The Big People Adjourn Until They Are Called to Decide on the Peace Propositions.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.] NEW YORK, Nov. 13 .- The officials of the National League are business men, and they have just given a striking illustration of that fact. They came here to hold their annual meeting, transacted their business, and have done all this without the slightest apparent friction. There may have been growls of discontent and internal dissenthis afternoon, and when the delegates appeaced in the lobby they all were a look which seemed to indicate intense satisfaction with themselves and all the world. Not even mention of the American Association caused them to lose their composure The significant conference between Messrs. Price and Soden created a sensation.

The additional fact came to light to-day that some days ngo Mr. Prince had a meeting with the other association officials and insisted on knowing the terms on which they would agree to a settlement with the League. They were at first backward, but finally Mr. Prince got a full and clear statement of their intentions and desires. The mext move was to bring that statement to the attention of the League. All the Leaguers decline to say what proposition Mr. Prince made, but it is learned from good authority that the League meeting to-day devoted nearly all its time to considering the subject of Mr. Prince's communication

That the tenor of the proposals was satisfactory was evident from the beaming countenances of the magnates. One prominent official remarked: "I feel 100 per cent better than I did before this meeting started." It is generally believed that Mr. Prince Is the Mouthpiece of the association in an effort for a settle ment and the League has selected Soden to do the preliminary talking in its behalf. It was unofficially announced during the afternoon that the meeting had appointed a peace committee consisting of Soden, Brush ed Robinson. This was emphatically demied by the magnates, but, as they would of care to have the facts made known in advance of similar action by the Association, there is believed to be good ground for the assertion that a League peace committee is already in existence, and it will soon meet a peace committee from the Associa-

When the meeting had adjourned Secretary Young announced the following was the result of the League deliberation: The League reassembled at 12:30, when N. E. Young was re-elected President. Later in the day, though, the League complimented him by extending his term of office three years. F. De Hass Robinson, of Cleveland; A. K. Scandrett, of Pittsburg, C. H. Byrne, of New York and J. B. Day, of New York, were next elected as directors.

The Schedule Committee. After this James A. Hart, J. B. Day and

John T. Brush were chosen as a committee to prepare a schedule. John B. Sage, of Buffalo, for the first time in the League's tory, missed a meeting, but he got the League's printing all the same. The annual spring meeting will be held in New York early in March. It was voted that when the League adjourns it be subject to the call of the President, and this means that a meeting to talk over the peace question can be called at any time.

Messrs, Brush, Rogers and Byrne, the committee appointed at a previous meeting to draw up a testimonial to A. G. Spalding, of Chicago, in appreciation of his valuable services to the League in the past, received further time in which to prepare and en-gross suitable resolutions. Meanwhile Mr. Spalding is to receive an honorary membership in the League.

A few days ago THE DISPATCH stated that Charley King had been secured by the New York club. Yesterday King made all pledges good by signing. A WISE SUGGESTION.

The Farrell Party Want to Arbitrate the Dispute About the Race.

The parties interested in the Smith-Farrell race were at this office last evening, but nothing definite was done. The Farrell party, however, made the following manly

"Regarding the dispute about our right to own all the stake money of the race between Farrell and Smith on Saturday last we are content to submit our claim to arbiiration. We will appoint one man to represent us and let John Quinn have one man to represent him and let the two men agree on a third. If the two men cannot agree let ex-Mayor Mc-Callin select a third man. We suggest this JAMES H. AIREN & Co., 100 Fifth avenue.

as a fair method of determining whether or not we are entitled to the money we have won. A court trial will be expensive. This method will be cheaper and will allow us to get home sooner. We are strangers here, but we think there are a sufficient number The Baseball Magnates Appear to the World With Smiles the World With Smiles front to tell what he knows and examined thereon. After everybody is heard, including the contestants, under oath if necessary, let the three arbitrators decide. "We make this proposition as strangers to the city of Pittsburg, fully believing that it will be cheaper to us and everybody con-cerned, and that we have nothing to conceal. If Mr. John Quinn is as sure of his case let him say, 'Arbitrate the matter.'" The above document was signed by Tim Hunt and Steve Farrell, and most assuredly a fairer proposition couldn't be made. If the Smith party, or rather Smith's backers, will not accept it, then it is sure that pub-lic opinion will go against them, and the general notion will be that they are only trying to regain their money by fair or foul means. The probability is that Smith's backers will accept the proposition, and it will be pleasing to everybody if they do.

