Southside Mill Troubles Referred to the National Committee.

MEN WILL GO TO WORK AS BEFORE.

Traction Road Employes Have Their Disputes Adjusted.

INDUSTRIAL POINTS OF INTEREST

The trouble at Jones & Laughlins' mills is temporarily settled. Yesterday afternoon the members of the Amalgamated Association held a meeting, which was largely attended and lasted over three hours. It was decided to refer the matter to the National Executive Committee for its sanction or disapproval.

After the meeting was over an Amalga-mated man said: "We have just cause for the calling of a strike, but as a matter of red tape the situation has to be gone over by the National Committee, and whatever it decides upon the members will have to do. In this afternoon meeting it was evident from the tone of the men there would be much dissatisfaction if the committee did not bring about what the men considered a fair compromise. Owing to Treasurer l'enny's funeral to-day, I do not suppose anything will be done with the matter before to-morrow. It may possibly be that the committee will not touch the case this week. In the meantime the men-will work right along."

Yesterday morning the laborers held another mass meeting. Many of the men were of the opinion that it was useless to to try to hold out as they were organized, and as some of their number were going and as some of their number were going back to work each day. A vote was taken and it was decided to go to work, provided they could get back. A committee was accordingly appointed to wait upon the bosses to see whether the men would be reinstated. The committee reported that as many of the men whose positions were not already filled would be taken back if they reported for work not later than this morning. The proposition was accepted. morning. The proposition was accepted. All of the men, except about 50, whose places have been filled, will go to work today. The men will not come out even if the Amalgamated men strike, unless it is in case of a general shutdown of the mill.

AMICABLY SETTLED.

The Traction Line Employes Get Longer

The Pittsburg, Allegheny and Manchester Traction Company employes have settled their difficulty with the officials. Early yesterday morning they held a meeting, and appointed a committee to confer with the officials. The committee waited upon President Dalzell yesterday morning, but he refused to make any concessions until he had laid the matter before the directors.

The directors met yesterday afternoon and the matter was amicably settled. The men wanted 40 minutes for meals and the wording in the liability clause changed. 'A conductor said last night that, while they did not get just what they asked for, the men

Penna for the Presidency.

Owing to the arbitrary manner in which National President Rae, of the Mine Workers' Association, is said to have conducted the recent strike, there is much dissatisfaction among the miners. Already they are talking of supporting Vice President Penna, of Indiana, for the presidency. The election will be held during the meeting of the national convention, in Columbus, Janu-

Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Braddock yesterday. Mr. Carnegie was cordially received by the men and he expressed himself well pleased with the way things were going there.

Industrial Notes.

AFTER an idleness of several days, the Woods' Run tin plate mill resumed work this morning. The delay was caused by lead accumulating in one of the pots. THE United States Glass Company denies that it has advanced the price on staple lines since its organization with the 15 other glass companies several months ago.

FIELD FIRES NEAR HOME.

Inhabitants of Robinson Township Badly Scared by Spreading Flames.

Yesterday's moistness came in time to save many disastrous conflagrations. On the farm of F. E. Nier, in Robinson township, on Monday, some men set fire to a stump. Sparks flew among the dry grass and in a few minutes several acres were burned over and a thousand or so rails consumed. An impromptu fire brigade sprang up as from the ground, Nier's neighbors turning out en masse, fighting it away from his premises.

The damage was confined mainly to the farm on which the fire started, but Miss Jane Phillips, who was lying in her residence unable to get out of bed, was terribly frightened, as she saw through the window the approach of the flames within a few yards of her house.

Two Things

In Regard to Catarrh.

1st, It is a Constitutional Disease: and 2d, It Requires a Constitutional Remedy.

These two facts are now so well known to the medical fraternity that local applications, like snuffs and inhalants, are regarded as at best likely to give only temporary relief. To effect a permanent cure of catarrh requires a constitutional remedy like, Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by purifying the blood, repairing diseased tissues and imparting healthy toue to the affected organs, does give thorough and lasting cure.

"I want to say for the benefit of suffering humanity, that Hood's Sarsaparilla is

PITTSBURG'S FIRST WELLS.

Workmen Make a Discovery in the Dis mond Market-One of the Early Landmarks Brought to Sight-Where the Fire Engines Were Tested. Officers Robert Fowler and Harvey, of the Diamond Market, were holding a consulta tion with several other people regarding the advisability of calling a meeting of the Historical Society. The cause of their congregating was the discovery of an old well on Market street, near the pavement of the pupper market house, by the telephone people when digging a manhole. As none present had ever heard of a well there, a search was made among antiquarians for information, but without suc-

As none present had ever heard of a well there, a search was made among antiquarians for information, but without success until they struck Jerome Jones, a Brunot Island gardener, who has spent about three quarters of a century about the Diamond Market. Though an octogensrian, Mr. Jones is as full of business as he was in the days of General Jackson's Presidency.

Mr. Jones says the well was covered 60 years ago. It was one of the old public wells, dug when the city was a young borough, possibly before that time. At it all the new hand fire engines were tested before being accepted by the town. The Court House was near by and was the highest structure in the town. If an engine would not throw water over it, it was rejected. If it did, it was ample for all purposes. As it was covered up about the time the first water works were built, it probably fell into disuse on account of their construction. On each side of the well stood fish stands, at which nearly all the fish consumed by Pittsburg were washed and scaled. Another gentleman recollects the old well, but there are not many people now living who recollect seeing it in 1830.

There were two other public wells at that time, one at the back of where Fleming's drugstore now stands and the other near the entrance to Diamond alley. The bricks with which the one on Market street was walled look as though made last week, and they are of superior quality, moulded wedge-shaped to make the arch, but no one was able to recollect who made them. Mr. Jones has occupied a stand in the malket since 1817, and had served his apprenticeship previous to that time.

Teeming with choice Imported Garments! Sparkling with the best Domestic Novelties! Bristling with Rare and Wonderful Bargains!

Judging from the big crowds which are now daily thronging our vast Cloak Parlors one might be led to believe that ours is the only place in Pittsburg where cloaks are sold. Of course, this is not so. Every lady knows very well that there are scores of cloak stores in this city, but she knows equally well that there is not one, nor any two together, that can approach Kaufmanns' variety and low prices. It's quite natural, therefore, that the big majority of fastidious and economical shoppers thould make our store their favorite purchasing place.
