos." "I, John, was

It is a pile of rocks 28 miles in circumfer-ence. A few cypresses and inferior olives pump a living out of the earth, and one pain tree spreads its foliage. But the bar-renness and gloom and loneliness of the Island made it a prison for the banished evangelist. One day, under armed guard, that minister of the gospel stepped from a tossing boat to these dismal rocks and walked up to the dismal cavern which was to be his home. Is it not remarkable that nearly all the great revelations of music and poetry and religion have been made to men in banishment-Homer and Milton banished into blindness.

The First Glimpses of the Hereafter.

There will be such visions let down to your pillow as God gives no man if he is "Captain," said I. "when will we arrive ever to return to this time world. The ap-the Island of Rhodes?" Looking out from under his glazed cap he responded in sepulchral voice: "About midnight." Though it would be keeping unressonable hours, I concluded to stay on deck, for I must see Rhodes, one of the islands associated with the name of the greatest missionary the world ever saw or ever will see. the time of the Christian's departure, the physicians say, is caused by no real distress. It is an unconscious and involuntary move-ment, and I think in many cases it is the vision of heavenly gladness too great for mortal endurance. It is only heaven break-ing in on the departing spirit. time for your departure will be at hand, and there will be wings over and wings under there will be wings over and wings under you, and songs let loose on the air, and your old father and mother gone for years will descend into the room, and your little chil-dren whom you put away for the last sleep years ago will be at your side, and their kiss will be on your forcheads, and you will see gardens in full bloom, and the swinging open of shining gates, and will hear' voices long ago hushed. In many a Christian de-parture that you have known and I have known there was in the phraseology of the departing ones something that indicated the reappearance of those long deceased.