Nothing else transpired in the matter until last night, when the following letter was received; To the Editor of the New York Herald:

My representatives will be at the Herald office on Friday prepared to post the balance of the $5.000 stake and arrange the prelimin-aries for a match between Peter Maher and

Will you kindly inform Mr. Madden of this fact, so that nothing can interfere with the completion of definite arrangements.
Yours respectfully, JAMES CORBETT, per W. A. B. A telegram sent to Madden, who is in Buffalo, brought the following reply:

Corbett stated he would sign articles on December 15 if Slavin or Mitchell would not fight him. I made my arrangements accord-ingly and will sign agreement on that day. BILLY MADDEN. Of course, there is nothing left for Corbett and Brady to do but wait until the date which they themselves set.

O'DONNELL WON IT.

He Defeats Reddy Flynn in a Prize Fight at Scrantos.

SCRANTON, Nov. 13 .- [Special.] -- Reddy Flynn, champion of Georgia, and Danny O'Donnell, champion of Northeastern Pennsylvania, fought with skin-tight gloves at Mudtown, this county, at 3 e'clock this morning. They are light weights, Flynn tipping the beam at 126 pounds, and O'Donnell holding in the rush line is apt to be a dan-124. General Sporting Notes. THE National League still exists; don't for Manager Powers is very sanguine regarding the quality of team he will have next year. DAL HAWKINS, champion bantam weight Dal. HAWKINS, champion bantam weight puglist of the Pacific coast, knocked out Billy Donegan, also of San Francisco, in eight rounds Wednesday night at the Occidental Club. The fight was a clever one, and the knock-out blow was a clean left-linuder on the point of the chin.

Mire Clearly was always a great favorite among New York sporting men. The best proof of his popularity is the fact that more than 300 tickets for his benefit have been sold in two days. Cleary's friends will doubtless show him in a substantial manner that they sympathize with him in his misfortone. His puglistic career is over, for a boxer with only one foot would have a hard job holding his own these days.

A Private Telegram.

There has been considerable argument in the Stevens School as to whether the team that now represents them is the strongest that it is possible for the school to put in the field. A team was picked from those players not on the first team, and the two teams played yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The game, while the regular team wonly a score of E to 0, showed that the picked team would develop into a much stronger one, the loss of the game being due to the absence of team work, as was to be expected from the fact that they had never played together before. THERE has been considerable argument in

A DELEGATION from the Brooklyn Cribb Club, composed of Dave Thompson, Ed. C. Sandford, and Tom Francis, accompanied Eddie Avery, the 163-pound boxer, to the Illustrated Newsoffice yesterday afternoon in the hope of making a match between Avery and Alf Levy, the English bantam. The Brooklynites offered a purse of 390 and a bet of $250, but Levy would not agree to the purse. He would make the bet, he said, but he wanted more of a purse. Then he offered to fight Avery with two-ounce gloves for the stake abone, ten men a side to be present. Avery was willing, except so far as the gloves were concerned. He wanted skin gloves for such a contest, and a hitch occurred. It was pointed out to the Englishman that he could make $250 more by accepting the purse, but he couldn't or wouldn't see it. Avery finally said he would give Levy until Thursday to find out what he would do, and the party left the office with a suspicion that Levy was not over anxious to fight in any way.

STRONG TEAM GUARANTEED

Lively Playing Expected To-Day Among

Local Teams of Rugby Style. GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

BOSTON, Nov. 13.-Harvard has just ten days in which to choose and perfect her team before the game with Yale. The choice may be said to have been already made, for the team will doubtless be made up as fol-

Ends-Mason and Hallowell. Tackles-Newall and Waters. Guards-Vail and Mackie.

Quarter-back-Cobb.

Half-back-Lake and Corbett. Full-back-Trafford. Upton has not recovered sufficiently from his attack of typhoid fever to allow him to play, and he will not be on the team this year. Cobb is not sure of his position as quarter-back, and Mason may not play at end, but otherwise the team will be as above indicated. Up to Monday the uncertainty of the faculty's decision in the cases of Waters, Mackie and Corbett had made the elever backward in team play, but work has already been begun on this point, and a marked improvement is looked for by Saturday. There is no doubt now but that Harvard has a very strong team, which will be fully the equal of her eleven of last year.

