Miss Willard's Address to the World's W. C. T. U. Convention.

A WONDERFUL GROWTH OF THE UNION

BOSTON, Nov. 13 .- Four thousand people packed the great hall, balconies and aisles of Tremont Temple and overflowed into Park Street Church and Bromfield Street Church, near by, this morning. when the World's Convention of the National W. C. T, U. was called to order by Miss Willard. Miss Willard, in her annual address, paid a glowing tribute to the individual and collective work of the members.

"God," she said, "has helped us to build better than we knew. If these women have theirsway, and they intend to have it, the taint of alcohol and nicotine would not be on any lip nor in any atmosphere on this globe. No gambler could with impunity pursue his vile vocation. The haunts of ing officers of perdition would seek in vain for victims.

The Liquor Traffic Doomed to Outlawry. The saloonkeeper would become in every State and nation as, thank God, he is already in so many, an outcast, Ishmaelite, a social pariah on the face of the earth." Continuing, she said:

The good work goes on. The new territory is preempted, and the mighty realm of philanthropy encroaches each day upon the empire of sin, disease and misery that has so ong existed that we thought it must endure forever.

But there remains an immense territory to be possessed. The church itself must have a new crusade. It must become the have a new crusade. It must become the people's home. Its doors of gospel grace must stand open might and day. It must not be a huge looked-up cube of masonry with dead atmosphere inside during six days of the week, for such cannot be the Twentieth century extent of the church of Him who went about doing good. We must draw the people to the church by having something there for them which will lead them up from the material, to the perception and love of spiritual blessings. But to my mind, the greatest result that the first century of organized temperance reform has wrought, is the isolation of the liquor traffic in special channels. The first Principle of Warfare, of wariare, that you must first isolate your enemy that you may successfully inflict the coup de grace; you must cut off both sup plies and retreat before victory is sure. The party which unmistakably declares for the prohibition of strong drink in its politica platforms in 1892 is the only one that can hope for the good will, good word and prayers of the W. C. T. U. We nailed that owner to the masthend in 1884, and, sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish, we will keep it waving.

She was followed by Lady Henry Somer set, who made a brief address.

The report of the treasurer showed the total receipts of the year to be $25,259, and the expenditures $23,217. The report of Mrs. Caroline J. Bull, of Connecticut, the Corresponding Secretary, showed the progress of the work since its inception. At the first convention in Cleveland in 1874, 17 States were represented. At this onvention 51 States and Territories and the District of Columbia are represented. At the time of the second convention there were 4,458 members in the Union. This year the membership is 153,402, a gain over last year of 10,369 members.

The introduction of the delegates to the World's Convention, and the fraternal and visiting delegates to the National Con-vention followed, and the afternoon session came to a close after the reports of the organizers were given.

According to Judge Ewing's ruling on Michael Kern. last Saturday, this is the last day of grace Anule Lot August Hoffman. Justina Ley. Christian Schach. Elizabeth Brimme for Mr. Stayton in his contest for the seat of Mayor Wyman, of Allegheny, and the Commissioner, J. D. Shafer, has put in Mary Devine..... some hard work in the effort to determine whether, according to Judge Ewing's Joseph W. Thornton. ruling, Stayton's counsel had made out a prima facie case which would justify an order for the opening of the ballot boxes. People who recollect how long it took to determine the contest between Butler and Matthews to decide the Seventh ward Aldermanship, will appreciate the magnitude of the present fight, where not only one, but 13 wards are contested, with 67 election districts.

BELIEVES HE WILL WIN.

Forgot All About the Affidavits.

It is alleged by petitioner that there were about 3,000 illegal votes cast for Wyman, and, as his majority was but 800, if but halt of the claim is shown to be illegal it will be sufficient to make Stayton's case.

The case illustrates the profundity of the ignorance of election officers generally. For instance, there are many cases where it is charged that affidavits required by law to pursue his vile vocation. The faunts of shame that are the zero mark of degradation would be crushed out of existence before sundown, and the industrial status of women would be so independent that these recruitcases, of the election officers, who in at least one instance allowed people to vote when they, the election officers, felt certain they had the right, without swearing them. New, according to law such ballots are illegal, no matter how clear the voters' right to vote may have been. They were those who should have been on the registry list, but were not.

The Oath Was Trifled With. In some such cases, where the judges were in doubt, they made applicants swear and there are those who will be uncharitable enough to say that some of such swearers prevariented. There are some alleged illegal voters on Mr. Brennen's list which will doubtless be shown to have cast their votes legally, but the contestant feels, or at least his counsel does, at least he says he does, that after all discount there will still be more than a sufficient margin of illegality to vitiate Wyman's election. Mr. Shafer was noncommittal, but Mr. Brennen said last night that he had made his case and was confident that the order to open the ballot boxes will be made.

One thing is again demonstrated in this case, viz., that in addition to honesty in voters a little illumination directed toward the education of election boards would save The First Principle of Warfare. There is a cardinal principle in the stand many thousands of dollars annually.

> WASHINGTON, D. C., NOV. 2, 1891. Electrical and Medical Institute, 412 Penn avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. GENTLEVEN-I am very happy to inform you that I have entirely recovered from my trouble of nervous prostration, and am cured of the ringing in my head. "Electric ity is life," and you have my sincere wishes in your welfare as skillful electricians, and I trust your institution may and will succeed under your skillful and earnest manage ment, and that many suffering from sick ness of various diseases may be restored to health by you as I have been. Respectfully,

MRS. J. H. NEILL. Electricity is fast gaining popular favor as a restorative agent both with the profession and the public in general. Its application being adapted in chronic diseases in some of its various forms, and the results recently accomplished give it a place in medicine and surgery equal to that for mechanical purposes, and surpassing all other remedial agents that have ever been discovered.

The institute is the largest and best equipped of its kind in Pennsylvania, and under the charge of a thoroughly competen medical director, with male and female assistants, and treats successfully all chronic diseases. The office is open from 9 M. to 8 P. M. every day except Sunday.