Better Than Last Year.

Yale's present team is considered slightly better than the one which she presented at Springfield last fall, so that there is every prospect of a magnificent struggle on the 21st. The contract for building the grand stands at Springfield has been awarded to G. M. Burnham, of that city, and work has already been begun on the grounds. Preparations are being made for 15,000 spec-

After to-day no one will be allowed to watch the Yale team practice at the Yale field. This rule is to be enforced more strictly this year than it has been heretofore and will exclude all persons, whether Yale men or not, except those connected with the management of the team. The purpose of this is to prevent the other colleges from studying the style of game which Yale will play.

The Princeton-University of Pennsylvania game demonstrated two things of imortance to the teams of Yale, Harvard and rinceton. One was that the team which relies on the center-bucking system of play cannot win this year, and the other was that About Pennsylvania.

If Princeton lost the ball once for holding and off-side playing at Philadelphia, she must have lost it a dozen times at least, and the Pennsylvanian team copied Princ ton's play in every particular it also for-feited the ball at critical times for the same transgressions. There was a great deal of criticism bestowed on Mr. Coffin on account of his strict rulings in Saturday's game, but he is an old hand at the business of football umpiring, and his decisions, though ag-There is considerable interest in the bow-ling tournament which begins at Bellefield Monday night. As exclusively stated in THE DISPATCH a few days ago a bowling tournament will commence on Monday evening. The teams who have been selected to compete, are: levan-Yale game on Saturday another deviation from the rules was rebuked by the umpire, Walter Camp, who gave Yale 25 yards for an attempt at tripping on the part of one of the Wesleyan's rushers.

If the hints by Messrs. Camp and Coffin are not taken as warnings there will be much surprise and dissatisfaction in the coming championship games. It will be remembered that in 1888 Cowan, Princeton's best rusher, was ruled off the field in a the game with Harvard by Walter Camp for tackling too low, which is another habit create trouble for the big teams this month.

HAVE FLOPPED AGAIN.

The Wesleyans Go Back On Their Agree ment as to Their Philadelphia Game.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13 .- Weslevan has again flopped. This time she has gone back on her written agreement to play the annual game of football with the University of Pennsylvania on the Manheim grounds and insists on the game being played in New York. She alleges no reason for her action.

Recently a Mr. Scott called for and secured an interview with Messrs. G. S. Patterson, L. C. Madeira and others, of Pennsylvania, and surprised them by refusing to live up to their agreement and play at Manheim, simply insisting on New York as the scene of the battle, and saying the agreement meant nothing. The Pennsylvania men showed the agreement to an eminent lawyer, Samuel S. Hollingsworth, who, after carefully examining it, pro-nounced it "a binding, legal agreement." In conversation with Mr. L. C. Madeira yesterday, he said: The trouble was all stirred up by this fellow Scott, who has always done all in his power that was hostile to the University of Pennsylvania. I suppose we will have to play in New York, however, as that is the location fixed by the convention for the game. Of course we could enforce our rights by law, but do not care to go to so much trouble in the matter."

The University of Pennsylvania football players, while s'ill rather blue over their and showing on last Saurday, are practising faithfully for their Yale game Saturday. In that game they will be short the services of two of their regular men-Half-back Branson and End Rusher Heisman. These two en, together with Schoff, were in very bad condition when they went into the Princeton game, and it was only their pluck that car-ried them through.

Heisman and Branson stiffened up pretty badly after the game and will be unable to play against Yale. Schoff will start in, but whether he will be able to play it through is another question. In Heisman's place either McFadden or Cone will play. Both are pretty capable players. In Branson's place it was intended to play Martin, but as the latter wrenched his sore knee badly again to-day, it may be necessary to play Church at half and Newton at quarter back. The men are not jubilant over their show-ing against Princeton and will try to show how they can play when they meet Yale.

Great Game Expected.

The game of Rugby football at the East End "Gym" grounds to-day between the Altoona' team and the "Gyms" will be the most exciting game of the season. The Al-toonas will make a great effort to down the "Gyms," having secured the services of several college players. A large crowd of admirers from Altoona will come with the team. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Poor Interference CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 13 .- Cumnock, Adams and Stewart coached the team to-day, and managed to get some snap into them. Harvard's interference is wretched, and must improve greatly before the Yale game if they expect to make any long gains.

ABOUT THE GREAT ARION.

Robert Bonner Explains a Few Things Regarding Trotters and Trotting Tracks -He Talks About the Wonderful Two-Year-Old-A Regulation Track Required for Records. NEW YORK, Nov. 13 .- [Special.]-"What do I think of Arion's performance?" repeated Mr. Robert Bonner in his cozy parlor last evening. "Well, now, what would any horseman think of such a phenomenal performance by a 2-year-old? I can only repeat my congratulatory telegram to Senator Stanford when he wired me the news. Here it is: '2:10% for a 2-year-old is so far beit is: "2:1034 for a 2-year-old is so far beyond anything I ever expected to see that it dumfounded me, and I can only add that I most heartily congratulate you on your unparalleled and undreamt of success in breeding and developing the trotting horse.'

There, I can't say any more than that."

"Have you any intentiom of purchasing Arion and keep the records in the Bonner family?" asked the reporter.

"Eh?" The greaf horseman looked both surprised and startled at the question, and then with a quiet smile said; "Well, no; Senator Stanford is going to keep him for his stud. I hardly think he'd part with such a treasure."

such a treasure. "Don't you think that forcing Arion such a clip as a 2-year-old is bound to hurt his future prospects?"

Mr. Bonner did not immediately reply to Ar. Bonner did not immediately reply to this question. "That is a matter of opinion," he said, slowly. "I have had well-known horsemen tell me that if Sunol had not been sent in 2:10½ as a 3-year-old, she would have been a better horse. As for Arion—well, even if he never bettered his

2:10%, it would still be a great glory for Senator Stanford to have had such a 2-yearold. I hardly think he would complain."

It was evident that Mr. Bonner was not a believer in sending a young horse such a fast mile, but through delicacy did not wish to criticise Senator Stanford's or Marvin's judgment. "Do you believe that your $5,000 offer for a 2:05 trotter within two years is in any danger of being taken?" "No, sir, I do not," was the emphatic response, "Remember, it is to be done on a regulation track. No kite-shaped business. One of my friends remarked to me the other day, in talking of Sunol, that he beleived I day, in talking of Sunol, that he beleived I would have to pay the $5,000 to Robert Bonner." Here the old gentleman laughed heartily. "Well, we'll see in the spring. Marvin is coming on with the mare, and I'll have him try to bring on his string in the spring. I would sooner have him handle her than any other trainer, because he knows her better. During the winter I will fix Sunol's hoofs, so that she will be able to stand a good pounding. If she does able to stand a good pounding. If she does break Maud's 2:08% there will still be the satisfaction that the record is in the Bonner

Mr. Bonner discoursed at length upon the kite-shaped track, and showed how such a course could be graded to be down-hill all the way, a manifestly unfair advantage over the regulation track. Upon this point he has very decided views, and no matter how fast another horse trots over the newfangled course, he will never admit its su-periority over his queen Maud. Mr. Bon-ner, by the way, thinks the peerless mare is in an interesting condition. She has been bred to Ansel, 2:20, another of Electioneer's sons, and all signs point to a foal.

REFUSED ORMONDE.

The Great Racer Declined Because He Was a Real Racer.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The race horse Ormonde, on which an English syndicate invested £42,000 in rebuying him from an Argentine stud breader, was recently offered to the British Government. Mr. Chaplin, President of the Board of Agriculture, declined to accept Ormonde on the ground that he was a "roarer," the affection known as "roaring" being heriditary. Making Soundings in the Ohio. BEAVER. Nov. 13.—Captain Martin and Rober Fulton, civil engineer of Pittsburg, began to-day to sound the channel in the Ohio, from the location of the new dam at the County Home below here, to Freedom, in order to get the height of the dam, which it was thought would be 13 feet. It may be necessary to add another foot. The sounding will take about ten days, and then certain prefiningry work will be commenced.

Gossip on the Wharves. The marks below the dam show 5 feet 3 inches, with indications of about 3 inches more to come, THE Parkersburg and Wheeling boats started vesterday. The Allen will arrive to-day and the Bedford to-morrow.

The rivermen are again disappointed, there not being a sufficient amount of rain to swell the river even to a light barge rise. The Cincinnati Packet Line will not resume, as there is not enough water to guarantee the running of the boats for a week, and that would not be worth while, and trade would have to be drummed up first.
